WAYNE BRENNAN TO HEAD CHAMBER

Goals Listed For '62

WAYNE BRENNAN

Wayne Brennan, young (30), energetic manager of Confidential Loan Service in downtown Arlington Heights, was elected president of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce by the new board of directors last week.

Brennan succeeds Robert Y. Paddock, who, as retiring president, becomes chairman of the board under a new system inaugurated this year.

Elected vice president was Robert Walters, manager of Baird & Warner's Arlington Heights office; treasurer, Roy Benson, Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan. Don Hess continues as executive manager of the Chamber.

SINCE JOINING Confidential in 1957, Brennan has become well-known in Arlington Heights, most recently as head of the Chamber's Welcome Wagon committee, and as initiator of the village program to aid the Peruvian suburb of Pampa de Comas.

Brennan is a graduate of Lane technical high school in Chicago and attended Loyola university for three years. He has been in the loan business eight years and served three years in the Army. He lives with his wife and three children in Niles.

"The Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce has, as usual, a challenging forthcoming year," Brennan said. "The biggest goal is abolition of members' somewhat 'enthusiastic apathy' toward the Chamber."

BRENNAN SAID increased active participation on working committees, and an increase in membership, are prerequisites for any concrete results on goals such as:

1. Complete elimination of parking meters in the village.
2. Promotion of the village as a site for light industry.
3. Expansion of commercial area for additional sales tax along with retention of present businesses.

"We must work from a position of strength," Brennan said. "We want and need 100 per cent Chamber participation. When this is a reality, our influence and authority will be second to none."

BRENNAN SAID the board of directors is composed of some of the most outstanding businessmen and community leaders in Arlington Heights, men with the experience and know-how to guide the organization to great heights.

"They are ready and willing to take the time from their busy schedules to efficiently promote the Chamber and help

Funds Brighten Holiday in Peru

BEAMING AND EXCITED children of Pampa de Comas, Peru, are shown as they go to church to hold their first communion in the name of the children of Arlington Heights, and as they receive gifts of candy and food at a Christmas party. The party, and a Christmas tree (costing $34 in Pampa de Comas for a four-foot tree) were provided by Arlington Heights residents who donated to the Pampa de Comas Christmas Fund. The pictures were sent here by the director of the Pampa de Comas school.

Explain How Fund Was Spent

A church-centered celebration, the traditional Mass of the "Gallo," singing of birds and perhaps a hang-over or two — these Peruvian Christmas customs were described in a letter received here last week which also containd pictures of the Christmas celebration provided children of Pampa de Comas, Peru, by Arlington Heights residents.

Maria Olinda Lezameta Caceres, director of the Pampa de Comas school, explained Christmas customs in Arlington Heights' adopted Peruvian suburb and the nearby Andes mountains in a letter to Mrs. Patricia Gardner, who was in charge of the Christmas fund drive for the Arlington Heights Inter-American Friendship committee.

THE COMMITTEE'S next meeting, at which all village organizations are invited to be represented, is Monday, January 29, at 8 p.m. in Room 109, Arlington high school. Steps will be taken to draw up a constitution and bylaws, and temporary officers will be elected.

Miss Caceres' letter described may Christmas customs alien to our own country, including church-oriented celebrations and little commercialism except among the wealthier citizens, of which Pompa de Comas has few or none.

The letter was translated by Manuel Lara of Palatine, who has donated his services to the friendship committee. Because the dialect is slightly different than that which he speaks, translation is tedious, and Lara spent last Saturday night and half of Sunday putting Miss Caceres' letter into English.

"IN OUR RURAL region (Ed —At the foot of the Andes mountains about seven miles from Lima) Christmas is celebrated quite simply," Miss Caceres wrote.

"Everything is concentrated at the church, where there are huge nativity scenes, as a symbol of the happy birth of the child Jesus. At night, all the members and their families go to the nearby church in order to attend the traditional Mass of the Cock, so named because it coincides with the time when the cocks begin to crow, being exactly at twelve midnight."

Then, she said, they return to the homes (huts of adobe, board, anything available), to enjoy the traditional cup of hot chocolate with raisin bread.

"The abundance of food depends upon the economic condition of the homes, many of which don't have enough even for a cup of tea, a situation very common in our area," she wrote.

THE CHILDREN of the area, instead of awaiting the visit of Santa Claus, wait for Papa Noel and the Child God to glide over the rooftops to the bedrooms to deposit toys and candy in the children's shoes.

"For such a reception the shoes are placed with great hopes before their beds by the children," Miss Caceres said. "The dawn brings happiness to some with the presence of expected toys, but in others, the little old shoes are empty, and in some a little more fortunate

Houser, Moore Seek GOP Township Post

An already hot two-way contest for Wheeling township Republican committeeman was made official Monday with the filing of candidacy petitions with the county clerk. A possible third candidate may enliven the race still further.

For the position of Democratic committeeman, incumbent James Stavros, 31, of 84 George rd., Wheeling, who also filed Monday, apparently will be unopposed.

Both Republican candidates William Moore, 31, of 6 S. Waterman ave., and Thomas Houser, 32, 416 S. Waterman ave., both of Arlington Heights, said they filed by mail. But Moore evidently got his letter to the clerk's office first, and so has collected the top spot on the ballot. He said he mailed his petition last week, and Houser's went in Sunday night.

WALTER C. KEHE, 38, of 923 N. Walnut ave., Arlington Heights, is reported to be a possible third Republican candidate.

In a showdown vote of the township Republican precinct captains in November, Houser got the nod over Moore, 27-21. But Moore termed the vote "complimentary" to him. "I didn't even announce that I was interested in the position until the end of September," he claimed. "Houser has been campaigning for a year." Moore had called for the vote, it was reported.

The township Democratic organization announced recently that it had unanimously endorsed James Stavros for re-election as their head.

The GOP combatants will appear before a Republican Workshop meeting at the Arlington Federal Savings and Loan building, 25 E. Campbell, Tuesday, at 8 p. m.

MOORE STATED this week that he believes "a far more effective job can be done to muster out the numerical strength of the Republican vote, to effectively utilize the majority that we have.

"There is a desperate need for complete revitalization of the township Republican organization . . . an effective job of galvanizing . . .," he said. He supported a "country town" Republican organization separate from the county central committee.

Houser called for a township Republican organization "aggressive and flexible enough to encourage widespread participation," and an elimination of the "closed club" idea.

"SOME APPEAL has to be made to the intellect to attract the caliber of persons (residing) in our area."

He listed five objectives: a 12-man permanent advisory staff with geographical representation; education of people as to what the Republican philosophy is; increasing party organizational activity, and give the precinct captains more help; initiate periodic progress reports from precinct captains and increase contact by the committeeman to the party; and a township party news letter to all residents.

STAVROS SAID he had no comment on future goals. But he said he was seeking re-election because "I enjoy my work of serving the people."

"You have to start on the ground floor, help the people with their local problems . . . I have ambition to go ahead this year. I am a young man and a humble man, and I have a lot of time . . . If I do a good job, the people will elevate me up."

Houser is a trial lawyer for a railroad company, and Moore has a private law practice and office in Arlington Heights. Stavros is chief investigator of the Chicago Metropolitan Sanitary District.

Final filing date is January 22.

Uncover Fire Hydrants, Please

Fire Chief Harvey Carothers this week requested Arlington Heights residents to uncover fire hydrants in front of their homes so they will be accessible in an emergency.

Many of the 1,200 hydrants in the village still are covered with deep snow, and firemen answering an emergency call may not be immediately aware of their location.

Village street crews are clearing snow from hydrants, but this takes time, and Carothers said village residents may do themselves a favor by uncovering hydrants in their own neighborhoods.

Rotary Event

Ice Carnival Set Saturday

A 50-yard dash and a two-man "wheelbarrow" race, both for boys and girls 11 years old and under, will highlight the 4th Annual Rotary Ice Carnival this Saturday, January 20, at 10 a.m. at Pioneer Park skating rink.

In neither of these two events will the contestants be wearing skates, although both will take place on the ice. There will be plenty of events for skaters, however, with 16 other contests scheduled.

Four of the events will be for youths of all ages, two for girls and two for boys. They are two figure skating competitions, a 440-yard dash for girls and an 880-yard dash for boys.

THE OTHER events are scheduled by age groups.

These include 110-yard dashes for boys and girls seven years old and younger; 110-yard dashes for boys and girls eight and nine years old; 220-yard dashes for girls and boys 10 and 11 years old, 12 and 13 years old, and 14 and 15 years old.

TROPHIES will be awarded to first place winners in each event, ribbons to second through fifth place winners, and participant ribbons to each competitor.

There is no entry fee for competitors or spectators, and registration can still be made at the park office or with skating rink guards. In case of bad ice Saturday, the ice carnival will be held the first succeeding Saturday the ice is suitable.

Teenager Confesses To Burglary Charge

Thomas Dixon, the 17-year-old Arlington Heights youth whose attempt to crack the safe at Arlington high school a few weeks ago, was interrupted by village police, pleaded guilty to burglary in Superior court this week and was sentenced to six months in the county jail, and placed on five years probation.

Dixon, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Dixon, of 805 E. Algonquin, confessed to the attempted burglary of the high school, as well as to the burglary of the Four Seasons sporting goods store in Westgate shopping center.

ARLINGTON Heights police traced Dixon through articles hastily abandoned at the high school, including a guide for professional locksmiths.

Foreign Visitor Is Barred by Barbers

By HELENE BRISTOL

Some concerned Arlington Heights residents wondered this week what kind of impression the community would make on the international scene after a visiting school administrator from Haiti was denied a haircut in town because of the color of his skin.

Every barbershop in Arlington Heights refused a haircut for Roger Jean, 32, of Port-au-Prince, Haiti. In all cases the firm answer was "No" with reasons ranging from "It would hurt our trade" and "We would lose customers," to "We don't know how to cut that type of hair."

JEAN IS in Arlington Heights for a month as guest of Arlington high school. He is the principal of the College of St. Pierre, an Episcopalian-sponsored high school for boys from the ages of 12 to 18 in Port-au-Prince. He holds both teaching and law degrees in addition to his college degree from the Sorbonne in Paris. Before assuming his post as principal, Jean taught French, Latin and Greek.

Jean is described by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare as holding "one of the most important school administrative posts in Haiti."

During his visit to Arlington Heights, Jean is staying with members of the high school faculty and administration.

ON FRIDAY, Dean Nelson Lowrey of the high school took Jean to the downtown village area to get a haircut, anticipating no difficulty. After refusal of service in two shops, the men were discouraged and decided to make a trip to the south side of Chicago on the following day in order to get a haircut foor Jean. Since this meant cancellation of some of the programs in the busy schedule set up for Jean, school officials attempted to arrange a haircut locally. Both school faculty members and a prominent local realtor attempted to make an appointment for a haircut, urging barbers to consider the international implications of their action.

All efforts were unsuccessful.

Two barbers reluctantly agreed to cut Jean's hair "after closing" when the public would not see the action. Another barber stated he could not risk the jobs of the men he employed by cutting the hair in the shop but would gladly make a "house call" for the work.

IN NO CASE would any of the seven barbershops cut Jean's hair in the shop during regular business hours.

Jean finally received his haircut when a faculty member and amateur barber did the job to avoid further discrimination. Commenting on the effort, teacher Rod McLennan stressed he found the hair no more difficult to cut than any other.

Before receiving a state license from the Illinois Department of Registration and Education barbers must pass an examination which proves their ability to cut all types of hair.

JEAN, WHO has traveled widely in Europe, Latin America and the United States, noted that the only other time he has had difficulty in getting his hair cut was in Costa Rica.

Ironically, one of the first barbers in the village of Arlington Heights was a Negro. Frank White, whose shop prospered for many years, retired from business shortly before World War II.

Beaufort, S. C. —

Four hundred years is a long time, but Beaufort, S. C., will celebrate its Jean Ribault Quadricentennial in March. It is the observance of the arrival of that Frenchman upon the shores of the Beaufort area, which also includes Parris Island and Port Royal.

Ribault arrived here 64 years after Columbus discovered America. A local highway is named for him. Beaufort is the county seat and the principal shopping center for U. S. Marine personnel as well as permanent residents. Aside from a chain store, the shopping center has not yet arrived.

The original large homes were built by plantation owners as retreats for summer living. The area had become an important seaport 100 years before the first white settler came to Elk Grove township.

Remains of various forts used during the time of the Indian and following wars, and churches originally built during that period are among the attractions to visitors who are historically minded. The oldest fort still standing (used as a museum) is adjacent to the public library in the center of the town. It was built to repel the Indians and Spaniards in the 1700's. Another is a fort at Land's End on Lady's Island, constructed at the time of the Spanish-American war when it was equipped with "disappearing cannon."

As one who has always been interested in historical places and events, we have done a lot of exploring. We have invaded plantations and homes whose doors have been miraculously opened to us Yankees.

In our school book days, we read about the great injustices that were done by the Republican carpetbaggers during Reconstruction days. These appointees completed a lot of the destructive activities that Sherman's army had left undone. Excuse given by northern visitors is "but that is war." They added "Hitler did a lot worse."

Some of the churches which escaped the wars with the British have been destroyed by hurricanes and fires. A resident who resides within five miles of Beaufort has adopted this method of combating the hurricane. When there is a possibility of being in its path, her family packs up a few things and departs inland, about 100 miles away.

A resident of Charleston, whose famed home we visited yesterday, says she just "cracks the windows" (opening them a little) and remains in her abode. We saw many Sully portraits, a harpsichord from 1700 once belonging to Lady Barrington of England, a lovely golden harp of the vintage, an Aubusson rug that covered the long music room and many other rare heirlooms, imported or made by skilled cabinet workers in the early years of the South.

Foreign Visitor Is Barred by Barbers

By HELENE BRISTOL

Some concerned Arlington Heights residents wondered this week what kind of impression the community would make on the international scene after a visiting school administrator from Haiti was denied a haircut in town because of the color of his skin.

Every barbershop in Arlington Heights refused a haircut for Roger Jean, 32, of Port-au-Prince, Haiti. In all cases the firm answer was "No" with reasons ranging from "It would hurt our trade" and "We would lose customers," to "We don't know how to cut that type of hair."

is a little bit of candy or a tiny toy."

Unlike the custom in our country, Christmas trees are little used, but there is a reason. Only the richest can afford one. Arlington Heights residents donated $113 for a tree and candy for the children of Pampa de Comas and, of this, the "little tree of one meter, twenty centimeters" or about four feet, which she purchased with part of the money, cost $34.

"Christmas in our towns of the Andes in Peru, that is to say in our mountain area, differs from one town to another," Miss Caceres wrote. "In most of them it is the custom to prepare the churches with many delightful and noisy ornaments, like timbrels, wooden rattles, and little cages of birds trained so that with just the presence of the brilliance of the lights they begin to sing their happy songs, all of which floods the church at exactly midnight with a feeling of immense confusion and happiness."

"Meanwhile," she continued, "enter the little shepherds personified by school children who sing songs about birth of the Child Jesus, called Villancicos."

MISS CACERES said the villages compete with each other for the best nativity scene at the church and the wealthy residents, called major-domos, vie for the best-decorated home.

These wealthy residents prepare "magnificent artificial castles which at exactly midnight are set afire, accompanied by a great quantity of rockets, fireworks, releasing of paper balloons, embraces, music and wishes of happiness to others.

No one sleeps on Christmas Eve, she said, and everyone puts on their best clothes and goes out to celebrate with "dances to folk music as a remembrance of the splendid Incan empire."

AT LEAST ONE custom is highly reminiscent of a prevalent custom in the United States. "All the houses are decked out gaily; favorite foods, typical of the region, are prepared and made more pleasant by the abundance of a drink made from corn that gives the same bad side effects as the alcoholic beverages."

The Christmas party for the Pampa de Comas children was the first completed project of the Arlington Heights friendship committee, and a highly successful one. Future projects and completion of those now underway, also will be discussed at the meeting January 29.

Second Meeting

The second meeting in January of the Arlington Heights village board will be Monday, January 22, beginning at 8 p.m. in the village hall.

Fringe Benefits Up

Fringe benefits granted to workers cost U. S. employers 129 per cent more than 10 years ago. They now amount to nearly 8 per cent of all wages.

when the first Federal troops arrived explains the existence of homes built in the early 1800's.

We are told tabby construction is a lost art. Existing buildings, walls, old slave quarters, old homes and even parts of Ft. Frederick stand in water at low tide and their strength remains. Lack of maintenance in recent years mars some areas, but "northerners" who appreciate the beauty of colonial architecture have returned many to their original magnificence.

One owner, rather than endanger the interior of his home, removed temporarily the exterior wooden walls in order that modern air conditioning and electricity could be installed.

Some of the streets are too narrow for sidewalks. We have not heard the word "zoning" mentioned. There are some sections of the town in which modern homes have been built, the equal of those back home in everything except price.

The daily tides transform the marshlands into large areas of water. When the tides recede, hundreds of "pluff-mud" islands dot the water, covered with marsh birds, herons, gulls and many other shore birds. It may take an artist to appreciate the natural beauty of what could be called mud flats by a northern visitor.

It was in some such area that a Marine sergeant lost a number of men whom he was attempting to introduce into Marine life. Natives know the dangers of "pluff-mud."

Sunrise on the marshland is a rare experience. Early as light is breaking, the sky becomes rose red and almost immediately, the tones spread across the water to "our" marshland, reflecting pink and cerise in the black water of the marsh grass. It vanishes quickly, but we will catch a kodachrome of this beauty one day. Then this colorful display is reversed in the evening as night approaches, the stars shine but the rose tones persist. Nature is extravagant in Beaufort.

If the charm that Beaufort spells over this "northerner" has extended to our readers, let us recommend the article in the February issue of Holiday to one and all. It will reverberate some of our explorations in this interesting "low country."

Officials of the Order of Eastern Star will probably question the authenticity of this origin of their organization. We found it in a recent book, "Port Royal Under Six Flags."

It was in the oldest house in Beaufort, built in 1690, that the curiosity of a woman gave birth to that "Order." There is a tiny closet under a small twisting ladder-like stairway which provided the hideaway.

"The story is that young Peggy Johnson hid in a closet of that building when it was used as a Masonic Hall. When the outraged Masons realized their secrets were in the possession of a woman, they then and there organized the Eastern Star with the eavesdropper as a charter member."

make it a complete success, but they need the help of the entire membership," he said.

The Chamber's program of work for 1962 is magnitudinous, Brennan added, citing such projects as expanded Christmas decoration program throughout the downtown Arlington Heights area, elimination of parking meters and creation of more parking lots to facilitate shopping, and initiation of "store front clinics" to show ways to brighten and make more attractive store's window displays.

OTHER PROJECTS Brennan listed included renovation of downtown stores and buildings in need of it, annexation of adjacent areas, securing better traffic control of exits off Northwest hwy. to Arlington Market, staging bigger and better retail promotions for all business areas in the village to offset increased outside competition, and helping win an "All American City" award by closer cooperation with the village board and other civic organizations.

"Arlington Heights is growing by leaps and bounds," Brennan concluded, "and these projects are essential if we want to make Arlington Heights the best place possible to live, to work and to shop."

Village Is Honored For Finance Report

An award of national stature which only five other Illinois municipalities have received was conferred upon Arlington Heights this week for its first comprehensive, year-end financial report.

The award, a certificate of conformance from the Municipal Finance Officers association, is a highly coveted document certifying that the highest of standards have been followed in reporting the village's financial picture.

IT CARRIES with it many benefits for the village and resident taxpayers, as evidenced in a letter from the village's outside financial consultants, Ernst & Ernst, congratulating Village Manager L. A. Hanson, Finance Director Thomas A. DeRiemer, and the village on receiving the honor.

"I need not tell you, of course, of the widespread esteem which is accorded the certificate," wrote Larry Rocca, a partner in the Ernst firm. "It (the award) will do a great deal to demonstrate the village's awareness of the importance of good relationships with investors in its municipal securities, investment analysts and bond rating agencies, all of which can be of considerable benefit to taxpayers."

Rigid standards are used in judging financial reports being considered for the award and Arlington Heights' report substantially conformed with the high standards in the unanimous opinion of the special review committee of the finance officers association.

ONLY 92 municipalities in the United States have been so honored, and only 124 governmental units in the whole of the United States and Canada out of 1,100 reports considered for certification. The other Illinois communities which have received the award are Park Forest, Peoria, Evanston, Oak Park and Lake Forest.

The certificate is of special significance to Arlington Heights at the moment, since it is in the process of selling municipal bonds. As suggested by the letter from Rocco, the bonds will be more attractive to investors because they can be assured the village employs exemplary practices in financial matters.

"We sincerely hope that your example will inspire other public finance officers to develop annual financial reports that meet the high standards substantially met by the report you have prepared," the association wrote DeRiemer.

"Congratulations on a notable achievement."

WHILE THE certificate is a personal achievement for DeRiemer and his staff, he said it also reflects equal credit on Hanson, the village manager, and on the village board and its president.

DeRiemer early this month resigned his post effective the end of next week and will begin new duties as business administrator (municipal manager) for Wayne township, New Jersey, February 1.

OFFICIAL RECOGNITION of the new year-end financial report prepared by Tom DeRiemer, Arlington Heights village finance director, and his staff was received last week in the way of a certificate from a national reviewing body. DeRiemer (left) and Village Manager L. A. Hanson discussed the benefits to be derived from the honor last week in Hanson's office. (AF

School Furnishings Purchased by Board

The little wooden school bench has come a long way up in the world, and members of Arlington-Prospect board of education will attest to its rising status with a quick look at their school district wallet.

Desks and chairs for the new Forest View high school were purchased by the board at a total cost of more than $42,435. This expenditure does not include special furniture or chairs such as library or office furnishings.

THE MAJOR expenditure was $29,260 for 1,900 chair-desk combinations. Each six-legged unit costs $15.40. The chair-desks feature wooden seats and backs on the chair with an attached large surface desk of pressed fiber pulp with a laminated plastic top. Legs of the units are metal.

Price paid for the individual chairs ordered for the school was $4.97 each. A total of 1,075 chairs will be used in the cafeteria, typing rooms, science classrooms and other special areas.

Study halls and driver-training classrooms will have tablet arm chairs. These units will cost $13 each, with 600 chairs ordered. These units have large tablet arm writing surfaces and are of the same materials as the chair-desk combinations.

SUCCESSFUL bidder for all three furniture contracts was Atlas Chair and Equipment Company of Chicago, distributo rfor American Desk furnishings.

Forest View high school will be the third high school of Arlington-Prospect district 214. Now under construction, the 2,500 student building is slated to open in September. The school is located on Goebbert rd. between Golf and Algonquin rds. (ACM

Annual Little League Dance This Saturday

Tickets will be available at the door for the annual benefit dance for the Arlington Heights Little League, slated for this Saturday night at the Bensenville fire house, 15 N. York rd.

In keeping with the dance's theme, "Sports," guests are invited to forget about tuxedos and formals, and to come dressed in sportswear.

The dance is a major fund-raising activity of the Little League, which sponsors 76 teams in Arlington Heights, and some weeks last summer held more than 100 games.

THE DANCE will begin at 9:30 p.m. and end at 12:30 a.m., with music by Joe Gallagher's Stardusters. The Mothers club of the Little League is sponsoring the dance, with Mrs. M. R. Kephart, 801 S. Evergreen, heading the dance committee.

Besides being available at the dance, tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Kephart, or from Mrs. Ruth Shawhan, of 948 N. Ridge. (A

Q. Is it proper for the man to cross in front of his woman companion while they are walking together?

A. No. The woman should have the right-of-way whenever possible, and the man should cross behind her, instead of in front of her.

Q. When it becomes necessary to remove a bone from the mouth while at the dinner table, should one use a fork, spoon, or the napkin?

A. None of these. Use the thumb and forefinger, and lay the particle on the plate.

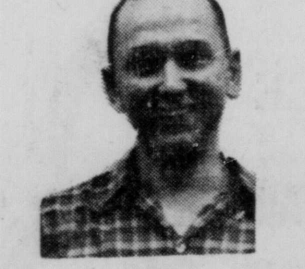
INQUIRING REPORTER

QUESTION: Why do you enjoy skating at the TRIANGLE ROLLER RINK in Arlington Heights?

Rita Zuelsdorf, Des Plaines, Teletype operator — Roller skating has always been one of my favorite recreations and it is even more so at the Triangle, especially since I started taking lessons from Bob Taylor, the pro at the rink.



Jerry Kieffer, St. Charles, Linotype operator — I enjoy skating at the Triangle because of the pleasant atmosphere which helps one to enjoy the sport more. I also like the way the organist plays.

Marlene Ryan, Arlington Hts., Secretary — Good, clean fun and lots of exercise! My son likes it as much as I and I can't think of a better place for the "wee ones" to spend their time.

Darrell Eskew, Palatine, Machinist — I enjoy skating at the Triangle because of the friendly people there, the management as well as the skaters, and with good music, it offers good, clean recreation for youth and adults, alike.

Judy DeLuca, Palatine, High School Freshman — I enjoy skating at the Triangle because of the friendly atmosphere. It is fun to help the beginners, as I, myself, was one not long ago. The advanced skaters are always ready to help me and with Don Scott playing the organ, I am learning to skate in time with the music, which anyone can enjoy.

An award of national stature which only five other Illinois municipalities have received was conferred upon Arlington Heights this week for its first comprehensive, year-end financial report.

The award, a certificate of conformance from the Municipal Finance Officers association, is a highly coveted document certifying that the highest of standards have been followed in reporting the village's financial picture.

IT CARRIES with it many benefits for the village and resident taxpayers, as evidenced in a letter from the village's outside financial consultants, Ernst & Ernst, congratulating Village Manager L. A. Hanson, Finance Director Thomas A. DeRiemer, and the village on receiving the honor.

"I need not tell you, of course, of the widespread esteem which is accorded the certificate," wrote Larry Rocca, a partner in the Ernst firm. "It (the award) will do a great deal to demonstrate the village's awareness of the importance of good relationships with investors in its municipal securities, investment analysts and bond rating agencies, all of which can be of considerable benefit to taxpayers."

Rigid standards are used in judging financial reports being considered for the award and Arlington Heights' report substantially conformed with the high standards in the unanimous opinion of the special review committee of the finance officers association.

ONLY 92 municipalities in the United States have been so honored, and only 124 governmental units in the whole of the United States and Canada out of 1,100 reports considered for certification. The other Illinois communities which have received the award are Park Forest, Peoria, Evanston, Oak Park and Lake Forest.

The certificate is of special significance to Arlington Heights at the moment, since it is in the process of selling municipal bonds. As suggested by the letter from Rocco, the bonds will be more attractive to investors because they can be assured the village employs exemplary practices in financial matters.

"We sincerely hope that your example will inspire other public finance officers to develop annual financial reports that meet the high standards substantially met by the report you have prepared," the association wrote DeRiemer.

"Congratulations on a notable achievement."

WHILE THE certificate is a personal achievement for DeRiemer and his staff, he said it also reflects equal credit on Hanson, the village manager, and on the village board and its president.

DeRiemer early this month resigned his post effective the end of next week and will begin new duties as business administrator (municipal manager) for Wayne township, New Jersey, February 1.

OFFICIAL RECOGNITION of the new year-end financial report prepared by Tom DeRiemer, Arlington Heights village finance director, and his staff was received last week in the way of a certificate from a national reviewing body. DeRiemer (left) and Village Manager L. A. Hanson discussed the benefits to be derived from the honor last week in Hanson's office. (AF

School Furnishings Purchased by Board

The little wooden school bench has come a long way up in the world, and members of Arlington-Prospect board of education will attest to its rising status with a quick look at their school district wallet.

Desks and chairs for the new Forest View high school were purchased by the board at a total cost of more than $42,435. This expenditure does not include special furniture or chairs such as library or office furnishings.

THE MAJOR expenditure was $29,260 for 1,900 chair-desk combinations. Each six-legged unit costs $15.40. The chair-desks feature wooden seats and backs on the chair with an attached large surface desk of pressed fiber pulp with a laminated plastic top. Legs of the units are metal.

Price paid for the individual chairs ordered for the school was $4.97 each. A total of 1,075 chairs will be used in the cafeteria, typing rooms, science classrooms and other special areas.

Study halls and driver-training classrooms will have tablet arm chairs. These units will cost $13 each, with 600 chairs ordered. These units have large tablet arm writing surfaces and are of the same materials as the chair-desk combinations.

SUCCESSFUL bidder for all three furniture contracts was Atlas Chair and Equipment Company of Chicago, distributo rfor American Desk furnishings.

Forest View high school will be the third high school of Arlington-Prospect district 214. Now under construction, the 2,500 student building is slated to open in September. The school is located on Goebbert rd. between Golf and Algonquin rds. (ACM

Q. Is it proper for the man to cross in front of his woman companion while they are walking together?

A. No. The woman should have the right-of-way whenever possible, and the man should cross behind her, instead of in front of her.

Q. When it becomes necessary to remove a bone from the mouth while at the dinner table, should one use a fork, spoon, or the napkin?

A. None of these. Use the thumb and forefinger, and lay the particle on the plate.

INQUIRING REPORTER

QUESTION: Why do you enjoy skating at the TRIANGLE ROLLER RINK in Arlington Heights?

Rita Zuelsdorf, Des Plaines, Teletype operator — Roller skating has always been one of my favorite recreations and it is even more so at the Triangle, especially since I started taking lessons from Bob Taylor, the pro at the rink.

Jerry Kieffer, St. Charles, Linotype operator — I enjoy skating at the Triangle because of the pleasant atmosphere which helps one to enjoy the sport more. I also like the way the organist plays.

Marlene Ryan, Arlington Hts., Secretary — Good, clean fun and lots of exercise! My son likes it as much as I and I can't think of a better place for the "wee ones" to spend their time.

Darrell Eskew, Palatine, Machinist — I enjoy skating at the Triangle because of the friendly people there, the management as well as the skaters, and with good music, it offers good, clean recreation for youth and adults, alike.

Judy DeLuca, Palatine, High School Freshman — I enjoy skating at the Triangle because of the friendly atmosphere. It is fun to help the beginners, as I, myself, was one not long ago. The advanced skaters are always ready to help me and with Don Scott playing the organ, I am learning to skate in time with the music, which anyone can enjoy.

ON HER ANNUAL United States tour she displays and uses 15 or more antique harps from different eras and countries to illustrate an amusing short history of the harp. In her formal recital, she uses a gold concert grand harp.

Business Growth Seen By Dun & Bradstreet

Statistics released this week by G. J. Aubrecht, district manager of the Chicago office of Dun & Bradstreet, reflect the growth of the business population in suburban Cook county during the past year.

Figures obtained from a physical count of the Dun & Bradstreet reference book for January, 1962, totaled 16,986 manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers compared to 15,336 for a like area, in January, 1961, an increase of 10.8 per cent for the period.

The Dun & Bradstreet reference book lists all manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers who seek or grant commercial credit. It does not include some of the service and professional businesses such as beauty and barber shops, security dealers and real estate brokers.

Aubrecht added that during the past year 8,323 changes were made in the Dun & Bradstreet reference book listings of suburban Cook county businesses, including names added, names deleted, and changes in the ratings of continuing businesses.

USING THE Dun & Bradstreet reference book listings as a guide, it is interesting to review what has happened in the 36 principal county communities during the past year, some of which have shown impressive gains represented by new shopping centers, auto dealers, service businesses and industrial concerns:

Arlington Heights, increase of 65 to 468; Des Plaines, increase of three to 631; Park Ridge, increase of 11 to 371; Palatine, increase of eight to 275; Mt. Prospect, increase of 28 to 230; Wheeling, increase of 22 to 184; Barrington, increase of 21 to 241; Northbrook, increase of 26 to 233.

As one phase in revising credit reports and keeping them up-to-date, Dun & Bradstreet, through its national network of offices, writes annually to all businesses in each of the 50 states listed in the reference book (21 pounds — 4,524 oversize pages) to request their financial statements.

THIS YEAR, these requests are being sent to approximately three million businesses — to the corner grocery store worth a few thousand dollars as well as to businesses worth millions.

When the owner or officer of a business enterprise, or his accountant, fills out and mails his financial statement for Dun & Bradstreet, it becomes a part of the credit report on his business and a factor in determining the credit rating of his business.

The Dun & Bradstreet credit rating consists of two symbols. The first, a letter of the alphabet, indicates financial strength or the tangible net worth of the business. The second symbol is a number which reflects a composite appraisal of the background, operations, financial stability and payment record of the business.

EACH REFERENCE book listing, which includes the rating, is a condensed summary of the information contained in the Dun & Bradstreet credit report.

The report includes the following: a history of the business (who owns it, who runs it, and how long it has been operating); a description of what the business does and how it does it; a financial section which usually includes the latest financial statement; and a record of how the business pays its bills.

While credit reports are primarily used by businessmen who want to evaluate the credit risk of a business before shipping or selling, insurance underwriters also use credit reports to review risks, rates, and coverage for fire and other types of insurance. (B8

Storm Spurs Road Mishaps

Two hammer blows of a Mt. Prospect motorist's car against a second vehicle brought the northwest suburbs another road fatality.

Everett H. Janssen, 60, of 307 S. Emerson st., Mt. Prospect, a local dentist, was the victim.

On Jan. 9 at 7:05 a.m., on U. S. 12 a mile northwest of Illinois 83, Janssen lost control of his vehicle.

HIS CAR skidded over to the extreme left of the road and the front of the car slammed into a car driven by William H. Bowman, 27, of 915 W. Maude, Arlington Heights.

Spinning around backwards, the Janssen car again slammed into the other car, striking it this time with its right side and careening off the second car, it went over to the side of the road.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at 7:45 a.m. at the Northwest Community hospital. Bowman, injured, was brought to the hospital also. Uninjured was Virginia Bowman, 21, a passenger in the second car. Janssen is survived by his widow, Doris.

DAMAGE TO the Janssen car was $1000; to the Bowman car, $500.

In another accident on Jan. 10 at 3:55 p.m. on Palatine road, two miles north of U. S. 14 a mile and a half west of U. S. 12, Thomas Dipper Jr. found himself in trouble when his car was caught in ice ruts.

Dipper, 34, of Box 116, Palatine road, Palatine, was injured when his car spun around, striking snow banks.

HE WAS TAKEN to the Arlington Heights medical center by a motorist. Damage to his car was $500.

A three-car accident occurred on Jan. 10 at 4:50 p.m. on Illinois 68 two miles east of U. S. 45.

In this accident, Sharon M. Tyche, 17, of Winnetka, found her car sliding on the ice into the wrong side of the road.

Her car struck another one driven by George E. Kronthaler, 30, of 156 7th ave., Wheeling. A third car, driven by Dan McCory, 38, of 406 Eastwood, Mt. Prospect, was behind the Kronthaler car and struck it in the rear.

Both Kronthaler and a passenger in his car, Theodore White, 30, of Northbrook, were injured and taken to Holy Family hospital. Damage to the first car was $250; to the Kronthaler car, $700, and to the McCoy car, $100.

MISS TYCHE was charged with violation of an instruction permit and with driving on the wrong side of the road.

A snow plow tangled with a car in another accident that occurred on Illinois 68, about 2½ miles west of Illinois 83. Illinois 68 was reduced to a single lane by drifting snow at 4:45 p.m. on Jan. 13.

Allan Sherwood, 64, of Ingleside, was headed west on 68, when his vehicle was struck by the blade of a snow plow driven by Gilberto Carolo, 45, of 1007 Busse rd., Mt. Prospect.

Carolo was clearing the snow on the road in an attempt to make a two-lane highway.

Injured was Wilma Sherwood, a passenger in the car. She was taken to a medical center in Wheeling. Damage to the car was $1000. No damage was reported to the plow.

Not injured were Carolo and Louis D. Holm, 24, of 625 S. Hough st., Barrington, also in the cab of the plow. (B8

Cite School Board Election Notices

Cook county residents wishing to run for election to their local school boards should consult their local newspapers between January 29 and February 18 to learn how.

This is the advice of Dr. Noble J. Puffer, Cook County Superintendent of Schools, who this week called public attention to a new section added to the school code of the Illinois Revised Statutes affecting the election of school board members.

IN A SPECIAL bulletin issued from his office to superintendents, secretaries or clerks of boards of education in Cook county, Dr. Puffer warned that according to the new law, legal notice of filing procedures for nominating petitions must be published once in a newspaper circulating in the district during a stipulated time.

He pointed out that the new law requires school board secretaries to publish notice of time, place and persons with whom nominating petitions must be filed. Such notices must appear not more than 30 days, nor less than 10 days, prior to the first day for filing petitions.

FAILURE to publish this pertinent information between January 29 and February 10 this year could result in the April 14 school board elections being ruled invalid, Dr. Puffer cautioned. (B8

Home Bureau Reports On Christmas Party

The holiday season made it necessary for the Wheeling unit of the Cook County Home Bureau to change the date of their Christmas party to December 14. The affair was held in the Arlington Heights Farm bureau building.

A potluck lunch was served at noon. The tables were decorated with candles which were made by the board members as gifts to the unit.

After lunch a short business meeting was held, and new officers were elected.

Mrs. Frank Henry presented a puppet show on the abominable snowman. She made her own unusual puppets which included Santa, Rudolph and the snowman.

SANTA CLAUS, who actually was Mrs. Gus Anderson, visited the unit, presented everyone with a grab bag gift and led a march around the Christmas tree. The first one in line to receive her present was 21-month-old mascot of the unit, Beverly Jo Levine.

The January meeting will be held next Tuesday and will begin at 1 p.m. in the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan association building.

Mrs. Claradehl Upham, home advisor, will give a lecture on "spending 24 hours a day."

Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. Cyrus Hill, Mrs. Robert Page and Mrs. George Sidor.

January 25 is the date of the Cook County Home Bureau's 21st annual meeting and luncheon. This affair will be held in Elmhurst Country club. (Fm

The Dun & Bradstreet reference book lists all manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers who seek or grant commercial credit. It does not include some of the service and professional businesses such as beauty and barber shops, security dealers and real estate brokers.

Aubrecht added that during the past year 8,323 changes were made in the Dun & Bradstreet reference book listings of suburban Cook county businesses, including names added, names deleted, and changes in the ratings of continuing businesses.

USING THE Dun & Bradstreet reference book listings as a guide, it is interesting to review what has happened in the 36 principal county communities during the past year, some of which have shown impressive gains represented by new shopping centers, auto dealers, service businesses and industrial concerns:

Arlington Heights, increase of 65 to 468; Des Plaines, increase of three to 631; Park Ridge, increase of 11 to 371; Palatine, increase of eight to 275; Mt. Prospect, increase of 28 to 230; Wheeling, increase of 22 to 184; Barrington, increase of 21 to 241; Northbrook, increase of 26 to 233.

As one phase in revising credit reports and keeping them up-to-date, Dun & Bradstreet, through its national network of offices, writes annually to all businesses in each of the 50 states listed in the reference book (21 pounds — 4,524 over-size pages) to request their financial statements.

THIS YEAR, these requests are being sent to approximately three million businesses — to the corner grocery store worth a few thousand dollars as well as to businesses worth millions.

When the owner or officer of a business enterprise, or his accountant, fills out and mails his financial statement for Dun & Bradstreet, it becomes a part of the credit report on his business and a factor in determining the credit rating of his business.

The Dun & Bradstreet credit rating consists of two symbols. The first, a letter of the alphabet, indicates financial strength or the tangible net worth of the business. The second symbol is a number which reflects a composite appraisal of the background, operations, financial stability and payment record of the business.

EACH REFERENCE book listing, which includes the rating, is a condensed summary of the information contained in the Dun & Bradstreet credit report.

The report includes the following: a history of the business (who owns it, who runs it, and how long it has been operating); a description of what the business does and how it does it; a financial section which usually includes the latest financial statement; and a record of how the business pays its bills.

While credit reports are primarily used by businessmen who want to evaluate the credit risk of a business before shipping or selling, insurance underwriters also use credit reports to review risks, rates, and coverage for fire and other types of insurance. (B8

The holiday season made it necessary for the Wheeling unit of the Cook County Home Bureau to change the date of their Christmas party to December 14. The affair was held in the Arlington Heights Farm bureau building.

A potluck lunch was served at noon. The tables were decorated with candles which were made by the board members as gifts to the unit.

After lunch a short business meeting was held, and new officers were elected.

Mrs. Frank Henry presented a puppet show on the abominable snowman. She made her own unusual puppets which included Santa, Rudolph and the snowman.

SANTA CLAUS, who actually was Mrs. Gus Anderson, visited the unit, presented everyone with a grab bag gift and led a march around the Christmas tree. The first one in line to receive her present was 21-month-old mascot of the unit, Beverly Jo Levine.

The January meeting will be held next Tuesday and will begin at 1 p.m. in the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan association building.

Mrs. Claradehl Upham, home advisor, will give a lecture on "spending 24 hours a day."

Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. Cyrus Hill, Mrs. Robert Page and Mrs. George Sidor.

January 25 is the date of the Cook County Home Bureau's 21st annual meeting and luncheon. This affair will be held in Elmhurst Country club. (Fm

Dean to Discuss Air Age Education Needs

Nelson L. Lowry, dean of Arlington high school and state chairman of the Illinois Aerospace Education committee, has been named as a principal speaker for Cook county's first Aerospace Education Institute for school administrators and teachers on Saturday in the Hotel Sherman, according to an announcement by Dr. Noble J. Puffer, Cook County Superintendent of Schools.

Dr. Puffer, who is also a member of the Illinois Aerospace Education committee, said that the institute, which will be open to all members of the teaching profession but specifically to junior and senior high school science teachers, is preparatory to introduction of Aerospace Education in the Cook county schools in the near future.

"AEROSPACE in the Curriculum" will be the subject of Lowry's address. The Arlington Heights administrator is also director of the Aerospace Workshop of the National College of Education. As chairman of the Illinois Aerospace Education committee, Lowry heads an advisory group to the Office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction at Springfield.

Sharing the institute platform with him will be Dr. Leslie L. Thomason, Director of Market Research, Education and Training for Cessna Aircraft Co., Wichita, Kan. Dr. Thomason, a former college administrator and professor who served with the Inspector General's Department in World War II and with NATO in France, will have as his topic "The Airplane and the Aerospace Age."

James V. Bernardo, assistant director of the Educational Services branch for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, will talk on "Our New Venture into Space." A pioneer in Air Age education, Bernardo is considered the dean of Aerospace Education Workshops for teachers throughout the country.

Alton D. Anderson, director of Cook Technological Center, Morton Grove, will have as his subject "Electronics in the Aerospace Age."

Dr. Puffer will preside over the institute sessions which will begin at 9 a. m.

Teen Workshop Is Set Sunday in Palatine

Sunday, Jan. 21, from 2 to 5 p.m. there will be a workshop for all talented teenagers in the Paddock area, under the direction of the Talented Teen club. It will be held at the Old Fire Hall in Palatine, 113 W. Slade.

This organization is open to anyone between the ages of 13 and 20 with talent to offer. The group performs for institutions, civic and fraternal organizations, and other clubs. Further information is available from Mrs. Joseph Crittenden, Arlington Heights.

THE TALENTED Teen Foundation has had a weekly radio show over Elgin station WRMN on Saturday mornings, and the local club's several entries included one winner, Miss Lee Hein of Inverness, a pianist.

Saturday, Jan. 20, the broadcast will originate from the Meadowdale shopping center with a twist contest following the show, and everyone is welcome.

Winners of the radio show will perform in the teen festival in the Wheaton auditorium February 23, with all Chicagoland clubs in attendance. Tickets may be purchased from any Talented Teen member.

"Several local merchants have given their support to the project by placing ads in the program," Mrs. Crittenden said, "and by so doing have affirmed their faith in our teenagers and the job they are trying to do."

THE WINNER of the festival will receive a free trip to New York and a television audition. Seven area scholarships also will be awarded.

Besides the workshop this Sunday, the Arlington club will have two entries in the Roselle district show which is being held in the North school in Itasca at 3 p.m.

The contestants will be Miss Mary May of Palatine, a singer, and a sextet from Arlington high school—Sheryl Crittenden, Sue Tapley, Paula Krueger, Bob Renner, Larry Wright and Ray Schmeiser.

FRIDAY, JAN. 19, the club is scheduled to go by Army bus to Jefferson Park to put on a two-hour show at the Nike base.

The Talented Teen club welcomes all young singers, musicians, dancers, actors, twirlers, comedians, magicians, and others with talent. (B8

County Budget Is Subject of TV Discussion

What is the story behind the new Cook county budget? Why is this budget creeping up? Are there "over appropriations?"

Two officials of the Civic Federation of Chicago, a taxpayers' watchdog group, will attempt to answer these and other questions about the record 1962 county budget with moderator John Dreiske on "Inside Politics" today (Thursday, January 18) at 8 p.m. on WTTW, Channel 11.

O'Neil is director of public relations and Blades president of the Civic Federation. Dreiske, who appears weekly on "Inside Politics," is the political editor of the Chicago Sun-Times. "Inside Politics" is produced by the Better Government association, a non-profit organization located in Chicago. (B8

R. A. MUNCH, president, Charles Bruning company, Inc. handing a check to S. C. Amren, vice president of the company and chairman of the board of the Northwest Suburban YMCA. The check is part of an $80,000 donation from Herbert F. Bruning, chairman of the board of the Bruning company, which made possible the "Ys" ultra-modern swimming pool.

Northwest YMCA Pool Donated by Bruning

A recent pledge payment by Herbert F. Bruning completed his $80,000 donation to cover the cost of the ultra-modern swimming pool at the new Northwest Suburban YMCA building.

The majority of the contribution was personally made by Bruning, although part of it was given by the Charles Bruning Company, Inc., of which he is Chairman of the Board.

Located in the recently opened "Y" building on Northwest highway, between Des Plaines and Mount Prospect, the swimming pool is one of the most modern in Chicagoland. It was one of the first "indoor-outdoor" type; sliding glass doors providing this year-round flexibility. The pool measures 75x28, with a shallow water end extension of 40 feet. It has two diving boards, is fully tiled and many comments have been made on the architectural beauty of its setting.

IN ADDITION to the 10,500 members of the "Y", local church and school groups, scout organizations and others use the pool regularly. The general public may also use the pool for a nominal fee. Scheduled swimming classes are held at the pool for all age groups. There is a "toddlers' " spray pool adjacent to the large installation.

The new pool has proven of great value to many persons requiring water therapy in convalescence, etc.

WATER IS circulated and completely replaced every six hours. The filtering equipment is so effective that the water is actually clearer than most drinking water, and the pool carries an AA rating from the Illinois State Department of Health.

A plaque in the swimming pool area commemorates the generous donation by Bruning. A strong supporter of the Northwest Suburban YMCA from the start, Bruning and other members of the Bruning company have devoted much time and effort as well as financial support.

The Bruning company's national headquarters and machine manufacturing plant are located on Central road in Mount Prospect, where the company's Copyflex machines and sensitized materials are manufactured.

Nancy Boston Scores High With Her Pie

The baking contest was sponsored by the Northern Illinois Gas company. Winners of local high school contests will compete in a district bake-off, with winners going to the divisional baking contest. Two winners from each of five divisions will receive all-expense weekend tours of a large city.

FINAL WINNER, designated as "Penny Flame Pie Queen," will receive a $400 scholarship to further her education. Second-place prize will be a $150 scholarship.

In the Prospect high school contest Pat Pukszta of Arlington Heights and Bonnie Downing of Mt. Prospect were recognized as "honorable mention" winners. Announcement of the contest winners came from Mrs. Marilyn Breiding, homemaking teacher. (ACM

Appeal Debated

County Board Denies Apartment Petition

The Cook county board of commissioners Monday disagreed with its zoning board of appeals in denying a zoning request for an apartment project in Maine township, but split over appealing a similar case to the Illinois Supreme Court.

The commissioners denied an application which would have permitted the erection of 400 apartment units on 31 acres of property located on the northwest corner of Golf rd. and Western ave. presently zoned for single family residences.

Their action prompted Attorney Robert E. Haskins, representing the petitioner, the American National Bank of Chicago, to file a complaint this week contesting the action in Circuit court.

THE MOVE was identical to action taken in the case the commissioners refused to appeal to the high court. The county board in July of last year overruled its zoning board in turning down an apartment zoning petition involving 27 acres of land located on the north side of Ballard rd. 1323 feet east of Potter rd. in Maine township not far from the other project.

The petitioner, Robert R. Krilich, 5906 N. Milwaukee ave., Chicago, through Attorney Dwight McKay, appealed the decision, and on Dec. 6 of last year Circuit Court Judge Charles S. Dougherty ruled in their favor, paving the way for construction of 236 multiple family dwellings.

The motion to appeal the lower court's decision to the Illinois Supreme Court was made by Commissioner Fred Fulle (R., Des Plaines), but tabled by a vote of the Democratic majority after the State's Attorney's office had labeled the case "weak."

Voting with Fulle for passage of the motion were fellow Republicans Charles F. Chaplin of Northbrook and William N. Erickson of Evanston.

In the course of debate, the matter of how the influx of apartment dwellings affect educational systems was brought into focus.

Commissioner Seymour Simon (D., Chicago), serving in place of County Board President John J. Duffy who was confined to his home with a cold, said he was in "emotional agreement" with the GOP minority. But, he added, "The courts have taken over ruling on zoning matters. The interests of planning say schools should be a part of zoning. The courts have treated the question of planning apart from schools."

EDWARD E. Plusdrak, first assistant State's Attorney of the civil division, cited these reasons for concluding the case was a weak one. "The zoning board of appeals had recommended the reclassification. Some of our best zoning experts declined to testify for us so that we had to rely on the testimony of real estate brokers, and the matter was not referred to a master-in-chancery but directly to a judge.

Plusdrak produced a map showing property surrounding the contested 27 acres zoned R-5 general residence district. "The judge ruled that there was no reasonable basis for leaving 27 acres zoned R-4 (single family residence) when the surrounding area was R-5," he stated.

He added that there were two conflicting interests considered in zoning matters. "One is that the land owner has an unrestricted right to do what he wants to with his property. The other is that planning in zoning is in the interests of public welfare. The (Illinois) Supreme Court has cited multiple dwellings as contributing an increase in sources of tax revenue and has refused to be persuaded y any argument such as that requested now."

"You can't tell the property owners that," Fulle responded. He said the area in question was now 65 per cent apartment buildings, and maintained, "They're affecting the public welfare."

Commissioner Chaplin inserted that he agreed the courts divorced the considerations of zoning and schools, but added: "The preamble of our zoning ordinance states that it was enacted in the general welfare. What could be more in the general welfare than education?"

FULLE SAID that an appeal could gain a delay in the matter, but State's Attorney Plusdrak countered that the Supreme Court would frown on an appeal made for the purposes of delay. He said his office was already appealing seven zoning cases.

Plusdrak emphasized however, that if the board felt an appeal should be attempted "we will prosecute it."

In denying the apartment zoning request for 400 units, which the communities of Des Plaines, Glenview, Park Ridge, and Morton Grove had objected to as they had in the first case, Simon conveyed the view of County Board President Duffy that the "zoning would have an adverse effect on the surrounding community."

Simon noted that the president was aware of the declaratory judgment won by petitioners in the other case, but that it would be up to the courts to decide whether to overrule the county board's decision, as they had the authority to do.

R. A. MUNCH, president, Charles Bruning company, Inc. handing a check to S. C. Amren, vice president of the company and chairman of the board of the Northwest Suburban YMCA. The check is part of an $80,000 donation from Herbert F. Bruning, chairman of the board of the Bruning company, which made possible the "Ys" ultra-modern swimming pool.

Northwest YMCA Pool Donated by Bruning

A recent pledge payment by Herbert F. Bruning completed his $80,000 donation to cover the cost of the ultra-modern swimming pool at the new Northwest Suburban YMCA building.

The majority of the contribution was personally made by Bruning, although part of it was given by the Charles Bruning Company, Inc., of which he is Chairman of the Board.

Located in the recently opened "Y" building on Northwest highway, between Des Plaines and Mount Prospect, the swimming pool is one of the most modern in Chicagoland. It was one of the first "indoor-outdoor" type; sliding glass doors providing this year-round flexibility. The pool measures 75x28, with a shallow water end extension of 40 feet. It has two diving boards, is fully tiled and many comments have been made on the architectural beauty of its setting.

IN ADDITION to the 10,500 members of the "Y", local church and school groups, scout organizations and others use the pool regularly. The general public may also use the pool for a nominal fee. Scheduled swimming classes are held at the pool for all age groups. There is a "toddlers' " spray pool adjacent to the large installation.

The new pool has proven of great value to many persons requiring water therapy in convalescence, etc.

WATER IS circulated and completely replaced every six hours. The filtering equipment is so effective that the water is actually clearer than most drinking water, and the pool carries an AA rating from the Illinois State Department of Health.

A plaque in the swimming pool area commemorates the generous donation by Bruning. A strong supporter of the Northwest Suburban YMCA from the start, Bruning and other members of the Bruning company have devoted much time and effort as well as financial support.

The Bruning company's national headquarters and machine manufacturing plant are located on Central road in Mount Prospect, where the company's Copyflex machines and sensitized materials are manufactured.

Nancy Boston Scores High With Her Pie

The "Cherry Pie Queen" of Prospect high school is Nancy Boston of Prospect Heights. Nancy can prove her right to the title through a cherry-pie baking contest held at the high school last week.

The baking contest was sponsored by the Northern Illinois Gas company. Winners of local high school contests will compete in a district bake-off, with winners going to the divisional baking contest. Two winners from each of five divisions will receive all-expense weekend tours of a large city.

FINAL WINNER, designated as "Penny Flame Pie Queen," will receive a $400 scholarship to further her education. Second-place prize will be a $150 scholarship.

In the Prospect high school contest Pat Pukszta of Arlington Heights and Bonnie Downing of Mt. Prospect were recognized as "honorable mention" winners. Announcement of the contest winners came from Mrs. Marilyn Breiding, homemaking teacher. (ACM

County Board Denies Apartment Petition

The Cook county board of commissioners Monday disagreed with its zoning board of appeals in denying a zoning request for an apartment project in Maine township, but spiit over appealing a similar case to the Illinois Supreme Court.

The commissioners denied an application which would have permitted the erection of 400 apartment units on 31 acres of property located on the northwest corner of Golf rd. and Western ave. presently zoned for single family residences.

Their action prompted Attorney Robert E. Haskins, representing the petitioner, the American National Bank of Chicago, to file a complaint this week contesting the action in Circuit court.

THE MOVE was identical to action taken in the case the commissioners refused to appeal to the high court. The county board in July of last year overruled its zoning board in turning down an apartment zoning petition involving 27 acres of land located on the north side of Ballard rd. 1323 feet east of Potter rd. in Maine township not far from the other project.

The petitioner, Robert R. Krilich, 5906 N. Milwaukee ave., Chicago, through Attorney Dwight McKay, appealed the decision, and on Dec. 6 of last year Circuit Court Judge Charles S. Dougherty ruled in their favor, paving the way for construction of 236 multiple family dwellings.

The motion to appeal the lower court's decision to the Illinois Supreme Court was made by Commissioner Fred Fulle (R., Des Plaines), but tabled by a vote of the Democratic majority after the State's Attorney's office had labeled the case "weak."

Voting with Fulle for passage of the motion were fellow Republicans Charles F. Chaplin of Northbrook and William N. Erickson of Evanston.

In the course of debate, the matter of how the influx of apartment dwellings affect educational systems was brought into focus.

Commissioner Seymour Simon (D., Chicago), serving in place of County Board President John J. Duffy who was confined to his home with a cold, said he was in "emotional agreement" with the GOP minority. But, he added, "The courts have taken over ruling on zoning matters. The interests of planning say schools should be a part of zoning. The courts have treated the question of planning apart from schools."

EDWARD E. Plusdrak, first assistant State's Attorney of the civil division, cited these reasons for concluding the case was a weak one. Needing New Hobby? Make Library Visit

by BETTY AINSLIE

According to Webster, a hobby is "an engrossing plan, topic. . . to which one constantly reverts; also an occupation or interest to which one gives his spare time."

Everyone enjoys doing something a bit different from the daily run of tasks, and if you haven't found your possible outlet for creative energy, you might try consulting the Arlington Heights public library's vast collection of books on hobbies.

BEST KNOWN authorities declare men and women should prepare for retirement early by finding a hobby which they enjoy and which will fill in the work gap of the Golden Years. Possibly some of these books might help you to find your own niche.

"American Handyman Book" by the staff of Family Handyman Magazine is a brand new book bound to be gobbled up by the "do-it-yourselfer."

It deals with maintenance and repair of the house, and contains 2,100 photos and diagrams so you can't go far wrong in any home repairs.

FOR THOSE who enjoy singing the new "Sing Along With Mitch" by Bernard Geis Associates might be for you. This is a treasury of funtime favorites with the music and word sheets along with a short biographical sketch of the song writers included in the collection.

"Jewelry and Enameling" by Greta Pock is a new one on this interesting craft of the art and technique of jewelry making.

A series of books with the provocative titles of "Pleasures and Treasures" contain among others two that are excellent. One on shells and another on French porcelain.

If you're just browsing around for a hobby, the book "Creative Crafts for Everyone" by G. Alan Turner gives a number of projects you can do at home.

Loaded with pictures, this book gives details on decorating boxes, plates, glassware, how to make holiday gadgets, clay sculpture, and fun with masks and puppets.

"FUN WITH Artificial Flowers" by Luming shows how to make flowers from wood, paper, cloth, wax, feathers and shells. Also how to use them for decorating, for parties and to give as presents.

A book which gives some new slants on old hobbies is "Handicrafts and Hobbies for Recreation and Retirement" by Marguerite Ickis. This author gives directions for crafts in seven media — wood, metal, leather, clay, paper, textiles and plastics.

These are just a few suggestions. If you already have a hobby you are almost certain to find books written by others who enjoy the same interest in the Arlington Heights public library. (A

Hasbrook Happenings

Hazel Peck CLearbrook 9-0688

It was a "Winter Wonderland" last weekend for certain, with everybody wondering when the winter was going to simmer down. About the only people enjoying the weather were members of the snowsuit set and even they were having their problems.

Rex Swinehart, 812 Lynwood ave., came out second-best when he and his sled disagreed on directions while he was coasting down a hill. Rex is now wearing a mighty sore chin.

Victims of those occupational diseases, which seem to be a part of the business of growing up, were Kathy Adams, 1511 Kaspar ave., and Paula Smith, 1523 Kaspar. Kathy's had chicken pox while Paula's been house-bound with measles.

The juvenile picture wasn't all gloom, though — a couple of birthdays added a bright note. Beth Ann Rooney, 3 January 15, had her party on Sunday with her sister, Mary Carol, Jack and Bonnie Weinberg, Patty and Jeffrey Thut, Cindy Cox, Billy and Renee Poulin, Bonnie McGee, and Lynn Sumner joining her for ice cream and cake.

Gary Grasch's fourth birthday was January 10 and his "mom" served supper at 1831 N. Mitchell to Lynn Bullard, Danny and Larry Peifer, Cathy Pasquale, Tome and Stevie Ley and Larry Baker.

THE "DEBS" really "came out" January 13 at 1523 Ridge for Debbie Elward's sixth birthday party. Debbie Elsholz, Debbie Beuder and Debbie Reta were there, as well as Theresa Donahue, Diana Beuder, Susan Elsholz, Colleen Croghan, Michael and Janet Mrowka, Kathy and Kevin McAleer, and little sister, Patti Elward.

William and Jean Coy announce an important addition to their home, 1518 Ridge ave. He's Steven Joseph, born December 22 in St. Francis hospital, Evanston, weighing 7 pounds 4½ ounces. So now it's a lively threesome — Steven, Billy, 2, and Colleen, 4.

Seen "putting on the dog" Sunday were the Patterson youngsters — Peter, Cindy and Susie. Their well-mannered Newfoundland Liza provided a 1-d.p. (dog-power) ride down their home stretch, Lynwood ave.

Hasbrook was privileged to have an illustrious guest last week when Bob and Jean Pritchard, 1801 N. Ridge ave., entertained David Lupton of London, England, for several days. Mr. Lupton, vice president of Great Britain's Junior Chamber of Commerce and affiliated with the Bank of America, is on a tour of the country.

DURING HIS stopover here, the Pritchards introduced him to some of the area men at an evening gathering. Among the guests were Ron Wittmeyer, Don Sweeny, president of the Arlington Heights Jaycees, and Frank Simek.

The Baileys — Jim, Shirlee, and son, Curt, 1526 Kennicott ave., returning a Christmas visit, spent the past weekend with relatives in Wisconsin.

It wasn't Arbor Day, but Norm and Sally Barratt, 904 Lynwood ave., planted a tree Sunday. They celebrated Christmas this year with a living tree, and now have it braving the snow at the corner of Lynwood and Kasper. (A

Notes from Arlington Acres

Marie Marshall CLearbrook 5-2936

David Kucera, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bayuk, 408 S. Forrest, celebrated his December 28 birthday at a belated party January 13. Guests included Teddy Lindquist, Tommy Swenson, Paul Obuchowski, Doug Reuhl, Alan Carlstedt and Tad Johnson. After birthday refreshments the boys, under Bill Bayuk's supervision, played engineer with David's train layout.

Congratulations on their January 10 wedding anniversary go to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Scharf, 528 S. Prindle.

Sunday was a big day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Hermanson, 437 S. Forrest, when they entertained at a family dinner which was a combination farewell and double birthday affair. Guests of honor were Mrs. Hermanson's sister's family, the Charles McAnallys of Evanston, who are moving to Denver. Their son, John, will have a birthday February 4, so that, too, was celebrated along with Gust Hermanson's January 28 birthday. Other guests were Charlotte Hermanson's mother, Mrs. Doris Olson of Evanston, and Charles McAnally's mother, Mrs. Virginia McAnally of Chicago.

A RECENT overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Swenson, 428 S. Forrest, was Dr. Allan Brant of Orange county, Cal.

Sunday the Swensons felt as if they were back in their native Minnesota, when they spent the day with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Larsen of Fox River Grove, and took the Swenson children, Paul, Wendy, Tommy and Lisa, tobogganing at Cary.

Nathalie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Straub, 521 S. Phelps, was hostess on January 5 at her fifth birthday party. Guests who enjoyed cake and ice cream with Nathalie were her sisters, Cindy and Danielle, as well as David Swaim, Ingrid Holt, Gail Runge, Marcia Roman and Karol McCammon. Little Gary McCammon attended the party, too, with his mother, who assisted Mrs. Straub in supervising activities. (A

Siegel Is Right

State Upholds Zoning Right

Extra-territorial zoning powers of Illinois municipalities were upheld last week by the state attorney general, substantiating an opinion given Arlington Heights officials by Village Atty. Jack M. Siegel in spite of a conflicting ruling by the Cook county state's attorney.

Siegel maintained that the right of villages to exercise approval powers on plats for subdivisions within one and one-half miles of their boundaries was not affected by a technical error in the language of the state's new Municipal Code.

Many village officials feared, and Cook county state's attorney Daniel P. Ward ruled, that the language apparently did rob municipalities of limited control in counties which have zoning ordinances, such as Cook county.

LAST WEEK, however, Atty. Gen. William Clark ruled municipalities still have power to disapprove plats for subdivisions within the limit, and to object to amendments to the county zoning ordinances affecting such territory.

The ruling had been requested by Will County State's Atty. Frank Masters. The Arlington Heights village board recently passed a resolution asking the governor to take all possible action to clarify the issue, also, including pressing for an attorney general's ruling.

The villages' powers are intended to give them the right to block installation of airports, cemeteries, garbage dumps, improperly planned subdivisions and other possibly undesirable projects within one and one-half miles of their limits.

Ridge Park–Sherwood

FROM RIDGE PARK

Most of Ridge Park, and Arlington Heights for that matter, is hibernating since "the big snow" but there are some who are still dreaming of recent weeks spent in warmer climes.

The Gene Wells, 932 N. Fernandez, add their names to the list of families who went to California for the holidays. Leaving here Christmas Day, they drove to San Diego to see their son, Bob, who is stationed aboard the USS Pine Island. They had almost a week with Bob before he shipped out. During that time, Bob procured a 72-hour pass and took his family sightseeing. The big thrill came, however, when they had dinner aboard his ship and then took the deluxe tour of the ship. This especially appealed to young Dick. Dorothy was interested in learning from one of the chiefs aboard ship that he took the design for the Christmas menu from one of the pages of a pre-Christmas issue of the Arlington Herald. In fact, Bob has been sharing his weekly copy of the Herald with his shipmates who enjoy reading it very much.

Another dinner the Wells enjoyed was the one at the Fronton Talacio in Tijuana, Mexico. Afterward they attended the games there—Jai Alai rating high on the list with Mexicans and one on which much betting is made. After Bob left, Dorothy, Gene and Dick went to the San Diego zoo—Dick's first visit to a zoo of any kind and one he'll long remember. The following day was spent at Disneyland. Before heading home they did some sightseeing in Hollywood, going to the Bowl and other places of interest.

Dorothy celebrated her birthday at the Flamingo in Las Vegas where Mitzi Gaynor and Harry James were playing. They actually wound up the sightseeing part of the trip at the Hoover Dam. Gone two weeks, they saw no snow from the time they left Springfield until they reached Oklahoma City on the way back.

FRIENDS AND neighbors of Lu Hostler, 927 N. Kennicott, wish her a speedy recovery from an operation in Ravenswood hospital last week. Aunt Ella came up from Texas to keep the home fires burning. Lu will probably be home around the first of next week.

A week ago Sunday the Robert Buechners, 1012 N. Fernandez, drove into Chicago to help Bob's sister celebrate her birthday at a dinner party.

Greg Lude is sitting on the inside and looking at the outside these days, recuperating from a sudden illness that hospitalized him recently. The son of the Frank Ludes, 1005 Race, is hoping the snow won't melt before he can enjoy it.

It's a girl for Ruth and Bill Griffith, 625 N. Kaspar. Heidi Marie was born in Sherman hospital, Elgin, January 10, weighing 8 pounds 8 ounces. She came home to sister, Libby, 8, and two brothers, John, 7, and Bob, 5. Grandparents are the C. L. Griffiths of Arlington Heights and the Earl Lohnes of Ripley, Ontario, Canada.

A NOTE OF sympathy goes to the William Lee family, 1012 N. Ridge, due to the death of his father, William Lee Sr. last week.

The end of the holidays hasn't meant a slowdown in Barbara Rubenking's activities. On the 11th she entertained Mary Barthel, Helen Ardinger of Arlington Heights and Nan Knobe of Barrington at lunch, after which the ladies spent the afternoon sewing. Friday's luncheon guests included Debbie Parvin, Dottie Norris and Rosemary Ross. Ruth Snellgrove of Glencoe dropped in later in the afternoon. The same Ruth Snellgrove and her husband, George, gave a birthday party for Barbara the Saturday before. The Charles Parvins and the Raab Sechrists also joined the party that snowy evening. Last Saturday was another party for the Rubenkings, this one a surprise birthday party for Joseph Barthel.

Get well wishes go to Mrs. George Cannell, 810 N. Princeton, who underwent surgery in Norwegian-American hospital last week.

The Tom Lanes, 834 N. Princeton, are parents of a son, Thomas Henry, born in Belmont Community hospital December 23, weighing 7 pounds 7 ounces. The Lanes also have a daughter, Susan. Grandparents are the Henry Lanes of Hardinsburg, Ind., and Mrs. William Lueth, who makes her home with the Lanes.

RICKEY VICKERY was 4 last Thursday and celebrated the occasion by inviting the following children to a party: Nancy and LeAnne Niell, Christopher, Jonathan and Bobby Bone, Stevie Roth, Robert Van Matre and Johnny Fraser, the last three from Wheeling.

The next afternoon Debbie and Donnie Alsup arrived from Palatine for Rickey's party. Mrs. Alsup let the day slip up on her, but the children were just as happy with the mix-up especially the birthday boy himself, who partied all over again. Rickey is the son of the Bill Vickerys, 632 N. Salem.

The Charles Koehlers, 720 N. Kennicott, felt this past Christmas was complete when her parents, the Stanley Terrys, arrived from Springfield, Ohio—their first trip in two years. When the Terrys returned home they took Chip with them for 10 days. He flew back last Friday with a friend of the family who had gone to Springfield on business. He was thrilled by the takeoff, but promptly fell asleep once they were airborne and had to be awakened on arrival here. (A

Needing New Hobby? Make Library Visit

by BETTY AINSLIE

According to Webster, a hobby is "an engrossing plan, topic. . . to which one constantly reverts; also an occupation or interest to which one gives his spare time."

Everyone enjoys doing something a bit different from the daily run of tasks, and if you haven't found your possible outlet for creative energy, you might try consulting the Arlington Heights public library's vast collection of books on hobbies.

BEST KNOWN authorities declare men and women should prepare for retirement early by finding a hobby which they enjoy and which will fill in the work gap of the Golden Years. Possibly some of these books might help you to find your own niche.

"American Handyman Book" by the staff of Family Handyman Magazine is a brand new book bound to be gobbled up by the "do-it-yourselfer."

It deals with maintenance and repair of the house, and contains 2,100 photos and diagrams so you can't go far wrong in any home repairs.

FOR THOSE who enjoy singing the new "Sing Along With Mitch" by Bernard Geis Associates might be for you. This is a treasury of funtime favorites with the music and word sheets along with a short biographical sketch of the song writers included in the collection.

"Jewelry and Enameling" by Greta Pock is a new one on this interesting craft of the art and technique of jewelry making.

A series of books with the provocative titles of "Pleasures and Treasures" contain among others two that are excellent. One on shells and another on French porcelain.

If you're just browsing around for a hobby, the book "Creative Crafts for Everyone" by G. Alan Turner gives a number of projects you can do at home.

Loaded with pictures, this book gives details on decorating boxes, plates, glassware, how to make holiday gadgets, clay sculpture, and fun with masks and puppets.

"FUN WITH Artificial Flowers" by Luming shows how to make flowers from wood, paper, cloth, wax, feathers and shells. Also how to use them for decorating, for parties and to give as presents.

A book which gives some new slants on old hobbies is "Handicrafts and Hobbies for Recreation and Retirement" by Marguerite Ickis. This author gives directions for crafts in seven media — wood, metal, leather, clay, paper, textiles and plastics.

These are just a few suggestions. If you already have a hobby you are almost certain to find books written by others who enjoy the same interest in the Arlington Heights public library. (A

Notes from Arlington Acres

Marie Marshall CLearbrook 5-2936

David Kucera, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bayuk, 408 S. Forrest, celebrated his December 28 birthday at a belated party January 13. Guests included Teddy Lindquist, Tommy Swenson, Paul Obuchowski, Doug Reuhl, Alan Carlstedt and Tad Johnson. After birthday refreshments the boys, under Bill Bayuk's supervision, played engineer with David's train layout.

Congratulations on their January 10 wedding anniversary go to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Scharf, 528 S. Prindle.

Sunday was a big day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Hermanson, 437 S. Forrest, when they entertained at a family dinner which was a combination farewell and double birthday affair. Guests of honor were Mrs. Hermanson's sister's family, the Charles McAnallys of Evanston, who are moving to Denver. Their son, John, will have a birthday February 4, so that, too, was celebrated along with Gust Hermanson's January 28 birthday. Other guests were Charlotte Hermanson's mother, Mrs. Doris Olson of Evanston, and Charles McAnally's mother, Mrs. Virginia McAnally of Chicago.

A RECENT overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Swenson, 428 S. Forrest, was Dr. Allan Brant of Orange county, Cal.

Sunday the Swensons felt as if they were back in their native Minnesota, when they spent the day with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Larsen of Fox River Grove, and took the Swenson children, Paul, Wendy, Tommy and Lisa, tobogganing at Cary.

Nathalie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Straub, 521 S. Phelps, was hostess on January 5 at her fifth birthday party. Guests who enjoyed cake and ice cream with Nathalie were her sisters, Cindy and Danielle, as well as David Swaim, Ingrid Holt, Gail Runge, Marcia Roman and Karol McCammon. Little Gary McCammon attended the party, too, with his mother, who assisted Mrs. Straub in supervising activities. (A

Hazel Peck CLearbrook 9-0688

It was a "Winter Wonderland" last weekend for certain, with everybody wondering when the winter was going to simmer down. About the only people enjoying the weather were members of the snowsuit set and even they were having their problems.

Rex Swinehart, 812 Lynwood ave., came out second-best when he and his sled disagreed on directions while he was coasting down a hill. Rex is now wearing a mighty sore chin.

Victims of those occupational diseases, which seem to be a part of the business of growing up, were Kathy Adams, 1511 Kaspar ave., and Paula Smith, 1523 Kaspar. Kathy's had chicken pox while Paula's been house-bound with measles.

The juvenile picture wasn't all gloom, though — a couple of birthdays added a bright note. Beth Ann Rooney, 3 January 15, had her party on Sunday with her sister, Mary Carol, Jack and Bonnie Weinberg, Patty and Jeffrey Thut, Cindy Cox, Billy and Renee Poulin, Bonnie McGee, and Lynn Sumner joining her for ice cream and cake.

Gary Grasch's fourth birthday was January 10 and his "mom" served supper at 1831 N. Mitchell to Lynn Bullard, Danny and Larry Peifer, Cathy Pasquale, Tome and Stevie Ley and Larry Baker.

THE "DEBS" really "came out" January 13 at 1523 Ridge for Debbie Elward's sixth birthday party. Debbie Elsholz, Debbie Beuder and Debbie Reta were there, as well as Theresa Donahue, Diana Beuder, Susan Elsholz, Colleen Croghan, Michael and Janet Mrowka, Kathy and Kevin McAleer, and little sister, Patti Elward.

William and Jean Coy announce an important addition to their home, 1518 Ridge ave. He's Steven Joseph, born December 22 in St. Francis hospital, Evanston, weighing 7 pounds 4½ ounces. So now it's a lively threesome — Steven, Billy, 2, and Colleen, 4.

Seen "putting on the dog" Sunday were the Patterson youngsters — Peter, Cindy and Susie. Their well-mannered Newfoundland Liza provided a 1-d.p. (dog-power) ride down their home stretch, Lynwood ave.

Hasbrook was privileged to have an illustrious guest last week when Bob and Jean Pritchard, 1801 N. Ridge ave., entertained David Lupton of London, England, for several days. Mr. Lupton, vice president of Great Britain's Junior Chamber of Commerce and affiliated with the Bank of America, is on a tour of the country.

DURING HIS stopover here, the Pritchards introduced him to some of the area men at an evening gathering. Among the guests were Ron Wittmeyer, Don Sweeny, president of the Arlington Heights Jaycees, and Frank Simek.

The Baileys — Jim, Shirlee, and son, Curt, 1526 Kennicott ave., returning a Christmas visit, spent the past weekend with relatives in Wisconsin.

It wasn't Arbor Day, but Norm and Sally Barratt, 904 Lynwood ave., planted a tree Sunday. They celebrated Christmas this year with a living tree, and now have it braving the snow at the corner of Lynwood and Kasper. (A

Series in Tumbling Continues

The second series of tumbling and trampoline classes sponsored by the Arlington Heights park district began last Saturday, but Bill Appleby, superintendent of recreation, said there still is time to register for the remaining 11 weeks of instruction.

The classes meet on Saturday morning at Recreation and Pioneer park fieldhouses. Children six to eight years old meet at 9 a.m., and nine to 13-year-olds come at 10 a.m. Advanced students meet at Recreation park at 11 a.m.

Enrollment may be made at either park. The fee is $2. (A

Siegel Is Right

State Upholds Zoning Right

Extra-territorial zoning powers of Illinois municipalities were upheld last week by the state attorney general, substantiating an opinion given Arlington Heights officials by Village Atty. Jack M. Siegel in spite of a conflicting ruling by the Cook county state's attorney.

Siegel maintained that the right of villages to exercise approval powers on plats for subdivisions within one and one-half miles of their boundaries was not affected by a technical error in the language of the state's new Municipal Code.

Many village officials feared, and Cook county state's attorney Daniel P. Ward ruled, that the language apparently did rob municipalities of limited control in counties which have zoning ordinances, such as Cook county.

LAST WEEK, however, Atty. Gen. William Clark ruled municipalities still have power to disapprove plats for subdivisions within the limit, and to object to amendments to the county zoning ordinances affecting such territory.

The ruling had been requested by Will County State's Atty. Frank Masters. The Arlington Heights village board recently passed a resolution asking the governor to take all possible action to clarify the issue, also, including pressing for an attorney general's ruling.

The villages' powers are intended to give them the right to block installation of airports, cemeteries, garbage dumps, improperly planned subdivisions and other possibly undesirable projects within one and one-half miles of their limits.

Ridge Park–Sherwood

FROM RIDGE PARK

Most of Ridge Park, and Arlington Heights for that matter, is hibernating since "the big snow" but there are some who are still dreaming of recent weeks spent in warmer climes.

The Gene Wells, 932 N. Fernandez, add their names to the list of families who went to California for the holidays. Leaving here Christmas Day, they drove to San Diego to see their son, Bob, who is stationed aboard the USS Pine Island. They had almost a week with Bob before he shipped out. During that time, Bob procured a 72-hour pass and took his family sightseeing. The big thrill came, however, when they had dinner aboard his ship and then took the deluxe tour of the ship. This especially appealed to young Dick. Dorothy was interested in learning from one of the chiefs aboard ship that he took the design for the Christmas menu from one of the pages of a pre-Christmas issue of the Arlington Herald. In fact, Bob has been sharing his weekly copy of the Herald with his shipmates who enjoy reading it very much.

Another dinner the Wells enjoyed was the one at the Fronton Talacio in Tijuana, Mexico. Afterward they attended the games there—Jai Alai rating high on the list with Mexicans and one on which much betting is made. After Bob left, Dorothy, Gene and Dick went to the San Diego zoo—Dick's first visit to a zoo of any kind and one he'll long remember. The following day was spent at Disneyland. Suburb Weight Reducing Program Prospers

THE FIRST ORDER of business at area TOPS chapter meetings is "weighing in." Roll call is answered by members giving the number of pounds they have lost during the week. Helping read the scales for Mrs. Jack Rosenquist, secretary of Mount Prospect TOPS are, left to right, Mrs. Harry Ewalt, Mrs. Kurt Umbach and Mrs. Walter Alexander, of Palatine, co-leader of the Palatine chapter of TOPS. TOPS Chapters Recruiting Here

by MELDA LYNN

A paper plate with a picture of a pig in the middle and the words "eat for need and not for greed" is a part of the decor of many kitchens in the northwest suburbs.

Slogans such as "Are you thick and tired of it?" . . . Don't be a Sample Simon!" . . . "Better to waste than to waist!" are also decorating the outsides of refrigerators, cupboard doors and other places where food might be kept.

The reminders are all a nationwide system to help Take Off Pounds Sensibly, better known as TOPS.

The purpose of the organization is to help overweight people who are sincerely interested in losing pounds sensibly. The method is based on the principle of "group therapy."

OVERWEIGHT people get together at weekly chapter meetings. They frankly discuss their overweight problems, sharing calorie-conscious menus. They try to help themselves ,and each other, realize why they are gaining unwanted pounds. They know they will not be laughed at because all members have the same problem, too many pounds.

At the present time there are three daytime TOPS chapters in the immediate area. One in Arlington Heights meets in Pioneer park field house every Tuesday morning.

The Palatine Pal TOPS meets each Wednesday from 9:30 to 11 a.m.

Newest daytime group is the Mount Prospect TOPS which meets each Monday afternoon from 1 to 3 p.m. in St. Paul Lutheran church.

Each local TOPS club is associated with an area supervisor. Area groups are a part of state organizations and state organizations part of the national TOPS. The state leader is known as "mother."

Each local group is supervised by a local leader, usually one member of the club who is directly responsible for organizing, seeing that there is a place for meetings, taking care of meeting details and offering helpful encouragement to all club members.

EACH CLUB has its own officers and plans its own programs, using area, state and national programs set up as guides.

The official rules state "The objects and purposes of each chapter shall be to promote the health and welfare of its members by the singular means of collective or group stimulus directed to both the correction of excessive weight and the maintenance of proper weight by members having achieved normal weight levels."

All chapters are non-political, non-sectarian and non-profit. No chapter is permitted to become identified in any manner with any commercial weight reduction or diet control program or any commercial organization.

TOPS organizations are not only for women, but for men, teenagers and even for tiny tots under 12 years of age. The individual groups all operate under the same group therapy idea.

TOPS chapter meetings are fun, inspirational and serious business all rolled into one. They are based on individual self will, counting calories, not crash diets or crash exercise programs.

Roll call is given by members telling how many pounds they either gained or lost during the past week. Each member weighs in just before the meeting begins.

IF A MEMBER has gained she is fined a small amount for each pound. The one who loses the most is crowned "queen for the day." Each chapter in turn can nominate a state queen, who in turn can compete for national queen.

The program then continues according to a nationally set order of business. The discussions during the meeting are designed to help each other, on a friendly basis, to strengthen will power. Members encourage each other and try to especially instill incentive in those individuals who have showed a weight gain during the past week.

TOPS meetings always include some kind of a social program. By socializing together overweight individuals find they can overcome any underlying causes of their obesity or the cause for the additional few pounds they do not need.

TOPS is not only for the obese. Many members who realize they have only a few too many pounds find a great deal of help in maintaining their weight through an inspirational and educational process offered by the chapter.

TOPS is a well-planned, long range continuing program. It was originally formed along lines set up by Alcoholics Anonymous, where those needing inspiration can get it from others who are facing the same knd of a problem.

A member can call another TOPS member for help in overcoming a pitfall of eating that extra piece of candy or if she feels her will power is weakening.

A standing rule of the organization is that members must have an okay from their doctor before they can enter into the weight reduction program. TOPS has been endorsed by many of the medical profession.

A piece of literature called "Together we Lose" is given to all who are interested in becoming members of TOPS. It gives the purpose of the group, tells of rules and explains the area, state and national setup.

The pamphlet sums up the way the organization works.

Success of TOPS has come through the reputation it has gained through friendly help. Help that has brought results "even when everything else had failed." This friendship is called the cornerstone of the organization.

Information about joining the three local groups can be obtained by calling Mrs. Beth Bechard, Arlington Heights, 259-2322; Mary Gerth, Palatine, FL 8-2715 or Dolores Haugh, Mount Prospect, CL 3-3996.

Fast and Accurate Service

I don't think it's much of an exaggeration to say that most TV programs are mediocre if not down right poor in quality. But, do you ever try changing the station when a group of people are watching?

There's always someone who wants to see how the lousy thing ends. The amount of time wasted like this must be terrific.

But, how about the times when your TV set needs service? We have seen folks tolerating hazy and distorted TV pictures just because they thought it would take too long to get it serviced.

No need to do this with an organization like LANDWEHR'S TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights around. We have the most modern equipment and know-how to do the service job quickly. And often . . . at least nine out of ten times right in your own living room. Phone CLearbrook 5-0700 next time for guaranteed electronic service.

ROLLING MEADOWS

Mrs. Betty Leonard, leader of the Little Ballerina Blue Bird group, report that she has had excellent results with her second graders taking turns at planning and running a meeting. Kathy Wieger took charge of last week's meeting.

At a regular meeting January 16 of the Blue Bird Watchers, "pinning" ceremony took place. Mothers presented the 16 girls with their Blue Bird pins. Songs, taught by their leader, Mrs. Dorothy Williams, were sung followed by refreshments.

HOFFMAN ESTATES

Dancing Daisies Blue Birds have elected new officers for a 3-month period. The are: Linda Worder, president; Nancy Gognac. secretary; and Linda Blundell, treasurer. Their leader, Mrs. Marge Stevens, has been inviting mothers to explain their special interests to the girls.

To date the girls have made articles of shells and bottle caps and have learned first aid. Their special holiday project consisted of clothespin dolls made of felt and sprinkled with imagination. These were used for Christmas decorations.

The 25 girls in the A-O-WA-KI-YA and Ocawasin Camp Fire groups, under the guardianship of Mrs. Robert Wills, made beeswax candles as gifts for their parents at Christmas time. The "firemakers dinner" was cooked by 6 of the girls of this group.

Anyone in the Hoffman Estates area willing to help with Camp Fire Girls or Blue Birds is urged to contact Mrs. Stevens, TW 4-3213 who has girls on a waiting list.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Chickiyapi Camp Fire group had a Christmas party December 20 for a rank requirement. At the party the mothers and girls played two new games and sang songs. The mothers then presented the girls with their Camp Fire pins. A grab bag and refreshments previously made by the girls completed the evening. Evajean Conroy is president of this group; Mariann Crouch, vice president, Christie Laurin, treasurer; and Kristine Engelbretsen, scribe.

To receive an honor, Rosemary Saidikowski, Karen Platt, Linda Wiegel, Linda Norris, Gail Vogel and Linda McDougal, of the TA-CIN-CA Camp Fire group, recently attended traffic court in Arlington Heights as spectators. (B9

Suburb Weight Reducing Program Prospers

THE FIRST ORDER of business at area TOPS chapter meetings is "weighing in." Roll call is answered by members giving the number of pounds they have lost during the week. Helping read the scales for Mrs. Jack Rosenquist, secretary of Mount Prospect TOPS are, left to right, Mrs. Harry Ewalt, Mrs. Kurt Umbach and Mrs. Walter Alexander, of Palatine, co-leader of the Palatine chapter of TOPS. TOPS Chapters Recruiting Here

by MELDA LYNN

A paper plate with a picture of a pig in the middle and the words "eat for need and not for greed" is a part of the decor of many kitchens in the northwest suburbs.

Slogans such as "Are you thick and tired of it?" . . . Don't be a Sample Simon!" . . . "Better to waste than to waist!" are also decorating the outsides of refrigerators, cupboard doors and other places where food might be kept.

The reminders are all a nationwide system to help Take Off Pounds Sensibly, better known as TOPS.

The purpose of the organization is to help overweight people who are sincerely interested in losing pounds sensibly. The method is based on the principle of "group therapy."

OVERWEIGHT people get together at weekly chapter meetings. They frankly discuss their overweight problems, sharing calorie-conscious menus. They try to help themselves ,and each other, realize why they are gaining unwanted pounds. They know they will not be laughed at because all members have the same problem, too many pounds.

At the present time there are three daytime TOPS chapters in the immediate area. One in Arlington Heights meets in Pioneer park field house every Tuesday morning.

The Palatine Pal TOPS meets each Wednesday from 9:30 to 11 a.m.

Newest daytime group is the Mount Prospect TOPS which meets each Monday afternoon from 1 to 3 p.m. in St. Paul Lutheran church.

Each local TOPS club is associated with an area supervisor. Area groups are a part of state organizations and state organizations part of the national TOPS. The state leader is known as "mother."

Each local group is supervised by a local leader, usually one member of the club who is directly responsible for organizing, seeing that there is a place for meetings, taking care of meeting details and offering helpful encouragement to all club members.

EACH CLUB has its own officers and plans its own programs, using area, state and national programs set up as guides.

The official rules state "The objects and purposes of each chapter shall be to promote the health and welfare of its members by the singular means of collective or group stimulus directed to both the correction of excessive weight and the maintenance of proper weight by members having achieved normal weight levels."

All chapters are non-political, non-sectarian and non-profit. No chapter is permitted to become identified in any manner with any commercial weight reduction or diet control program or any commercial organization.

TOPS organizations are not only for women, but for men, teenagers and even for tiny tots under 12 years of age. The individual groups all operate under the same group therapy idea.

TOPS chapter meetings are fun, inspirational and serious business all rolled into one. They are based on individual self will, counting calories, not crash diets or crash exercise programs.

Roll call is given by members telling how many pounds they either gained or lost during the past week. Each member weighs in just before the meeting begins.

IF A MEMBER has gained she is fined a small amount for each pound. The one who loses the most is crowned "queen for the day." Each chapter in turn can nominate a state queen, who in turn can compete for national queen.

The program then continues according to a nationally set order of business. The discussions during the meeting are designed to help each other, on a friendly basis, to strengthen will power. Members encourage each other and try to especially instill incentive in those individuals who have showed a weight gain during the past week.

TOPS meetings always include some kind of a social program. By socializing together overweight individuals find they can overcome any underlying causes of their obesity or the cause for the additional few pounds they do not need.

TOPS is not only for the obese. Many members who realize they have only a few too many pounds find a great deal of help in maintaining their weight through an inspirational and educational process offered by the chapter.

TOPS is a well-planned, long range continuing program. It was originally formed along lines set up by Alcoholics Anonymous, where those needing inspiration can get it from others who are facing the same knd of a problem.

A member can call another TOPS member for help in overcoming a pitfall of eating that extra piece of candy or if she feels her will power is weakening.

A standing rule of the organization is that members must have an okay from their doctor before they can enter into the weight reduction program. TOPS has been endorsed by many of the medical profession.

A piece of literature called "Together we Lose" is given to all who are interested in becoming members of TOPS. It gives the purpose of the group, tells of rules and explains the area, state and national setup.

The pamphlet sums up the way the organization works.

Success of TOPS has come through the reputation it has gained through friendly help. Help that has brought results "even when everything else had failed." This friendship is called the cornerstone of the organization.

Information about joining the three local groups can be obtained by calling Mrs. Beth Bechard, Arlington Heights, 259-2322; Mary Gerth, Palatine, FL 8-2715 or Dolores Haugh, Mount Prospect, CL 3-3996.

Fast and Accurate Service

by ED LANDWEHR

I don't think it's much of an exaggeration to say that most TV programs are mediocre if not down right poor in quality. But, do you ever try changing the station when a group of people are watching?

There's always someone who wants to see how the lousy thing ends. The amount of time wasted like this must be terrific.

But, how about the times when your TV set needs service? We have seen folks tolerating hazy and distorted TV pictures just because they thought it would take too long to get it serviced.

No need to do this with an organization like LANDWEHR'S TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights around. We have the most modern equipment and know-how to do the service job quickly. And often . . . at least nine out of ten times right in your own living room. Phone CLearbrook 5-0700 next time for guaranteed electronic service.

How much money is enough when it comes to educating suburban children?

As with many major questions, the answer can vary.

Figures showing the amount of money spent for each pupil for all suburban school districts were recently released by the county school superintendent's office for comparative purposes. Average daily attendance and tax rates for the 1960 tax bills were included in the report.

IN THE FOUR-township area of Wheeling, Elk Grove, Palatine, and Schaumburg, not one school district was included in the top quarter grouping based on expenditures per pupil.

High schools showed the poorest record.

Of the 28 high school districts in suburban Cook county, Palatine-Schaumburg high schools ranked 23 and Arlington-Prospect high schools ranked 24 in the amount of money spent per pupil. At Palatine the total expenditure was $653.37, while Arlington-Prospect district spent almost $10 less with a record of $643.57.

This compares to top-ranking scholastic high schools such as Evanston with a per-pupil expenditure of $1,009.19, New Trier with $1,000.59 and Oak Park with $918.06.

EVEN FOR their 23rd-place rank, Palatine taxpayers paid the tenth highest taxes with a total high school rate of $1.606. Arlington - Prospect ranked twentieth with a total tax rate of $1.324.

In the elementary school districts Arlington district 25, Wheeling-Buffalo Grove district 21, Elk Grove district 59 and Prospect Heights district 23 ranked in the top half in their expenditures per pupil.

With the median per-pupil expenditure shown at $433, Wheeling spent $477.36 per student, Arlington spent $471.98 and Prospect Heights spent $502.29. Per-pupil expense in Elk Grove was $477.78.

RANKED IN the lowest quarter of individual student support were Mt. Prospect district 57, Feehanville district 26, and Schaumburg-Hoffman district 54. Expenditures in Schaumburg were $322.35 per pupil while Mt. Prospect spent $366.55 for each student. Each student cost the Feehanville district $352.11.

The old Wilson school district 24, now a part of Arlington district 25, showed an expenditure of $370.68 per student. Palatine-Rolling Meadows district 15 spent $409.69 to educate each student.

Tax rates for the local elementary district ranged from a high in Wheeling-Buffalo Grove school district of $2.332 to a low in the adjoining Feehanville district with a tax rate of $1.768.

Taxes for Palatine-Rolling Meadows were $2.014; for Prospect Heights, $1.988; for Wilson school, $1.914; for Arlington, $2.002; for Schaumburg-Hoffman $2.034; for Mt. Prospect, $1.878; and for Elk Grove, $1.986.

HONORS FOR the greatest number of students easily went to Palatine-Rolling Meadows elementary schools with an average daily attendance of 5,408 students. Feehanville schools had the lowest enrollment with 393 students.

Average daily attendance figure shown for Wheeling schools was 1,663; for Prospect Heights, 698; for Wilson school, 511; for Arlington, 3,857; for Schaumburg, 1,967; for Mount Prospect, 3,624; and for Elk Grove, 2,055.

Enrollment at Arlington-Prospect high schools was set at 4,184—the fourth largest in the county. Average daily attendance at Palatine-Schaumburg was 1,499. (B8

Mental Health Clinic Site To Be Selected

Members of the board of directors of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health association will be asked to vote on a definite location for the mental health clinic at their regular January board meeting this Thursday, January 18, at 8:30 p.m. in the Rolling Meadows Bowl.

The location to be submitted to the board by the association's housing committee is the "Miss Mayfield" dress shop in the Westgate Shopping center, situated at the intersection of Wilke rd. and Campbell st. in Arlington Heights. The store is to be vacated by February 1, and the remodeling could be completed and the space made available to the clinic by the middle of February, the committee noted.

THE STORE location offers the benefits of a central and easily-reached location, ample parking, and attractive surroundings, it added. The 1780-square feet can be divided into a waiting room, three private offices, and a large room in the rear with dividers installed to break it into smaller work areas, committee members explained.

In addition to the settling of the location of the clinic, the board members will also hear a report from the personnel and clinical practices committee regarding the progress of interviews with psychiatrists interested in assuming the position as director of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health clinic, as well as reports from other standing committees.

The Rolling Meadows Bowl is located at 3245 Kirchoff rd., south of the Rolling Meadows shopping center. Interested persons are invited to attend the meeting.

The clinic will serve the communities of Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Palatine, Hoffman Estates-Schaumburg, Elk Grove Village, Wheeling, and Rolling Meadows. (B8

Northwest Suburban YMCA Open House Set for Sunday

The first anniversary of the opening of the Northwest Suburban YMCA building, the eighth anniversary of the local YMCA setup, and the beginning of National "Y" Week will all be celebrated at an open house this Sunday.

Site of the festivities will be the YMCA building, 300 Northwest hwy., Des Plaines. The open house will run from 2 to 4 p.m.

Charles McClellan, executive secretary, this week issued an invitation to all area residents to attend. He said a program of exhibitions is planned, and that the staff, volunteers and members of the board of directors will be on hand to welcome visitors.

The Northwest Suburban YMCA was formally approved as the 31st branch of the Chicago Metropolitan YMCA in January, 1954. It operated for six years using existing facilities in the area.

MORE THAN 10,000 persons contributed funds to build the present YMCA building which was opened January 15, 1961. The building contains swimming pool, gymnasium, handball courts, exercise room, snack bar, luncheon area, craft and game rooms, and other facilities.

Today the Northwest Suburban YMCA—with 8,765 members, is the largest Y in the State of Illinois.

For seven years the Y's board of directors was headed by Tom Blake, president of Littelfuse, Inc., Des Plaines. Current board chairman is Stanley C. Amren, vice president of Chas. Bruning Co., Mt. Prospect.

PROFESSIONAL staff caring for the program and activities department include McClellan, Arthur Holland, physical director; Miss Helen Coryell, women and girls' director; Len Adams, youth director, and Dave Sheldon, director of club program.

Office and general business operation is directed by Mrs. Russell Carlson.

More than 5,000 hours of volunteer assistance has been given the Y by the Women's Auxiliary since the group's inception two years ago. Mrs. T. Arthur Marow is auxiliary president.

SHE SAYS: "We are proud of our achievement, especially because we are trailblazers in this phase of Y activity. We are the first metropolitan chapter to form an auxiliary of working volunteers."

Mrs. William Busse of Mt. Prospect is the auxiliary executive coordinator. Mrs. Harvey Manny of Des Plaines oversees the successful operation of the Y's snack bar.

All area residents are eligible for Y membership. Complete activity programs for men, women and children are offered. Inquiries as to the Y's activities and programs are invited. (B8

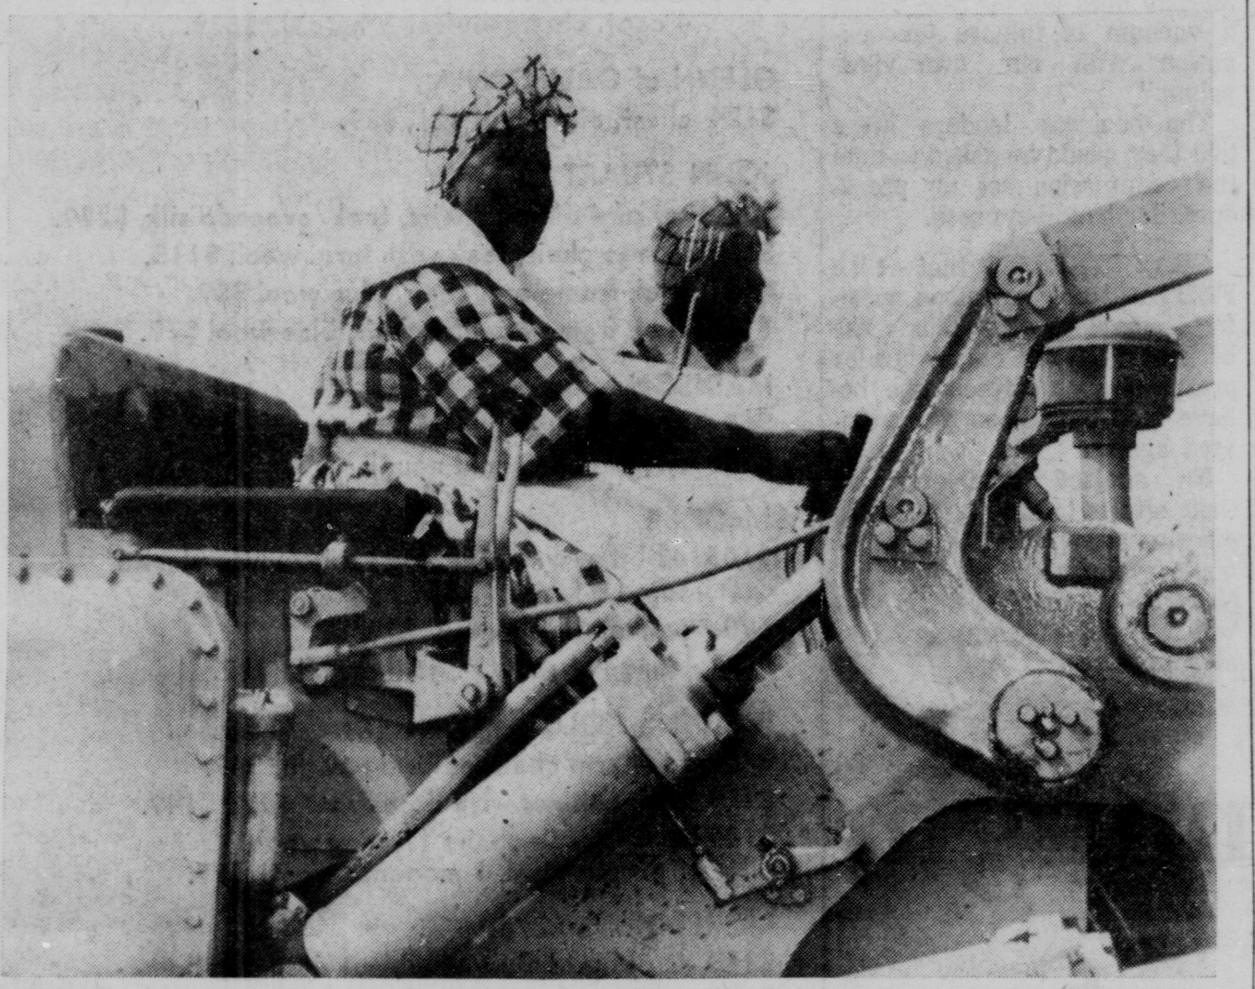
Aunt Jemima Store To Open Here



AUNT JEMIMA took the controls of the tractor which broke ground for Aunt Jemima's Kitchen being built on Rand rd., adjoining the west boundary of Mount Prospect Plaza Shopping Center. Aunt Jemima will supervise all the cooking and serving of her special pancakes and dinners at the new Kitchen which is expected to be open by June 1.

The first Aunt Jemima Kitchen in the Mount Prospect area is under construction on Rand Rd., just west of Mount Prospect Plaza Shopping center.

Aunt Jemima's Kitchen, a franchise operation of the Quaker Oats Co., is expected to be open by June 1, 1962.

The menu will include 35 varieties of pancakes, fruit plates, choice cuts of beef, sausage, bacon, omelets and egg, dishes of many kinds, turkey, beverages and ice cream fountain treats.

Aunt Jemima herself will be on the premises of her Kitchen at all times. She will have complete supervision of all the food served. She will play hostess to all guests and will entertain the children. Aunt Jemima, a trained classical music vocalist, will also entertain her guests with songs in the true tradition of her ancestral Aunt Jemima.

ALL AUNT Jemimas are direct descendants of the original Aunt Jemima, according to Frank Kamberos, president of Willow Kitchens, Inc. who operates the Aunt Jemima Kitchens. Each Aunt Jemima follows faithfully the recipes handed down through the years.

Kamberos said the new Kitchen will be a true representation of a gracious old southern plantation home. "The exterior will be completely southern colonial styling from pillar to hitching post," reports Kamberos.

The walls will be of white brick, set off by black shutters and a yellow shale roof.

INSIDE WILL be three dining areas; the Cotillion room, the Fireside room and the Garden room. Floors of the Cotillion room will be carpeted and the decor will feature large walnut tables and cane back chairs; hurricane lamps mounted on walls and set in antique gold frames. Bright water color paintings will be displayed.

The Garden room will feature a New Orleans type motif with a sunken garden. It will have simulated bushes and small palm leaf bushes and candy cane striped leather seats.

The Fireside room will have plank oak floors and panelled walls; burled oak tables; bucket seat chairs; a natural fireplace and a display of Hudson Bay firearms.

THE KITCHEN will have a seating capacity for 130 persons and parking facilities for 100 cars.

Kamberos said Aunt Jemima will be happy to appear before local clubs and present a program of songs of the old south.

'Dissent Among Dissenters' Is Fellowship Topic Sunday

David Johnson, a student at Meadville theological school, will speak this Sunday on "Dissent among the Dissenters" at Countryside Unitarian Universalist Fellowship. He will present a history of the Free Religious association, of which he says, "In 1867 a group of liberals, dissatisfied with the trends in both Unitarianism and Universalism, met in Boston to form a free religious association. Although it never grew very large, it changed the direction of Unitarianism and laid the groundwork for the 20th century humanist movement in the liberal church."

A GRADUATE of Western Reserve academy, Antioch college, and the University of Illinois, Johnson has also attended the Albert Schweitzer college, Churwalden, Switzerland. He has held various executive and counselling jobs in connection with his schooling, and plans to enter the Unitarian Universalist ministry.

Countryside Fellowship meets at 10:45 Sunday mornings in the meeting house on Ela rd., just south of Algonquin rd. in Palatine township. Sunday school for children of all ages meets at the same time. Coffee and a discussion period follow the service. Visitors are welcome. (A14

Suburb News In Summary

PALATINE — Rebel Democrats in Palatine township charged that incumbent Democratic committeeman Oliver Dilks last week "locked them out" of a regular party meeting. Dilks declared that the rival group, headed by John Rafferty, one of three Democratic committeeman candidates, was not invited to the meeting, which he said was only for precinct captains of the regular party organization.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS — An unofficial poll of representatives from village organizations showed substantial support for the February 17 park district referendum, which will seek approval of issuance of $570,000 general obligation bonds for land acquisition and major park improvements, including construction of an artificial ice skating rink in Recreation park. Success of the referendum appears to hinge on public acceptance of the artificial ice rink proposal.

ROLLING MEADOWS — A "Master Plan for Survival" is being drafted by Rolling Meadows Civil Defense Agency. The comprehensive program for action in case of disaster is expected to be ready for city council approval in February, and will then be printed and distributed to every home in the city.

Meanwhile, CD administrators are setting up a public information program on a basis of monthly meetings, the first one scheduled for January 25. Speakers on related subjects will appear at the meetings.

HOFFMAN ESTATES — A cluster development designation in the zoning code and rezoning of a tract for cluster are certainties. The village board accepted zoning board recommendations, and attorneys will put them into proper legal form for passage next week.

WHEELING — The board of trustees voted 4-2 Monday to request the resignation of planning commission chairman Merle Willis. Reason for the action was that he had allegedly violated the village subdivision ordinance by failing to properly subdivide a tract of land he had sold. It was maintained that such an action should be least expected of the commission chairman more so than any other person in the village.

BUFFALO GROVE — A branch of the Wheeling - Buffalo Grove library district was opened this week in the four-year-old village. About 1,200 books were made initially available to the approximate 2,000 residents. Volunteers are staffing the library.

FEPC Won't Harrass Employers: Gray

Illinois Law Is Explained

by DAN PRIBILSKI

The recently created Illinois Fair Employment Practices commission (FEPC) will not harass or encumber employers.

This was the pledge of the commission's chairman Charles W. Gray of Prospect Heights, an executive of Bell & Howell company. He spoke January 11 in Chicago before a meeting of representatives of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

CHARLES W. GRAY

"There is nothing in fair employment practices legislation that in any way diminishes the freedom of the employer to select among individuals of equal merit," Gray said.

"The employer's freedom is regarded and must always be regarded, as being of equal importance with the freedom of individual employees or prospective employees."

Basically, the FEPC was created to eradicate bias and discrimination in employment and in unions. A person discriminated against because of race, religion, or color can seek recourse from the commission.

FOR ILLINOIS, the major minority faced by bias and discrimination is the Negro.

Gray said that those who are likely to be the unemployed are Negroes between 18 and 25 who have dropped out of high school.

"They will never get a job," he said, referring to the increasingly technical society in which we live.

Not hiring minority peoples because they lack qualifications is the "last excuse" employers can use in denying employment, Gray said.

He told the Illinois business leaders they must help.

"Because this is an employment law dealing with employment problems, it is to the employers we must look for the success of the law."

GRAY SAID the most important of the commission's objectives is to press for major public and private programs aimed at elevating the levels of skills and education of minority groups. He said this objective would bear the most fruit in the long run.

"Economic freedom is a basic freedom and a society which denies it denies the social and political freedoms which stem from it.

"There cannot be full economic freedom without full economic opportunity."

The Illinois FEP law covers this year businesses with 100 or more employees. In 1963, it will cover businesses with 75 employees or more, and in 1965 businesses with 50 or more employees.

Gray said that the heart of any FEP law and its use is conciliation between parties involved in unfair employment charges.

He said that more than 90 per cent of the charges and complaints are settled by conciliation of the parties and never go to a hearing which is costly and time consuming for an FEP commission.

"THOSE STATES in which the educational and persuasive approach to fair employment has been followed have had the greatest and most lasting successes," he commented.

"The great interest shown by employers and employer groups in this law and its administration make the educational aspects of our job much easier."

Gray said that at the first meeting of the commission, he would recommend that an ex-officio advisory committee representing business, labor and the public be named to offer counsel and information to the commission.

He said this was "to make doubly certain that our commission does not operate within a vacuum of intense preoccupation with our own viewpoints."

The business leaders were told they would be asked to help the commission set up procedures for handling cases.

GRAY STRESSED that the FEPC will only act upon specific complaints which are brought to it by employees or prospective employees who believe they have been discriminated against.

He advised employers, in their efforts to help break down discrimination, not to set up quota systems for employment. Gray called quota systems in which ratios of races are created immoral. (B8

Budget Not Enough, Ohio Chairman Says

The chairman of Ohio's Civil Rights commission took issue with a feature of the Illinois Fair Employment Practices law.

Also, he charged that Illinois had not given the fair employment commission a budget sufficient for the needs of such an agency.

The chairman is Richard E. Guggenheim. He spoke at the morning session of the daylong meeting of Illinois State Chamber of Commerce representatives.

HE SAID that the Illinois FEPC was set up to be "looking toward public hearings" of charges and complaints of discrimination in employment.

Such public hearings are costly, time consuming, and bog down the work of a commission, he said.

The commission should be set up to reach settlements without formal hearings.

THE BUDGET for the Illinois commission for its first two years is $100,000.

Guggenheim commented that Ohio's budget for its FEPC was $235,000 for one year. He said that this budget was passed by a legislature that is extremely conservative and cost conscious.

CHARLES W. GRAY, chairman of the new Illinois FEPC, said that procedures to reach settlements without formal public hearings still need to be developed. The law, as written, leaves it up to the commission to decide what the procedures will be.

He said that he expects 90 per cent of all charges and complaints in Illinois to be handled without formal public hearings.

As to the budget, Gray said he has not had enough experience to comment whether the Illinois budget is sufficient. He said that for the time being he wanted to assume the job could be done with $100,000.

OHIO, WITH its budget, has fallen behind in handling cases, Guggenheim said. Ohio had 700 cases last year.

If Illinois' commission falls behind, he commented, then the enemies of FEPC in the state will say that it is a failure.

Provisions of Act Are Told

Here are the major provisions of the Illinois Fair Employment Practices act which was passed last spring by the General Assembly:

1. It is an unfair employment practice for any employer to discriminate, refuse to hire or segregate against a person because of race, religion, color, or national origin or ancestry.

This pertains to hiring, selection and training for apprenticeship in any trade or craft, tenure, terms or conditions for employment.

2. Employers are not precluded from selecting between persons of equal merit, ability, and capabilities.
3. Employment agencies and unions also are prohibited from discriminating.
4. Certain non-profit groups are excluded from coverage.
5. A Fair Employment Practices commission with five members, appointed by the governor, is created. The board will administer the act, and investigate and determine charges filed by complainants.
6. An administrative staff, hearing examiners, and technical advisors will carry out the board's program.
7. A system of complaints, investigations, conciliation, charges, hearings, and judicial review and enforcement is provided for.
8. The law applies to all unfair employment practices after July 1, 1961.

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY

People make jokes about guys like me. I'm one of those fathers who could hardly wait for his son to get his first electric train, so we could both play with it. Now thanks to my habit of reading the Want Ads, we have our train. I bought it just in time for Christmas from a fellow whose boy had outgrown it, and who ran a Want Ad to sell it. FEPC Won't Harrass Employers: Gray

Illinois Law Is Explained

by DAN PRIBILSKI

The recently created Illinois Fair Employment Practices commission (FEPC) will not harass or encumber employers.

This was the pledge of the commission's chairman Charles W. Gray of Prospect Heights, an executive of Bell & Howell company. He spoke January 11 in Chicago before a meeting of representatives of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

CHARLES W. GRAY

"There is nothing in fair employment practices legislation that in any way diminishes the freedom of the employer to select among individuals of equal merit," Gray said.

"The employer's freedom is regarded and must always be regarded, as being of equal importance with the freedom of individual employees or prospective employees."

Basically, the FEPC was created to eradicate bias and discrimination in employment and in unions. A person discriminated against because of race, religion, or color can seek recourse from the commission.

FOR ILLINOIS, the major minority faced by bias and discrimination is the Negro.

Gray said that those who are likely to be the unemployed are Negroes between 18 and 25 who have dropped out of high school.

"They will never get a job," he said, referring to the increasingly technical society in which we live.

Not hiring minority peoples because they lack qualifications is the "last excuse" employers can use in denying employment, Gray said.

He told the Illinois business leaders they must help.

"Because this is an employment law dealing with employment problems, it is to the employers we must look for the success of the law."

GRAY SAID the most important of the commission's objectives is to press for major public and private programs aimed at elevating the levels of skills and education of minority groups. He said this objective would bear the most fruit in the long run.

"Economic freedom is a basic freedom and a society which denies it denies the social and political freedoms which stem from it.

"There cannot be full economic freedom without full economic opportunity."

The Illinois FEP law covers this year businesses with 100 or more employees. In 1963, it will cover businesses with 75 employees or more, and in 1965 businesses with 50 or more employees.

Gray said that the heart of any FEP law and its use is conciliation between parties involved in unfair employment charges.

He said that more than 90 per cent of the charges and complaints are settled by conciliation of the parties and never go to a hearing which is costly and time consuming for an FEP commission.

"THOSE STATES in which the educational and persuasive approach to fair employment has been followed have had the greatest and most lasting successes," he commented.

"The great interest shown by employers and employer groups in this law and its administration make the educational aspects of our job much easier."

Gray said that at the first meeting of the commission, he would recommend that an ex-officio advisory committee representing business, labor and the public be named to offer counsel and information to the commission.

He said this was "to make doubly certain that our commission does not operate within a vacuum of intense preoccupation with our own viewpoints."

The business leaders were told they would be asked to help the commission set up procedures for handling cases.

GRAY STRESSED that the FEPC will only act upon specific complaints which are brought to it by employees or prospective employees who believe they have been discriminated against.

He advised employers, in their efforts to help break down discrimination, not to set up quota systems for employment. Gray called quota systems in which ratios of races are created immoral. (B8

Budget Not Enough, Ohio Chairman Says

The chairman of Ohio's Civil Rights commission took issue with a feature of the Illinois Fair Employment Practices law.

Also, he charged that Illinois had not given the fair employment commission a budget sufficient for the needs of such an agency.

The chairman is Richard E. Guggenheim. He spoke at the morning session of the daylong meeting of Illinois State Chamber of Commerce representatives.

HE SAID that the Illinois FEPC was set up to be "looking toward public hearings" of charges and complaints of discrimination in employment.

Such public hearings are costly, time consuming, and bog down the work of a commission, he said.

The commission should be set up to reach settlements without formal hearings.

THE BUDGET for the Illinois commission for its first two years is $100,000.

Guggenheim commented that Ohio's budget for its FEPC was $235,000 for one year. He said that this budget was passed by a legislature that is extremely conservative and cost conscious.

CHARLES W. GRAY, chairman of the new Illinois FEPC, said that procedures to reach settlements without formal public hearings still need to be developed. The law, as written, leaves it up to the commission to decide what the procedures will be.

He said that he expects 90 per cent of all charges and complaints in Illinois to be handled without formal public hearings.

As to the budget, Gray said he has not had enough experience to comment whether the Illinois budget is sufficient. He said that for the time being he wanted to assume the job could be done with $100,000.

OHIO, WITH its budget, has fallen behind in handling cases, Guggenheim said. Ohio had 700 cases last year.

If Illinois' commission falls behind, he commented, then the enemies of FEPC in the state will say that it is a failure.

Provisions of Act Are Told

Here are the major provisions of the Illinois Fair Employment Practices act which was passed last spring by the General Assembly:

1. It is an unfair employment practice for any employer to discriminate, refuse to hire or segregate against a person because of race, religion, color, or national origin or ancestry.

This pertains to hiring, selection and training for apprenticeship in any trade or craft, tenure, terms or conditions for employment.

2. Employers are not precluded from selecting between persons of equal merit, ability, and capabilities.

3. Employment agencies and unions also are prohibited from discriminating.

4. Certain non-profit groups are excluded from coverage.

5. A Fair Employment Practices commission with five members, appointed by the governor, is created. The board will administer the act, and investigate and determine charges filed by complainants.

6. An administrative staff, hearing examiners, and technical advisors will carry out the board's program.

7. A system of complaints, investigations, conciliation, charges, hearings, and judicial review and enforcement is provided for.

8. The law applies to all unfair employment practices after July 1, 1961. (B8

Arlington Debators Sweep Top Honors in Tournament

Arlington high's varsity debate team walked off with top honors at the Northwestern university debate tournament last weekend at Evanston.

Seniors Jerry Berthold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Berthold, 1512 Prairie, Arlington Heights, and Linda Krueger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krueger, 735 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, won the first place trophy in competition with 83 other teams.

THE PAIR won all five preliminary rounds, defeating York, Waukegan, East Aurora, Normal, and Carl Sandburg to qualify for the finals.

In the finals Jerry and Linda had to beat three strong teams—Rich Township, New Trier, and Evanston. It was the first time an Arlington team had won the tournament's coveted first place trophy.

Another Arlington varsity team, Dick Daeschner, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Daeschner, 310 E. Mayfair, Arlington Heights; and Frank Renner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Renner, 6 W. Fairview, took four of five verbal bouts, defeating LaGrange, East Morton, Maine East, and Argo before losing to East Proviso, last year's state champions.

THE DAESCHNER-Renner team finished tenth overall in the tournament although eliminated from the finals.

The Berthold-Krueger conquest capped a young debate season which has included a victory in WBBM's (Channel 2) "Rebuttal" program. The team has a return engagement next month. (ACM

Head of Presbyterian Women to Speak Here

Mrs. Donald E. Zimmerman will be guest speaker at the January 24 meeting of the women's association of First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Zimmeran, who resides in LaGrange, is president of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., representing more than 650,000 members. She was recently elected to this office at the first triennial meeting of the organization, held at Purdue university in June, 1961.

Mrs. Zimmerman and her husband, Dr. Donald E. Zimmerman, general Presbyter of the Presbytery of Chicago, recently returned from a world tour of United Presbyterian missions, where she met with leading churchwomen in India, the Phillipines, Thailand, Kenya and Egypt. She was an official delegate at the third assembly of World Council of Churches at New Delhi, India, from November 18 to December 5, 1961.

MRS. ZIMMERMAN has a long background of missionary work, being born in China of missionary parents. She attended school in Yen Ching university, and later, in this country, attended Wooster college in Ohio, from which she was graduated in 1939. She also received a master of arts degree at Eden theological seminary in Webster Groves, Mo.

Mrs. Zimmerman and her husband served in the foreign mission field in Japan, China and the Phillipines, prior to World War II, and were interned by the Japanese army at Baguio and Manila from 1941 to 1945.

Her talk will be on the subject of stewardship, or "Giving," which is the theme for study during this month.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 in Fellowship hall at the church, by circle 3, under the direction of Mrs. R. N. Bergstrom and Mrs. Theodore Fonfara. Reservations may be made through the church circles, or by calling the church office by Monday, Jan. 22.

THE WOMEN'S association raises its entire budget from pledges secured from its members to carry on the work of its women in all local, national and foreign fields. Rev. George Kincheloe will dedicate these pledges during the program.

Mrs. Kinchloe will give the devotions immediately following the luncheon and business meeting, as an introduction to the afternoon's prgram.

Mrs. John McComb will present to Mrs. William Johnson, a past president of the Women's association, an honorary membership in United Presbyterian Women, in appreciation of her work and devotion to the organization. (AK

County Zoners Hear Area Cases Jan. 24

The Cook county zoning board of appeals will hold public hearings in Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect next Wednesday, Jan. 24, on rezoning applications for a 70-home subdivision, auto parts establishment and gas station.

One request is from the La Salle National Bank, 135 S. LaSalle st., Chicago, for rezoning 21 acres located on the southwest corner of Lincoln rd. and Arlington Heights rd. in Elk Grove township from R-3 single family residence district (20,000 square foot lots) to R-4 single family classification (10,000 square foot lots).

ATTORNEY Dwight McKay, representing the petitioners, Builder Harold Palmer of Chicago, said the project involves approximately 70 two and three-bedroom homes.

Another request is for rezoning one and one-fifth acres situated on the southwest side of Rand rd. about 300 feet southeasterly of Clarence ave. in Wheeling township from R-3 single family residence to B-4 general service district.

Attorney John Hoover of Arlington Heights, representing the petitioners, Clarence G. and Justina B. Howe, 6541 N. Natoma, Chicago, said if rezoning is granted the property will be sold to Elmer Peters, operator of a service station at Northwest hwy. and Arlington Heights State rd. in Arlington Heights, for establishment of an auto parts sales and service firm.

THE THIRD zoning request involves one and a fourth acres located on the northwest corner of Wheeling and Palatine rds. in Wheeling township. Attorney Robert Singer, representing Jacob Simonsen, 2806 Glenview rd., Glenview, is asking rezoning from R-3 single family residence to B-2 restricted service district in order to permit erection of a service station.

The zoning board will hear requests for the service station and auto parts establishment, beginning at 3 p.m. in the Arlington Heights Village hall, and on the subdivision in the Mount Prospect village hall at 5:30 p.m. (ACM

Saturday Sale For Licenses Will Continue

The Arlington Heights village hall will be open two more Saturdays from 9 a.m. to noon to accommodate persons unable to purchase various 1962 village licenses during regular weekday hours.

Legally, all licenses and fees for 1962 became due January 1, but in actual practice a period of grace is allowed.

Sale of vehicle stickers for passenger cars is running ahead of last year. Tom DeRiemer village finance director, said 4,978 had been sold by the middle of last week, compared with 4,229 on that date a year ago. Stickers this year are $7 compared with $6 for 1961 stickers.

Dog tags also are running ahead of the same date last year, 761 to 745.

At the end of 1961, sale of business licenses had totaled $12,851. compared with sales of $7,513 on Dec. 31, 1960.

THIS FALL, the village hired a full-time license and measures inspector and DeRiemer attributed about $3,000 of the increase to better collection.

The other $2,000 was accounted for by better public relations in making concerns aware of applicable fees.

The more efficient tabulation and inspection resulting from use of a full-time inspector, along with commercial expansion of the village, resulted in many more business uses being recorded by the end of 1961, as compared with previous years.

IN THE seven classifications, the number of licenses recorded for each in 1959, 1960 and 1961, respectively, is:

Professions (doctors, engineers, lawyers, etc), 9, 9, and 18. Trades (contracting and related), 62, 59, and 71. Food and food products (manufacturers and dealers), 38, 45, and 48. HOFFMAN ESTATES:

Sixth and seventh grader troop 176 had a combination "Christmas Around the World" and court of awards party at Blackhawk school December 21. Mothers heard the troop sing carols from various countries and tell of their yuletide customs. On display were a variety of projects made by the girls as gifts for their mothers.

Two troop badges, adventurer and hospitality, were awarded to most of troop 176 scouts. Four girls received their second class badges, while sports, cooking, homemaker, drawing and painting, child care and player were given to other individuals.

Cookies made by the girls and punch were served after the program and a token of past service was presented to Mrs. Luann Copeland and Mrs. Evelyn La Riviere. These scouts also caroled at the Abbington House in Roselle and gave residents homemade cookies.

INVESTED AS NEW brownie scouts this week were 20 second graders meeting at Fairview school. Co-leaders Mrs. Lynn Hippensteel and Mrs. Charles DePaul presented pins to Beverly Crane, Victoria Dennis, Sheryl Fry, Anne Garvey, Laura Hippensteel, Linda Kamphouse, Roseanne Keshen, Christy Kranz, Helen Lehman, Gail MacEachron, Jan Milke, Terri Mosberg, Joanne Newman, Debra Plesner, Patti Roach, Robin Boss, Patti Sander, Karen Schumacher, Ruth Semmens and Darlene Sisson. The number these scouts will go by is 861.

SOUTH MOUNT PROSPECT:

Troop 744, as its January service project, is making greeting cards and paper games and sending them to La Rabida sanitarium in Chicago. This sanitarium is for children with rheumatic hearts according to Mrs. W. J. Murphy, troop leader.

Troop 401, led by Mrs. John Clark, collected food and clothing and took them to a needy family in Chicago before Christmas. Four members of the troop decorated the Christmas tree on the fourth floor of Northwest Community hospital.

Troop 219 visited the Roger Kobusch farm in Northbrook in December. Mr. Kobusch toured the farm with the girls and they rode the ponies he raises as a hobby. The girls presented Mrs. Kobusch with a floral centerpiece they had made. Mrs. William Schroeder, leader, and Mrs. Blaski and Mrs. Boll, mothers, accompanied the girls to Northbrook. Becky Knutson was invested as a member of the troop.

Troop 464, working on the good grooming badge, visited the Avon company January 2. Accompanying the 18 girls were Mrs. Guy Courtney, leader, Mrs. Warren Broadbent, co-leader, Mrs. Les O'Rourke, a troop mother, and Miss Barbara Clark, a teacher at Lincoln school. (B9

Senior Is Nominated for Engineering Scholarship

An Arlington high senior has been nominated for an Armco-National Society of Professional Engineers scholarship.

Roger William Freise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Freise, 1004 N. Highland ave., Arlington Heights, will compete for the award under the sponsorship of the Northwest Suburban chapter of the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers.

THE SCHOLARSHIP offered is one of five provided by the Armco Steel corporation for students interested in engineering. Each scholarship is worth $3000.

Five seniors from the 15 northwest area high schools applied for the grant and were interviewed on the basis of interest in civil engineering; social, community, school, and church activities; leadership; and self reliance.

The committee pointed out that Roger has maintained a high scholastic standing while participating in athletic and church activities and earning his own spending money.

THE ARLINGTON student says he would prefer to attend Brown university, with Cornell as a second choice. Under the rules, Roger would be free to accept a university scholarship in addition to the Armco award.

Examination for state honors will be held February 1, with the winner being eligible for national competition. During March, the 50 state winners will take further tests, and on May 1, the five national winners will be announced.

Approximately 20 candidates will compete in Illinois and some 1000 nationally. (ACM

Two Teens Entered In Homemaker Fete

Karen Ann Post and Lucille Wrobel will represent Prospect and Arlington high schools, respectively, in the 1962 Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The two girls achieved the highest scores in recent examinations on homemaking knowledge and attitudes.

They become eligible along with winners in other state high schools, for the title State Homemaker of Tomorrow. The state winner receives a $1500 scholarship from General Mills, sponsor of the program.

THE STATE runnerup will receive a $500 scholarship.

In addition the State Homemaker and her school advisor will join other state winners in an expenses-paid educational tour of New York City, Washington, D.C., and Williamsburg, Virginia.

The national winner will have her scholarship raised to $5000. (ACM

Senior Is Nominated for Engineering Scholarship

An Arlington high senior has been nominated for an Armco-National Society of Professional Engineers scholarship.

Roger William Freise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Freise, 1004 N. Highland ave., Arlington Heights, will compete for the award under the sponsorship of the Northwest Suburban chapter of the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers.

THE SCHOLARSHIP offered is one of five provided by the Armco Steel corporation for students interested in engineering. Each scholarship is worth $3000.

Five seniors from the 15 northwest area high schools applied for the grant and were interviewed on the basis of interest in civil engineering; social, community, school, and church activities; leadership; and self reliance.

The committee pointed out that Roger has maintained a high scholastic standing while participating in athletic and church activities and earning his own spending money.

THE ARLINGTON student says he would prefer to attend Brown university, with Cornell as a second choice. Under the rules, Roger would be free to accept a university scholarship in addition to the Armco award.

Examination for state honors will be held February 1, with the winner being eligible for national competition. During March, the 50 state winners will take further tests, and on May 1, the five national winners will be announced.

Approximately 20 candidates will compete in Illinois and some 1000 nationally. (ACM

Three GOP Candidates File For Congress Seat; One Dem

ROBERT DWYER

DONALD RUMSFELD

It appeared this week to be a three-man Republican race for the 13th Congressional seat occupied for the last 11 years by U.S. Rep. Marguerite Stitt Church (R-Evanston).

GOP candidates filing petitions of candidacy Monday in Springfield were State Rep. Marion E. Burks of Evanston, Robert A. Dwyer of Winnetka, and Donald Rumsfeld of Glenview.

It is not likely others will file before the January 22 deadline.

The lone Democrat to file for the post was John A. Kennedy of Winnetka, who was recently given a unanimous endorsement by Dem slatebakers. He will be unopposed in the April 10 primary election.

MRS. CHURCH, first elected to Congress in 1950 as a successor to her late husband, Ralph, announcde last December 7 that she would not be a candidate for re-election.

Burks, 49,, of 1513 Asbury ave., Evanston, is serving his third term in the state legislature. An attorney, he represents the 7th House district which includes Evanston, Glenco, Kenilworth,, Wilmette and Winnetka.

Dwyer, 35, of 884 Higginson ln., Winnetka, has been active in Young Republican circles and in the campaigns of GOP presidential candidates Dewey, Eisenhower and Nixon. He is associated with an insurance brokerage firm in Chicago.

RUMSFELD, 30, of 529 Hunte rrd., Glenview, has served in administrative capacities in the offices of Cong. David Dennison (R-Ohio) and Cong. Robert Griffin (R-Michigan). He is an investment banker.

Filing for the office of GOP state central committee this week were Ralph E. Church Jr., of Evanston, a patent attorney, and Roland Moore of Skokie, a newspaper publisher.

Also expected to file is Alexander MacArthur of Barrington, a real estate and insurance broker.

AUSTIN L. Wyman, Jr., of Northbrook, who disclosed intentions to run for the Congress seat shortly after Mrs. Church announced her retirement, issued a statement recently to explain he could not make the race because one of his law partners "is suffering from an illness."

A fifth potential candidate, Edward L. Gordy of Evanston, a scientist, apparently will not file. William R. Kearney, of Skokie, co-publisher of two newspapers in Niles township, is also yet to follow through with the filing process.

The 13th district includes Elk Grove, Palatine, Schaumburg, and Wheeling townships.

Prospect Students Visit Health Museum

Health and anatomy were the prime topics for a group of 58 seniors of Prospect high school during a recent field trip at the Hinsdale Health museum, Hinsdale.

Welcoming the students was "Valeda," the museum's talking glass lady," who gave the pupils a lecture on the human body and its functions. Dividing into groups, the students toured exhibits and heard lectures on the brain, heart and other organs. A film on the heart and circulation was the afternoon program of the science tour.

THE GROUP visited the Hinsdale Community house for lunch.

The Prospect high group was accompanied by Donald Wachlin, science instructor.

The Hinsdale Health museum was opened in May, 1958, by The Kettering Family Foundation. More than 210,000 people have visited the museum since its opening, with 195 school groups included in the 1961 attendance list. (ACM

Annuity Plan Okayed For School Employes

It took a special act of Congress and a firm reminder to some school board members that teachers should be able to do what they wished with their own money, but faculty members of Arlington-Prospect high schools can now participate in an annuity plan.

In a unanimous vote Monday, district 214 school board reaffirmed its original decision of February, 1961, to provide bookkeeping necessary for staff members to participate in an annuity program.

DELAY IN initiating the program came shortly after the original approval by the board when the internal revenue service informed the school they no longer approved tax sheltered annuity programs for school employees.

A special bill in the United States Congress to provide for tax-sheltered annuity programs for school employees subsequently was promoted by several firms. When the bill was passed, the faculty Policy and Welfare committee of district 214 reactivated the annuity plan.

The group recommended the Dan Kaufman Company of Evanston be engaged to purchase monthly annuities for interested school employees.

The annuity plan received the approval of William Engelhart, the district's school attorney.

THE ACTUAL purchase of annuities will be made with deductions from monthly salaries of teachers who decide to participate in the program. Other than office and bookkeeping expense the program will not be of cost to district taxpayers.

In spite of the strong recommendation for the board to contract with the Kaufman firm for the annuity plan on behalf of the teachers, Board President Daryl Oldaker expressed extreme reluctance to approve the plan. Oldaker pointed out that a larger interest return should be sought for the teachers.

Other board members, led by Kenneth Dougan, emphasized that the plan had been proposed, investigated and approved by the teachers themselves. Since they will pay for the annuity they have every right to choose whatever firm they desire, Dougan said.

Boys Can Now Sing, Cook Toward Credit

Boys will become members of the homemaking department and students will be able to sing their way toward graduation credit under a new curriculum adopted by Arlington-Prospect high school board members.

For the first time the school district will grant credits toward graduation for music courses. The school will give one-half credit per year for all music courses which meet daily. Successful completion of a semester would carry one-fourth credit. A maximum of two credits from music courses will be accepted toward the 16 credits required by the schools for graduation. Music credit earned in the current school year will be counted toward graduation.

MAJOR CHANGE in curriculum for the high schools is the requirement of two years of social science for all students as a graduation requirement. To date all students are required to take only one year of American history. Starting with incoming freshmen in September all students must choose a second social science course to satisfy graduation requirements. No specific second social science course was designated by the school board.

School administrators noted that about 80 per cent of the students of district 214 now take two years of social science. Enlarging the minimum graduation requirements from one to two years would affect only one student in five, school officials said.

In the homemaking department all courses beyond Homemaking 1 and 2 would be shortened from one year to one semester and a variety of new classes offered. These include courses on clothing, family meals, scientific cookery, dressmaking, tailoring and home decorating. A special course on child care and guidance is offered.

A NEW COURSE on housing will be offered to boys as well as girls. This course would include comprehension of blueprints, structural materials, heating, plumbing and electrical provisions, financing, remodeling, landscaping and the sociological and psychological aspects of housing. (ACM

Citizens Group to Be Named in Two Weeks

A citizens' committee to aid in planning for the projected fourth high school of Arlington-Prospect district 214 is "in the works" with announcement of the 60-plus members to be made by the school board within two weeks.

Membership on the committee will come from representatives of PTA organizations from all elementary schools, both public and parochial, lying in the high school district.

In addition a representative of a businessmen's group such as a chamber of commerce will be named from each community in the district.

HEART OF the citizens' committee will be a group of private citizens selected by the high school board. The selection of this portion of the committee, in addition to individual qualifications, will be on a population basis.

Using recent census figures as a guide, the board will name 10 members from Arlington Heights; six from Mt. Prospect; four from Elk Grove; three each from Rolling Meadows, Wheeling, Des Paines and adjacent unincorporated areas; two each from Prospect Heights and Feehanville school district; and one from Buffalo Grove.

The special individual qualifications used as a basis for final selection were not revealed by the school board at their meeting Monday. The board held the discussion of the citizens committee membership in executive session after the public and press had been asked to leave the meeting.

FUNCTIONS of the committee will cover four main areas. These include review of the area growth and student enrollment; building needs and functions; financing of building programs including the amount of the bond issue, schedule for retirement of bonds, projections regarding financing of future building needs and tax consequences; and public relations.

Board members stressed that unless conditions indicated a necessary change it was assumed the size of the school, now set at 2,500 students, and the location selected on Hintz rd. south of Wheeling would not be altered.

The board also emphasized the need for keeping building and educational facilities equal in all high schools and the projected September, 1964, opening date for the school. These were areas they felt the citizens' committee should not change unless drastic revisions were indicated.

To facilitate the work of the citizens' committee the school board approved an expenditure of $2,500 to cover operating expenses of the group.

CHAIRMAN OF the school board special committee which laid plans for the citizens' committee was John Haas, board secretary. Committee members were Mrs. Eugenia Chapman and Charles Fyfe. Both Superintendent H. L. Slichenmyer and board member Kenneth Dougan aided in the committee work.

In their report the committee highly praised Dougan who was bypassed by President Daryl Oldaker when the committee was named. The committee stated that the work assigned to them could not have been completed "in time" without the help of Dougan. Dougan is the senior member of the board, having served for 10 years. (ACM

Students Take Three-Hour Exams

College Entrance Service

Saturday was "brain picking" day at Arlington high school when students from area high schools took the three-hour college board examinations.

Sixty students participated in the afternoon achievement test sections of the college-entrance examinations. One hundred and eight students in the morning undertook the scholastic aptitude test, known as the SAT test to students, high school counselors and college admission officers.

Scores on the college board examinations are designed to help colleges make choices among students applying for admission. Test scores are considered in conjunction with high school records, letters of recommendation and interviews in most cases.

THE COLLEGE board tests are prepared by committees of school and college teachers with the assistance of the professional staff of the Educational Testing Service. The tests are a major activity of the non-profit College Entrance Examination Board, composed of college and school representatives.

The tests are administered by the Educational Testing Service on scheduled dates at almost 2,000 test centers all over the world. Arlington high school has been a major test center for five years, giving the tests on four of the five annual dates.

Students from Palatine-Schaumburg high school, Arlington and Prospect high schools and other schools in the general area use the Arlington test center.

THE MORE THAN 100 students participating in the test program Saturday represent a "light" turnout according to W. David Whiteside, Arlington counselor and test center director. In December, almost 400 students took the tests. Other large groups are expected in March and May this year, he indicated.

Whiteside estimated more than 1,000 students would take the SAT tests during the 1961-62 semester, with another 500 students participating in the achievement tests.

Students Take Three-Hour Exams

College Entrance Service

Saturday was "brain picking" day at Arlington high school when students from area high schools took the three-hour college board examinations.

Sixty students participated in the afternoon achievement test sections of the college-entrance examinations. One hundred and eight students in the morning undertook the scholastic aptitude test, known as the SAT test to students, high school counselors and college admission officers.

Scores on the college board examinations are designed to help colleges make choices among students applying for admission. Test scores are considered in conjunction with high school records, letters of recommendation and interviews in most cases.

THE COLLEGE board tests are prepared by committees of school and college teachers with the assistance of the professional staff of the Educational Testing Service. The tests are a major activity of the non-profit College Entrance Examination Board, composed of college and school representatives.

The tests are administered by the Educational Testing Service on scheduled dates at almost 2,000 test centers all over the world. Arlington high school has been a major test center for five years, giving the tests on four of the five annual dates.

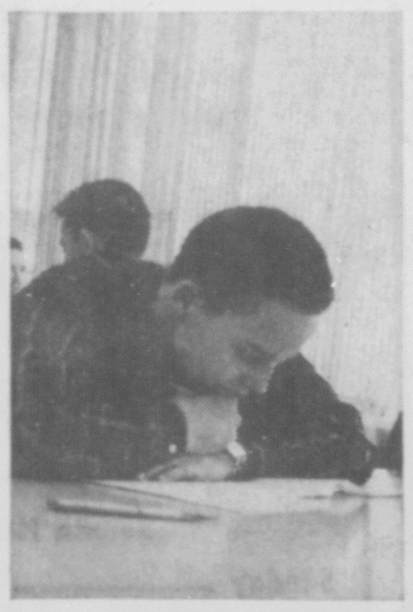
Students from Palatine-Schaumburg high school, Arlington and Prospect high schools and other schools in the general area use the Arlington test center.

THE MORE THAN 100 students participating in the test program Saturday represent a "light" turnout according to W. David Whiteside, Arlington counselor and test center director. In December, almost 400 students took the tests. Other large groups are expected in March and May this year, he indicated.

Whiteside estimated more than 1,000 students would take the SAT tests during the 1961-62 semester, with another 500 students participating in the achievement tests.

The typical students shown uring the SAT test in the photographs with this article are Dan Price of Prospect, Betsy Sherman of Arlington, Mike Thompson and Marta Nordenholz of Prospect and Bob Bohac of Arlington.

For the curious, the opposite meaning of tangible is immaterial; the average of the first 25 positive whole numbers is 13; the area of a circle of radius 10 inches is decreased 36 per cent if the radius is decreased 2 inches; narrate is to perjure as wander is to trespass; and ground waves are the least helpful in short-wave radio transmission.)



THE OPPOSITE meaning of tangible? Sounds immaterial to me! (B8

WHAT IS THE average of the first 25 positive whole numbers? (B8

IF A CIRCLE of radius 10 inches has its radius decreased 2 inches, what per cent is its area decreased? (B8

WANDER: TRESPASS has the same relationship as narrate: perjure or glance: examine? (B8 SUNSPOTS, ground waves or Kennelly-Heaviside layers! And they want me to tell them which are the least helpful in short-wave radio transmission? (B8

What with space exploration coming ever closer to reality let's look at some of the simple facts concerning our celestial neighbors.

Jupiter, for example, is big stuff, being something like 1,300 times the size of Earth. The moon, however, is rather meager real estate, about one-fiftieth the size of our planet. Planet, incidentally, is a Greek word meaning wanderer.

The stars, despite their shimmery glitter are merely huge gaseous masses. Even their twinkle is phony, as air currents create the illusion of twinkling.

Residents Tell Complaints

Township Highway Official Accused of 'Incompetence'

After hearing the township highway commissioner accused of "incompetence," the Wheeling township board of auditors Tuesday agreed to hold a meeting Monday, Jan. 22, to probe further into the charges.

The special meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the township hall, 1818 E. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights.

Highway Commissioner Oscar Everson's conduct in office was brought to the attention of the board when a dozen residents of the township's unincorporated areas appeared at Tuesday's meeting, which had been called primarily to deal with a proposed addition to the township hall.

The residents complained that their roadways were being plowed poorly—if at all—and their efforts to get "action" from Everson have proven fruitless.

One resident of the Prospect Meadows subdivision north of Mt. Prospect said the road in front of his home was "unpassable." Another reported he and his family were snowbound for 72 hours last weekend. Others had similar complaints.

RICHARD SCHMIDT, who identified himself as a former member of Everson's four-man highway crew, explained he quit his job Tuesday because he "couldn't stand to see the equipment beat up."

Schmidt alleged Everson did not have a working knowledge of his equipment, i.e., road grader, plowing apparatus. He said all Everson's equipment has broken down and that the commissioner has made no effort to have it repaired.

Board member Russell Conklin suggested Schmidt attend next Monday's meeting to repeat his charges. But Schmidt commented that he could see "little use" in his presence at the meeting. He would not attend, he said.

CONKLIN countered: "You (Schmidt) have made some serious allegations here. If you do not attend the meeting, your remarks will have an entirely different bearing."

The idea for the meeting with Everson was first proposed by Albert C. Peters, township supervisor, who pledged that the board would do "all in its power" to see that the roads were plowed.

The board is seriously handicapped, Peters pointed out, because it has no legal authority to direct the activities of the highway commissioner. The commissioner operates separately and alone, he noted.

EVERSON, elected to office in April, 1961, was not available for comment following Tuesday's meeting.

In discussion of expansion of the township hall, Peters said purchase of 40 feet of property to the west of the existing building was consumated last week.

He explained an addition to the hall was necessary in order to provide working space for the township clerk, assessor and tax collector. Township electors directed last April that all township officers conduct their business from the hall.

"IN VIEW OF the rapid growth of the township and the resolution passed by the electors last year, it is imperative the township hall be expanded," Peters said.

He observed the board is in the process of gathering data on the hall's expansion, and that a tentative plan will be presented April 3 at the annual township meeting.

G. L. Duke of Wheeling, an architect, told board members the average cost of an office building runs about $12 to $15 per square foot. Contemplating a 30 by 40 foot addition, the construction cost would be $18,000 plus six per cent for architect's fees.

The addition would not result in a tax increase, it was pointed out.

CONKLIN countered: "You (Schmidt) have made some serious allegations here. If you do not attend the meeting, your remarks will have an entirely different bearing."

The idea for the meeting with Everson was first proposed by Albert C. Peters, township supervisor, who pledged that the board would do "all in its power" to see that the roads were plowed.

The board is seriously handicapped, Peters pointed out, because it has no legal authority to direct the activities of the highway commissioner. The commissioner operates separately and alone, he noted.

EVERSON, elected to office in April, 1961, was not available for comment following Tuesday's meeting.

In discussion of expansion of the township hall, Peters said purchase of 40 feet of property to the west of the existing building was consumated last week.

He explained an addition to the hall was necessary in order to provide working space for the township clerk, assessor and tax collector. Township electors directed last April that all township officers conduct their business from the hall.

"IN VIEW OF the rapid growth of the township and the resolution passed by the electors last year, it is imperative the township hall be expanded," Peters said.

He observed the board is in the process of gathering data on the hall's expansion, and that a tentative plan will be presented April 3 at the annual township meeting.

G. L. Duke of Wheeling, an architect, told board members the average cost of an office building runs about $12 to $15 per square foot. Contemplating a 30 by 40 foot addition, the construction cost would be $18,000 plus six per cent for architect's fees.

The addition would not result in a tax increase, it was pointed out.

You'll soon discover The Hawaiian Village has everything for your pleasure.

Monday, March 12 — This morning we leave the hotel for a sight-seeing trip around the island of Oahu by limosine. First, a delightful drive through the residential district of Honolulu and then climb into the mountains to lush, tropical Nuuanu valley.

We see the Buddhist temple and the Royal Mausoleum with its tabu sticks standing before the tombs of royalty. Then continue to Nuuanu Pali where we overlook the windward side of Oahu spread out before us, 1200 feet below.

SKIRTING THE coast line, we pass vast stretches of soft white sand and beaches. Visit port and a short flight to the Garden Isle, Kauaii. Upon arrival, we are greeted in true Hawaii fashion and limosines are waiting to take us on a tour the Mormon Temple, pass miles of sugar and pineapple plantations, returning to Honolulu via the heights with a panoramic view of Pearl Harbor. Thursday, March 15 — It's up early for transfer to the air- to Waimea Canyon and Kalalua Lookout.

A scenic drive through sugar cane fields to Puhi, beyond which is seen a mountain profile of Queen Victoria. Then to Koloa where Hawaii's first sugar plantation was founded.

WHILE TODAY'S FLOWER vendors and lei makers in the beautiful Hawaiian islands may look a little different than those pictured, the flowers and the leis are just as wonderful as they were in 1920 when this picture was taken. Hawaii is rich in flowers. Leis are made of carnations, orchids and the most fragrant plumeria. The Aloha greeting of putting a lei around the neck is tradition in the islands and was just as charming a custom 42 years ago.

A STOP IS made at the Spouting Horn, a noisy salt water geyser erupting near shore. The road then winds up through fields of pineapple for a view of Kalahoo. At the end of the road is Kalahau Lookout with a breathtaking view, a 4000 foot drop to the fertile valley bounded by razor sharp cliffs.

We return to the Kauaii Surf hotel for lunch. In the afternoon we transfer to the Wailua river for a visit to the Fern Grotto, a fantastic scene with thousands of ferns growing downward from the roof of an enormous cavern in a setting of legendary Hawaii.

You will never forget the singing of the "Hawaiian Wedding Song" by the natives. Transfer back to the hotel in time for a swim, dinner and overnight.

League of Women Voters to Study State Constitution

January unit meetings of the League of Women Voters of Arlington Heights will be devoted to the discussion of the Illinois Constitution and the obstacles in the way of calling a constitutional convention so that the whole document may be overhauled.

Informal discussions of the issue, open to any interested women voters, will reflect the views of the state league, which hopes that such a constitutional convention call will be passed at the next session of the state legislature.

THE LEAGUE of Women Voters of Illinois announced this week that Mrs. Robert C. Pebworth, Riverdale, president, and Mrs. Henry Connor, Elgin, a member of the board of directors, will represent the Illinois league at the Allerton Conference on the subject at the University of Illinois on January 25-26.

Interested women voters are invited to attend Arlington Heights unit meetings Monday, January 22, at 8 p.m. at Mrs. J. Rubinelli's, 503 Brynhaven, Elk Grove; Tuesday, January 23, at 8 p.m. at Mrs. R. Borchard's 723 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights; Thursday, January 25, at 1 p.m. at Mrs. F. Devin, 626 S. Ridge, Arlington Heights.

In connection with the state League's views on the subject, Mrs. Pebworth issued the following statement:

"IN ORDER to achieve balance and coherence in the operation and administration of the business of the state, it is necessary to look at the constitution as a whole.

"The inter-relationship of different parts of the constitution is a convincing reason for revising the whole document at one time. The length of time involved in achieving complete revision by the amending process makes this an impractical method to use.

"The League of Women Voters of Illinois is working for a constitutional convention in the belief that it will bring about a modern, flexible constitution for a strong, modern state."

At the January 25 - 26 conference, background papers will be given by five persons: "The Shape of the Document" by Samuel Witwer, Chicago attorney; "Modernizing a State Constitution" by Dr. Richard G. Browne; "The Case for a Constitutional Convention" by Robert L. Farwell, Continental Illinois National Bank, Chicago; and "The Case Against a Constitutional Convention" by State Sen. George E. Drach. Organizations Eye Council

More than 30 Arlington Heights organizations last week indicated they would be represented at a meeting scheduled for Wednesday night to discuss organization of a village community council.

The meeting was sponsored by the Jaycees and the Junior Woman's clubs, and was slated to be held at the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan building.

ON THE agenda were election of a temporary chairman and secretary and appointment of a public relations committee and bylaws committee. It was intended that the bylaws committee submit proposed bylaws at the next meeting, tentatively set for the last week in January.

The proposal to establish a community council to act as a clearing house for ideas for community improvement received favorable comments from many of the organizations which indicated they would send representatives to the meeting.

Areas of discussion Wednesday night were to include possible community projects, such as creation of a United Appeal, development of more recreational facilities, and construction of a community auditorium.

MOST OF THE major village organizations were scheduled to be represented, including the Chamber of Commerce, Women's club, Village Theatre, and most active civic and fraternal groups.

Featured speaker was to be Mrs. Godfrey Duke of Wheeling, who was to outline the success of the Wheeling Community Council and the ways in which it has benefitted Wheeling residents and organizations. (A

Some Question Ice Rink

Results of Opinion Survey Indicate Park Program OK

Results of a preliminary opinion survey concerning the Arlington Heights park board proposal for improvements at major park sites, acquisition of land for a new neighborhood park, and construction of a new artificial ice skating rink, indicate approval of the plans.

Some doubts, however, were expressed in regard to the artificial ice rink.

Ballots cast at a meeting two weeks ago attended by representatives of village organizations showed that more than 85 per cent approved, in general, of the proposed improvements, and 92 per cent favored putting the proposal before Arlington Heights voters.

The park board has scheduled the $570,000 referendum on a general obligation bond issue for Saturday, Feb. 17.

Comments on the ballots were generally favorable but some seriously doubted the practicality of an artificial ice rink, one of the major proposals, and others suggested a third swimming pool would be preferable.

TYPICAL OF the favorable comments were these:

—growth of Arlington Heights and the tremendous interest in skating warrant construction of the ice rink; all other improvements certainly necessary too.

—a well-conceived program.

—after this meeting I can vote "Yes" with the hope that the referendum will be passed; proposals show great foresight.

—although I favor the issue I do believe you will have to sell it to the community.

—no improvement is a step backward.

OTHER COMMENTS of a favorable nature nevertheless suggested certain changes might be in order: Parking facilities at Recreation park, for instance, instead of at Pioneer park; artificial ice rink on a separate proposal so opposition to it would not sabotage the other proposals.

Biggest opposition was to the artificial ice rink, which would cost an estimated $120,000, plus a portion of the $140,000 cost of a multi-purpose swimming-skating-maintenance building.

Typical of these comments were:

—seriously question desirability of artificial ice rink.

—have taken an informed poll of my organization and find no enthusiasm for the ice rink.

—I find much opposition to the ice rink.

—strongly prefer elimination of the artificial rink and use of the money to make the natural facilities adequate.

CHRISTMAS IS OFFICIALLY OVER for another year. The evidence was presented clearly last Friday night in Arlington Heights' Pioneer park when Christmas trees which only days before had glistened with ornaments, went up in smoke. The occasion was the park district's annual Christmas tree bonfire. Igniting the stack of trees during a brief preview of the snow that was to begin in earnest Sunday, is Bill Appleby, superintendent of recreation.

SOME OF those voting believe a third swimming pool will be a decided necessity in the district in the near future, perhaps three or four years, and believe such a facility would be more practical and popular than the skating rink.

The skating rink would extend the average number of skating days from about 20 to about 120, since the facility would not be dependent to any great extent on the vagaries of the weather.

Additional improvements proposed include new parking facilities, related walks and a maintenance building at Pioneer park; a new multi-purpose building and tennis courts at Hasbrook park; acquisition of five acres of land for a park to serve Arlington Manor area, and improvements to the swimming pool area at Recreation park.

BASED ON A 20-year general obligation bond issue having a 3½ per cent interest rate, and a projected assessed valuation of $100,000,000 for property in the park district, the cost to the average home owner would be about $3.50 a year, based on a home with a market value of $25,000.

Should the assessed valuation increase, as it has for the past several years, the cost to each home owner would be reduced, park board spokesmen said.

Operational costs of the facility, estimated at between $13,000 and $20,000 per year, would be paid through admission and rental of skates, a common practice according to the planners of the rink.

ADMISSION charge to Arlington Heights park district residents would be kept to a minimum, and the board is studying a plan for issuance of family tickets covering use of both the swimming pools and the ice rinks.

If the rink is constructed, the park board plans to offer a series of skating classes, hockey leagues, race and figure skating programs, and other planned skating activities. Such programs are now impossible because dependence on weather conditions prohibits scheduling and planning such events.

IT HAPPENED AGAIN—beautiful, white flakes of snow fell in profusion last week, but excited few persons into poetic outbursts. The third major snowfall in the last month dumped an estimated six inches on Arlington Heights and was followed by a frigid spell, repeating the sequence of events of the week before when a foot or more of snow fell. As the owner of the above car remarked, before he began uncovering it for the third time, "It can't last forever—can it?" (A

Hint Legal Action

Zoning Board Denies Rest Home Petition

A petition for a zoning variation so the vacant former residence of the late Hugo J. Thal could be sold for use as a home for elderly persons was denied unanimously Monday night by the five members of the Arlington Heights zoning board of appeals.

Mrs. Mildred T. Smith, administrator of the estate of her late father, asked for the variation of use of the property, now zoned R-3 single family residential, so it could be sold to Paul Ellingsen, an owner of the Arlington Heights Rest Home at 414 N. Vail.

THE THAL property fronts on Euclid st. at the "T" junction of Vail and Euclid, has a 171-foot frontage, and extends back 292 feet, with the rear of the property effectively hidden from the street by the house and attachd garage.

One of the reasons for the variation request, as cited by attorney Rolland Franzen, appearing for Mrs. Smith, was that the property is a tremendous tax burden and is impossible to sell for single family residential purposes.

In denying the request, the board noted, however, that it had not been demonstrated that the property was unsuitable for single family use and, on the contrary, evidence was presented that a substantial sum had been offered for the property for a single family residence within the past year.

It had been brought out during the hearing that an offer of $58,000 had been made for the property for a single family residence.

THE PETITION for variation stated that a contract had been entered into with Ellingsen for sale of the property for use as "a senior citizens' residence to be licensed as a sheltered care home" by the state department of health. Effectivenss of the contract is dependent upon approval of the zoning variation.

Attorney Stephen Jurco, representing four objectors who have property on Highland st. in the square block containing the Thal property, argued that use of the property as a supervised home for the elderly would depreciate the value of the surrounding property.

The zoning board of appeals, in turning down the request, said there had been no showing of unusual hardship which might justify the variation, and that the use proposed was in the nature of a multiple residence use and would change the character of the neighborhood and reduce the desirability and value of adjoining properties.

AS INDICATED before, the board also noted that it appeared the property is desirable as a single family residence, for which it is presently zoned.

The zoning board of appeals is the final authority on zoning variation requests as far as the village is concerned, and the petitioners' only recourse now would be to go to court. There were indications the petitioners' intend to initiate such action.(A

Fire Breaks Out in Home On Tuesday

Mrs. Earl Hull, of 1423 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights, was burned slightly and her hair singed Tuesday morning while attempting to smother with a blanket a small fire in the Hull home.

Fire Chief Harvey Carothers said the fire was accidentally started by a young daughter of the Hulls, who was playing with a cigarette lighter which set afire some clothes hanging on a door in a bedroom.

MRS. HULL tried to smother the fire with a blanket and finally put it out with pails of water. Loss was estimated at about $150.

Firemen made two other calls last week. One was to extinguish a fire in the auto of Otto Clifford, at 600 S. Highland. The other was to 206 W. Wing where they administered oxygen to the Rev. O. C. Tegge, age 70. (A

Jeane and Ellen Kargol, 618 E. Clarendon, hosted a Christmas tree stripping party on January 6. A family tradition with the Kargols, the affair was attended by 18 neighborhood friends. Ice cream and cookies were served to the young "untrimmers" besides the gum, candy and other goodies the holiday tree yielded.

The George Lett family, 1111 N. Belmont, returned home January 5 from a holiday visit in the home of the grandmother, Mrs. Frank Hammell, North Arlington, N. J. They also visited other relatives during their 2-week stay.

Mrs. Fred Dargatz, 1184 N. Beverly lane, hosted a coffee last Friday morning for members of her sewing club. The 10 ladies attending helped celebrate the birthday of Mrs. Rosemary Buttstadt.

IT HAPPENED AGAIN—beautiful, white flakes of snow fell in profusion last week, but excited few persons into poetic outbursts. The third major snowfall in the last month dumped an estimated six inches on Arlington Heights and was followed by a frigid spell, repeating the sequence of events of the week before when a foot or more of snow fell. As the owner of the above car remarked, before he began uncovering it for the third time, "It can't last forever—can it?" (A

Zoning Board Denies Rest Home Petition

A petition for a zoning variation so the vacant former residence of the late Hugo J. Thal could be sold for use as a home for elderly persons was denied unanimously Monday night by the five members of the Arlington Heights zoning board of appeals.

Mrs. Mildred T. Smith, administrator of the estate of her late father, asked for the variation of use of the property, now zoned R-3 single family residential, so it could be sold to Paul Ellingsen, an owner of the Arlington Heights Rest Home at 414 N. Vail.

THE THAL property fronts on Euclid st. at the "T" junction of Vail and Euclid, has a 171-foot frontage, and extends back 292 feet, with the rear of the property effectively hidden from the street by the house and attachd garage.

One of the reasons for the variation request, as cited by attorney Rolland Franzen, appearing for Mrs. Smith, was that the property is a tremendous tax burden and is impossible to sell for single family residential purposes.

In denying the request, the board noted, however, that it had not been demonstrated that the property was unsuitable for single family use and, on the contrary, evidence was presented that a substantial sum had been offered for the property for a single family residence within the past year.

It had been brought out during the hearing that an offer of $58,000 had been made for the property for a single family residence.

THE PETITION for variation stated that a contract had been entered into with Ellingsen for sale of the property for use as "a senior citizens' residence to be licensed as a sheltered care home" by the state department of health. Effectivenss of the contract is dependent upon approval of the zoning variation.

Attorney Stephen Jurco, representing four objectors who have property on Highland st. in the square block containing the Thal property, argued that use of the property as a supervised home for the elderly would depreciate the value of the surrounding property.

The zoning board of appeals, in turning down the request, said there had been no showing of unusual hardship which might justify the variation, and that the use proposed was in the nature of a multiple residence use and would change the character of the neighborhood and reduce the desirability and value of adjoining properties.

AS INDICATED before, the board also noted that it appeared the property is desirable as a single family residence, for which it is presently zoned.

The zoning board of appeals is the final authority on zoning variation requests as far as the village is concerned, and the petitioners' only recourse now would be to go to court. There were indications the petitioners' intend to initiate such action. (A

Mrs. Earl Hull, of 1423 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights, was burned slightly and her hair singed Tuesday morning while attempting to smother with a blanket a small fire in the Hull home.

Fire Chief Harvey Carothers said the fire was accidentally started by a young daughter of the Hulls, who was playing with a cigarette lighter which set afire some clothes hanging on a door in a bedroom.

MRS. HULL tried to smother the fire with a blanket and finally put it out with pails of water. Loss was estimated at about $150.

Firemen made two other calls last week. One was to extinguish a fire in the auto of Otto Clifford, at 600 S. Highland. The other was to 206 W. Wing where they administered oxygen to the Rev. O. C. Tegge, age 70. (A

Women's Tourney Slated for Sunday

Haberkamp Flowers Claims Men's Crown

It was a big weekend for Gunnell's Bowling Lanes in Mt. Prospect.

Gunnell's played host to the eleventh annual Paddock Publications Inter-League handicap tournament and it was a Gunnell's entry that picked off the coveted top prize.

Haberkamp Flowers, representing the Business Men's league which rolls at the Mt. Prospect establishment, collected a 2756 scratch and 3005 gross for a thrilling two-pin victory over runnerup Nelson Realty of the Paddock Classic league.

The triumph was worth $189.68 to the Haberkamp entry with a large traveling trophy and individual awards also going to the unit made up of Andy Steichmann, Andy Moretti, Alvin Hedke, Herman Schaefer, and Ray Lundin.

THE 1962 tournament, matching first place teams of 95 local men's leagues, was another tense, down-to-the-wire affair with Nelson Realty coming up with their big effort in the final shift Sunday evening. Haberkamp Flowers had posted its 3005 in the 3:25 p.m. shift Sunday so had to sit back and wait as the other entries assaulted the pins.

A question on handicaps occurred following the final shift Sunday as the realtors believed they had captured the team championship. However, Haberkamp Flowers is the champion of the 1962 spectacular and a complete explanation of the rules interpretation by tourney officials appears elsewhere on this page.

It was the second straight year that a Paddock Classic league entry had finished in

HABERKAMP FLOWERS of the Business Men's league at Gunnell's Bowling Lanes walked off with top honors in Paddock Publications' eleventh annual Inter-League handicap tournament last weekend. The 1962 champions rolled 2756 scratch and 3005 gross in claiming a slim two-pin margin over runnerup Nelson Realty of the Paddock Classic league. Heading the new titlist was Andy Steichman with a 638 series on games of 247, 186, and 205. Relaxing after their triumph are (l. to r.) Herman Schaefer, Alvin Hedke, Steichman, Andy Moretti, and Ray Lundin.

Rules Clarified In Determining Official Champ

As the Paddock men's tournament drew to a close Sunday night, members of the Nelson Realty team of the Paddock Classic league, which placed second just two pins behind Haberkamp Flowers, learned the average of Dave Catherwood should have been 183 instead of 185 as represented at time of "signing in."

Such difference in average would have meant a handicap of 100 pins instead of 96, and would have given Nelson Realty the team title over Haberkamp Flowers by two pins.

As set forth by the ABC, however, each bowler is responsible for indicating his correct average when entering a handicap tournament. If a bowler indicates his average is higher than it actually is, he and his team must abide by that figure.

IF A BOWLER indicates his average is lower than it actually is, such bowler could be disqualified for such misinformation.

Pioneer Lanes Site for Gals

The women start where the men left off — that's the situation in the Paddock Publications tournament trail where 59 squads of lady keglers will vie for honors this Sunday at Pioneer Lanes in Addison.

Competition will begin at 12:30 p.m. with 16 units in the initial shift. Sixteen squads will compete in the next two shifts with 11 set for the final firing at 8:30 p.m. Sunday.

Handicaps vary for this big event from just 69 sticks for the top team in the meet, Steve's Restaurant of the Paddock Women's Classic league, to 583 for the Liberty Hounds of the VFW Auxiliary No. 2149. Team averages for the two squads are 842 and 597.

FIRST PLACE teams of all local women's leagues as of December 30, 1961 were eligible for this year's tourney with the field of 59 squads surpassing the previous record of 55 set last winter.

Winning ladies will take home five individual trophies plus the large traveling team award. An estimated $420 in team prizes also will be divided among the leading squads.

All bowlers must be on time, a challenge to housewives. No "catch up" bowling will be permitted with women not ready to bowl in turn receiving zeros for each missing frame.

COMPETITORS are urged to be about 20 minutes early in reporting in order to be ready to bowl on time. Team captains should try to have an extra kegler on hand too, in the event of a flat tire or some other mishap the day of the tournament.

Last year's winning gross, actual team pins plus handicap, was 2680. As in the men's tourney, winning the women's event usually takes "ten pins over average, per game, per woman."

GEILS FUNERAL Home of the Tuesday Nite Ladies league at Bensenville Bowl captured the 1961 prize with an eight-pin advantage over runnerup Rein Tile of the Beverly Lanes Ladies Classic. Rein Tile is back this year with an 827 average and 100 handicap.

Representing the Tuesday Nite Ladies league from Bensenville will be the Village News Agency with a 697 average and 373 handicap.

Pioneer Lanes in Addison is located on the east side of Addison rd. between Lake st. and North ave.

Haberkamp Flowers Claims Men's Crown

It was a big weekend for Gunnell's Bowling Lanes in Mt. Prospect.

Gunnell's played host to the eleventh annual Paddock Publications Inter-League handicap tournament and it was a Gunnell's entry that picked off the coveted top prize.

Haberkamp Flowers, representing the Business Men's league which rolls at the Mt. Prospect establishment, collected a 2756 scratch and 3005 gross for a thrilling two-pin victory over runnerup Nelson Realty of the Paddock Classic league.

The triumph was worth $189.68 to the Haberkamp entry with a large traveling trophy and individual awards also going to the unit made up of Andy Steichmann, Andy Moretti, Alvin Hedke, Herman Schaefer, and Ray Lundin.

THE 1962 tournament, matching first place teams of 95 local men's leagues, was another tense, down-to-the-wire affair with Nelson Realty coming up with their big effort in the final shift Sunday evening. Haberkamp Flowers had posted its 3005 in the 3:25 p.m. shift Sunday so had to sit back and wait as the other entries assaulted the pins.

A question on handicaps occurred following the final shift Sunday as the realtors believed they had captured the team championship. However, Haberkamp Flowers is the champion of the 1962 spectacular and a complete explanation of the rules interpretation by tourney officials appears elsewhere on this page.

It was the second straight year that a Paddock Classic league entry had finished in

Rules Clarified In Determining Official Champ

As the Paddock men's tournament drew to a close Sunday night, members of the Nelson Realty team of the Paddock Classic league, which placed second just two pins behind Haberkamp Flowers, learned the average of Dave Catherwood should have been 183 instead of 185 as represented at time of "signing in."

Such difference in average would have meant a handicap of 100 pins instead of 96, and would have given Nelson Realty the team title over Haberkamp Flowers by two pins.

As set forth by the ABC, however, each bowler is responsible for indicating his correct average when entering a handicap tournament. If a bowler indicates his average is higher than it actually is, he and his team must abide by that figure.

IF A BOWLER indicates his average is lower than it actually is, such bowler could be disqualified for such misinformation.

Tournament manager Bob Paddock has decided to abide

HABERKAMP FLOWERS of the Business Men's league at Gunnell's Bowling Lanes walked off with top honors in Paddock Publications' eleventh annual Inter-League handicap tournament last weekend. The 1962 champions rolled 2756 scratch and 3005 gross in claiming a slim two-pin margin over runnerup Nelson Realty of the Paddock Classic league. Heading the new titlist was Andy Steichman with a 638 series on games of 247, 186, and 205. Relaxing after their triumph are (l. to r.) Herman Schaefer, Alvin Hedke, Steichman, Andy Moretti, and Ray Lundin.

Pioneer Lanes Site for Gals

The women start where the men left off — that's the situation in the Paddock Publications tournament trail where 59 squads of lady keglers will vie for honors this Sunday at Pioneer Lanes in Addison.

Competition will begin at 12:30 p.m. with 16 units in the initial shift. Sixteen squads will compete in the next two shifts with 11 set for the final firing at 8:30 p.m. Sunday.

Handicaps vary for this big event from just 69 sticks for the top team in the meet, Steve's Restaurant of the Paddock Women's Classic league, to 583 for the Liberty Hounds of the VFW Auxiliary No. 2149. Team averages for the two squads are 842 and 597.

FIRST PLACE teams of all local women's leagues as of December 30, 1961 were eligible for this year's tourney with the field of 59 squads surpassing the previous record of 55 set last winter.

Winning ladies will take home five individual trophies plus the large traveling team award. An estimated $420 in team prizes also will be divided among the leading squads.

All bowlers must be on time, a challenge to housewives. No "catch up" bowling will be permitted with women not ready to bowl in turn receiving zeros for each missing frame.

COMPETITORS are urged to be about 20 minutes early in reporting in order to be ready to bowl on time. Team captains should try to have an extra kegler on hand too, in the event of a flat tire or some other mishap the day of the tournament.

Last year's winning gross, actual team pins plus handicap, was 2680. As in the men's tourney, winning the women's event usually takes "ten pins over average, per game, per woman."

GEILS FUNERAL Home of the Tuesday Nite Ladies league at Bensenville Bowl captured the 1961 prize with an eight-pin advantage over runnerup Rein Tile of the Beverly Lanes Ladies Classic. Rein Tile is back this year with an 827 average and 100 handicap.

Representing the Tuesday Nite Ladies league from Bensenville will be the Village News Agency with a 697 average and 373 handicap.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK

THE ASSIGNMENTS ARE OUT and the controversy begins over the relative merits of schoolboy basketball teams in Illinois.

With the announcement this week of the various assignments for schools in the district and regional basketball tournaments the task of rating the squads faces coaches in hundreds of high schools.

Scores are examined for common opponents, season marks are studied, and development throughout the season is considered as the prep mentors rank the squads in their respective tournaments and file their selections with the state office.

The seeding process determines the pairings and then the coaches can map their strategy and set up their scouting assignments in preparation for the tourney firing. Pairings and playing schedules will be released on or about February 7 by the Illinois high school association.

Of area interest is that regional at Prospect high school and a real dog-fight is shaping up for that spectacular. Eight schools are entered at Prospect with Arlington, Deerfield, Maine West, Maryville Academy, Notre Dame of Niles, Glenbrook, and Maine East joining the host Knights.

Rating those squads should furnish some puzzling moments for the coaches involved although the District 214 representatives and Maine schools should make up the top four clubs in the tournament. Arlington's 10-3 record, impressive victory over state-ranked Decatur, and relatively easy win over Maine East could be instrumental in giving the Cardinals the No. 1 position.

Prospect's big wins were the decisions over Maine West and Glenbrook and that pair should give the Foundry rd. crew the nod over the Warriors and Spartans in the regional seeding. Maine East's victory of note was a 62-58 conquest of Morton West in the Proviso West holiday tournament. Morton, co-leader in the Interim, owns a decision over Prospect while Maine West was a two-point victor over Morton. Now Prospect turns around and bumps Maine West.

Maine West beat Morton West by two points and Maine East beat Morton by four. There isn't much to choose between the two Maine clubs in that type of comparison.

Sound confusing? It is. And we don't envy those coaches trying to rank the squads for the forthcoming regional.

About the only "sure thing" in that regional is that Maryville Academy or Deerfield will be seeded eighth and face almost immediate elimination.

Anyway you look at it the 1962 Prospect regional tournament should be a dandy.

If we had to list the top-seeded teams at other area regionals as things stand now, we'd go with Naperville at Aurora (West), McHenry at Crystal Lake, North Chicago at Evanston, Palatine at Libertyville, York at Glenbard East, Oak Park at Niles West, and Hinsdale at Willowbrook.

ODDS AND ENDS IN SPORTS:

Following Northern Illinois' first nine games this winter Arlington high grad George Bork was leading the Huskies' scoring with a 19.0 per game average and he sported a fancy .471 shooting percentage . . . Bork is the highest scorer in Arlington high school hardwood history with 783 career points . . . If you don't think pro football is specialized, they even platoon their films! . . . Game films are sliced into offense, defense, and kicking situations and players study only those portions which concern them . . . Some clubs, like the Giants, even employ two cameras — one for offense and one for defense — to avoid the tiresome task of splicing . . . Arlington's two frosh basketball teams provided a real oddity recently when for two consecutive playing dates they posted identical scores . . . The "A" and "B" units whipped St. Charles 37-22 and both lost to Palatine by 42-26 counts.

Adolph Schayes, the Syracuse pro basketball veteran whose string of 765 games was stopped when he suffered a broken cheekbone, told reporters he once tried football. "I was tackled by one guy who grabbed my left leg, and by another who grabbed my right, and one said to the other, 'Let's make a wish." That's when I decided to stay with basketball," Schayes grinned.

In late February we're going to meet with other members of the Suburban Press and Radio association and select an all-star basketball team from players in the suburban area conferences . . . Among the leading candidates at this stage of the season are Ken Gustafson of St. Charles, Johnny Clawson of Naperville, Bob Haarlow of Hinsdale, Lester Long of North Chicago, Jim Howard of Batavia, Harvey Fox and Scott Etnyre of New Trier, Jim Vopicka of Morton West, Terry Flanagan of Marion, Al Lussow of Bremen, and Lance Roberts of Carl Sandburg . . . Several of those boys listed also will make strong bids for All-State recognition next March . . . The prolific scorers in that bunch are Gustafson and Long with both boys averaging around 30 points per game.

Ronnie Sack of Arlington Heights won a $25 savings bond Sunday in the annual ice fishing derby, sponsored by the Northern Illinois Conservation club and held at the south end of Channel lake in the Chain O'Lakes region. Sack caught a 12-inch, one-pound largemouth black bass which was the largest legal-size fish claimed during the competition between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Rules Clarified

by the recommendation of Bob Scheller of the ABC office in Milwaukee, and declare Haberkamp Flowers the winner on the basis of the above two paragraphs.

Leroy Papineau could not compete with Nelson Realty team in the tournament, and Dave Catherwood, well known to the team, was asked to substitute. Dave is a replacement (if needed) in the Paddock Classic league, and had bowled just three games in that loop prior to Dec. 23. Thus, his Paddock classic average could not be considered for this tournament.

DAVE HAD bowled 45 games in the Arlington Classic league at Arlington Bowling Lanes, with an average of 183 prevailing Dec. 23. Just two weeks prior to that time his average in the Arlington Classic was 185. Thus, Dave's mistake could be considered understandable, but could not alter the present situation for the benefit of future tournaments.

Such a precedent-setting policy could conceivably mean wholesale mis-representation of averages in the future.

In the past, substitutions have been permitted in the tournament by any qualified sanctioned bowler, regardless of league association, in an effort to not penalize any team suddenly facing an absentee problem, providing at least three members of the team were regular members of such team.

Needless to say, tournament rules will be spelled out much more clearly in the future.

Fastest Outboard

The record holding Starflite III, a prop walking hydroplane powered by a 75 horsepower Evinrude outboard motor, will be on display at Rodi Outboard Center, Inc., 2525 South Ashland Avenue, Chicago.

This boat, piloted by famed race driver Hu Entrop, set the world's outboard speed record of 122.979 mph on Arizona's Havasu Lake in September of 1960. The record, though often challenged, remains unbeaten.

Battle for 4th Place

Prospect Shoots for Seventh Loop Win; Hosts East Leyden

A firm hold on fourth place and possible tie for third will be the goals of Prospect high's varsity basketball Knights as they host a capable quintet from East Leyden Friday evening.

The Foundry rd. Knights, showing more class with each outing and rapidly developing into a formidable hardwood representative, will carry a 6-3 Interim league mark and 8-6 overall standard into Friday's tussle.

Prospect is settled in fourth place in the Interim only a game out of third but also only a half-game on top of fifth place East Leyden.

A Prospect victory Friday would give the Knights some breathing room in that fourth slot and the locals could climb into a third place deadlock if Niles West's improving Indians bump Maine West (7-2).

FRIDAY'S varsity contest will be preceded by a junior-varsity test at 7 p.m. as Coach Ted Wissen's outfit seeks its ninth victory in ten Interim league starts.

Prospect gained the respect of every loop club with a big victory over Maine West last Friday evening. The Knights, inexperienced at the outset of the season, are gradually picking up steam with each game and could be a definite threat come tourney time in March.

Senior Tommy Thomas continues to lead the Prospect point parade with the sharpshooting forward now possessing 263 points in 14 season games for an 18.8 per game average. AllState George Pomey holds the Prospect single season scoring mark with 492 points in 27 games, an 18.2 average.

IN EAST Leyden's Eagles Prospect will be meeting a club that also began the season with inexperienced performers but which has been showing some creditable basketball at times throughout the season.

Coach Norm Goodman, working in his first year as the varsity basketball head, has two solid scorers in 6-4 Dave Byrne, a junior, and 6-1 senior Ray Perlberg although Perlberg has tapered off of late after a fast start.

Byrne owns 109 points in eight league games and Perlberg has chipped in 100. Ray has three gaves over 20 in loop action with a high of 27 against Glenbard East.

HOWEVER, Perlberg may not get the starting assignment Friday as Jim Arnold (6-1) has been showing well in spot performances. Other probable East Leyden starters are Keith Null (6-2), Paul Addison (5-11), and either Dennis Kirchoff (5-9) or Bill Skelnik (5-11).

IN THIS UNUSUAL POSE Arlington high's Vince Furlong is looking for someone to pass to during first half of last Friday's West Suburban league game in the Cards' gym. Arlington rocked a visiting Riverside-Brookfield quintet, 56-40, with Furlong popping in 16 points on eight baskets.

Host Five Upset

Knights Stun Maine In Thriller, 56-54

by TOM McSHANE

The Prospect Knights staged a fine fourth quarter comeback Friday night to knock Maine West out of first place in the Interim league with a 56-54 upset.

The victory, the second cliff-hanger in as many weeks for the Knights, moved Coach Dick Kinneman's team to within a game of the Warriors in the standings. The third place Maine team is 7-2 in the conference. Prospect now is sporting a 6-3 record.

Kinneman used an old trick Friday to out-fox the Maine team and its coach, Gaston Freeman. The Prospect mentor used his fast forwards as guards bringing the ball down the floor, upsetting the defensive tactics of Freeman and his squad.

BUT, EVEN with the fancy dribbling of 6-2 Tommy Thomas and the cool ball-handling of his running mate Jim Hogarty, it was plain desire more than anything else that paid off for Prospect this winter's eve.

The Knights, who certainly have to be rated a surprise team after starting the season with a lone "veteran" and several inexperienced little men, pushed the Maine squad to the limit all the way through this contest.

Maine West opened the scoring with a free throw by Bob Lorentz with 14 seconds gone in the game. Two baskets and a free throw by Hogarty countered a layup by Maine's Al Waters and two free throws by Rick DeKreek to make it 5-all with 4:58 to go. Rick Warnicke, Lorentz, and Barney Franzen then led a Maine rally that produced 13 points to Prospect's eight, and gave the Warriors an 18-13 lead at quarter time.

THOMAS AND Guard Bob Gerrard brought Prospect back in the opening minutes of the second quarter. Thomas hit three and Gerrard two from the 15-20 foot range. Center Mike Francek added a tip-in, and then Thomas cashed in a technical foul shot to tie the game at 26-all with 2:46 left in the half. Another Thomas free throw put Prospect ahead 27-26.

The lead changed hands four times in the closing minutes of the half. Prospect came out on top 35-34 when Forward Andrews hit a fast break layup on the buzzer. Kinneman's lads banged home 22 points during this quarter for one of their best efforts of the season. The tall man in the backcourt strategy paid off well.

Then the winds shifted. Prospect cooled appreciably in the final minutes of the third period after Thomas opened the quarter by ramming home four straight jump shots from 20 feet out to build the Knight lead to 43-38.

TOMMY THOMAS

MAINE CAME on, with Franzen, Waters, and DeKreek leading the way, to take a 47-44 lead at the end of the third quarter.

The Warriors kept right on going as the final period opened. With six minutes left in the game, the Maine lead stretched to eight points at 52-44. Prospect had not scored in over five minutes.

But there was determination and scrap in the hearts of the Foundry road lads.

GERRARD STARTED the Knights rolling again with a 15-footer. Thomas added two free throws to make it 52-48 with 5:29 left. The lanky forward hit again from far out at 3:50 to cut the lead to two.

The Knights were all over the floor by now, chasing and diving at the ball, rattling the Warriors as much as possible.

Warnicke made two free throws for Maine with 3:36 left in the game. They gave Freeman's squad its final points and a 54-50 lead.

Seconds later, Prospect's Sophomore Guard Dave White made two free throws. One of the shots later was nullified when it was found the referees had erred in giving White two shots instead of one.

THOMAS MADE it 54-53 at 2:31 with another long shot. The courtside was a wall of screaming fans at 1:23 when Gerrard put Prospect ahead to stay with a 20-footer.

Hogarty added the final Knight point 16 seconds later with a free throw. There was slightly more than a minute to

S.O.S. CLUB of the Liquor Dealers league at Jack Gunnell's landed an impressive fifth slot last weekend in the eleventh annual Paddock Publications Inter-League handicap bowling tournament. Making up this entry were (l. to r.) Rudy Boksa, John Young, Joe Collins, Lou Jacobson, and Andy Koziol.

Cards to Test Suburbs' Best

by BOB FRISK

The two teams generally regarded as the class of the Chicago Suburban area will serve as the opposition this weekend as Arlington's varsity basketball Cardinals engage in one of the roughest twin-bills of this or any other hardwood campaign.

On successive nights Coach Norm Patberg's Cards will tackle York and Hinsdale, tabbed as the top two teams in the suburban area and authors of 22 victories in 24 outings this season.

First leg of the rough weekend doubleheader will be staged in Elmhurst Friday evening. The Cardinals will come home Saturday to host No. 1 ranked Hinsdale.

CAPACITY CROWDS are expected for both hardwood headliners as the Cinderella Cardinals from Arlington high school, already possessing ten victories this season, shoot for triumphs which would give them statewide attention.

Hinsdale currently rests atop the West Suburban standings with five straight victories but Arlington, York, and LaGrange are in solid contention with creditable 4-1 slates.

York's only loss was a one-point thriller to Hinsdale and LaGrange's only loop setback was to York. Arlington was dumped by LaGrange before the holiday break.

PATBERG'S Arlington crew needs a pair of performances similar to the conquest of state-ranked Decatur if it entertains any hopes of enjoying the weekend ahead. The Cards have matched their winning skein of five achieved early in the season and now stand 10-3 for the season.

The Cardinals disposed of Riverside-Brookfield in impressive fashion last Friday evening and although it's no secret that the Bulldogs aren't in the class of Hinsdale or York, the victory was achieved without veteran guard Gary Brodnan and with only ten points combined from Chuck Close and Don Kolstad, the club's two leading scorers this season.

Balance has been a high point in the Arlington picture this winter with the top seven boys all capable of enjoying a big evening. Rusty Blix, 6-4 senior center, exhibited some impressive work against R-B and should be a valuable figure in Patberg's scheme of things during the remainder of the campaign. Blix gives Arlington the size it sorely needs.

WITH BLIX and John Burgermeister (6-3) able to come off the bench and fill in when needed, Patberg is blessed with vital reserve strength in the frontline. Although he's been employed primarily as a reserve, Burgermeister has collected 69 points and has been in double figures on four occasions.

Furlong, Close, Kolstad, Retterer, and Brodnan also give Patberg five capable scorers with each boy hitting 15 or better in single games this season. Close tops all Arlington scorers with 148 markers and an 11.4 per game average.

Brodnan is a vital cog in the backcourt operations for the Cardinals and Arlington will need the 5-9 junior this weekend. Illness kept Gary on the sidelines against Riverside and it marked the second straight home game that he had been unavailable for service.

BOTH YORK and Hinsdale will carry handsome sets of credentials into the weekend showdowns. York is 11-1 for the season, bowing only to Hinsdale, and the Dukes picked off the DeKalb holiday crown over Christmas. Hinsdale is 11-1, bowing to Morton East when regular Bob Haarlow was on the sidelines, and the Red Devils rolled to the Joliet holiday championship.

The name of Andy Steichmann is becoming synonymous with tournament champions as this was the second straight year that Steichmann came up with the booming series that was instrumental in the team title.

LAST WINTER Andy collected a fancy 654 series on games of 242, 190, and 222 and his Abbinanti Insurance team grabbed the top prize. Last Sunday afternoon Steichmann blasted the pins at counts of 247, 186, and 205 and his 638 series topped the champs from Haberkamp Flowers.

Backing Steichmann for the champions were Herman Schaefer and Ray Lundin with identical 538 efforts, Andy Moretti with a 528, and Alvin Hedke with a 514.

Tom Kouros' 609 was high for runnerup Nelson Realty with Warren Olson adding a nifty 602, Buck Perkins a 593, Casper Dewitz a 572, and Dave Catherwood a 532. Olson's 222 opener was high for the realtors.

KOUROS ALSO bowled for another tourney entry and hit a 660 on games of 244, 204, and 212 for the Arlington Lanes team of the Arlington Classic league. His 660 was the top series turned in for the two days of tourney firing at Gunnell's.

Top DuPage area finisher was third place Main Liquors of the Bensenville Lions league at Bensenville Bowl. Charles Bobus paced this entry with a 572 series, including a 213 opener, and Jack Leider fired a 548. Other scratch scores for the third place unit were Fred Miller's 513, Jerry Kuop's 455, and Art Neil's 411.

Averages of all prize winning keglers will be verified within the next three weeks, after which trophies and checks will be distributed. Results are still unofficial until the averages are verified and computations checked.

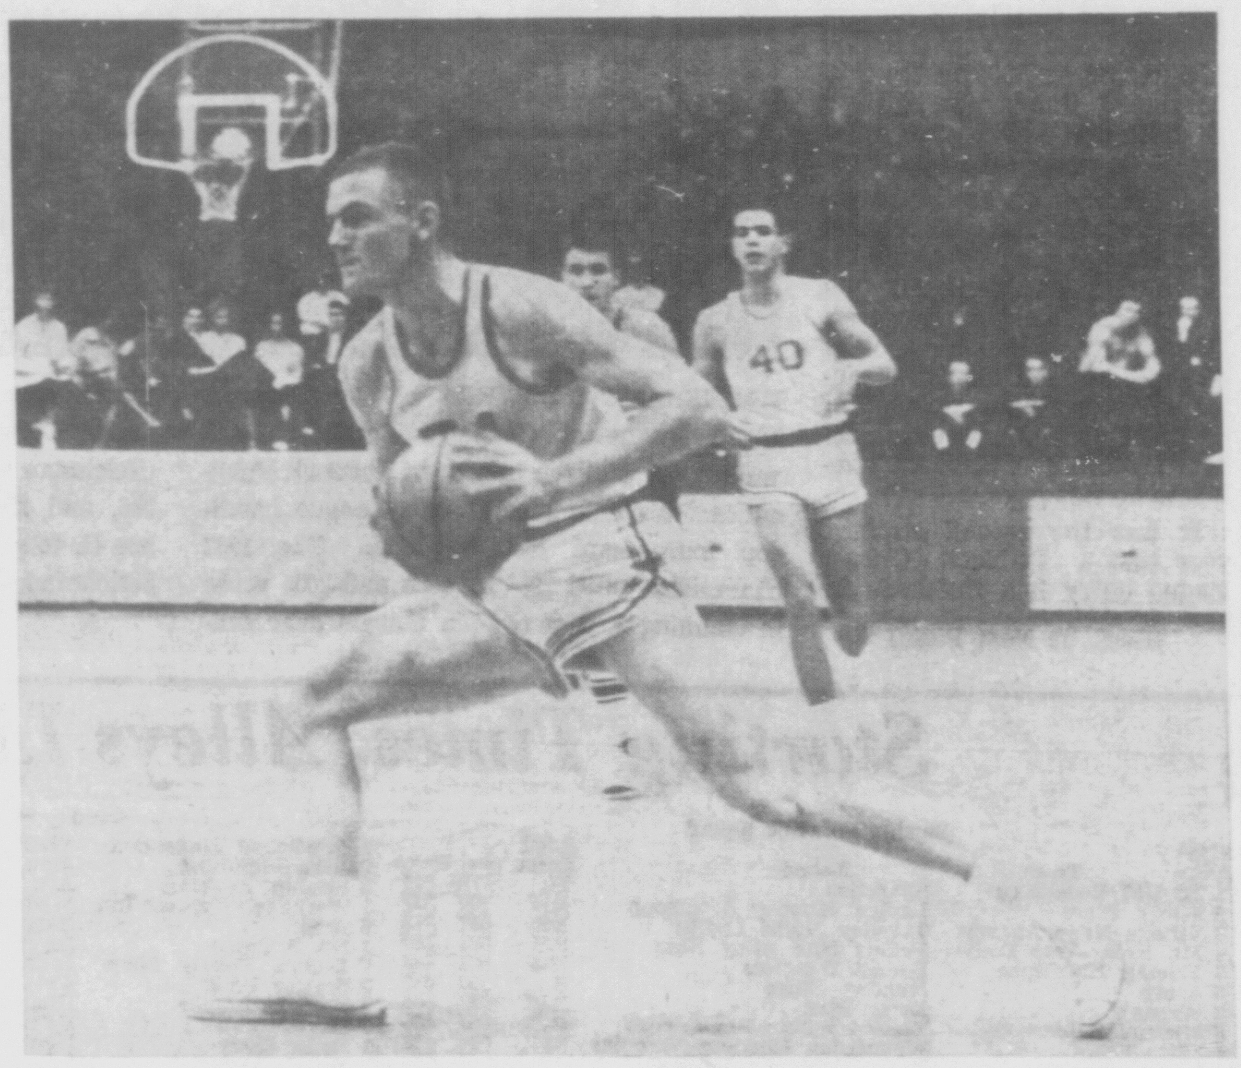
Coach Norm Goodman, working in his first year as the varsity basketball head, has two solid scorers in 6-4 Dave Byrne, a junior, and 6-1 senior Ray Perlberg although Perlberg has tapered off of late after a fast start.

Byrne owns 109 points in eight league games and Perlberg has chipped in 100. Ray has three gaves over 20 in loop action with a high of 27 against Glenbard East.

HOWEVER, Perlberg may not get the starting assignment Friday as Jim Arnold (6-1) has been showing well in spot performances. Other probable East Leyden starters are Keith Null (6-2), Paul Addison (5-11), and either Dennis Kirchoff (5-9) or Bill Skelnik (5-11).



IN THIS UNUSUAL POSE Arlington high's Vince Furlong is looking for someone to pass to during first half of last Friday's West Suburban league game in the Cards' gym. Arlington rocked a visiting Riverside-Brookfield quintet, 56-40, with Furlong popping in 16 points on eight baskets.

Host Five Upset

by TOM McSHANE

The Prospect Knights staged a fine fourth quarter comeback Friday night to knock Maine West out of first place in the Interim league with a 56-54 upset.

The victory, the second cliff-hanger in as many weeks for the Knights, moved Coach Dick Kinneman's team to within a game of the Warriors in the standings. The third place Maine team is 7-2 in the conference. Prospect now is sporting a 6-3 record.

Kinneman used an old trick Friday to out-fox the Maine team and its coach, Gaston Freeman. The Prospect mentor used his fast forwards as guards bringing the ball down the floor, upsetting the defensive tactics of Freeman and his squad.

BUT, EVEN with the fancy dribbling of 6-2 Tommy Thomas and the cool ball-handling of his running mate Jim Hogarty, it was plain desire more than anything else that paid off for Prospect this winter's eve.

The Knights, who certainly have to be rated a surprise team after starting the season with a lone "veteran" and several inexperienced little men, pushed the Maine squad to the limit all the way through this contest.

Maine West opened the scoring with a free throw by Bob Lorentz with 14 seconds gone in the game. Two baskets and a free throw by Hogarty countered a layup by Maine's Al Waters and two free throws by Rick DeKreek to make it 5-all with 4:58 to go. Rick Warnicke, Lorentz, and Barney Franzen then led a Maine rally that produced 13 points to Prospect's eight, and gave the Warriors an 18-13 lead at quarter time.

THOMAS AND Guard Bob Gerrard brought Prospect back in the opening minutes of the second quarter. Thomas hit three and Gerrard two from the 15-20 foot range. Center Mike Francek added a tip-in, and then Thomas cashed in a technical foul shot to tie the game at 26-all with 2:46 left in the half. Another Thomas free throw put Prospect ahead 27-26.

The lead changed hands four times in the closing minutes of the half. Prospect came out on top 35-34 when Forward Andrews hit a fast break layup on the buzzer. Kinneman's lads banged home 22 points during this quarter for one of their best efforts of the season. The tall man in the backcourt strategy paid off well.

Then the winds shifted. Prospect cooled appreciably in the final minutes of the third period after Thomas opened the quarter by ramming home four straight jump shots from 20 feet out to build the Knight lead to 43-38.

TOMMY THOMAS

MAINE CAME on, with Franzen, Waters, and DeKreek leading the way, to take a 47-44 lead at the end of the third quarter.

The Warriors kept right on going as the final period opened. With six minutes left in the game, the Maine lead stretched to eight points at 52-44. Prospect had not scored in over five minutes.

But there was determination and scrap in the hearts of the Foundry road lads.

GERRARD STARTED the Knights rolling again with a 15-footer. Thomas added two free throws to make it 52-48 with 5:29 left. The lanky forward hit again from far out at 3:50 to cut the lead to two.

The Knights were all over the floor by now, chasing and diving at the ball, rattling the Warriors as much as possible.

Warnicke made two free throws for Maine with 3:36 left in the game. They gave Freeman's squad its final points and a 54-50 lead.

Seconds later, Prospect's Sophomore Guard Dave White made two free throws. One of the shots later was nullified when it was found the referees had erred in giving White two shots instead of one.

THOMAS MADE it 54-53 at 2:31 with another long shot. The courtside was a wall of screaming fans at 1:23 when Gerrard put Prospect ahead to stay with a 20-footer.

Hogarty added the final Knight point 16 seconds later with a free throw. There was slightly more than a minute to

by BOB FRISK

The two teams generally regarded as the class of the Chicago Suburban area will serve as the opposition this weekend as Arlington's varsity basketball Cardinals engage in one of the roughest twin-bills of this or any other hardwood campaign.

On successive nights Coach Norm Patberg's Cards will tackle York and Hinsdale, tabbed as the top two teams in the suburban area and authors of 22 victories in 24 outings this season.

First leg of the rough weekend doubleheader will be staged in Elmhurst Friday evening. The Cardinals will come home Saturday to host No. 1 ranked Hinsdale.

CAPACITY CROWDS are expected for both hardwood headliners as the Cinderella Cardinals from Arlington high school, already possessing ten victories this season, shoot for triumphs which would give them statewide attention.

Hinsdale currently rests atop the West Suburban standings with five straight victories but Arlington, York, and LaGrange are in solid contention with creditable 4-1 slates.

York's only loss was a one-point thriller to Hinsdale and LaGrange's only loop setback was to York. Arlington was dumped by LaGrange before the holiday break.

PATBERG'S Arlington crew needs a pair of performances similar to the conquest of state-ranked Decatur if it entertains any hopes of enjoying the weekend ahead. The Cards have matched their winning skein of five achieved early in the season and now stand 10-3 for the season.

The Cardinals disposed of Riverside-Brookfield in impressive fashion last Friday evening and although it's no secret that the Bulldogs aren't in the class of Hinsdale or York, the victory was achieved without veteran guard Gary Brodnan and with only ten points combined from Chuck Close and Don Kolstad, the club's two leading scorers this season.

Balance has been a high point in the Arlington picture this winter with the top seven boys all capable of enjoying a big evening. Rusty Blix, 6-4 senior center, exhibited some impressive work against R-B and should be a valuable figure in Patberg's scheme of things during the remainder of the campaign. Blix gives Arlington the size it sorely needs.

WITH BLIX and John Burgermeister (6-3) able to come off the bench and fill in when needed, Patberg is blessed with vital reserve strength in the frontline. Although he's been employed primarily as a reserve, Burgermeister has collected 69 points and has been in double figures on four occasions.

Furlong, Close, Kolstad, Retterer, and Brodnan also give Patberg five capable scorers with each boy hitting 15 or better in single games this season. Close tops all Arlington scorers with 148 markers and an 11.4 per game average.

Brodnan is a vital cog in the backcourt operations for the Cardinals and Arlington will need the 5-9 junior this weekend. Illness kept Gary on the sidelines against Riverside and it marked the second straight home game that he had been unavailable for service.

BOTH YORK and Hinsdale will carry handsome sets of credentials into the weekend showdowns. York is 11-1 for the season, bowing only to Hinsdale, and the Dukes picked off the DeKalb holiday crown over Christmas. Hinsdale is 11-1, bowing to Morton East when regular Bob Haarlow was on the sidelines, and the Red Devils rolled to the Joliet holiday championship.

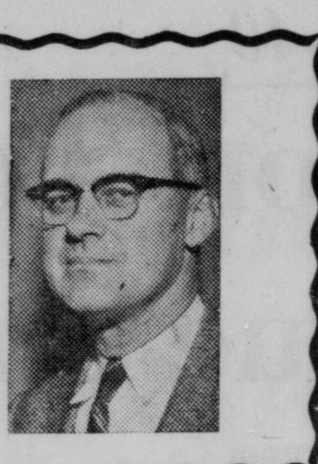
Mac Says



by G. A. McELROY

IT HAPPENS EVERY SEASON. Morton (4-0) leader of the Suburban League was upset, 58-55, by last place Highland Park (0-4). This made the Suburban race an open affair and left Morton, New Trier and Proviso tied with 4-1 records though Proviso was almost upset in a 39-36 game with another consistent loser, Niles East . . . Some other suburban area leaders had close calls. Round Lake stayed on top in the Northwest with a 73-71 win over second place Grayslake. Joliet got by Thornton 55-50 in the South Suburban. Sandburg made it 7-0 by edging Bremen 58-55 in the Southwest Suburban. Joliet Catholic nosed out second place St. Edward 56-54. Wheaton beat Willowbrook 69-68 in an overtime game to gain a tie with Morton West in the Interim association.

Hinsdale continues to lead the West Suburban, the strongest league in Illinois in our opinion. Right behind by one game (9-3) Arlington, LaGrange, and York. Hinsdale and York rank one-two in suburban area ratings . . . East Aurora and Elgin the Big Eight following Auburn's forefeiture of their league victories through having an ineligible player. Naperville beat Batavia to move in front in the Little Seven conference.

Zion pulled away to a two game lead with a 6-0 record in the North Suburban by beating Palatine, 74-62. At the outset it looked like a Pirate runaway and one of Palatine's best performances. Before the game was over a six-point first half advantage had become a 12-point deficit as Palatine made the most individual playing errors of the season and a little Zion guard named Ed Moore had done some hot-shooting from all positions on the floor for a total of 30 points. Palatine shot well enough to have beaten the Zee-Bees but lost the ball too many times without a shot to beat a top flight opponent. Barrington and McHenry just barely got by Woodstock and Dundee indicating that a lot can happen in the remaining eight games on the schedule.

Next weekend the first round of play will be concluded with Palatine a slight favorite at Barrington, Woodstock liable to win at Crystal Lake, Zion favored at Dundee, and the McHenry-Libertyville game a real tossup with this writer giving Libertyville the edge.

Prospect's JVs Post 41-39 Win

Prospect's junior varsity basketball team beat Maine West Friday night 41-39 to record its eighth victory in nine Interim league starts and retain its hold on first place in the 12-team conference.

The Knights held off a closing Maine surge to win the rough and tumble contest.

Prospect took an early lead, moving ahead 10-7 at the end of the first quarter, and 23-22 at halftime. Guard Dick Smith provided most of the spark in the Knight attack, hitting five baskets from long range during the half.

THE SECOND half was a back and forth scoring duel. Prospect was on top at the three - quarter mark, but Dave Aegerter and Joe Wehlacz led a Maine rally that tied the count midway through the final period.

A basket made it 39-37 Prospect with 2:41 left. Aegerter missed a chance to tie it with two free throws at 1:22. Prospct's Ron Koepke then put the game out of Warrior reach with a drive shot at 1:06. A basket by Maine's Wilson with 15 seconds remaining made it 41-39.

Smith was high for Prospect with 14. Dave Aegerter also had 14. Wehlacz scored 11, and did a fine job holding Prospect Center Bob Hope, the Knights' scoring leader, to four points.

Big Weekend For Cardinals

Don Anderman (6-0) and Bob Rudolph (6-4) are the key men offensively for York although Coach Dick Campbell, in his first year at the Duke helm, is blessed with several other boys who can break a game wide open.

Anderman has 89 points in five league games with a high of 22 against Hinsdale. Rudolph, after a slow start, has pumped in 62 points in the last three games, including a 28-point outburst against Downers Grove.

ROUNDING OUT the Duke alignment are George Johnson (6-3), Al Malecha (5-10), and Jimmy Dawson (5-11). Dawson, a deadly out-shooter and capable ball handler, is the only junior in the starting five.

Highly-regarded reserves for the Elmhurst powerhouse are Wayne Strauch (5-11) and Kurt Fowich (6-2). Strauch is an all-conference performer in both football and baseball and was an All-State halfback last fall.

Hinsdale is similar to York in that Coach Larry Hoff has two fast, clever guards and a solid, versatile front line. Engineering the Devils' attack are Kenny Boston (5-10) and Doug Fuller (5-11), both talented football halfbacks.

Boston is the squad's second leading scorer and the little speedster has a high of 19 against York which is proof of his value to the club.

TOP MAN IN THE Hinsdale front-line is All-State candidate Bob Haarlow, a regular for three years, and the boy to watch Saturday. The 6-2 senior, whose brother starts for Princeton and whose father was a University of Chicago great, has popped in 83 points in five games with 24 against Downers Grove for his league high.

Haarlow canned 30 against Wheaton as the Red Devils bumped the Tigers 76-70 for the Joliet tourney championship. In those three tournament contests Bob collected 74 points.

Rounding out the Hinsdale alignment are Bill Koch, a 6-3 junior, and Keith Feiler, a 6-3 senior. Top reserve is 5-10 Roscoe Worrell.

Arlington has its work cut out this weekend. Fans should come out and back the Cardinals as they meet two of the state's finest on successive days!

Willowbrook Jayvees in Cage Split

Willowbrook's junior-varsity cagers claimed a split in hardwood action last weekend with a 53-42 win over West Leyden followed by a 64-44 loss to Wheaton.

Bob MacKaben, Dick Busch, and Ron Laatz combined for 28 points in the first half to pave the way for the Warriors in their victory over West Leyden. The Brooks counted 24 points in the second quarter to put the game on ice.

Wheaton trailed Willowbrook early in the second period of Saturday's game before the Tigers rallied and coasted in with the decision.

go, and the crowd reaction verged on hysteria as Maine brought the ball downcourt.

The Warriors tried to work the ball in for a good shot. The seconds ticked off. The Knights were clinging closely to the ball handlers.

THE STEAL came from nowhere. White made a lightning lunge, tipped a pass intended for Franzen, and started downcourt. Prospect called time with 30 seconds left, then took the ball in. The Knights worked the ball until Hogarty shook loose underneath. A pass went in. The shot went up, bounced off the rim, and fell into a Warrior's hands. Maine still was alive.

The Warriors took the ball out at midcourt with 14 seconds to go. Thomas and Waters got in a scramble five seconds later when Thomas knocked down a pass. Once again the ball went to Maine on the sideline.

Warnicke threw the ball in with six seconds left. It came back to him two seconds later. He threw the final shot of the game with the clock reading :03. The ball fell short of the rim by two feet.

Arlington Claims Split in Frosh Cage Encounters

Hinsdale rallied to hand Arlington high's frosh "A" basketball squad its second straight setback last Saturday morning, 43-41.

The visitors recovered from an eight-point deficit with two minutes remaining to knot the count in regulation play and then went on to cement the decision in an exciting overtime period.

Arlington's frosh "Bs" salvaged one victory for the plebes with an impressive 43-30 conquest of the visiting Hinsdale five.

BOB CONNER ar Roberto Benavides sparked the locals in the first half of the "A" game and Arlington raced off to a 25-16 halftime lead. The Cards lost Jerry Fink and Johnny McRae on fouls in the final stanza and their absence was felt in the closing minutes.

Hinsdale's Norlander personally took charge as he scored the visitors' final 16 points, including eight of nine free throws in the final seven minutes of play.

Conner tossed in 19 points and Benavides added 13 for Arlington and both boys turned in strong efforts in rebounding. Mike Frase added six.

Score by quarters:

Hinsdale	5	11	11	12	4—43

JOHNNY JAMISON poured in 12 points and Morrisett collected ten to spark Arlington's frosh "B" squad to its 13-point decision.

Also scoring for the locals as they racked up their fourth victory in five games were Bill Townley with seven and Jeff Galyon and Dick Hoppe with six each.

Rybarczyk, Prekel Gain Meet Honors

On Sunday the 70th Annual Northwest Skating Derby was held at Waveland Park in Chicago in a snowstorm which apparently failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the Mt. Prospect skaters.

Mt. Prospect not only scored 24 points, which is the highest total it has earned in any one meet since the club was formed, but two of the local skaters took home top individupionships in their respective age divisions.

Dan Prekel won the class "B" Men's championship scoring seven points for a 1st place in the 440 yard race and a 3rd place finish in the 880 yard event.

Jim Rybarczyk also won the championship in his group, the Junior Boys Division, by scoring six points on two second place finishes.

DICK SOLLEY and Tom Tangney finished 2nd and 3rd after Mike Butler and Billy Grady fell in the finals of the Pony Boys 220 yard event.

Bob Grady scored a second and a third in his two Juvenile Division finals while Tom Haenisch took a fourth in the Intermediate Boys group.

The Mt. Prospect group is practicing hard for the Silver Skates Championships this coming week-end as well as for the postponed Lilacia meet which is now scheduled to be held in Lombard, Ill., tomorrow night, Jan. 19.

Some of the skaters who did not win any medals in the three meets last week but qualified for final events in their age groups were Mike Butler, Greg Grippentrog, Chuck Hughson, Ronnie Baker, Mike Bickler, Bill Gastorf, Jack Gehl and Mary Lou Haenisch.

Prospect's Soph Gymnasts Edged By Willowbrook

Willowbrook's frosh - soph gymnasts edged Prospect high, 67½-64½ last Friday, handing Coach Don Arseneau's Knights their first loss of the season.

Prospect's sophs bounced back with an effortless 87½-44½ conquest of an outmanned Maine East team in the second half of the double dual.

Individual winners for Prospect's sophs against Willowbrook were Pat Kivland on the trampoline and Brian Williams in tumbling. Arlington Jayvees Stop Notre Dame

Bounced with its third defeat of the season on Saturday, Arlington high's junior-varsity basketball team rebounded with a 49-42 victory over Notre Dame Monday afternoon.

Phil O'Connell potted 19 points and Bill Guilfoil added 12, to pace the local jayvees to their second win in five outings this season.

Arlington held a 39-27 lead heading into the final quarter but saw that advantage cut to three points with 1:30 remaining. However, Coach Rog Steingraber's Cardinals held on for the victory.

Score by quarters:

Arlington	18	13	8	10—49
Notre Dame	7	12	8	15—42

ON SATURDAY morning Arlington found the mark on only 20 per cent of its shots and dropped a 48-35 decision to Hinsdale's Red Devils.

O'Connell again paced the Cards with 14 points and Guilfoil chipped in with nine.

In Crucial Win

Last Thursday brought together the two unbeaten volleyball teams in the Arlington Heights Park District Men's volleyball league.

The contest between Klehm's Demons and the Spikers started out with few points scored. At halftime only three points separated the two clubs with the Demons on top. The second half was a different story.

The Demons jumped to a ten-point lead with strong net play and driving spikes. From that point Klehm's Demons kept adding to their lead as they took undisputed first with their 35-19 win.

Mac Says

by G. A. McELROY

IT HAPPENS EVERY SEASON. Morton (4-0) leader of the Suburban League was upset, 58-55, by last place Highland Park (0-4). This made the Suburban race an open affair and left Morton, New Trier and Proviso tied with 4-1 records though Proviso was almost upset in a 39-36 game with another consistent loser, Niles East . . . Some other suburban area leaders had close calls. Round Lake stayed on top in the Northwest with a 73-71 win over second place Grayslake. Joliet got by Thornton 55-50 in the South Suburban. Sandburg made it 7-0 by edging Bremen 58-55 in the Southwest Suburban. Joliet Catholic nosed out second place St. Edward 56-54. Wheaton beat Willowbrook 69-68 in an overtime game to gain a tie with Morton West in the Interim association.

Hinsdale continues to lead the West Suburban, the strongest league in Illinois in our opinion. Right behind by one game (9-3) Arlington, LaGrange, and York. Hinsdale and York rank one-two in suburban area ratings . . . East Aurora and Elgin the Big Eight following Auburn's forefeiture of their league victories through having an ineligible player. Naperville beat Batavia to move in front in the Little Seven conference.

Zion pulled away to a two game lead with a 6-0 record in the North Suburban by beating Palatine, 74-62. At the outset it looked like a Pirate runaway and one of Palatine's best performances. Before the game was over a six-point first half advantage had become a 12-point deficit as Palatine made the most individual playing errors of the season and a little Zion guard named Ed Moore had done some hot-shooting from all positions on the floor for a total of 30 points. Palatine shot well enough to have beaten the Zee-Bees but lost the ball too many times without a shot to beat a top flight opponent. Barrington and McHenry just barely got by Woodstock and Dundee indicating that a lot can happen in the remaining eight games on the schedule.

Next weekend the first round of play will be concluded with Palatine a slight favorite at Barrington, Woodstock liable to win at Crystal Lake, Zion favored at Dundee, and the McHenry-Libertyville game a real tossup with this writer giving Libertyville the edge.

Prospect's JVs Post 41-39 Win

Prospect's junior varsity basketball team beat Maine West Friday night 41-39 to record its eighth victory in nine Interim league starts and retain its hold on first place in the 12-team conference.

The Knights held off a closing Maine surge to win the rough and tumble contest.

Prospect took an early lead, moving ahead 10-7 at the end of the first quarter, and 23-22 at halftime. Guard Dick Smith provided most of the spark in the Knight attack, hitting five baskets from long range during the half.

THE SECOND half was a back and forth scoring duel. Prospect was on top at the three - quarter mark, but Dave Aegerter and Joe Wehlacz led a Maine rally that tied the count midway through the final period.

A basket made it 39-37 Prospect with 2:41 left. Aegerter missed a chance to tie it with two free throws at 1:22. Prospct's Ron Koepke then put the game out of Warrior reach with a drive shot at 1:06. A basket by Maine's Wilson with 15 seconds remaining made it 41-39.

Smith was high for Prospect with 14. Dave Aegerter also had 14. Wehlacz scored 11, and did a fine job holding Prospect Center Bob Hope, the Knights' scoring leader, to four points.

Don Anderman (6-0) and Bob Rudolph (6-4) are the key men offensively for York although Coach Dick Campbell, in his first year at the Duke helm, is blessed with several other boys who can break a game wide open.

Anderman has 89 points in five league games with a high of 22 against Hinsdale. Rudolph, after a slow start, has pumped in 62 points in the last three games, including a 28-point outburst against Downers Grove.

ROUNDING OUT the Duke alignment are George Johnson (6-3), Al Malecha (5-10), and Jimmy Dawson (5-11). Dawson, a deadly out-shooter and capable ball handler, is the only junior in the starting five.

Highly-regarded reserves for the Elmhurst powerhouse are Wayne Strauch (5-11) and Kurt Fowich (6-2). Strauch is an all-conference performer in both football and baseball and was an All-State halfback last fall.

Hinsdale is similar to York in that Coach Larry Hoff has two fast, clever guards and a solid, versatile front line. Engineering the Devils' attack are Kenny Boston (5-10) and Doug Fuller (5-11), both talented football halfbacks.

Boston is the squad's second leading scorer and the little speedster has a high of 19 against York which is proof of his value to the club.

TOP MAN IN THE Hinsdale front-line is All-State candidate Bob Haarlow, a regular for three years, and the boy to watch Saturday. The 6-2 senior, whose brother starts for Princeton and whose father was a University of Chicago great, has popped in 83 points in five games with 24 against Downers Grove for his league high.

Haarlow canned 30 against Wheaton as the Red Devils bumped the Tigers 76-70 for the Joliet tourney championship. In those three tournament contests Bob collected 74 points.

Rounding out the Hinsdale alignment are Bill Koch, a 6-3 junior, and Keith Feiler, a 6-3 senior. Top reserve is 5-10 Roscoe Worrell.

Arlington has its work cut out this weekend. Fans should come out and back the Cardinals as they meet two of the state's finest on successive days!

The Warriors tried to work the ball in for a good shot. The seconds ticked off. The Knights were clinging closely to the ball handlers.

THE STEAL came from nowhere. White made a lightning lunge, tipped a pass intended for Franzen, and started downcourt. Prospect called time with 30 seconds left, then took the ball in. The Knights worked the ball until Hogarty shook loose underneath. A pass went in. The shot went up, bounced off the rim, and fell into a Warrior's hands. Maine still was alive.

The Warriors took the ball out at midcourt with 14 seconds to go. Thomas and Waters got in a scramble five seconds later when Thomas knocked down a pass. Once again the ball went to Maine on the sideline.

Warnicke threw the ball in with six seconds left. It came back to him two seconds later. He threw the final shot of the game with the clock reading :03. The ball fell short of the rim by two feet.

Willowbrook Jayvees in Cage Split

Willowbrook's junior-varsity cagers claimed a split in hardwood action last weekend with a 53-42 win over West Leyden followed by a 64-44 loss to Wheaton.

Bob MacKaben, Dick Busch, and Ron Laatz combined for 28 points in the first half to pave the way for the Warriors in their victory over West Leyden. The Brooks counted 24 points in the second quarter to put the game on ice.

Wheaton trailed Willowbrook early in the second period of Saturday's game before the Tigers rallied and coasted in with the decision.

Arlington Claims Split in Frosh Cage Encounters

Hinsdale rallied to hand Arlington high's frosh "A" basketball squad its second straight setback last Saturday morning, 43-41.

The visitors recovered from an eight-point deficit with two minutes remaining to knot the count in regulation play and then went on to cement the decision in an exciting overtime period.

Arlington's frosh "Bs" salvaged one victory for the plebes with an impressive 43-30 conquest of the visiting Hinsdale five.

BOB CONNER ar Roberto Benavides sparked the locals in the first half of the "A" game and Arlington raced off to a 25-16 halftime lead. The Cards lost Jerry Fink and Johnny McRae on fouls in the final stanza and their absence was felt in the closing minutes.

Hinsdale's Norlander personally took charge as he scored the visitors' final 16 points, including eight of nine free throws in the final seven minutes of play.

Conner tossed in 19 points and Benavides added 13 for Arlington and both boys turned in strong efforts in rebounding. Mike Frase added six.

Score by quarters:

Arlington Jayvees Stop Notre Dame

Bounced with its third defeat of the season on Saturday, Arlington high's junior-varsity basketball team rebounded with a 49-42 victory over Notre Dame Monday afternoon.

Phil O'Connell potted 19 points and Bill Guilfoil added 12, to pace the local jayvees to their second win in five outings this season.

Arlington held a 39-27 lead heading into the final quarter but saw that advantage cut to three points with 1:30 remaining. However, Coach Rog Steingraber's Cardinals held on for the victory.

Score by quarters:

Arlington	18	13	8	10—49
Notre Dame	7	12	8	15—42

ON SATURDAY morning Arlington found the mark on only 20 per cent of its shots and dropped a 48-35 decision to Hinsdale's Red Devils.

O'Connell again paced the Cards with 14 points and Guilfoil chipped in with nine.

In Crucial Win

Last Thursday brought together the two unbeaten volleyball teams in the Arlington Heights Park District Men's volleyball league.

The contest between Klehm's Demons and the Spikers started out with few points scored. At halftime only three points separated the two clubs with the Demons on top. The second half was a different story.

The Demons jumped to a ten-point lead with strong net play and driving spikes. From that point Klehm's Demons kept adding to their lead as they took undisputed first with their 35-19 win.

St. Viator's Sophs Rout Maryville

St. Viator's sophomore basketball team treated a Parents Night crowd to an impressive 66-30 victory over Maryville Academy Sunday evening in the Lions' gymnasium.

Balanced scoring paid off for Coach Ron Feiereisel's Arlington Heights club with Jim Murray tossing in 14 points to lead the parade.

Backing Murray for the victorious Lions were Jim Vidt with 13, Mike Ainslie with 11, and John Browe with nine.

THE VICTORY came a matter of hours following a 41-39 reversal at West Leyden on Saturday. Murray sparked Feiereisel's sophs against Leyden with five baskets and a six-of-11 effort from the free throw line for 16 points.

Chuck Heinrich and Jim Vidt, two standout freshmen playing with St. Viator's sophs, collected 11 each in the two-point setback.

In two frosh encounters over the weekend Coach Larry Nomellini's Lions suffered a pair of setbacks. St. Procopius bumped St. Viator on Saturday, 58-36, and Maryville Academy racked up a 54-42 triumph Sunday.

CHUCK GRANDT poured in 14 points in a losing cause as Viator bowed to St. Procopius. Backing Grandt for the locals were John Kidd with eight and Ron Bakalar and Mike Hogan with five each.

Three boys hit double figures for the Lions in the 12-point loss to Maryville. Bakalar paced the locals with 14 on five baskets and four charity throws and Kidd and Grandt followed with 12 and 10 respectively.

Inaccuracy at the free throw line was costly in both plebe losses with St. Viator canning only 24 out of 45 attempts. Meanwhile, the opponents registered 32 free throws in 40 attempts.

St. Viator's Lions will be idle now until February 2 encounters with St. Joseph of Westchester. That Friday has been set aside as Date Night at the Arlington Heights school with one ticket admitting student and his or her date. Tickets will be 75 cents each.

Prospect's varsity and frosh-soph squads will get back into action this Friday, Jan. 19, when they host the defending state champion York Dukes. The meets will get underway at 4:30 p.m.

Cards Win, 56-40

Arlington Tops R-B In League Encounter

by BOB FRISK

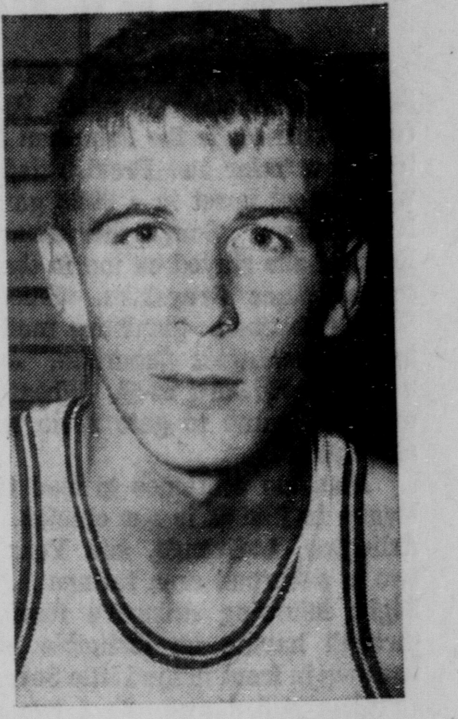
Arlington high's Cardinals, causing some major concern among the elite of West Suburban basketball after several seasons of second-division finishes, warmed up for the big weekend ahead with a convincing 56-40 triumph over visiting Riverside-Brookfield last Friday evening.



JOHN BURGERMEISTER

Coach Norm Patberg's surprising entry, already boasting ten victories this season, never trailed as it racked up its fourth West Suburban triumph in five outings, and the Cards achieved the win with veteran guard Gary Brodnan shelved by illness.

Assured of a winning record for the first half of play in the strong WSC, the varsity Cardinals will carry their 4-1 record into weekend competition against highly-regarded York and Hinsdale quintets.

GENERALLY accepted as currently the finest team in the Chicago Suburban area, Hinsdale heads the West Suburban with a 5-0 mark and York is deadlocked with LaGrange and Arlington for second place.

Vince Furlong and John Burgermeister combined for 30 points in Arlington's latest victory with Burgermeister coming off the bench for his impressive 14-point effort. The lanky senior has collected 69 markers this season in some nifty reserve performances.

Furlong came up with his second straight game in double figures as he canned eight baskets on some deadly shooting from 15-20 feet. Vince was Arlington's big man in an explosive first half with 12 points.

THE CARDINALS climbed out to a 13-8 first period advantage after piling up a quick 8-1 lead with Rusty Blix and Ross Retterer chipping in those first eight markers. Blix played possibly his finest game of the season with eight points and some strong work on the boards.

Furlong banged in the Cardinals' first six points of the second period on two side shots and a tip-in and with Burgermeister and Chuck Close joining in the fun, the local entry shot ahead of Riverside by 15 and held a comfortable 32-17 halftime bulge.

Furlong, Burgermeister, and Close were instrumental in giving Arlington a 41-21 lead with 3:58 remaining in the third period, but the visiting Bulldogs started to whittle away at that 20-point deficit and headed into the final eight minutes of play with only 14 points to overcome.

RIVERSIDE GAVE the Cards a few anxious moments in the final stanza as it pulled within nine with 2:20 remaining, but Arlington fired in the game's final seven points on a brace of free throws each by Blix and Don Kolstad, another charity effort by Blix, and a tip-in by Retterer.

Kolstad, Arlington's second leading scorer this season, was blanked until he collected those two free throws with 1:12 remaining.

Furlong topped Arlington with 16 points and Burgermeister added his 14. Close, Retterer, and Blix contributed eight each as the Cards once again exhibited a well-balanced attack. Ken Dober topped the losing Bulldogs with 18.

The box score:

Riverside Edges Cardinals' Sophs In League Battle

Riverside's Bullpups chalked up their third West Suburban victory in five games with a tight, 40-38 victory over Arlington high school's frosh-soph five last Friday evening.

After three wild periods in which the score was tied several times, Riverside took the lead for good at 35-34 on a charity toss by Chuck Pesek midway in the final quarter.

Arlington stayed in contention in the closing minutes but fell two points short in the important column and wound up with its fourth loss in five league contests this winter.

COACH Ken Schaller's youngsters will battle York and Hinsdale in two important West Suburban games this weekend. The Hinsdale clash will be played before the home folks on Saturday.

Paul Splittorff and Joe Mueller sparked the Cardinals with 13 points each and it marked the third straight game that Splittorff had reached double figures. Nine of Mueller's markers came in the final 14 minutes of play.

Backing this pair in the local point parade were Jeff Beckman and Ray Merkel with four each.

Craig Timko collected 13 points for Riverside, including six in the third period. Jim Telizyn added seven.

Arlington outscored the Bullpups from the field but R-B collected four more free throws in the West Suburban contest.

St. Viator's Sophs Rout Maryville

St. Viator's sophomore basketball team treated a Parents Night crowd to an impressive 66-30 victory over Maryville Academy Sunday evening in the Lions' gymnasium.

Balanced scoring paid off for Coach Ron Feiereisel's Arlington Heights club with Jim Murray tossing in 14 points to lead the parade.

Backing Murray for the victorious Lions were Jim Vidt with 13, Mike Ainslie with 11, and John Browe with nine.

THE VICTORY came a matter of hours following a 41-39 reversal at West Leyden on Saturday. Murray sparked Feiereisel's sophs against Leyden with five baskets and a six-of-11 effort from the free throw line for 16 points.

Chuck Heinrich and Jim Vidt, two standout freshmen playing with St. Viator's sophs, collected 11 each in the two-point setback.

In two frosh encounters over the weekend Coach Larry Nomellini's Lions suffered a pair of setbacks. St. Procopius bumped St. Viator on Saturday, 58-36, and Maryville Academy racked up a 54-42 triumph Sunday.

CHUCK GRANDT poured in 14 points in a losing cause as Viator bowed to St. Procopius. Backing Grandt for the locals were John Kidd with eight and Ron Bakalar and Mike Hogan with five each.

Three boys hit double figures for the Lions in the 12-point loss to Maryville. Bakalar paced the locals with 14 on five baskets and four charity throws and Kidd and Grandt followed with 12 and 10 respectively.

Inaccuracy at the free throw line was costly in both plebe losses with St. Viator canning only 24 out of 45 attempts. Meanwhile, the opponents registered 32 free throws in 40 attempts.

St. Viator's Lions will be idle now until February 2 encounters with St. Joseph of Westchester. That Friday has been set aside as Date Night at the Arlington Heights school with one ticket admitting student and his or her date. Tickets will be 75 cents each.

Knights Rout Maine

Willowbrook Edges Prospect's Gymnasts

Prospect high's varsity gymnasts suffered their first dual meet setback of the 1961-62 campaign last Friday in competition with Willowbrook's Warriors.

In a double dual involving Prospect, Willowbrook, and Maine East Coach Rich Farris' Foundry rd. Knights walloped Maine with ease, 84-48, but fell by three points, 67½-64½, to the talented Brooks.

Prospect's varsity and frosh-soph squads will get back into action this Friday, Jan. 19, when they host the defending state champion York Dukes. The meets will get underway at 4:30 p.m.

IN THE COMPETITION with Willowbrook the Knights collected four individual firsts and outscored the Warriors in three events but still came home with their first loss of the season.

Willowbrook exhibited its most strength on the rings and high bar while Prospect topped the scoring on the tramp and in tumbling and on the parallel bars.

Individual winners for the Knights were Ray Strobel on the tramp and in tumbling, Dick Anderson on the side horse, and Gary VanderVoort on the parallel bars. Strobel's tramp routine was worth 177 points, the best individual effort of the day.

WILLOWBROOK claimed firsts on the high bar, thanks to Al Brelig and still rings with Dick Minser.

In Prospect's win over Maine East the Knights collected firsts in every event. Strobel's scores were worth two more top positions in his specialties and Anderson and Gary VanderVoort repeated on the side horse and parallel bars.

Also claiming top slots for Prospect were Warren VanderVoort on the high bar and Dick Liebenow on the still rings.

Cards Rout Thornton's Gymnasts

Arlington's varsity gymnasts rebounded from their initial setback of the season with a resounding 84-48 victory over an outmanned Thornton team last Saturday afternoon.

Arlington's varsity and frosh-soph squads will host a powerful Willowbrook team this Saturday, Jan. 20, at 2 p.m. The Villa Park Warriors routed defending state champion York in a recent effort.

JERRY RUSSELL won three events for Arlington against Thornton with top efforts on the side horse, high bar, and parallel bar. In addition, the versatile senior racked up a fourth on rings for 25 individual points.

Arlington posted a 14-8 victory on the side horse with junior Bob Paddock gaining a second behind Russell and senior Burkhard Geissler a fifth.

Kelley picked up a first on the rings with Len Witter third and Russell fourth.

BOB CORDARO was a double winner for Arlington with firsts on the trampoline and in tumbling. Bob racked up a 162 total for an easy win on the tramp and came back with a 149 in winning his other specialty.

Cards Win, 56-40

Arlington Tops R-B In League Encounter

by BOB FRISK

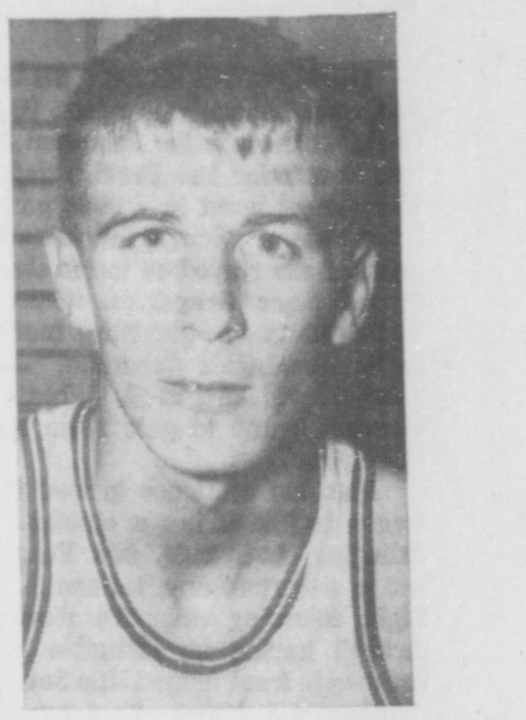
Arlington high's Cardinals, causing some major concern among the elite of West Suburban basketball after several seasons of second-division finishes, warmed up for the big weekend ahead with a convincing 56-40 triumph over visiting Riverside-Brookfield last Friday evening.



JOHN BURGERMEISTER

Coach Norm Patberg's surprising entry, already boasting ten victories this season, never trailed as it racked up its fourth West Suburban triumph in five outings, and the Cards achieved the win with veteran guard Gary Brodnan shelved by illness.

Assured of a winning record for the first half of play in the strong WSC, the varsity Cardinals will carry their 4-1 record into weekend competition against highly-regarded York and Hinsdale quintets.

GENERALLY accepted as currently the finest team in the Chicago Suburban area, Hinsdale heads the West Suburban with a 5-0 mark and York is deadlocked with LaGrange and Arlington for second place.

Vince Furlong and John Burgermeister combined for 30 points in Arlington's latest victory with Burgermeister coming off the bench for his impressive 14-point effort. The lanky senior has collected 69 markers this season in some nifty reserve performances.

Furlong came up with his second straight game in double figures as he canned eight baskets on some deadly shooting from 15-20 feet. Vince was Arlington's big man in an explosive first half with 12 points.

THE CARDINALS climbed out to a 13-8 first period advantage after piling up a quick 8-1 lead with Rusty Blix and Ross Retterer chipping in those first eight markers. Blix played possibly his finest game of the season with eight points and some strong work on the boards.

Furlong banged in the Cardinals' first six points of the second period on two side shots and a tip-in and with Burgermeister and Chuck Close joining in the fun, the local entry shot ahead of Riverside by 15 and held a comfortable 32-17 halftime bulge.

Furlong, Burgermeister, and Close were instrumental in giving Arlington a 41-21 lead with 3:58 remaining in the third period, but the visiting Bulldogs started to whittle away at that 20-point deficit and headed into the final eight minutes of play with only 14 points to overcome.

RIVERSIDE GAVE the Cards a few anxious moments in the final stanza as it pulled within nine with 2:20 remaining, but Arlington fired in the game's final seven points on a brace of free throws each by Blix and Don Kolstad, another charity effort by Blix, and a tip-in by Retterer.

Kolstad, Arlington's second leading scorer this season, was blanked until he collected those two free throws with 1:12 remaining.

Furlong topped Arlington with 16 points and Burgermeister added his 14. Close, Retterer, and Blix contributed eight each as the Cards once again exhibited a well-balanced attack. Ken Dober topped the losing Bulldogs with 18.

The box score:

Arlington (56)	B	Ft	P	Riverside (40)	B	Ft	P

Riverside Edges Cardinals' Sophs In League Battle

Riverside's Bullpups chalked up their third West Suburban victory in five games with a tight, 40-38 victory over Arlington high school's frosh-soph five last Friday evening.

After three wild periods in which the score was tied several times, Riverside took the lead for good at 35-34 on a charity toss by Chuck Pesek midway in the final quarter.

Arlington stayed in contention in the closing minutes but fell two points short in the important column and wound up with its fourth loss in five league contests this winter.

COACH Ken Schaller's youngsters will battle York and Hinsdale in two important West Suburban games this weekend. The Hinsdale clash will be played before the home folks on Saturday.

Paul Splittorff and Joe Mueller sparked the Cardinals with 13 points each and it marked the third straight game that Splittorff had reached double figures. Nine of Mueller's markers came in the final 14 minutes of play.

Backing this pair in the local point parade were Jeff Beckman and Ray Merkel with four each.

Craig Timko collected 13 points for Riverside, including six in the third period. Jim Telizyn added seven.

Arlington outscored the Bullpups from the field but R-B collected four more free throws in the West Suburban contest.

A Pat on the Back

A sincere word of thanks to the unsung heroes of our community, the ARLINGTON HEIGHTS POLICE DEPARTMENT, and to all those who, with swift, sure measures, sought and brought forth justice in the case of our burglary October 15.

These efforts all too often go unnoticed. We wish to express our gratitude for, not only this case, but the many hours of constant surveillance which have protected our property in the best possible way and kept the burglary problem to an absolute minimum.

MATCHES SATURDAY
at River-Rand Bowl, Des Plaines
Wheeling Furniture vs. Moyle Construction
S. M. Kahn Electrical Contractors vs. Pro Sport Center
Martinetti's Restaurant vs. Beverly Lanes
Nelson Realty vs. Jeffery Lanes

Pro Sport Center lost only one game Saturday but it was enough to drop the Mt. Prospect team into a first place tie with S. M. Kahn Electrical Contractors of Chicago in the Paddock Classic Traveling League.

The two-team runaway in second half play also set the stage for their showdown battle on Kahn's home River-Rand lanes at 6:30 p.m. this Saturday.

Wheeling Furniture, picking up three points while posting the night's high series, 2998, took a solid hold on third place, but is still two and one-half points off the torrid pace being set by Pro Sport Center and Kahn, who have lost only two games each in three weeks of play.

Wheeling Furniture's opponent, Nelson Realty of Mt. Prospect, first half titleholder, won only one game as it slipped five points off the pace to fourth place.

OVER ALL, Saturday's action at Ten Pin in Barrington was good to 16 bowlers who broke 600, paced by Herb Engstrom of Elgin with 660. This enabled five teams to have 2900 plus series and pushed the Paddock Classic average per team to 940 for the first time this season.

Kahn had no trouble taking all four points from last place Martinetti's Restaurant of Crystal Lake to gain the first place tie. Bob Rogers of Des Plaines boosted his league leading average to within a mere three pins of 200 over 54 games as he fired a 613 leadoff series. Anchor man Don Christensen of Arlington Heights had 601 for the Kahn five.

A 208 by Christensen and 202 by Tony Sasso of Des Plaines gave Kahn the opener despite a 211 by Chris Pulos of Crystal Lake for Martinetti's, which was bowling on its home Ten Pin lanes. Ron Bobek had a 224 for Martinetti's in the next game, but that wasn't enough as Sasso posted 221 and Mike Wagner of Des Plaines 211 for Kahn. Kahn sealed up the last game on a 236 by Rogers, 223 by Wagner and 200 by Christensen, nullifying a 224 by Bill Moss of Addison.

PRO SPORT Center came within four pins of winning all three games from Beverly Lanes of Arlington Heights. Beverly won the middle game, 962-959, on a 213 effort by Lee Adams of Mt. Prospect and 206 by Warren Walter and 201 by Bill Radunz, both of Arlington Heights.

Pro Sport Center took charge of the opener as Jim Perna of Rolling Meadows hit 247 and John Ribando of Mt. Prospect 234. Perna came back in the final game with a 216 followed by Earl Fenimore of Arlington Heights with 204, and Paul Zubak of Elk Grove Village and Ribando with 201 each. The result was five men broke 600 in the match. Radunz and Adams had 648 and 625, respectively, for Beverly, and Ribando totaled 634, Perna 618 and Fenimore 610 for Pro Sport Center, which bowls out of Gunnell's in Mt. Prospect.

Highest scoring match of the night was Wheeling Furniture's conquest of Nelson Realty, which calls Bowlway in Elgin home. In each case, the winner of every game had 1000 plus. Nelson Realty started with 1038, and then Wheeling Furniture, representing Hi-Way Recreation in Palatine, racked up 1003 in the middle game and 1026 in the final.

A PAIR of 223's provided by Warren Olson of Arlington Heights and Leroy Papineau of Algonquin, combined with 203 by Tom Kouros of Barrington Woods and 201 by Casper Dewitz gave Nelson Realty the first game. Although they had three 200 games, 210 by Buck Perkins of Barrington Woods, 209 by Dewitz and 201 by Olson, Nelson succumbed to Wheeling Furniture behind a 217 by Don Oberg of Itasca, 208 by Irv Hahnfeldt of Palatine and 204 by Engstrom.

Wheeling Furniture had four 200's in the closer, Engstrom pacing the team with 235. Others were 209 by Hahnfeldt, 207 by Oberg and 201 by Ted Zimmerman of Des Plaines. This match also saw five in the 600's Besides Engstrom's 660 series, Hahnfeldt had 624 and Oberg 600 for Wheeling Furniture. On the other side, Papineau posted 616 and Dewitz 600.

Moyle Construction of Carpentersville got out of the cellar by taking three of four points in its match against Jeffery Lanes of Wheeling. Moyle, based at Country Lanes in Lake Zurich, took the opener on the night's high team game, 1053, thanks to a 257, the night's high individual game, by Frank Graff of Palatine, 229 by George Sargent of Great Lakes, 211 by John Taylor of Waukegan and 200 by eGorge Radke of Mundelein.

Sargent continued with a 223 effort and Radke had 201 as Jeffery fell to Moyle Construction by one pin despite a 214 by Chuck Gibson of Bensenville and 212 by Bill Harris of Wheeling. Harris then hit 233 in the final game as Jeffery won its lone contest. High men for the night were Sargent with 655, Graff with 611 and Radke with 610 for Moyle Construction and Harris with 628 for Jeffery Lanes.

Westie Owners —

Of general interest to owners of West Highland white terriers in the area is the announcement of a meeting to be held at 12:30 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 27, at the Pantry in Park Ridge. Purpose of the get-together is to develop plans for the formation of a West Highland White Terrier club of Illinois.

This will be the first time that such a meeting of owners of this spunky little terrier will have taken place in northern Illinois, and marks the start of becoming a part of the national club in the United States.

As part of the program, which includes a luncheon, a talk and general discussion will be given by Mrs. F. M. Hogan of Rockford, a well known Westie breeder and professional handler. Looks like the owners of this fine terrier are going to be heard when it comes to those in this area who have some of the dogs and up until now have not had too much of a voice in the goings on of their national breed club.

To those of you who are not familiar with the breed, there is a well known beverage which features two dogs in their ads, the white one is your Westie. If you want more information about the meeting contact Marjadle Schiele at TAlcott 5-1460.

Ken-L-Ration Awards Speaker—

Johnny Carson, one of the entertainment industry's most versatile performers, will be guest speaker at the seventh annual Ken-L-Ration awards dinner on February 10, at New York's Hotel Astor.

The dinner, held in conjunction with the Westminster Kennel club dog show, annually attracts the leading figures of the dog world, including writers, professional handlers, veterinarians, humane group officials and show judges from all over the country.

Carson will also present the four Ken-L-Ration awards to the owners of the dogs winning the most "best-in-group" prizes at shows held during the preceding year. Each of the four awards represents a geographical section of the country, north south, midwest and Pacific coast. A fifth Ken-L-Ration award will go to the top owner-handler of the year, and believe me this award is one well deserved. Not everyone can own and handle his own dogs — it takes a lot of know-how before and after you get into the show ring.

"Do right by 'Ol Slugger" —

About now everyone around here has just about had it when it comes to weather. By the same token it does not mean, however, that you have any less of a responsibility towards your dog when you put him outside in a run or on a wire between the house and garage. Remember, he still has to compete with the weather, and if you are inside where it is warm and you let the poor dog shift for himself in a snow and ice covered run with no protection, you are apt to find yourself answering to an Animal Welfare individual who has been sent out to investigate the plight of your poor hound.

Don't get sore at some "nosey neighbor" who perhaps noticed your dog's problem. At least give him credit for thinking more about the welfare of your dog—which perhaps you don't deserve.

River-Rand Bowl vs. Northfield Bowl
Ridge Motors vs. Morton Pontiac

Ridge Motors of Des Plaines sits there atop the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League second half standings all by itself following Saturday's play at Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling.

Ridge Motors, by virtue of conquering previously unbeaten Moyle Construction of Carpentersville three straight, is the only team in the six-club league on the winning side of the ledger.

After Ridge Motors and its 5-1 record, first half champion Steve's Restaurant of Wheeling, Moyle Construction and River-Rand Bowl are tied for second at 3-3, just one game ahead of Morton Pontiac of Arlington Heights and Northfield Bowl of Northfield.

STEVE'S RESTAURANT was stunned by River-Rand Bowl twice and Morton Pontiac got back on the winning side despite its second consecutive poor series.

Ridge Motors was paced by the league's top two bowlers of Saturday night. Maxine Moehling of Mt. Prospect posted the night's best series, 560, and Edith Wayne of Des Plaines was right behind her with 550.

Moyle Construction came close only in the second game when it fell 10 pins short despite a 190 by Alice Nichols of Arlington Heights, which was equalled by a 190 by Edith for Ridge Motors. Edith had a 199 opener to pace her team to that win and Maxine climaxed her series with a 196 effort to sweep the three-games. Alice Nichols had high series for Moyle Construction, 542.

AFTER LOSING THE opener, River-Rand posted the only two 200 games Saturday to hand Steve's Restaurant, which was bowlingon its home Jeffery —— bowling on its home Jeffery Lanes, a pair of losses. Alice Ulrich of Chicago, absent for the first game, came on with a 201 effort to give River-Rand a 12-pin triumph and then Connie Labo of Rolling Meadows followed with a 215 effort, the night's high individual game, to again give River-Rand the edge. Connie's 539 series was high for River-Rand and Delores Harris of Wheeling was high for Steve's with 530.

With only one 500 series in the match, a 505 by Shirley Nutschnig of Prospect Heights, Morton Pontiac, representing Beverly Lanes in Arlington Heights, took a pair from Northfield Bowl. The only outstanding game was a 201 by Sandy Paprocki which spurred Northfield Bowl on to its lone triumph.

Next Saturday action shifts to Beverly Lanes. Starting time is still 6:30 p.m.

Red Devils Still No. 1 Unit in Area

The big four of suburban area basketball held their lofty positions this week in the poll conducted by the Suburban Press and Radio Association.

Hinsdale, York, Joliet township, and North Chicago remained as the top four teams as sportswriters and broadcasters in the Chicago suburban area once again evaluated the merits of the schoolboy quintets.

BEST IN SUBURBS

1. Hinsdale (11-1)	244
2. York (11-1)	210
3. Joliet (12-1)	180
4. No. Chicago (10-1)	144
5. Naperville (14-2)	102
6. New Trier (8-2)	88
7. Carl Sandburg (12-3)	48
8. Zion-Benton (10-1)	45
9. LaGrange (8-2)	42
10. Lockport (11-5)	21

Honorable Mention — Proviso East, Joliet Catholic, Arlington, Loyola Academy, Morton West, Wheaton, Rich East, Palatine.

Hinsdale piled up 244 points in the balloting and holds a 34-point bulge over the runnerup York Dukes. Joliet is a solid third with 180 and North Chicago holds fourth at 144. Napetville gained some additional backing this week on the strength of wins over Sycamore and Batavia and jumped into fifth.

ROUNDING OUT the top ten are New Trier of the Suburban league, Carl Sandburg of the Southwest Suburban, Zion-Benton of the North Suburban, LaGrange of the West Suburban, and Lockport of the South Suburban.

Hinsdale will put its top ranking on the line this weekend against LaGrange and Arlington high (10-3) and a pair of wins in those encounters would strengthen the Red Devils' grip on first.

Coach Norm Patberg's Arlington Cardinals, named in the honorable mention list for the second straight week, meet York and Hinsdale on successive days this weekend.

Palatine repeated in the honorable mention ranking although the Pirates dropped a 74-62 game to highly-regarded Zion-Benton. The Pirates held a 34-28 lead on the Zeebees before wilting under the hosts' second half barrage. Palatine (12-3) came back with a 53-45 triumph Saturday over a capable Mundelein five.

Shirley Garms Claims BPAA All-Star Title

Shirley Garms overcame a 47-pin deficit Saturday to edge Chicago's Joy Abel for top honors in the women's division of the 21st annual BPAA All-Star bowling championships held at Miami Beach's Convention Hall.

Mrs. Garms, who resides at 57 W. Washington st., Palatine, rolled a final game of 214 to Miss Abel's 158 for a final nine pin plurality.

SHIRLEY GARMS

That nine-pin bulge, by the way, earned Shirley some $5,000 in prize money as compared to the $3,000 earned by Miss Abel.

MISS ABEL moved well ahead in that final roll-off when she chalked up opening games of 256 and 224 as compared to 231-202 for Mrs. Garms.

Marge Merrick of Columbus, Ohio, defeated Anita Cantaline of Detroit, 645-546, for third place among the women and $2,000. Miss Cantaline finished fourth for $1,000.

Laverne Carter of St. Louis defeated Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia, 576-563, for fifth place and $850. Miss Wene received $800.

IN THE MEN'S division, Dick Weber, the St. Louis pro who has won more than 100 bowling trophies in his career, finally grasped the biggest prize of all.

Weber whipped Roy Lown of El Paso, Tex., 619-600, in a three-game position match to claim $15,000 first place loot. Lown, a darkhorse from an original field of 288 men, won $8,000 for second place.

Dick Hoover of St. Louis took third when he defeated Ed Lubanski of Detroit, 634-551. Hoover won $5,000 while Lubanski's fourth place finish was worth $4,000.

Carmen Salvino of Dallas captured fifth by besting four-time champion Don Carter of St. Louis, 626-602. In a roll-off for seventh place, Andy Rogoznica of Chicago defeated Ray Bluth of St. Louis, 731-686.

Paddock Classic League

Tie Results in Loop Action; Furniture Squad Bags 2998!

Pro Sport Center lost only one game Saturday but it was enough to drop the Mt. Prospect team into a first place tie with S. M. Kahn Electrical Contractors of Chicago in the Paddock Classic Traveling League.

The two-team runaway in second half play also set the stage for their showdown battle on Kahn's home River-Rand lanes at 6:30 p.m. this Saturday.

Wheeling Furniture, picking up three points while posting the night's high series, 2998, took a solid hold on third place, but is still two and one-half points off the torrid pace being set by Pro Sport Center and Kahn, who have lost only two games each in three weeks of play.

Wheeling Furniture's opponent, Nelson Realty of Mt. Prospect, first half titleholder, won only one game as it slipped five points off the pace to fourth place.

OVER ALL, Saturday's action at Ten Pin in Barrington was good to 16 bowlers who broke 600, paced by Herb Engstrom of Elgin with 660. This enabled five teams to have 2900 plus series and pushed the Paddock Classic average per team to 940 for the first time this season.

Kahn had no trouble taking all four points from last place Martinetti's Restaurant of Crystal Lake to gain the first place tie. Bob Rogers of Des Plaines boosted his league leading average to within a mere three pins of 200 over 54 games as he fired a 613 leadoff series. Anchor man Don Christensen of Arlington Heights had 601 for the Kahn five.

A 208 by Christensen and 202 by Tony Sasso of Des Plaines gave Kahn the opener despite a 211 by Chris Pulos of Crystal Lake for Martinetti's, which was bowling on its home Ten Pin lanes. Ron Bobek had a 224 for Martinetti's in the next game, but that wasn't enough as Sasso posted 221 and Mike Wagner of Des Plaines 211 for Kahn. Kahn sealed up the last game on a 236 by Rogers, 223 by Wagner and 200 by Christensen, nullifying a 224 by Bill Moss of Addison.

PRO SPORT Center came within four pins of winning all three games from Beverly Lanes of Arlington Heights. Beverly won the middle game, 962-959, on a 213 effort by Lee Adams of Mt. Prospect and 206 by Warren Walter and 201 by Bill Radunz, both of Arlington Heights.

Pro Sport Center took charge of the opener as Jim Perna of Rolling Meadows hit 247 and John Ribando of Mt. Prospect 234. Perna came back in the final game with a 216 followed by Earl Fenimore of Arlington Heights with 204, and Paul Zubak of Elk Grove Village and Ribando with 201 each. The result was five men broke 600 in the match. Radunz and Adams had 648 and 625, respectively, for Beverly, and Ribando totaled 634, Perna 618 and Fenimore 610 for Pro Sport Center, which bowls out of Gunnell's in Mt. Prospect.

Highest scoring match of the night was Wheeling Furniture's conquest of Nelson Realty, which calls Bowlway in Elgin home. In each case, the winner of every game had 1000 plus. Nelson Realty started with 1038, and then Wheeling Furniture, representing Hi-Way Recreation in Palatine, racked up 1003 in the middle game and 1026 in the final.

A PAIR of 223's provided by Warren Olson of Arlington Heights and Leroy Papineau of Algonquin, combined with 203 by Tom Kouros of Barrington Woods and 201 by Casper Dewitz gave Nelson Realty the first game. Although they had three 200 games, 210 by Buck Perkins of Barrington Woods, 209 by Dewitz and 201 by Olson, Nelson succumbed to Wheeling Furniture behind a 217 by Don Oberg of Itasca, 208 by Irv Hahnfeldt of Palatine and 204 by Engstrom.

Wheeling Furniture had four 200's in the closer, Engstrom pacing the team with 235. Others were 209 by Hahnfeldt, 207 by Oberg and 201 by Ted Zimmerman of Des Plaines. This match also saw five in the 600's Besides Engstrom's 660 series, Hahnfeldt had 624 and Oberg 600 for Wheeling Furniture. On the other side, Papineau posted 616 and Dewitz 600.

Moyle Construction of Carpentersville got out of the cellar by taking three of four points in its match against Jeffery Lanes of Wheeling. Moyle, based at Country Lanes in Lake Zurich, took the opener on the night's high team game, 1053, thanks to a 257, the night's high individual game, by Frank Graff of Palatine, 229 by George Sargent of Great Lakes, 211 by John Taylor of Waukegan and 200 by eGorge Radke of Mundelein.

Sargent continued with a 223 effort and Radke had 201 as Jeffery fell to Moyle Construction by one pin despite a 214 by Chuck Gibson of Bensenville and 212 by Bill Harris of Wheeling. Harris then hit 233 in the final game as Jeffery won its lone contest. High men for the night were Sargent with 655, Graff with 611 and Radke with 610 for Moyle Construction and Harris with 628 for Jeffery Lanes.

JUST DOGS

Westie Owners —

Of general interest to owners of West Highland white terriers in the area is the announcement of a meeting to be held at 12:30 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 27, at the Pantry in Park Ridge. Purpose of the get-together is to develop plans for the formation of a West Highland White Terrier club of Illinois.

This will be the first time that such a meeting of owners of this spunky little terrier will have taken place in northern Illinois, and marks the start of becoming a part of the national club in the United States.

As part of the program, which includes a luncheon, a talk and general discussion will be given by Mrs. F. M. Hogan of Rockford, a well known Westie breeder and professional handler. Looks like the owners of this fine terrier are going to be heard when it comes to those in this area who have some of the dogs and up until now have not had too much of a voice in the goings on of their national breed club.

To those of you who are not familiar with the breed, there is a well known beverage which features two dogs in their ads, the white one is your Westie. If you want more information about the meeting contact Marjadle Schiele at TAlcott 5-1460.

Ken-L-Ration Awards Speaker—

Johnny Carson, one of the entertainment industry's most versatile performers, will be guest speaker at the seventh annual Ken-L-Ration awards dinner on February 10, at New York's Hotel Astor.

The dinner, held in conjunction with the Westminster Kennel club dog show, annually attracts the leading figures of the dog world, including writers, professional handlers, veterinarians, humane group officials and show judges from all over the country.

Carson will also present the four Ken-L-Ration awards to the owners of the dogs winning the most "best-in-group" prizes at shows held during the preceding year. Each of the four awards represents a geographical section of the country, north south, midwest and Pacific coast. A fifth Ken-L-Ration award will go to the top owner-handler of the year, and believe me this award is one well deserved. Not everyone can own and handle his own dogs — it takes a lot of know-how before and after you get into the show ring.

About now everyone around here has just about had it when it comes to weather. By the same token it does not mean, however, that you have any less of a responsibility towards your dog when you put him outside in a run or on a wire between the house and garage. Remember, he still has to compete with the weather, and if you are inside where it is warm and you let the poor dog shift for himself in a snow and ice covered run with no protection, you are apt to find yourself answering to an Animal Welfare individual who has been sent out to investigate the plight of your poor hound.

Don't get sore at some "nosey neighbor" who perhaps noticed your dog's problem. At least give him credit for thinking more about the welfare of your dog—which perhaps you don't deserve.

Barks & Bays—

The comment of the week — "what I wouldn't give for a good dog team"—this, from a northern visitor.

Women's Action

Ridge Motors Claims Classic League Lead

Ridge Motors of Des Plaines sits there atop the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League second half standings all by itself following Saturday's play at Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling.

Ridge Motors, by virtue of conquering previously unbeaten Moyle Construction of Carpentersville three straight, is the only team in the six-club league on the winning side of the ledger.

After Ridge Motors and its 5-1 record, first half champion Steve's Restaurant of Wheeling, Moyle Construction and River-Rand Bowl are tied for second at 3-3, just one game ahead of Morton Pontiac of Arlington Heights and Northfield Bowl of Northfield.

STEVE'S RESTAURANT was stunned by River-Rand Bowl twice and Morton Pontiac got back on the winning side despite its second consecutive poor series.

Ridge Motors was paced by the league's top two bowlers of Saturday night. Maxine Moehling of Mt. Prospect posted the night's best series, 560, and Edith Wayne of Des Plaines was right behind her with 550.

Moyle Construction came close only in the second game when it fell 10 pins short despite a 190 by Alice Nichols of Arlington Heights, which was equalled by a 190 by Edith for Ridge Motors. Edith had a 199 opener to pace her team to that win and Maxine climaxed her series with a 196 effort to sweep the three-games. Alice Nichols had high series for Moyle Construction, 542.

AFTER LOSING THE opener, River-Rand posted the only two 200 games Saturday to hand Steve's Restaurant, which was bowlingon its home Jeffery —— bowling on its home Jeffery Lanes, a pair of losses. Alice Ulrich of Chicago, absent for the first game, came on with a 201 effort to give River-Rand a 12-pin triumph and then Connie Labo of Rolling Meadows followed with a 215 effort, the night's high individual game, to again give River-Rand the edge. Connie's 539 series was high for River-Rand and Delores Harris of Wheeling was high for Steve's with 530.

With only one 500 series in the match, a 505 by Shirley Nutschnig of Prospect Heights, Morton Pontiac, representing Beverly Lanes in Arlington Heights, took a pair from Northfield Bowl. The only outstanding game was a 201 by Sandy Paprocki which spurred Northfield Bowl on to its lone triumph.

Next Saturday action shifts to Beverly Lanes. Starting time is still 6:30 p.m.

Red Devils Still No. 1 Unit in Area

The big four of suburban area basketball held their lofty positions this week in the poll conducted by the Suburban Press and Radio Association.

Hinsdale, York, Joliet township, and North Chicago remained as the top four teams as sportswriters and broadcasters in the Chicago suburban area once again evaluated the merits of the schoolboy quintets.

Hinsdale piled up 244 points in the balloting and holds a 34-point bulge over the runnerup York Dukes. Joliet is a solid third with 180 and North Chicago holds fourth at 144. Napervville gained some additional backing this week on the strength of wins over Sycamore and Batavia and jumped into fifth.

ROUNDING OUT the top ten are New Trier of the Suburban league, Carl Sandburg of the Southwest Suburban, Zion-Benton of the North Suburban, LaGrange of the West Suburban, and Lockport of the South Suburban.

Hinsdale will put its top ranking on the line this weekend against LaGrange and Arlington high (10-3) and a pair of wins in those encounters would strengthen the Red Devils' grip on first.

Coach Norm Patberg's Arlington Cardinals, named in the honorable mention list for the second straight week, meet York and Hinsdale on successive days this weekend.

Palatine repeated in the honorable mention ranking although the Pirates dropped a 74-62 game to highly-regarded Zion-Benton. The Pirates held a 34-28 lead on the Zeebees before wilting under the hosts' second half barrage. Palatine (12-3) came back with a 53-45 triumph Saturday over a capable Mundelein five.

Shirley Garms Claims BPAA All-Star Title

Shirley Garms overcame a 47-pin deficit Saturday to edge Chicago's Joy Abel for top honors in the women's division of the 21st annual BPAA All-Star bowling championships held at Miami Beach's Convention Hail.

Mrs. Garms, who resides at 57 W. Washington st., Palatine, rolled a final game of 214 to Miss Abel's 158 for a final nine pin plurality.

That nine-pin bulge, by the way, earned Shirley some $5,000 in prize money as compared to the $3,000 earned by Miss Abel.

MISS ABEL moved well ahead in that final roll-off when she chalked up opening games of 256 and 224 as compared to 231-202 for Mrs. Garms.

Marge Merrick of Columbus, Ohio, defeated Anita Cantaline of Detroit, 645-546, for third place among the women and $2,000. Miss Cantaline finished fourth for $1,000.

Laverne Carter of St. Louis defeated Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia, 576-563, for fifth place and $850. Miss Wene received $800.

SHIRLEY GARMS

IN THE MEN'S division, Dick Weber, the St. Louis pro who has won more than 100 bowling trophies in his career, finally grasped the biggest prize of all.

Weber whipped Roy Lown of El Paso, Tex., 619-600, in a three-game position match to claim $15,000 first place loot. Lown, a darkhorse from an original field of 288 men, won $8,000 for second place.

Dick Hoover of St. Louis took third when he defeated Ed Lubanski of Detroit, 634-551. Hoover won $5,000 while Lubanski's fourth place finish was worth $4,000.

Lions Tourney Slated Sunday

Six teams have been organized to represent the Palatine Lions Club at the District tournament in Waukegan Sunday, according to Augie Boehm, president.

All bowlers who are scheduled to compete are asked to meet at the Jewel Tea company parking lot (about one-half block from the Chicago and North Western station) at 8:30 a.m. Cost will be $3 per bowler which include entry fee, bowling and transportation.

The LITTLE BOWLER
BY JOHNNY

"Shine, Mister?"

If you want healthful winter exercise without resorting to personal mayhem, bowling is your game. We serve leagues and private groups. Forget parking worries as our large lot is free to our patrons.

Niles East Swimmers Top Cards

Arlington high's varsity swimmers keep getting closer to that first victory of the 1961-62 campaign.

Coach Ralph Eakins' improving Cardinals, dumped by 29 and 11 points in their first two outings this season, pushed Niles East to the limit Tuesday afternoon before falling, 50-44.

Niles had an easier time of it on a frosh-soph level with the Suburban league Trojans posting an effortless 67-14 decision.

THE VARSITY and frosh-soph Cardinals are slated to journey to Riverside-Brookfield next Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 23, for competition at 4:15 p.m. Meets are slated for each Tuesday afternoon until district action unfolds Feb. 23-24.

Arlington picked up five individual firsts and one relay triumph in the varsity test Tuesday with Doug Rice covering the 400 yard free style in 4:22.5 and 200 yard individual medley in 2:20.2. It marked the second straight meet that the Arlington junior had come home a double winner.

Bill Raasch ruled the 200 yard free-style with a 2:06.5 clocking and freshman Greg Inman made his varsity debut a success with an impresive 1:10.6 effort in the 100 yard backstroke.

ARLINGTON'S other individual first was achieved by junior Ken Brown in the 100 yard breast stroke. Brown covered the distance in 1:11.5 for an easy victory.

The Cardinals' 200 yard medley relay team of Inman, Brown, Bill Truax, and Cliff Hadick registered a 1:59.2 effort for seven more points.

Claiming seconds for Arlington's varsity were Raasch in the 50 yard free style, Truax in the 100 yard butterfly, and Cliff Holbrook in diving.

Arlington's sophs picked up just one individual first with Jim Larson in the 100 yard free-style but did gain seconds with Chuck VanDuzer in the 50 yard butterfly and Paul Michaels in the 50 yard breast stroke.

MAIN LIQUORS of the Bensenville Lions league at Bensenville Bowl finished third, 12 pins out of first place, in the eleventh annual Paddock Publications Inter-League handicap bowling tournament last weekend. Making up the Bensenville entry were (sitting, l. to r.) Jerry Kuop, Art Neil, and Fred Miller. Standing, Jack Leider and Capt. Charles Bobus.

Trojans Rock Arlington's Matmen, 38-5

An unbeaten Downers Grove varsity rolled to its ninth straight dual meet success last Friday evening with a convincing 38-5 victory over Arlington high's varsity wrestlers.

The host Trojans never trailed and were in complete command as the Cardinals were able to pick up just one decision and a deadlock in the 12 matches.

Dennis Fitz-Patrick collected the tie for the Cardinals in the first bout with a 2-all stalemate at 95 pounds. The Arlington junior trailed 2-0 but rallied to knot the count with a third period reversal.

ARLINGTON'S other points were picked up, as expected, by unbeaten Hal Selleck at 180. Hal now has four decisions, three pins, and a forfeit victory included on his impressive record this season. The latest was a 7-0 decision.

Outside of the efforts of Fitz-Patrick and Selleck, Downers had things pretty much its own way. Two of the Trojans' standouts added victories to their already impressive records.

Al Mejdrich, fourth in the state last season, boosted his current record to 14-0 with a Terry Witt at 133 pounds. The loss was Terry's second in eight outings this season.

DOWNERS' Barry Ganek racked up his 13th victory in 14 tests with a 5-2 win over the Cards' Roy Woodruff at 165. Woodruff now sports a 3-2-1 mark this season.

Arlington's varsity wrestlers, boasting a 3-2 mark in dual meet competition and a 1 - 1 West Suburban standard, have a big weekend ahead. Coach Bob Emmons' Cardinals will host York Friday at 7 o'clock and journey to Hinsdale Saturday afternoon at 2.

Mt. Prospect Skaters Score In Two Meets

Mt. Prospect skaters looked impressive in the Illinois State and Pierce meets held last week.

Last Friday evening the once-postponed Illinois State Outdoor Championships were held at Glen Ellyn, Ill., and 29 skaters from the local club competed for the coveted state awards. Along about midnight some tired boys and girls journeyed home, but not before they had scored 18 points for the club.

Top individual scorer for Mt. Prospect was Bob Grady who scored six points on two second place finishes behind Ray Novak, current National Juvenile champ. In the 220 yard sprint, Novak's margin of victory was less than a foot.

In the Pony Division, Bert Gastorf and Gary Jonland each scored five points by finishing 2nd and 3rd alternately in the 110 yard and 220 yard races. Billy Grady also scored a point with a fourth in the 220 yard event.

The last point was scored by Jim Rybarczyk with a 4th place in the Junior 440 yard race.

Last Saturday, the Pierce Western Open Championships were held at the Waveland rink in Chicago and the Mt. Prospect club continued to show improvement, scoring 19 points against some of the top skaters in the country.

Once more, Bob Grady took the measure of all the skaters in the Juvenile Division—except one. Ray Novak again showed why he is the National Outdoor Juvenile champ by taking both his events, and once more Grady was a close second.

TYING GRADY for high total points on the Prospect club was Dan Prekel, who scored two seconds in the Class "B" Men's group for a total of six points.

Dick Solley scored two points and Gary Jonland scored one point in their Pony Division event.

Jim Zuckermandel also took a third place and two points in the Junior group while Tom Haenisch continues to improve and he scored one point for a fourth in the one mile Intermediate Boys' event.

Prospect's Grapplers Whip Maine

Prospect's varsity wrestlers added another impressive effort to a growing list this season with a solid 21-15 victory over Maine West last week.

Fresh from a victory in the quad at Fenton, the varsity Knights trailed only briefly at the outset of the match as they picked up their sixth dual meet triumph in nine chances this season.

Coach Dick Mudge's aggregation fell behind at the end of the first bout but exploded with victories in the next seven matches and held a 21-3 lead with four tests remaining.

SOPHOMORE Mike Phillips gave Prospect its first three points with an easy 8-2 win at 103. The victory was Phillips' seventh of the season.

The Knights moved into the lead to stay with Bob McKinnon's 6-0 triumph at 112 and Wayne Zaehler backed McKinnon with a 3-1 decision at 120. McKinnon is 7-1-1 for the season while Zaehler now stands 12-2.

Capt. Doug Vaughan, soph Greg Field, and Gary Jernberg racked up decisions in the next three matches and Prospect held a big 21 - 3 lead. For Vaughan the victory was his 12th in 13 outings this season.

MAINE West won the final four bouts but it didn't change the outcome and Prospect remained in contention in the tight Interim league title chase.

The Knights will journey to East Leyden Friday evening at 7 o'clock to meet the league-leading Eagles and will host a strong Palatine team Saturday at 2 p.m.

Rolling Meadows Announces Dates For Registration

Rolling Meadows Boys Baseball announced that the last three Saturdays of February will be used for registration of boys who wish to play in 1962. The league also announced that on Saturday, Feb. 10, the Eighth Annual Dance will be held at Carpenters Union Hall, Oakton and White st., Des Plaines, Ill.

Three days have been set aside for registration: Saturday February 10, February 17, and February 24 between the hours of 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. at the Community Church. Each boy registered must be present and accompanied by a parent; no neighbor or friend may substitute for a parent at the time of registration. New boys who have not played previously should bring proof of age.

A registration fee of $5 should be paid at the time of registration. If more than one boy from a family is registering, the fee will be $5 for the first boy and $1 for each additional boy.

THIS IS the first year that 13-year-olds will be permitted to play, thus extending for one year playing time for many of the boys who would have been finished after last year's season. Any boy whose 14th birthday is prior to August 1, 1963 may register.

Rolling Meadows Boys Baseball has been set so that all boys interested may play ball. It will not be necessary for a boy to go through a try-out to be certain that he will be placed on a team. The league assures all parents that all of the children they register on the dates specified above will play. Registration can be accomplished only at the times and places indicated above.

All proceeds from the Annual Dance benefit boys in the league and since a limited supply of tickets will be available, they should be secured early. The price is $1.75 each and anyone desiring tickets should contact Jim Ferguson, 2511 Fulle, CL 3-5452.

Soph Gym Unit Rocks Thornton

Arlington's frosh-soph gymnasts rolled along their unbeaten ways last Saturday with a convincing 85-47 victory over Thornton.

It was the fourth time this season Coach Mike Karon's Cardinals had topped the 80 mark and it marked their fifth straight dual meet success.

Prospect Frosh Beaten

Prospect high's frosh "A" cagers, in the throes of a midseason slump, suffered their third straight setback last Saturday morning.

A host Maine West five jumped off to a big first period lead, then staved off a furious Prospect rally and chalked up a 48-44 victory.

Prospect's frosh "Bs" also came out on the short end of the score, suffering a 29-28 setback that snapped their winning skein at five.

Ken Johnson pumped in 16 points for Prospect's "As" on four baskets and eight free throws and Steve Johnson contributed 13. Otherwise, Greg Kowal's five was the next best output on the plebe aggregation.

Prospect's frosh cagers will attempt to get back in stride this Saturday, Jan. 20, when they host East Leyden.

Rolling Meadows Announces Dates For Registration

Rolling Meadows Boys Baseball announced that the last three Saturdays of February will be used for registration of boys who wish to play in 1962. The league also announced that on Saturday, Feb. 10, the Eighth Annual Dance will be held at Carpenters Union Hall, Oakton and White st., Des Plaines, Ill.

Three days have been set aside for registration: Saturday February 10, February 17, and February 24 between the hours of 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. at the Community Church. Each boy registered must be present and accompanied by a parent; no neighbor or friend may substitute for a parent at the time of registration. New boys who have not played previously should bring proof of age.

A registration fee of $5 should be paid at the time of registration. If more than one boy from a family is registering, the fee will be $5 for the first boy and $1 for each additional boy.

THIS IS the first year that 13-year-olds will be permitted to play, thus extending for one year playing time for many of the boys who would have been finished after last year's season. Any boy whose 14th birthday is prior to August 1, 1963 may register.

Rolling Meadows Boys Baseball has been set so that all boys interested may play ball. It will not be necessary for a boy to go through a try-out to be certain that he will be placed on a team. The league assures all parents that all of the children they register on the dates specified above will play. Registration can be accomplished only at the times and places indicated above.

All proceeds from the Annual Dance benefit boys in the league and since a limited supply of tickets will be available, they should be secured early. The price is $1.75 each and anyone desiring tickets should contact Jim Ferguson, 2511 Fulle, CL 3-5452.

Soph Gym Unit Rocks Thornton

Arlington's frosh-soph gymnasts rolled along their unbeaten ways last Saturday with a convincing 85-47 victory over Thornton.

Individual winners for Arlington were Gary Holveck on the trampoline, Bob Broome on the side horse, Jim Koeppen on the high bar, Ulrich Geissler on the parallel bars, Reid Olson on rings, and Tom Ostermann in tumbling.

Prospect Frosh Beaten

Prospect high's frosh "A" cagers, in the throes of a mid-season slump, suffered their third straight setback last Saturday morning.

A host Maine West five jumped off to a big first period lead, then staved off a furious Prospect rally and chalked up a 48-44 victory.

Prospect's frosh "Bs" also came out on the short end of the score, suffering a 29-28 setback that snapped their winning skein at five.

Ken Johnson pumped in 16 points for Prospect's "As" on four baskets and eight free throws and Steve Johnson contributed 13. Otherwise, Greg Kowal's five was the next best output on the plebe aggregation.

Prospect's frosh cagers will attempt to get back in stride this Saturday, Jan. 20, when they host East Leyden.

Niles East Swimmers Top Cards

Arlington high's varsity swimmers keep getting closer to that first victory of the 1961-62 campaign.

Coach Ralph Eakins' improving Cardinals, dumped by 29 and 11 points in their first two outings this season, pushed Niles East to the limit Tuesday afternoon before falling, 50-44.

Niles had an easier time of it on a frosh-soph level with the Suburban league Trojans posting an effortless 67-14 decision.

THE VARSITY and frosh-soph Cardinals are slated to journey to Riverside-Brookfield next Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 23, for competition at 4:15 p.m. Meets are slated for each Tuesday afternoon until district action unfolds Feb. 23-24.

Arlington picked up five individual firsts and one relay triumph in the varsity test Tuesday with Doug Rice covering the 400 yard free style in 4:22.5 and 200 yard individual medley in 2:20.2. It marked the second straight meet that the Arlington junior had come home a double winner.

Bill Raasch ruled the 200 yard free-style with a 2:06.5 clocking and freshman Greg Inman made his varsity debut a success with an impresive 1:10.6 effort in the 100 yard backstroke.

The Cardinals' 200 yard medley relay team of Inman, Brown, Bill Truax, and Cliff Hadick registered a 1:59.2 effort for seven more points.

Mt. Prospect Skaters Score In Two Meets

Mt. Prospect skaters looked impressive in the Illinois State and Pierce meets held last week.

Last Friday evening the once-postponed Illinois State Outdoor Championships were held at Glen Ellyn, Ill., and 29 skaters from the local club competed for the coveted state awards. Along about midnight some tired boys and girls journeyed home, but not before they had scored 18 points for the club.

Top individual scorer for Mt. Prospect was Bob Grady who scored six points on two second place finishes behind Ray Novak, current National Juvenile champ. In the 220 yard sprint, Novak's margin of victory was less than a foot.

In the Pony Division, Bert Gastorf and Gary Jonland each scored five points by finishing 2nd and 3rd alternately in the 110 yard and 220 yard races. Billy Grady also scored a point with a fourth in the 220 yard event.

The last point was scored by Jim Rybarczyk with a 4th place in the Junior 440 yard race.

Last Saturday, the Pierce Western Open Championships were held at the Waveland rink in Chicago and the Mt. Prospect club continued to show improvement, scoring 19 points against some of the top skaters in the country.

Once more, Bob Grady took the measure of all the skaters in the Juvenile Division—except one. Ray Novak again showed why he is the National Outdoor Juvenile champ by taking both his events, and once more Grady was a close second.

TYING GRADY for high total points on the Prospect club was Dan Prekel, who scored two seconds in the Class "B" Men's group for a total of six points.

Dick Solley scored two points and Gary Jonland scored one point in their Pony Division event.

Jim Zuckermandel also took a third place and two points in the Junior group while Tom Haenisch continues to improve and he scored one point for a fourth in the one mile Intermediate Boys' event.

Sophs Edge Maine

Coach Bob Hoese's Knights trailed by six points heading into the final stanza but rallied to squeeze past the Warriors in the hectic windup.

Dan Sherman continued his impressive scoring for Prospect with 16 points on four baskets and eight free throws. Russ Barger chipped in with 11, six in the final stanza, and Ron Moehling registered eight. Tom McClellan and Al Koehler canned six each.

Does Cholesterol Pave Way For Heart Attack Arrival?

(This is the third in a series of four articles prepared by the Chicago Heart association on the subject of heart disease).

Is cholesterol really responsible for the artery degeneration leading to heart attacks?

Perhaps — and perhaps not. Several other factors, notably diet, obesity, heredity, stress, exercise, hormones and high blood pressure are believed by cardiologists to deserve searching medical investigation.

ALL ARE BEING studied in American and Chicago Heart association programs designed to learn their relationship to atherosclerosis, an artery condition which sets the stage for heart attacks and strokes.

In atherosclerosis the passageway through the arteries is roughened and narrowed by the deposit of fat-like substances, one of which is cholesterol. When this condition strikes the coronary arteries, heart attack may be impending due to closure of an artery as a result of its clogging by a bloodclot.

Whether or not the fat in the diet is directly related to these fatty substances that may clog the arteries has not yet been finally demonstrated.

Researchers must also take these factors into account:

DIET—Some doctors believe many dietary nutrients may play a role in development of —or protection against—atherosclerosis. The problem is proving an extremely complex one.

OBESITY—Overweight is a known health hazard, adding to the heart's work. Persons with heart disease should not carry extra pounds.

HEREDITY—Many may think atherosclerosis may run in families and that one inherits a resistance—or lack of it—to the disease. This is one of the most complicated of all research problems in the cardiovascular field.

STRESS—Difficult to define or measure, its role has yet to be satisfactorily evaluated. There is much controversy about this.

EXERCISE—There is a rather general belief that steady physical labor or exercise over a lifetime tends to protect the heart from atherosclerosis. Conversely, the lack of it appears to work against your heart's health.

SEX HORMONES—Women in their childbearing years are less susceptible to heart attacks and strokes than men. During this period, sex hormones may protect women from atherosclerosis. Researchers are seeking some fraction of the female hormones or similar chemical agent that can protect men against atherosclerosis without having a feminizing effect.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE — There may be a relationship between high blood pressure and artery degeneration but its nature is not certain and even the basic cause of high blood pressure remains unknown.

If more questions than answers have been raised, the necessity for even more intensive programs of research to isolate the root cause of one of our greatest cardiovascular killers becomes apparent. Medical science today can treat heart trouble more successfully than ever before—but the big breakthrough will come when, with causes established, prevention can be achieved.

(Next week: The causes of high blood pressure).

Public Assistance On the Rise Again

Public assistance caseloads rose in November 1961 for the second consecutive month, climbing to a total of 433,326 from an October count of 426,733 recipients.

Peter W. Cahill, executive secretary of the Illinois Public Aid commission, disclosed that in November 1960 the rolls held 377,412 persons. The 6,553 increase was at tributed partially to seasonal unemployment factors.

GENERAL ASSISTANCE had declined for seven successive months. It rose in November to a total of 113,671, an increase of 1,475 persons over the October count of 112,196. In November 1960, the total was 129,430 persons.

In Cook county, Aid to Dependent Children for the month amounted to a cost of $7,696,248 for 163,858 recipients. In DuPage county in this category there were 187 persons who received $7,129 in assistance.

In General Assistance, 70,185 Cook county residents received $4,394,882 compared to 365 DuPage recipients who were given $23,008.

OLD AGE Assistance accounted for the expenditure of $2,506,102 to aid 28,388 persons county, 357 persons were granted $26,932.

Blind Assistance amounted to $139,673 for 1,357 residents in Cook county while 14 DuPage county persons received $1,284 in this type of a aid.

Disability Assistance reached $1,521,092 in assisting 14,728 citizens of Cook county compared to $1,324 administered for the needs of 22 DuPage county residents. (A14

Services of the Reformed Church began January 14 in the Dempster Junior high school, Elk Grove township. Services were held at 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. and Sunday School at 10:45 a.m. Rev. A. Tellinghuisen, Chicago Extension minister, is the pastor.

The Reformed Church in America has 29 congregations in the greater Chicago area, serving all parts of city and suburban area except the far northwest side. Responsible churching requires a church in this area, Rev. Tellinghuisen says. This new church has not yet determined a permanent location but it will be somewhere in the neighboring area.

AMERICAN Protestantism has mothered many denominations. One of the oldest is the Reformed Church in America, dating its continuous history from 1628. Today there are some 900 churches enrolling one third of a million members. Many newly organized churches can be seen in the growing suburbs of our cities. It is no longer a national church serving Americans of Dutch ancestry but serves all nationalities, the minister said. Everyone is welcome. (A14

Does Cholesterol Pave Way For Heart Attack Arrival?

(This is the third in a series of four articles prepared by the Chicago Heart association on the subject of heart disease).

Is cholesterol really responsible for the artery degeneration leading to heart attacks?

Perhaps — and perhaps not. Several other factors, notably diet, obesity, heredity, stress, exercise, hormones and high blood pressure are believed by cardiologists to deserve searching medical investigation.

ALL ARE BEING studied in American and Chicago Heart association programs designed to learn their relationship to atherosclerosis, an artery condition which sets the stage for heart attacks and strokes.

In atherosclerosis the passageway through the arteries is roughened and narrowed by the deposit of fat-like substances, one of which is cholesterol. When this condition strikes the coronary arteries, heart attack may be impending due to closure of an artery as a result of its clogging by a bloodclot.

Whether or not the fat in the diet is directly related to these fatty substances that may clog the arteries has not yet been finally demonstrated.

Researchers must also take these factors into account:

DIET—Some doctors believe many dietary nutrients may play a role in development of —or protection against—atherosclerosis. The problem is proving an extremely complex one.

OBESITY—Overweight is a known health hazard, adding to the heart's work. Persons with heart disease should not carry extra pounds.

HEREDITY—Many may think atherosclerosis may run in families and that one inherits a resistance—or lack of it—to the disease. This is one of the most complicated of all research problems in the cardiovascular field.

STRESS—Difficult to define or measure, its role has yet to be satisfactorily evaluated. There is much controversy about this.

EXERCISE—There is a rather general belief that steady physical labor or exercise over a lifetime tends to protect the heart from atherosclerosis. Conversely, the lack of it appears to work against your heart's health.

SEX HORMONES—Women in their childbearing years are less susceptible to heart attacks and strokes than men. During this period, sex hormones may protect women from atherosclerosis. Researchers are seeking some fraction of the female hormones or similar chemical agent that can protect men against atherosclerosis without having a feminizing effect.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE — There may be a relationship between high blood pressure and artery degeneration but its nature is not certain and even the basic cause of high blood pressure remains unknown.

If more questions than answers have been raised, the necessity for even more intensive programs of research to isolate the root cause of one of our greatest cardiovascular killers becomes apparent. Medical science today can treat heart trouble more successfully than ever before—but the big breakthrough will come when, with causes established, prevention can be achieved.

(Next week: The causes of high blood pressure).

Public Assistance On the Rise Again

Public assistance caseloads rose in November 1961 for the second consecutive month, climbing to a total of 433,326 from an October count of 426,733 recipients.

Peter W. Cahill, executive secretary of the Illinois Public Aid commission, disclosed that in November 1960 the rolls held 377,412 persons. The 6,553 increase was at tributed partially to seasonal unemployment factors.

For the first time since broadening of eligibility requirements in the federally aided program of Aid to Dependent Children to permit transfer of children with unemployed parents from General Assistance, this later category showed an increase.

GENERAL ASSISTANCE had declined for seven successive months. It rose in November to a total of 113,671, an increase of 1,475 persons over the October count of 112,196. In November 1960, the total was 129,430 persons.

In Cook county, Aid to Dependent Children for the month amounted to a cost of $7,696,248 for 163,858 recipients. In DuPage county in this category there were 187 persons who received $7,129 in assistance.

In General Assistance, 70,185 Cook county residents received $4,394,882 compared to 365 DuPage recipients who were given $23,008.

OLD AGE Assistance accounted for the expenditure of $2,506,102 to aid 28,388 persons county, 357 persons were granted $26,932.

Blind Assistance amounted to $139,673 for 1,357 residents in Cook county while 14 DuPage county persons received $1,284 in this type of a aid.

Disability Assistance reached $1,521,092 in assisting 14,728 citizens of Cook county compared to $1,324 administered for the needs of 22 DuPage county residents.

Reformed Church Is Organized

Services of the Reformed Church began January 14 in the Dempster Junior high school, Elk Grove township. Services were held at 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. and Sunday School at 10:45 a.m. Rev. A. Tellinghuisen, Chicago Extension minister, is the pastor.

The Reformed Church in America has 29 congregations in the greater Chicago area, serving all parts of city and suburban area except the far northwest side. Responsible churching requires a church in this area, Rev. Tellinghuisen says. This new church has not yet determined a permanent location but it will be somewhere in the neighboring area.

AMERICAN Protestantism has mothered many denominations. One of the oldest is the Reformed Church in America, dating its continuous history from 1628. Today there are some 900 churches enrolling one third of a million members. Many newly organized churches can be seen in the growing suburbs of our cities. It is no longer a national church serving Americans of Dutch ancestry but serves all nationalities, the minister said. Everyone is welcome.

Accident Policy Is Bargain for Family

It was especially designed to fit the pocketbook of the average family.

That's why Paddock Publication's Emergency Protection Personal Accident Policy, now available to our subscribers and their family household members, is so economical. It costs only $5.00 per year per person, plus a first-year-only registration fee of $1.00. This is a daily average of only slightly more than 1 cent per day.

ACCIDENTS DO not respect the finances of any particular individual. They affect everyone. Experiences show that accidents create unexpected expenses which few families are prepared to pay. This is just one of many reasons why Paddock Publications adopted this helpful personal accident protection program, knowing of the many practical benefits included in the policy that will help folks in such emergencies.

We urge our subscribers and their family household members to take advantage of this great public service. The policy is issued by the Old Republic Life Insurance Company, Chicago, Illinois. Make application today at Paddock Publications office, 217 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights, or use the handy form which appears regularly in this newspaper.

Annual Chicago Auto Show Scheduled February 17 to 25

The 54th annual Chicago Automobile Show, Feb. 17-25 will be the kickoff for what the automobile industry expects will be a 7,000,000-car year.

Just as last February's show was widely credited with breaking a log-jam of sales inactivity, the upcoming renewal in McCormick Place here is regarded as the medium that will stimulate the first major wave of buying in 1962.

Industry leaders have come to respect the Chicago Show as an accurate guage to sales for the year ahead. For one thing, its central theme that the "Car is The Star" and no extraneous lures such as name entertainment personalities are needed to give greater meaning to its astronomical attendance—789,734, a record, last February, and 6,136,180 in twelve years since 1950.

THE REACTION of these hundreds of thousands every year forms a pattern that can be applied nationally. The show also is unique in its field as a newsworthy story of automotive developments that attracts attention in sections far beyond the Chicago metropolitan area. It receives nationwide coverage although the sponsorship is purely local — the Chicago Automobile Trade Association, a non-profit, state-chartered organization of over 400 authorized car and truck dealers in Cook county.

Other distinctions have been established too—it is the world's largest, most complete dealer-sponsored automobile show and has been held more times than any other.

Besides products of U.S. automobile and truck manufacturers, upwards of 30 import makes are represented—in all, more than 450 individual U.S. cars and trucks and imports, ranged side-by-side in a single, vast 300,000-square foot main exposition area that probably is the world's largest automotive showroom. In addition, there are over 50 parts, equipment, accessories and special exhibits.

THE EFFECT on manufacturers is to inspire all-out concentration of the creative skills of their respective exhibit staffs on ingenious, spectacular displays, many of which are conceived and built for use in Chicago alone. They try to outdo each other in eye-catching forms of presentation.

For this is a competitive show and the industry sees nothing incongruous in the fact that it is held a month or two after late autumn and early winter new model introductions. Fred G. Litsinger, CATA president, explained:

"The dates are perfect timing because the first glow of interest in individual model introductions has died out pretty much. The Chicago show in February stimulates a second surge of excitement, but of a different nature. It's the first time potential buyers or just plain automobile fans can see all of the new models together, to examine and compare in about one-fourth of the time needed to travel from one dealership to another."

DON C. MULLERY is chairman of the executive show committee for the third time in four years and Edward L. Cleary, CATA executive vice president, is show manager, a position held by him since 1950.

Members of the executive show committee besides Litsinger and Mullery are Maxwell S. Evans, Joseph Levy, Richard V. Lynch, Michael Schwartz and Frank H. Yarnall.

Corn Prices Higher This Fall Than Last

by L. H. SIMERL

Prices from corn were a little higher this past fall than they were a year before. There are two principal reasons: (1) The new crop is smaller, and (2) the price support level is higher.

As we look ahead, prices seem likely to work a little higher in the first half of this year, whereas they made little or no advance in 1961. Here are the details:

The 1961 crop is estimated at 3,624 million bushels, 7 per cent smaller than that of 1960. The cut-back in production varied greatly in different parts of the corn belt. The cut was large in the western and eastern edges and small in the center states of Illinois and Iowa. The northern part of the corn belt actually produced more corn in 1961 than in 1960.

THE PRICE support level for the 1961 corn crop is $1.20 a bushel, up 14 cents from the $1.06 support for the 1960 crop.

Offsetting the smaller crop and higher price support level are much bigger sales of corn by the United States Department of Agriculture. Such sales during October, November and December totaled 312 million bushels, more than eight times as much as during the similar period the year before.

The USDA is pushing sales of corn in order to keep the price down and to replace cash paid to farmers under the 1961 feed-grain program. These payments amounted to around $768 million. Of this amount $360 million, or 47 per cent, had been raised by the first of January by the sale of 271 million bushels of corn and 96 million bushels of sorghum grain.

STILL TO be raised was $408 million. It is likely to be done by selling about 300 million bushels of corn and a little more than 100 million bushels of sorghum grain.

After these sales are made, the government will still sell nonstorable corn and can sell corn for export. Additional corn could be sold to raise money to pay farmers for participating in the 1962 feed-grain program.

But while the government is selling record amounts of corn, it will be taking almost as much off the market. Of their 1961 crop, farmers had more than 1,400 million bushels that were eligible for price support. Some of this corn is being fed on the farm where it was produced. Some is being sold for various reasons.

BUT MOST of it will be placed under price support and turned over to the government — unless the market price rises to the support level.

The market price will act as a regulator of the amount that is put under price support. It seems likely that most farmers with eligible corn will sell it only if and when the market price rises to within a few cents of the support level. This will be a strong factor tending to raise the price of corn in the next six months. (FM

'Lost Acres'

Trees Can Be Good Income

Trees can make a good income crop for those "lost acres" on land that is too rough, too steep, too irregular or too small for the usual farm crops.

Many farmers who have tried to farm hilly, eroded land without much success should consider a pine plantation for long-time returns, says L. B. Culver, extension forester at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

LOBLOLLY PINE growing on "lost acres" in southern Illinois can grow as much as 1½ cords of pulpwood an acre a year and return as much as six per cent on the investment, Culver points out.

Standing trees there are worth $2.12 a cord for pulping at the present time. The value of the trees on $25-an-acre land in 16 years can increase the value of the land plus crop to $75 an acre.

You probably can't do so well in the northern part of the state, Culver says, but a tree crop can still bring a good return. Loblolly pine seedlings are listed at $10 per thousand this year, but they will grow only in southern Illinois.

Such species as red, jack, Scotch and white pine for northern Illinois range in price up to $18 per thousand.

HOWEVER, the Agricultural Conservation Program will pay $22 per thousand for trees planted. This means that the ACP will buy the trees and pay some of the planting cost, depending on how much you pay for the trees.

Not all "lost acres" are clear enough of brush for easy planting or proper tree growth. Again, the ACP will pay as much as half of the clearing costs up to a maximum payment of $10 an acre.

See your county extension farm adviser for a price list of available trees, and get your order in now. Find those "lost acres" and make them busy acres. (Fm

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by James Fizzell
Assistant Farm Advisor

Alert Homeowners
Dial Daily 392-3060

The official flower for the month of January is the delicate and graceful carnation. The carnation as we know it today is the result of centuries of breeding and selection. It is a native of southern Europe. The wild carnation is small and has only five petals, and resembles the garden pink to which it is closely related. Carnations have been used for hundreds of years for decoration, but it was not until the sixteenth century that they came into general use and hybridization of the species began.

The large, double, perpetual flowering carnations you get from your florist originated by the French botanist, Dalmais, about 1840 and were introduced into the U.S. about 15 years later. Since that time, intensive hybridization and selection in this country has produced many excellent varieties and strains.

SINCE CARNATIONS are true hybrids, each variety has arisen from a single seed. In order to increase the number of plants of a variety it is necessary to use cuttings or slips.

Occasionally, a plant will mutate and produce a flower of a different color, larger size, or an exceptionally strong plant. Greenhouse men are always watching for these mutations or as they call them, sports. When a sport occurs, the florist saves the plant and takes cuttings. The new mutation then becomes known as a selection and is sent to universities and experiment stations to be tested. If it is superior to varieties being grown, it is propagated and sent to commercial greenhouses where it replaces older varieties.

The two most common varieties grown in America today are the Littlefields, which all originated from a salmon-colored variety, Sidney Littlefield; and the Sims which originated from a bright red, William Sim.

Through selection of sports from these two original seedlings, have come a multitude of colors ranging from white and light pink through reds and salmons, and even yellow and orange colored varieties.

EACH SELECTION carries in its name an indication of which variety it originally came from. Examples are Tangerine Sim and light pink Littlefields.

Littlefield carnations are exceptionally well adapted to growing conditions around Chicago. The Chicago produced Littlefields are known throughout the country for their strong stems, large size, and bright color.

The most recent development in carnations is the miniature spray type. These varieties have several small flowers on a single stem, much like pompon chrysanthemums.

Stop at your local florist, he can show you examples of all the varieties

Groups interested in learning more about carnations can secure a free film showing the production of these lovely flowers. Contact the Extension Service office for more information. (BB

Today's Agriculture

by Robert E. Hood, Assistant Farm Adviser

WHAT ABOUT SUBSIDIES? Farmers are subsidized. Total cost of farm programs to January 1, 1960—$6.9 billion. Mail subsidies, 12 years, 1947-1959—$6.6 billion. Ship subsidies, 20 years, 1939-1959—$4.0 billion. World War II reconversion subsidies, totalled $43.3 billion.

IN THE LAST 50 YEARS, FOR EVERY $1,000 SPENT ON SUBSIDIES, AGRICULTURE HAS RECEIVED ONLY A SCANT $5.

The subsidy is the oldest economic principle written into the laws of the United States, starting when the first Congress enacted tariffs in 1789.

Between 1827 and 1866, the Government granted 6 1/3 million acres to canal ways, and later, 183 million acres to railroads!

INDUSTRY, LABOR, AGRICULTURE—"In the case of industry and labor, the benefits from Federal policies are paid largely by consumers. In the case of Agriculture, the benefits come principally from taxpayers. Of course, consumers and taxpayers are one and the same.

Manipulation of the language can foster the impression that almost every dollar spent in relation to Agriculture is a subsidy to farmers, while billions of dollars in Federal outlays for non-farm purposes—creating profits for industry and jobs for workers—are somehow more respectable and proper. Rarely are they labeled as 'subsidies' to those who are benefited." From Report to 86th Congress, "Government Subsidy Historical Review."

VEGETABLES UP—Americans today eat more vegetables on the average, per person, than their grandparents did 50 years ago. But a USDA report indicates there was a shift in consumption away from fresh vegetables, which have declined in use during the half century.

The decrease in the use of fresh vegetables has been offset by marked increases in consumption of processed vegetables during recent years, the report shows. Vegetable consumption per capta is about 15 per cent greater today than 50 years ago.

City householders are larger consumers of vegetables than rural dwellers, though the difference is narrowing as commercial supplies become more widely available in rural areas.

Per capita consumption of potatoes, sweet potatoes, and dry beans and peas is much less than it was 50 years ago. But increased use of potatoes in various processed forms has halted the decline of consumption of this product in recent years.

Looking ahead, USDA says it appears likely that per-person use of vegetables and potatoes may not change much during the next 10 years, though further shifts to processed forms are indicated.

Industries Forum Opens January 30

Prospects for attracting industry and expanding employment will be explored by top authorities at the opening session of the University of Illinois Agricultural Industries Forum January 30-31.

Farmers' Outlook

by L. H. SIMERL

Prices from corn were a little higher this past fall than they were a year before. There are two principal reasons: (1) The new crop is smaller, and (2) the price support level is higher.

As we look ahead, prices seem likely to work a little higher in the first half of this year, whereas they made little or no advance in 1961. Here are the details:

The 1961 crop is estimated at 3,624 million bushels, 7 per cent smaller than that of 1960. The cut-back in production varied greatly in different parts of the corn belt. The cut was large in the western and eastern edges and small in the center states of Illinois and Iowa. The northern part of the corn belt actually produced more corn in 1961 than in 1960.

THE PRICE support level for the 1961 corn crop is $1.20 a bushel, up 14 cents from the $1.06 support for the 1960 crop.

Offsetting the smaller crop and higher price support level are much bigger sales of corn by the United States Department of Agriculture. Such sales during October, November and December totaled 312 million bushels, more than eight times as much as during the similar period the year before.

The USDA is pushing sales of corn in order to keep the price down and to replace cash paid to farmers under the 1961 feed-grain program. These payments amounted to around $768 million. Of this amount $360 million, or 47 per cent, had been raised by the first of January by the sale of 271 million bushels of corn and 96 million bushels of sorghum grain.

STILL TO be raised was $408 million. It is likely to be done by selling about 300 million bushels of corn and a little more than 100 million bushels of sorghum grain.

After these sales are made, the government will still sell nonstorable corn and can sell corn for export. Additional corn could be sold to raise money to pay farmers for participating in the 1962 feed-grain program.

But while the government is selling record amounts of corn, it will be taking almost as much off the market. Of their 1961 crop, farmers had more than 1,400 million bushels that were eligible for price support. Some of this corn is being fed on the farm where it was produced. Some is being sold for various reasons.

BUT MOST of it will be placed under price support and turned over to the government — unless the market price rises to the support level.

The market price will act as a regulator of the amount that is put under price support. It seems likely that most farmers with eligible corn will sell it only if and when the market price rises to within a few cents of the support level. This will be a strong factor tending to raise the price of corn in the next six months. (FM

Trees Can Be Good Income

Trees can make a good income crop for those "lost acres" on land that is too rough, too steep, too irregular or too small for the usual farm crops.

Many farmers who have tried to farm hilly, eroded land without much success should consider a pine plantation for long-time returns, says L. B. Culver, extension forester at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

LOBLOLLY PINE growing on "lost acres" in southern Illinois can grow as much as 1½ cords of pulpwood an acre a year and return as much as six per cent on the investment, Culver points out.

Standing trees there are worth $2.12 a cord for pulping at the present time. The value of the trees on $25-an-acre land in 16 years can increase the value of the land plus crop to $75 an acre.

You probably can't do so well in the northern part of the state, Culver says, but a tree crop can still bring a good return. Loblolly pine seedlings are listed at $10 per thousand this year, but they will grow only in southern Illinois.

Such species as red, jack, Scotch and white pine for northern Illinois range in price up to $18 per thousand.

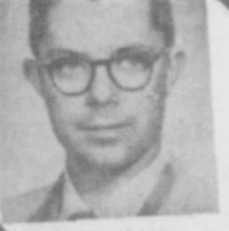
HOWEVER, the Agricultural Conservation Program will pay $22 per thousand for trees planted. This means that the ACP will buy the trees and pay some of the planting cost, depending on how much you pay for the trees.

Not all "lost acres" are clear enough of brush for easy planting or proper tree growth. Again, the ACP will pay as much as half of the clearing costs up to a maximum payment of $10 an acre.

See your county extension farm adviser for a price list of available trees, and get your order in now. Find those "lost acres" and make them busy acres. (Fm

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by James Fizzell
Assistant Farm Advisor



Alert Homeowners
Dial Daily 392-3060

The official flower for the month of January is the delicate and graceful carnation. The carnation as we know it today is the result of centuries of breeding and selection. It is a native of southern Europe. The wild carnation is small and has only five petals, and resembles the garden pink to which it is closely related. Carnations have been used for hundreds of years for decoration, but it was not until the sixteenth century that they came into general use and hybridization of the species began.

The large, double, perpetual flowering carnations you get from your florist originated by the French botanist, Dalmais, about 1840 and were introduced into the U.S. about 15 years later. Since that time, intensive hybridization and selection in this country has produced many excellent varieties and strains.

SINCE CARNATIONS are true hybrids, each variety has arisen from a single seed. In order to increase the number of plants of a variety it is necessary to use cuttings or slips.

Occasionally, a plant will mutate and produce a flower of a different color, larger size, or an exceptionally strong plant. Greenhouse men are always watching for these mutations or as they call them, sports. When a sport occurs, the florist saves the plant and takes cuttings. The new mutation then becomes known as a selection and is sent to universities and experiment stations to be tested. If it is superior to varieties being grown, it is propagated and sent to commercial greenhouses where it replaces older varieties.

The two most common varieties grown in America today are the Littlefields, which all originated from a salmon-colored variety, Sidney Littlefield; and the Sims which originated from a bright red, William Sim.

Through selection of sports from these two original seedlings, have come a multitude of colors ranging from white and light pink through reds and salmons, and even yellow and orange colored varieties.

EACH SELECTION carries in its name an indication of which variety it originally came from. Examples are Tangerine Sim and light pink Littlefields.

Littlefield carnations are exceptionally well adapted to growing conditions around Chicago. The Chicago produced Littlefields are known throughout the country for their strong stems, large size, and bright color.

The most recent development in carnations is the miniature spray type. These varieties have several small flowers on a single stem, much like pompon chrysanthemums.

Stop at your local florist, he can show you examples of all the varieties

Groups interested in learning more about carnations can secure a free film showing the production of these lovely flowers. Contact the Extension Service office for more information. (BB

WHAT ABOUT SUBSIDIES? Farmers are subsidized. Total cost of farm programs to January 1, 1960—$6.9 billion. Mail subsidies, 12 years, 1947-1959—$6.6 billion. Ship subsidies, 20 years, 1939-1959—$4.0 billion. World War II reconversion subsidies, totalled $43.3 billion.

Assessor Determines Personal Property

(This is another in a series of articles provided as a public service by the Illinois State Bar Association for Paddock Publications.)

Sometime during the first of each year many homes in Illinois receive a visit from the local tax assessor, whose job is to determine what personal property each person owns and to assign a value to it.

He inquires about the personal property you own, whether you have a TV set, an automobile, a dog. Personal property, such as furniture, automobiles, stocks, bonds, corn in the crib and livestock, is re-valued every year, while land is re-valued every four years. The notes the assessor takes in his book begin the process of property taxation in this state.

THESE VALUATIONS of property, called assessments, are to be published as soon as they are determined, so that each taxpayer will know the valuation placed on his property and be able to complain if he believes his assessment excessive. To object, the taxpayer must give written notice of objection within 10 days of publication.

The assessment books are sent to the local county board of review composed of three members in downstate counties. These boards have the duty of hearing objections to assessments. The taxpayer usually attempts to establish that his property is not worth the value placed on it by the assessor, by showing that other property similar to his has been assessed at a lower valuation.

The board makes adjustments in assessments in cases deemed to be meritorious. If the taxpayer is still not satisfied, he may obtain review of the board's action by a court.

HAVING MADE appropriate changes in the assessment books, the board of review returns them to the local county clerk for determination of the amount of tax to be levied on the assessed valuations.

In each of the 102 counties in Illinois, the local assessor is likely to value property at a different per cent of true fair cash value than that used in the other counties. For example, the assessor in St. Clair County may assess a 1958 Ford Sedan at $750, while the Wayne County assessor assesses that type of car at $500.

In order to equalize assessments throughout the State, the Department of Revenue instructs local assessors to use uniform values for autos, grain, and certain other personal property. The Department of Revenue also examines records of sales of property in each county and compares the prices with the local assessor's valuation of the property.

On the basis of such surveys the Department arrives at an average ratio of assessed valuation to full valuation for each county, and the county clerk in each county multiplies all assessments by the percentage figure applicable to the county in question. This theoretically equalizes valuations throughout the state.

THE COUNTY clerk then "spreads" the taxes. He multiplies the equalized assessment figures of each owner by the lawful tax rate, and thus computes the amount of tax each property owner must pay. He sends these figures to the county collector who makes out and mails the tax bills. Taxes on personal property for each calendar year are based on its value as of April 1 and are payable during the following year.

This is a brief and very general outline of the complex process used in Illinois to arrive at personal property taxes. The entire process, from assessment to sending out the tax bills, takes more than a full year.

Insurance and You

Whole Life Policy Puzzles Purchaser

by LEO RAPP

Q. I took out a policy that was supposed to be paid up when I was age 65. The Agent told me I could then use it for my retirement. When I received the policy it was a Whole Life contract, on which it said the premiums were payable for life. Who's wrong?

A. Your Agent probably gave you Whole Life Insurance for the greater amount of protection in the earlier years. At age 65 you may exercise the reduced paid up policy option, which with accumulated dividends, would probably give you a paid up policy for the face amount or greater. In lieu of this, you may take the cash value option and receive it in either a lifetime income or a larger monthly income over a fewer number of years. Depending upon your situation, he probably gave you the best policy to take care of the most contingencies.

(Readers are invited to write their questions about Life Insurance to Leo Rapp, "Life Insurance And You," Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, Illinois. Your questions will be answered in future columns.) (BB

Whole Life Policy Puzzles Purchaser

by LEO RAPP

Q. I took out a policy that was supposed to be paid up when I was age 65. The Agent told me I could then use it for my retirement. When I received the policy it was a Whole Life contract, on which it said the premiums were payable for life. Who's wrong?

A. Your Agent probably gave you Whole Life Insurance for the greater amount of protection in the earlier years. At age 65 you may exercise the reduced paid up policy option, which with accumulated dividends, would probably give you a paid up policy for the face amount or greater. In lieu of this, you may take the cash value option and receive it in either a lifetime income or a larger monthly income over a fewer number of years. Depending upon your situation, he probably gave you the best policy to take care of the most contingencies.

(Readers are invited to write their questions about Life Insurance to Leo Rapp, "Life Insurance And You," Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, Illinois. Your questions will be answered in future columns.) (BB

EVERYONE'S PROBLEM

These are mobile times. More people are going more places in more vehicles than ever before. Burgeoning suburbia has become Transurbia. Predicted growth will create fantastic demands on those whose job it is to plan for the movement of people and goods. The story of mass transportation—"everyone's problem"—will be told in a series of five articles; this is the first.

Photographs by Larry Cameron

Louis Caspel, Arlington Heights attorney, drops 7 cents on a metal stand, grabs a morning paper and races toward the 8:02 that will whisk him into the heart of the high-rise complex of aluminum, glass, and mortar Chicagoans have nicknamed the Loop.

Mrs. Karen Cartright, a young Elk Grove housewife, stashes away the last of the breakfast dishes, hurriedly runs a lipstick across her mouth and steers her 10-year-old car to Bensenville, where she works part-time as a waitress.

In Wheeling, accountant William Wilger kisses his wife goodbye and strides to the car he hopes will start in spite of zero weather. With luck, he's soon begun the 52-mile trip to his south side office.

These suburbanites all share something in common; unknowingly, they are headed for a "crisis" in transportation.

The city is exploding into distant parts of Cook, DuPage, and neighboring counties where new homes and relocated industries sprawl irrationally.

Travel patterns are changing.

Traditional routes, designed to service truck farms and rural hamlets, are suffering from a hardening of the arteries. More than a million-and-a-half vehicles now glut roadways within a 30-mile radius of the Loop.

The direction of rails no longer influences metropolitan area development. Conventional commuter and mass transit systems—frantically modernizing in the shadow of rigid four-wheel competition—face deficit operation or tax-eating subsidies.

Planners and transportation policy-makers acknowledge that more people are going more places than ever before, but they can't agree on the best way to get them there.

Proponents of public transportation argue for the economies of group movement, citing savings in space and dollars.

Highway planners point to the shifting needs of an auto-oriented metroplex, stressing that more and more people go where rails and buses do not.

By 1980 there will be more than a 50 per cent increase in the Chicago area population. Nearly 8 million people will be on the move within a 30-mile radius of the downtown area. More commuters than ever before will stream into business centers from fringe areas of the six-county metropolitan region.

Experts are alert to the future chaos of uncoordinated transportation, even as they concede that the Chicago area currently enjoys better combinations of rail and highway facilities than most large American cities.

The movement of people and goods has become a personalized problem for every individual staking his future on the economic vitality of metropolitan Chicago.

Transportation dramatically influences the daily lives of all people—even if they go nowhere and ride nothing.

In Palatine, for example, a homemaker looks from her window to where her three children are playing. Nearby, there will be a new four-lane highway constructed to enable cars and mammoth trucks to whiz at high speed between Madison, Wis., and the Congress Street Expressway. She doesn't know how close the super roadway will be to her home; she's concerned about reduced property values; she fears for the safety of her youngsters.

There will be more roads. There will be changing needs.

James Dinchly waited in vain one night for installation of a new television set in his rural Mount Prospect home. The delivery wasn't made because a trucking van earlier in the day couldn't find a parking space near the retail merchant's shop. Dinchly had to stay home and wait for delivery another night.

Parking already is chaotic everywhere. Space for automobiles consumes nearly a third of the two-and-a-half square miles of downtown Los Angeles, most dramatic example of a transit-less community.

Chicago—at the crossroad between becoming a transit community like New York City or a lattice-work of concrete like Los Angeles—is planning more parking facilities.

Suburban merchants that feed on the economic stem of commuter rail lines now seek more space for parking to compete with mushrooming shopping centers.

There will be more cars; there will be more parking problems.

Automobiles, trucks, and taxis registered within a 30-mile radius of Chicago's Loop are expected to double by 1980 when it is calculated there will be more than 3 million vehicles.

For Francis Jackson, however, a car is more than a mere statistic; it is part of his life—except during foul winter weather. Then he becomes what railroad men endearingly call "snowbirds," people who demand commuter service only when operation of their cars becomes impossible.

On one such snowy morning, Jackson boarded a bus at Roselle and Higgins rds. at 7:10 a. m. Thirty-nine minutes later he was in the Palatine depot, where he boarded the 7:55 train. At 8:36 he was in the Chicago and North Western station.

Jackson needs commuter service in such emergencies, but the railroads also need sustained passenger volume in order to prosper. Competition from the auto—coupled with rate restrictions and tax inequities—confront railroads with severe problems; they are fighting for economic survival.

There were 880,000 people entering Chicago's central business district in 1926. Some 14 per cent of them used trains. Nearly that many entered by car or taxi with the balance using bus or elevated. Today there are fewer people commuting to the downtown area and a much greater percentage of them travel by car.

THURS., JAN. 18, 1962

In Itasca, salesman Harold Probeweiler reads of difficulties encountered in carrying on operation of the Chicago, North Shore, and Milwaukee railroad. He doesn't consider it his problem. Yet he bitterly complains of city street congestion as he makes his daily calls on clients.

For Ralph Stilge, electrical engineer, transportation is more than wheels and rails; it is the $74 a month it costs him to accelerate and brake his car back and forth through 94 miles of roundtrip, rush hour traffic. He could use the tollroads between his Rolling Meadows home and the south-side Chicago plant. But it still would take him nearly an hour-and-a-half in time and cost him an additional $4.50 a week—enough to buy his lunches.

Planners report that an average person in 1956 spent 13 per cent of his income for transportation expense. By 1980, the average bite for transportation will be 14.4 per cent of the take-home check.

These figures from the Chicago Area Transportation Study are only a fraction of the data which cost $2.5 million of county, state, and federal funds to compile—another example of the overhead for planning that will hopefully relieve anticipated traffic obstacles.

Mrs. Hazel Steamer of Palatine pays her tax bills promptly every year. She is a widow and has never owned a car. Nevertheless, her taxes will help to pay the salaries of 17 new judges on Cook county's Superior court bench—judges needed to help clear a backlog of some 70,000 traffic cases yet to be heard!

Transportation is, indeed, everyone's problem.

(Next week: The railroad and suburbia.)

ON THE MOVE, and the 7:20 seems as important as the next breath. Whether by train, bus, car or by foot, the route to the office, store or school is the concern of individuals. Coordinated transportation is a personal, a metropolitan necessity.

Just Around the Corner

Foolish Mom 'Duped'

Dear Peg:

I've been duped long enough! The sudden realization came this afternoon, when the proverbial straw knocked the camel for a loop.

I couldn't believe my eyes at the sight of the girls sauntering down the street in the midst of our new snowfall, with only gym shoes on and no hats, scarves or gloves. They had walked home seven blocks from the movie and were completely unconcerned as they stood in the front hall brushing the snow out of their hair and off of their coats! I had taken them to the matinee and the plan was that they were to call me when the movie was over and I was to pick them up. They had more than enough money for admission, candy, etc. and telephoning.

But, running true to form they spent all but one thin dime and that dime went the way of all dimes that are used to call the wrong number. In a hurry to get to the show on time, they convinced me that they didn't need boots, etc., since I was going to pick them up. Of course, they couldn't walk to the theatre. My goodness! Seven blocks! Walk? In this snow? And that, my dear, is the crux of the whole situation. They have had me brainwashed into thinking I was an ogre if I didn't drive them to where they wanted to go, if they simply didn't feel like walking, using the slightest inclement weather or slightest distance as excuses.

We live a short three blocks from school and I always take them and pick them up if it's raining (despite the fact that I see many children walking in their rain coats and umbrellas).

Any temperature below 32 brings moans of "It's too cold to walk, Mama!" I'm surprised that I've never heard, "It's too hot to walk!" I probably would have taken them. To walk to the skating pond is naturally out of the question. It's four blocks away. Their friends have caught on too. I always have a load to take home from skating. From somewhere in my subconscious a nagging little thought rose to the surface the last time—I wonder where all their parents are and why they don't pick them up sometime?

As I pondered over their casual attitude toward the walk home from the movie, I recalled how during the warm weather Megan insisted on walking home with her friends to their houses, after they'd spent the night here. One house was not 7 or 8 blocks but 10 blocks away! I also remembered the times I've brought them home from school, so that they would avoid the rain, just to have them insist on walking down to the dime store for something vital like brush hair curlers.

And worse — during that subzero weather, Bridget refused to take the "no answer" from the warming house as an indication that the skating pond was not open and talked me into taking her there (where she planned to stay for three hours). The place was dark, of course, no one in his right mind would even be outside—except a foolish little girl and a foolisher mother.

And so, the livery service is over—why I already have worn such a sag in the driver's seat I can hardly see over the dashboard! Excuse me, while I go and tell them and while I'm at it I'll add the touching story of my grammar school days—all about how I had to walk 6 blocks to school every day, regardless of the weather and we had no lunches at school, no school bus and no car because my father used it every day and . . .

My love,
Patty

Heavy Snows Complete Yule Setting of Palatine Rites

Although the heavy snowstorm the weekend before Christmas prevented many out-of-town guests from attending Virginia Lee Westerberg's marriage December 23 to Larry Don LaVelle, the pure white covering the out-of-doors added to the Christmas setting of the 7 o'clock service in First Methodist Church of Palatine for indoors, guests witnessed the double ring ceremony against a background of greens, golden bells and trees with white birds. Candelabras and white floral arrangements completed the setting.

The bride, daughter of the T. J. Westerbergs, Roselle rd., Palatine, was married to the son of the Donald LaVelles of Eldora, Iowa, by her uncle, Rev. Wesley M. Westerberg, president of Kendall college, Evanston. Rev. Westerberg was assisted by the minister of the local church, Rev. Wilbur M. Childress.

IN KEEPING WITH the season, the bride's attendants were attired in emerald green velvet sheaths, white fur hats and white fur muffs with tiny fresh flowers of red garnet rosebuds. Their gowns were fashioned with brief sleeves, scooped necklines and fitted bodices with satin midriffs detailed with open roses and back streamers.

Miss Lois Westerberg of Minneapolis, sister of the bride, was one of the out-of-towners who battled the storm, and although she missed the rehearsal dinner for 30 in the home of her parents Friday evening, her plane landed her in time to rehearse for her role as maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ray Nystrand of Riverside, Mrs. Gerald Schmidt of Sandwich, the former Judy Morrow of Palatine, and Miss Barbara Dahl of Maywood, cousin of the bride.

THE BRIDE'S gown was of candlelight silk taffeta fashioned with sabrina neckline, long, tapered sleeves and a fitted bodice over a full skirt that widened into a chapel train. The neckline was detailed with a braid trim embroidery with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Her bouffant veil of imported silk candlelight illusseoire was secured to a crown of seed pearls and aurora borealis crystals.

Both mothers of the bridal couple were also in green, Mrs. Westerberg's combined with gold and Mrs. LaVelle's with silver. Mrs. Westerberg also wore a gold veil headpiece, bone colored gloves and bag and a corsage of eucharist lilies. Mrs. LaVelle chose a corsage of pink camellias and white accessories.

Best man to the bridegroom was Richard Matthies of Lansing, Ill. and ushers were Lynn Jondahl of New Haven, Conn., Allan Nicholson of New Hartford, Iowa, and the groom's brother, Douglas LaVelle of Eldora. The groom's youngest brother, 8-year-old Jay LaVelle, was ring bearer and carried the rings on a white Bible.

A RECEPTION for 225 guests was held in the church dining hall and was followed by a buffet supper for 50 in the Westerberg home.

The couple left for a week's wedding trip in the east and after February 1 will be at home at 409 Prospect st., New Haven, Conn., where the groom is in his second year of graduate study at Yale divinity school and the bride will be teaching school. The new Mrs. LaVelle is completing her college work at Cornell college this month. Her bridegroom was graduated from the same college. (S

Quite Contrary by Mary

Realistic Men, Age 3

I'm getting ready for a birthday party. For a four year old. Last year, amazingly, I gave a party for a three year old. The guest list reads the same for both years. I'm wondering whether the results will also be the same.

Last year all the little girls arrived looking just too adorable in their frilly party dresses. They beamed and handed the birthday boy their offerings. In return, they happily anticipated the expected cake and ice cream. And any other loot left lying around. Never underestimate the power of a woman. Even a two year old woman.

The little boys arrived in their best suits complete with bow ties and also handed over their offerings. Some handed under protest but were helped out by their mothers. They obviously felt that a present in the hand was better than some nebulous promise of things to come. Men are so realistic. Even three year old men.

Birthday boy then proceeded to open up the offerings. But, first he had to fight off the whole guest list. He no sooner would get something out in the open when some little buddy would snatch it from him. This made him cry. It also made him snatch it back. Which made the guest cry. The ensuing din was so horrible that it made the adults cry. It also brought forth many, many cries of "give it back, dear, it's HIS birthday."

Wouldn't you think that after last year I would have learned that preschoolers just do not rise to an occasion? They don't play games, they don't share. They don't even like one another very much. And, they simply loathe adults. But, maybe this year will be different. I mean, maybe they will get a boot out of pinning the tail on the donkey. Or dropping clothespins in a bottle. Little fun things like that.

Anyhow, with hope springing anew in my heart, I'm going ahead. After all, they are a year older. On the other hand, so am I. And so are my nerves.

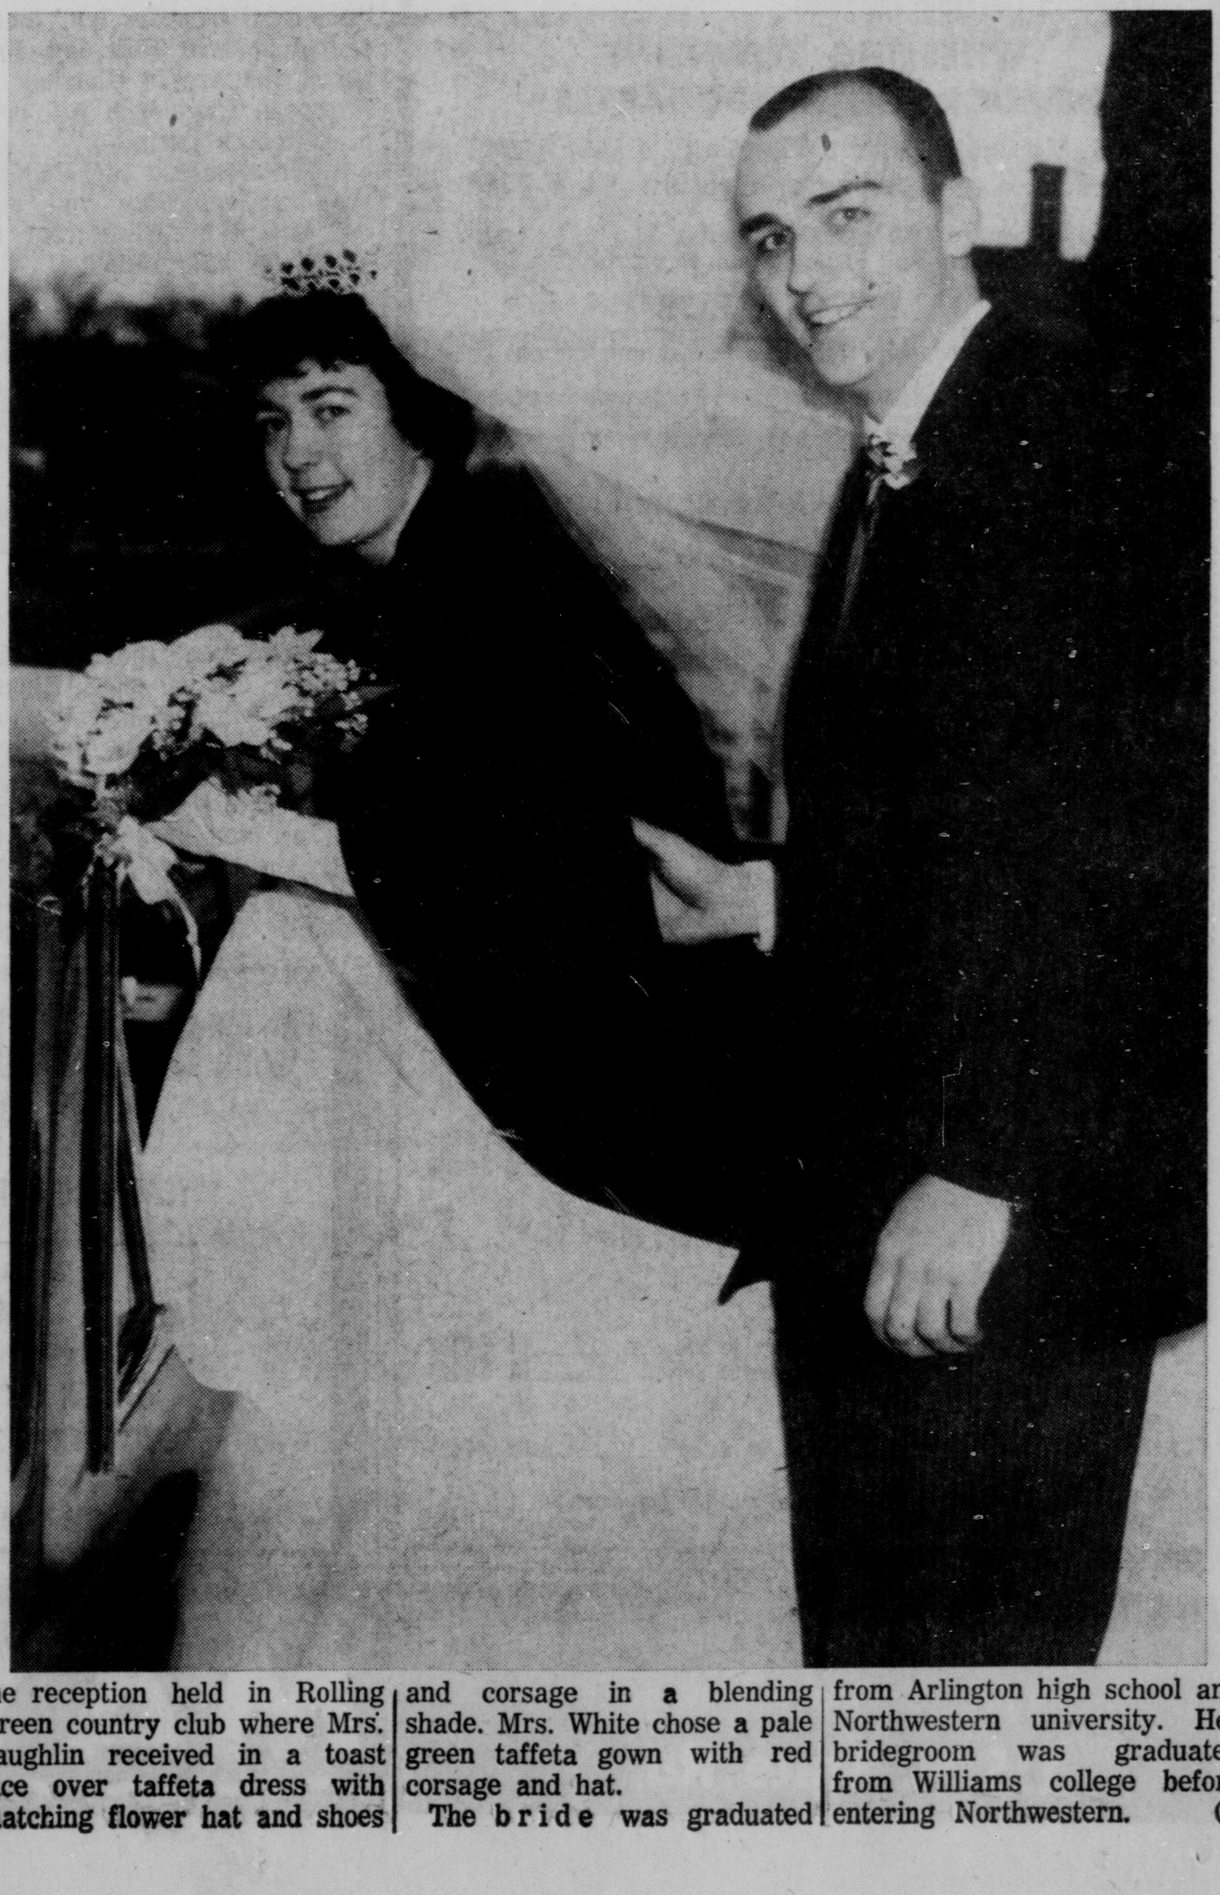
Judy Laughlin, Groom Honeymoon in Nassau



A week's honeymoon in Nassau followed a December 30, candlelight service in Arlington Heights' First Presbyterian church in which Miss Judith Laurie Laughlin, daughter of the Rowland Laughlins, 635 S. Pine, Arlington Heights, became the bride of Palmer Higbie White, son of the junior H. Ferris Whites of Winnetka. The newlyweds, now residing in Chicago, returned January 5, in time for Mr. Higbie to resume his studies at Northwestern university's medical school.

The wedding took place at 4 p.m. with Dr. Paul Stumpf officiating. White candles and white poinsettias decorated the church for the ceremony during which Mr. Laughlin gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride chose a gown of white taffeta fashioned princess style with empire bow and chapel train. The gown was trimmed in lace and seed pearls and a seed pearl crown held her bouffant veil. Her flowers were lilies of the valley and stephanotis.

MISS MARY Eaton of Evanston was the bride's maid of honor and wore a gown of iridescent turquoise peau de soie with matching headpiece and shoes. Her flowers were red roses. Bridesmaids were Pamela Claussen of Skokie, the groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. H. Ferris White III of Massachusetts, and Miss Katherine Hammond of Pittsburgh. Their gowns and flowers were identical to the maid of honor's.

H. Ferris White III was his brother's best man and another brother, Stephen White of Winnetka, and the bride's brothers, James and Robert Laughlin of Arlington Heights, were ushers.

Two hundred guests attended the reception held in Rolling Green country club where Mrs. Laughlin received in a toast lace over taffeta dress with matching flower hat and shoes and corsage in a blending shade. Mrs. White chose a pale green taffeta gown with red corsage and hat.

The bride was graduated from Arlington high school and Northwestern university. Her bridegroom was graduated from Williams college before entering Northwestern. (S

Just Around the Corner

Foolish Mom 'Duped'

Dear Peg:

I've been duped long enough! The sudden realization came this afternoon, when the proverbial straw knocked the camel for a loop.

I couldn't believe my eyes at the sight of the girls sauntering down the street in the midst of our new snowfall, with only gym shoes on and no hats, scarves or gloves. They had walked home seven blocks from the movie and were completely unconcerned as they stood in the front hall brushing the snow out of their hair and off of their coats! I had taken them to the matinee and the plan was that they were to call me when the movie was over and I was to pick them up. They had more than enough money for admission, candy, etc. and telephoning.

But, running true to form they spent all but one thin dime and that dime went the way of all dimes that are used to call the wrong number. In a hurry to get to the show on time, they convinced me that they didn't need boots, etc., since I was going to pick them up. Of course, they couldn't walk to the theatre. My goodness! Seven blocks! Walk? In this snow? And that, my dear, is the crux of the whole situation. They have had me brainwashed into thinking I was an ogre if I didn't drive them to where they wanted to go, if they simply didn't feel like walking, using the slightest inclement weather or slightest distance as excuses.

We live a short three blocks from school and I always take them and pick them up if it's raining (despite the fact that I see many children walking in their rain coats and umbrellas).

Any temperature below 32 brings moans of "It's too cold to walk, Mama!" I'm surprised that I've never heard, "It's too hot to walk!" I probably would have taken them. To walk to the skating pond is naturally out of the question. It's four blocks away. Their friends have caught on too. I always have a load to take home from skating. From somewhere in my subconscious a nagging little thought rose to the surface the last time—I wonder where all their parents are and why they don't pick them up sometime?

As I pondered over their casual attitude toward the walk home from the movie, I recalled how during the warm weather Megan insisted on walking home with her friends to their houses, after they'd spent the night here. One house was not 7 or 8 blocks but 10 blocks away! I also remembered the times I've brought them home from school, so that they would avoid the rain, just to have them insist on walking down to the dime store for something vital like brush hair curlers.

And worse — during that subzero weather, Bridget refused to take the "no answer" from the warming house as an indication that the skating pond was not open and talked me into taking her there (where she planned to stay for three hours). The place was dark, of course, no one in his right mind would even be outside—except a foolish little girl and a foolisher mother.

And so, the livery service is over—why I already have worn such a sag in the driver's seat I can hardly see over the dashboard! Excuse me, while I go and tell them and while I'm at it I'll add the touching story of my grammar school days—all about how I had to walk 6 blocks to school every day, regardless of the weather and we had no lunches at school, no school bus and no car because my father used it every day and . . .

My love,
Patty

Heavy Snows Complete Yule Setting of Palatine Rites

Although the heavy snowstorm the weekend before Christmas prevented many out-of-town guests from attending Virginia Lee Westerberg's marriage December 23 to Larry Don LaVelle, the pure white covering the out-of-doors added to the Christmas setting of the 7 o'clock service in First Methodist Church of Palatine for indoors, guests witnessed the double ring ceremony against a background of greens, golden bells and trees with white birds. Candelabras and white floral arrangements completed the setting.

The bride, daughter of the T. J. Westerbergs, Roselle rd., Palatine, was married to the son of the Donald LaVelles of Eldora, Iowa, by her uncle, Rev. Wesley M. Westerberg, president of Kendall college, Evanston. Rev. Westerberg was assisted by the minister of the local church, Rev. Wilbur M. Childress.

IN KEEPING WITH the season, the bride's attendants were attired in emerald green velvet sheaths, white fur hats and white fur muffs with tiny fresh flowers of red garnet rosebuds. Their gowns were fashioned with brief sleeves, scooped necklines and fitted bodices with satin midriffs detailed with open roses and back streamers.

Miss Lois Westerberg of Minneapolis, sister of the bride, was one of the out-of-towners who battled the storm, and although she missed the rehearsal dinner for 30 in the home of her parents Friday evening, her plane landed her in time to rehearse for her role as maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ray Nystrand of Riverside, Mrs. Gerald Schmidt of Sandwich, the former Judy Morrow of Palatine, and Miss Barbara Dahl of Maywood, cousin of the bride.

THE BRIDE'S gown was of candlelight silk taffeta fashioned with sabrina neckline, long, tapered sleeves and a fitted bodice over a full skirt that widened into a chapel train. The neckline was detailed with a braid trim embroidery with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Her bouffant veil of imported silk candlelight illusseoire was secured to a crown of seed pearls and aurora borealis crystals.

Both mothers of the bridal couple were also in green, Mrs. Westerberg's combined with gold and Mrs. LaVelle's with silver. Mrs. Westerberg also wore a gold veil headpiece, bone colored gloves and bag and a corsage of eucharist lilies. Mrs. LaVelle chose a corsage of pink camellias and white accessories.

Best man to the bridegroom was Richard Matthies of Lansing, Ill. and ushers were Lynn Jondahl of New Haven, Conn., Allan Nicholson of New Hartford, Iowa, and the groom's brother, Douglas LaVelle of Eldora. The groom's youngest brother, 8-year-old Jay LaVelle, was ring bearer and carried the rings on a white Bible.

A RECEPTION for 225 guests was held in the church dining hall and was followed by a buffet supper for 50 in the Westerberg home.

The couple left for a week's wedding trip in the east and after February 1 will be at home at 409 Prospect st., New Haven, Conn., where the groom is in his second year of graduate study at Yale divinity school and the bride will be teaching school. The new Mrs. LaVelle is completing her college work at Cornell college this month. Her bridegroom was graduated from the same college. (S

I'm getting ready for a birthday party. For a four year old. Last year, amazingly, I gave a party for a three year old. The guest list reads the same for both years. I'm wondering whether the results will also be the same.

Last year all the little girls arrived looking just too adorable in their frilly party dresses. They beamed and handed the birthday boy their offerings. In return, they happily anticipated the expected cake and ice cream. And any other loot left lying around. Never underestimate the power of a woman. Even a two year old woman.

The little boys arrived in their best suits complete with bow ties and also handed over their offerings. Some handed under protest but were helped out by their mothers. They obviously felt that a present in the hand was better than some nebulous promise of things to come. Men are so realistic. Even three year old men.

Birthday boy then proceeded to open up the offerings. But, first he had to fight off the whole guest list. He no sooner would get something out in the open when some little buddy would snatch it from him. This made him cry. It also made him snatch it back. Which made the guest cry. The ensuing din was so horrible that it made the adults cry. It also brought forth many, many cries of "give it back, dear, it's HIS birthday."

Wouldn't you think that after last year I would have learned that preschoolers just do not rise to an occasion? They don't play games, they don't share. They don't even like one another very much. And, they simply loathe adults. But, maybe this year will be different. I mean, maybe they will get a boot out of pinning the tail on the donkey. Or dropping clothespins in a bottle. Little fun things like that.

Anyhow, with hope springing anew in my heart, I'm going ahead. After all, they are a year older. On the other hand, so am I. And so are my nerves.

Judy Laughlin, Groom Honeymoon in Nassau

A week's honeymoon in Nassau followed a December 30, candlelight service in Arlington Heights' First Presbyterian church in which Miss Judith Laurie Laughlin, daughter of the Rowland Laughlins, 635 S. Pine, Arlington Heights, became the bride of Palmer Higbie White, son of the junior H. Ferris Whites of Winnetka. The newlyweds, now residing in Chicago, returned January 5, in time for Mr. Higbie to resume his studies at Northwestern university's medical school.

The wedding took place at 4 p.m. with Dr. Paul Stumpf officiating. White candles and white poinsettias decorated the church for the ceremony during which Mr. Laughlin gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride chose a gown of white taffeta fashioned princess style with empire bow and chapel train. The gown was trimmed in lace and seed pearls and a seed pearl crown held her bouffant veil. Her flowers were lilies of the valley and stephanotis.

MISS MARY Eaton of Evanston was the bride's maid of honor and wore a gown of iridescent turquoise peau de soie with matching headpiece and shoes. Her flowers were red roses. Bridesmaids were Pamela Claussen of Skokie, the groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. H. Ferris White III of Massachusetts, and Miss Katherine Hammond of Pittsburgh. Their gowns and flowers were identical to the maid of honor's.

H. Ferris White III was his brother's best man and another brother, Stephen White of Winnetka, and the bride's brothers, James and Robert Laughlin of Arlington Heights, were ushers.

Two hundred guests attended the reception held in Rolling Green country club where Mrs. Laughlin received in a toast lace over taffeta dress with matching flower hat and shoes and corsage in a blending shade. Mrs. White chose a pale green taffeta gown with red corsage and hat.

The bride was graduated from Arlington high school and Northwestern university. Her bridegroom was graduated from Williams college before entering Northwestern. (S

Mr. and Mrs. Herman F. Meyn, 50-year residents of Mt. Prospect at 21 S. Maple, and lifetime residents of the area, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary December 29 in Salt Creek country club, Itasca, with 75 relatives and friends.

Mr. Meyn, a blacksmith and implement dealer for 41 years before his retirement in 1955, was born in Mt. Prospect. He was married in 1911 to the former Ida Deeke, a native of Palatine, by Rev. Noack in St. Peter church, Arlington Heights. For eight years he served as president of Mt. Prospect village board and is also a charter member of the fire department.

The couple has two daughters, Mrs. Preston Winkelman of Mt. Prospect and Mrs. Kurt Grotheer, wife of Rev. Grotheer of the Lutheran Church of St. Luke in Itasca. The couple also has six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. (S

Gardeners to Hear Naturalist Monday

Charles A. Westcott, naturalist with the Forest Preserve district of Cook county, will be the featured speaker at the January 22 meeting of Arlington Heights Garden Club. Honeymooners Leave 'Old Man Winter' for Sunnier Climes

After their December 9 nuptials in St. John United Church of Christ, Bensenville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walter Dierking left the winter scene behind as they journeyed south for a 10-day honeymoon in the balmy climate of "The Sunshine State," destination being one of Florida's key cities, Miami.

Shortly before, amid a candlelight setting, the former Mary Francis Tischler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tischler of Niles, and Mr. Dierking, son of the Oscar Dierkings, 2110 Landmeier, Elk Grove Village, exchanged vows at 5:30 p.m.

Rev. Robert rBacke officiated. White mums and yellow stephanotis, used for altar decorations, also formed the bride's bouquet. Arthur Kuester, a family friend, gave Miss Tischler's hand in marriage.

FASHIONED with chantilly lace over satin, the bride's dress was floor-length and had long, pointed sleeves. Features were a 5-tier bell shaped skirt and round neckline, accented with matching lace.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Betty Jacquay of Niles, who was gowned in a short white chiffon dress with matching stole, Juliet cap and veil. In striking accent, she carried a bouquet of red carnations and white mums.

Mrs. Tischler's choice was a dark grey dress with black accessories and red carnation corsage. The groom's mother preferred a light grey brocade sheath and coat and yellow carnations.

NINETY GUESTS feted the pair at a reception and dinner held later in the home of the senior Dierkings; assisting was another son, Robert Dierking, who served his brother as best man.

New address of the bridal pair is 3835 N. Newcastle, Chicago. The bride was graduated from St. Patrick academy. Mr. Dierking completed studies at Arlingtin high school and Washburne Trade school, Chicago, and is now employed at Hohmeier Lumber Co. in the city.

Home Emergency Facilities Urged

Now is a good time to check up on your "home emergency" facilities.

O. L. Hogsett, University of Illinois extension safety specialist, lists these suggestions:

Place first aid kits in easily accessible places in your home, workshop, barn, car and on your tractor and other farm equipment. A good first aid kit need not be expensive or hard to make. A unit-type kit is recommended. However, a tight, metal box can easily be equipped as a first aid kit. The box should be clean and well labeled. The American Red Cross First Aid Book can serve as reference for the articles the kit should contain. Some basic items are sterile gauze and cotton, rolls of adhesive, a good antiseptic, sterile applicators and a remedy for burns.

IF YOU ALREADY have first aid kits, be sure to restock them and keep materials in good condition.

Check your medicine chest and throw away anything that is old, stale or outdated. Each jar, bottle and box should be clearly labeled. If the medicine chest isn't in a convenient location, fix up a first aid kit to keep close at hand.

List telephone numbers for your doctor, hospital and other emergency services in a convenient spot.

Take first aid training so that you can handle emergency situations wisely. (Soc

Circular Gives Fine Points Of 'Wheelchair Kitchens'

Architects, builders and home owners who are concerned with problems of the handicapped and aged will find many fine points on kitchen design for women in wheelchairs in a University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service publication recently off the press.

The 31-page circular, "Kitchens for Women in Wheel-Chairs," contains photographs and working drawings for specially designed work and storage units plus information about suitable commercial appliances. The circular also has drawings of kitchen arrangements — both floor plans and elevations. A competent carpenter should be able to work from the drawings with little difficulty.

IN GENERAL, the design of wheelchair kitchens follows that of conventional kitchens with base cabinets 24 inches deep (front-to-back measurement) and wall cabinets 12 inches deep. Wheelchair kitchen designs differ from the standard mainly in that they require knee space under major work surfaces and lower heights for counters, sinks, cooking units and shelves in wall cabinets.

All recommendations in the circular are based on the results of a three-year study at the university of 26 women confined to wheelchairs, who were measured and tested in their use of kitchens. Helen E. McCullough, associate professor of home economics emerita, directed the research.

"Kitchens for Women in Wheelchairs," by Helen McCullough and Mary B. Farnham, College of Agriculture Extension Service Circular 841, may be obtained from your county home adviser or the Information Office, 112 Mumford Hall, University of Illinois, Urbana. Copies are free to Illinois residents; 25 cents for out-of-state residents. (Soc

Honeymooners Leave 'Old Man Winter' for Su nnier Climes

After their December 9 nuptials in St. John United Church of Christ, Bensenville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walter Dierking left the winter scene behind as they journeyed south for a 10-day honeymoon in the balmy climate of "The Sunshine State," destination being one of Florida's key cities, Miami.

Shortly before, amid a candlelight setting, the former Mary Francis Tischler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tischler of Niles, and Mr. Dierking, son of the Oscar Dierkings, 2110 Landmeier, Elk Grove Village, exchanged vows at 5:30 p.m.

Rev. Robert rBacke officiated. White mums and yellow stephanotis, used for altar decorations, also formed the bride's bouquet. Arthur Kuester, a family friend, gave Miss Tischler's hand in marriage.

FASHIONED with chantilly lace over satin, the bride's dress was floor-length and had long, pointed sleeves. Features were a 5-tier bell shaped skirt and round neckline, accented with matching lace.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Betty Jacquay of Niles, who was gowned in a short white chiffon dress with matching stole, Juliet cap and veil. In striking accent, she carried a bouquet of red carnations and white mums.

Mrs. Tischler's choice was a dark grey dress with black accessories and red carnation corsage. The groom's mother preferred a light grey brocade sheath and coat and yellow carnations.

NINETY GUESTS feted the pair at a reception and dinner held later in the home of the senior Dierkings; assisting was another son, Robert Dierking, who served his brother as best man.

New address of the bridal pair is 3835 N. Newcastle, Chicago. The bride was graduated from St. Patrick academy. Mr. Dierking completed studies at Arlingtin high school and Washburne Trade school, Chicago, and is now employed at Hohmeier Lumber Co. in the city.

Mrs. Thomas Rickard, chairman of Mt. Prospect Woman's club's card party and luncheon announces that a limited number of tickets are still available for the party, which will feature a millinery show. The luncheon party will be held at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 23, in the Northwest Suburban YMCA.

Since table space is limited, committee members hope for early reservations. In charge of the reservations are Mrs. Rickard, CL 5-9304 and Mrs. M. L. Hall, CL 5-3268. (S

Circular Gives Fine Points Of 'Wheelchair Kitchens'

Architects, builders and home owners who are concerned with problems of the handicapped and aged will find many fine points on kitchen design for women in wheelchairs in a University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service publication recently off the press.

The 31-page circular, "Kitchens for Women in Wheel-Chairs," contains photographs and working drawings for specially designed work and storage units plus information about suitable commercial appliances. The circular also has drawings of kitchen arrangements — both floor plans and elevations. A competent carpenter should be able to work from the drawings with little difficulty.

IN GENERAL, the design of wheelchair kitchens follows that of conventional kitchens with base cabinets 24 inches deep (front-to-back measurement) and wall cabinets 12 inches deep. Wheelchair kitchen designs differ from the standard mainly in that they require knee space under major work surfaces and lower heights for counters, sinks, cooking units and shelves in wall cabinets.

All recommendations in the circular are based on the results of a three-year study at the university of 26 women confined to wheelchairs, who were measured and tested in their use of kitchens. Helen E. McCullough, associate professor of home economics emerita, directed the research.

"Kitchens for Women in Wheelchairs," by Helen McCullough and Mary B. Farnham, College of Agriculture Extension Service Circular 841, may be obtained from your county home adviser or the Information Office, 112 Mumford Hall, University of Illinois, Urbana. Copies are free to Illinois residents; 25 cents for out-of-state residents. (Soc

Applesauce Cookies Rate High on Teenager's List

What do you do about teenage snacks? Complain because they are frequently full of so-called "empty calories? "—or do you make an extra effort to see that nutritious snacks are easily accessible and available for your active teen-agers?

Snacks account for one-tenth to one-fourth of the daily nutrients and calorie intake of this age group.

Cereal and milk, whether served as the cereal and milk serving or used as recipe ingredients, have much to add to the nutritive content of snacks.

CEREAL FLAKE Applesauce Cookies with milk shakes are filling, nutritious snack. The milk shakes can vary in caloric content from chocolate-flavored nonfat milk to the thick, rich malts that require a spoon to consume.

Breakfast cereals, when used as an ingredient, make contributions of protein, B vitamins, and minerals.

CEREAL FLAKE APPLESAUCE COOKIES

2 cups sifted flour
½ cup granulated sugar
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup soft fat
1 egg
1 cup strained applesauce
2 cups bran flakes, raisin bran flakes, or whole wheat flakes

Sift first 7 ingredients into mixing bowl. Add brown sugar, fat, egg, and applesauce; mix until smooth. Fold in cereal. Drop heaping tablespoonfuls 2 inches apart onto greased baking sheet.

Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) until done and lightly browned, 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: About 2 dozen cookies.

Week's Best Food Buys

All food markets cast a fuzzy appearance of erratically soaring costs as seen through frosted glasses of buyers stepping from the bitter cold outside to the warmth of 'hot' markets.

This was happening all over the country and especially in such unexpected growing areas of the deep south and southwest, where long standing low temperature records were shattered.

The far west, not quite so cold, was drenched and heading into a temperature slump. Crop damage extends into Mexico.

CROPS LOADED for transit before the onslaught were frequently trapped enroute and running days behind scheduled arrival in Chicago.

The weather and transportation devastation of last week sent retail prices of most food lines soaring briskly for the buying period ending January 20 on the University of Illinois consumer service service.

Wholesale costs took the first big jump and reflecting retails are mostly unpredictable.

Hardest hit are the perishable fresh produce lines. Wholesale costs for several lines have nearly doubled and considerable speculator action is a tangent factor adding to the cost bulge.

Those few produce values to be seen on consumer markets will come mostly from storage stocks or will be found in hardier lines.

GREEN BEANS that quoted $4.50 at wholesale last week topped $7.50 at last reports; cabbage $1.75 a week ago was up to $4.00-$4.50; and tomatoes that had been rated sluggish and low cost soared over the $7.00 per 20-pound lug level.

Also much higher are peppers, cucumbers, carrots, spinach, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower and the whole line of tender greens.

Retail prices of red meats were in doubt, too, with indications that most stores will be forced to maintain the higher levels of last week.

Live markets were steady to as much as ½ cent higher on cattle, ½ to ¾ cent higher on hogs, lambs holding unchanged in the face of a 40 per cent drop in receipts.

WHOLESALE beef responded by posting a ½ cent to 1 cent increase in costs, pork moving briskly up 3½ cents before a late-week settling. The general outlook is as clear as the weather, but fewer pork values are expected. Lamb was the only line to show a cost decline, of 1 cent.

In poultry, turkey trade continues inactive with toms posting 35-39 cents and hens 39-45 cents general competitive levels, fryers slightly lower at wholesale hold a 29-33 cent promotional level and 37-39 cent general level and stewing hens, firmer at market, holding 39-45 cent retails.

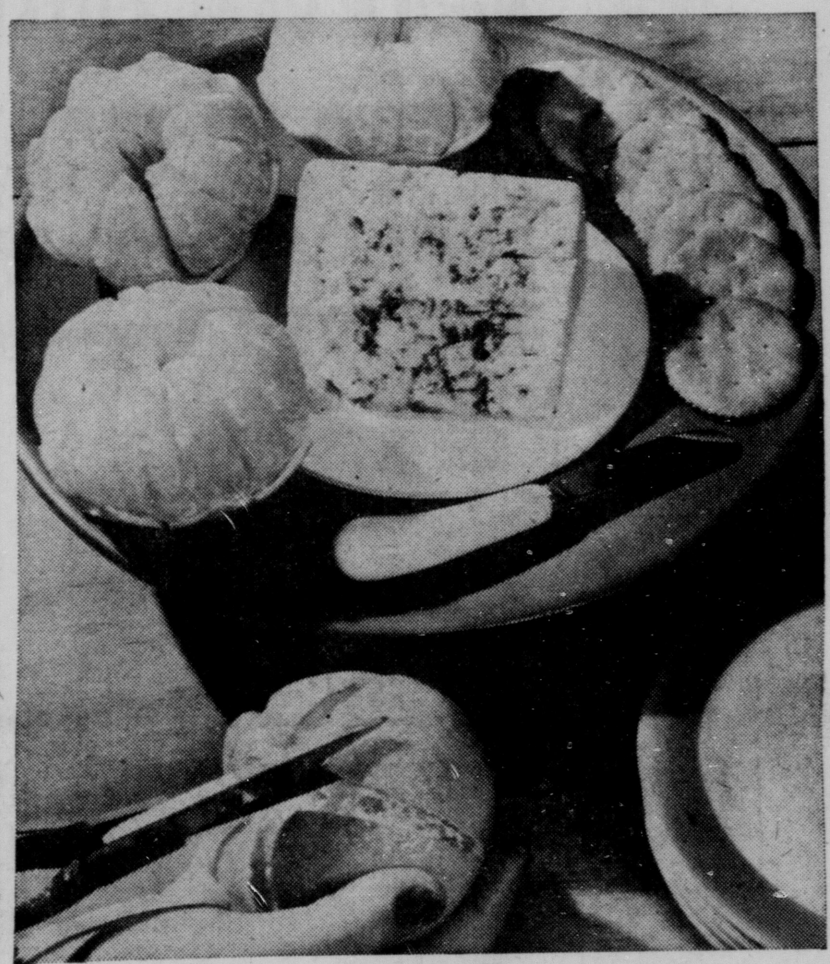
Eggs seemed to be the only line showing signs of normal market behavior, arrivals of larger sizes continuing at increased volume despite the weather to set a steady tone over costs.

RETAILS HOLD 49 cents for large grade A and 43 cents for medium size. Some weakening of prices for large sizes is noted. Egg production is about 4 per cent over year-ago.

Indications are that retailers might put emphasis on promotional activities in the grocery lines. Meanwhile, consumers can seek out these limited bargains appearing on the U. of I. value list this week:

Meats — beef steaks, ground beef, bacon, pork butt roasts and steaks, lamb shoulder and leg roasts; poultry—fryers and large eggs; produce—potatoes, onions, celery, broccoli, radishes, apples, grapefruit and bananas.

Florida Proud of Fruit



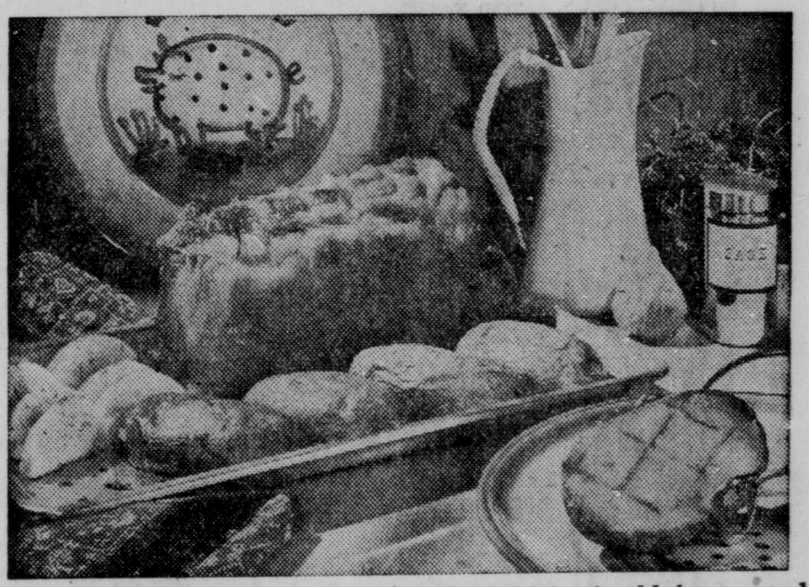
Florida Temple oranges, the delicious variety that looks like an orange and peels just like a tangerine, reach their maturity during January and February, so eat your fill while they're here in plenty.

They're the perfect solution to the question of between-meal snacks that are nourishing and low-caloried, and make a light, refreshing dessert teamed with cheese and crackers.

Temples can be prettily prepared for company by cutting the peel into eighths, almost to the bottom; or by cutting it into thin strips and folding back to resemble chrysanthemums.

THE ORIGINAL tree from which propogation of the Temple oranges was started stands on the old Temple place near Winter Park, Fla., and was named for the late William Chase Temple, who did much for Florida's citrus industry.

Good Eating from Idaho



Halved Idaho russet potatoes and sweet Spanish onions baked in the drippings of the roast loin of pork made a mighty good, as well as obliging, all-in-the-oven meal.

Serve it with coleslaw or Waldorf salad, hot rolls, beverage, a light or no dessert. Here is a menu you'll repeat many times.

THESE TWO famous Idaho-grown vegetables, such good buys in our markets now, may be served in so many ways that they may well become the backbone of many a meal, sometimes a meal in themselves.

ROAST PORK WITH POTATOES, ONIONS

(for 6 servings)

4-pound pork loin roast
3 or 4 large Idaho potatoes
3 large Idaho Sweet Spanish onions
powdered sage
salt and pepper

Pre-heat oven to 325 degrees (slightly under moderate). Allow 2 hours for total cooking time. Place pork in shallow pan with room enough to put vegetables around meat.

Rub with salt and coarse-grind black pepper. Place in oven while preparing vegetables which should be around 15 minutes.

PEEL ONIONS, cut in quarters lengthwise. Scrub potatoes thoroughly. Do not peel. Cut in halves lengthwise. On cut side make diamond shapes by uniformly cutting crisscross just the slightest bit with a sharp knife.

Sprinkle cut side lightly with salt.

Take pork from oven. Place onion quarters and potato halves, skin side up, around pork. Sprinkle onion lightly with salt and powdered sage. Return pan to oven.

AFTER A HALF hour, baste vegetables with drippings from meat. Repeat twice. The whole meal will be ready 2 hours after pork is placed in the oven.

Vegetables should be fork-tender and a meat thermometer in pork should read 185 degrees. Always serve fresh pork well-done. It should be gray with no tinge of pink.

REMOVE PORK and vegetables to warm platter, placing potatoes cut side up. The roast pork drippings will have cooked into the potatoes and onions giving them a fine flavor. Gravy may be made with remaining drippings. (SH

Week's Best Food Buys

All food markets cast a fuzzy appearance of erratically soaring costs as seen through frosted glasses of buyers stepping from the bitter cold outside to the warmth of 'hot' markets.

This was happening all over the country and especially in such unexpected growing areas of the deep south and southwest, where long standing low temperature records were shattered.

The far west, not quite so cold, was drenched and heading into a temperature slump. Crop damage extends into Mexico.

CROPS LOADED for transit before the onslaught were frequently trapped enroute and running days behind scheduled arrival in Chicago.

The weather and transportation devastation of last week sent retail prices of most food lines soaring briskly for the buying period ending January 20 on the University of Illinois consumer service service.

Wholesale costs took the first big jump and reflecting retails are mostly unpredictable.

Hardest hit are the perishable fresh produce lines. Wholesale costs for several lines have nearly doubled and considerable speculator action is a tangent factor adding to the cost bulge.

Those few produce values to be seen on consumer markets will come mostly from storage stocks or will be found in hardier lines.

GREEN BEANS that quoted $4.50 at wholesale last week topped $7.50 at last reports; cabbage $1.75 a week ago was up to $4.00-$4.50; and tomatoes that had been rated sluggish and low cost soared over the $7.00 per 20-pound lug level.

Also much higher are peppers, cucumbers, carrots, spinach, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower and the whole line of tender greens.

Retail prices of red meats were in doubt, too, with indications that most stores will be forced to maintain the higher levels of last week.

Live markets were steady to as much as ½ cent higher on cattle, ½ to ¾ cent higher on hogs, lambs holding unchanged in the face of a 40 per cent drop in receipts.

WHOLESALE beef responded by posting a ½ cent to 1 cent increase in costs, pork moving briskly up 3½ cents before a late-week settling. The general outlook is as clear as the weather, but fewer pork values are expected. Lamb was the only line to show a cost decline, of 1 cent.

In poultry, turkey trade continues inactive with toms posting 35-39 cents and hens 39-45 cents general competitive levels, fryers slightly lower at wholesale hold a 29-33 cent promotional level and 37-39 cent general level and stewing hens, firmer at market, holding 39-45 cent retails.

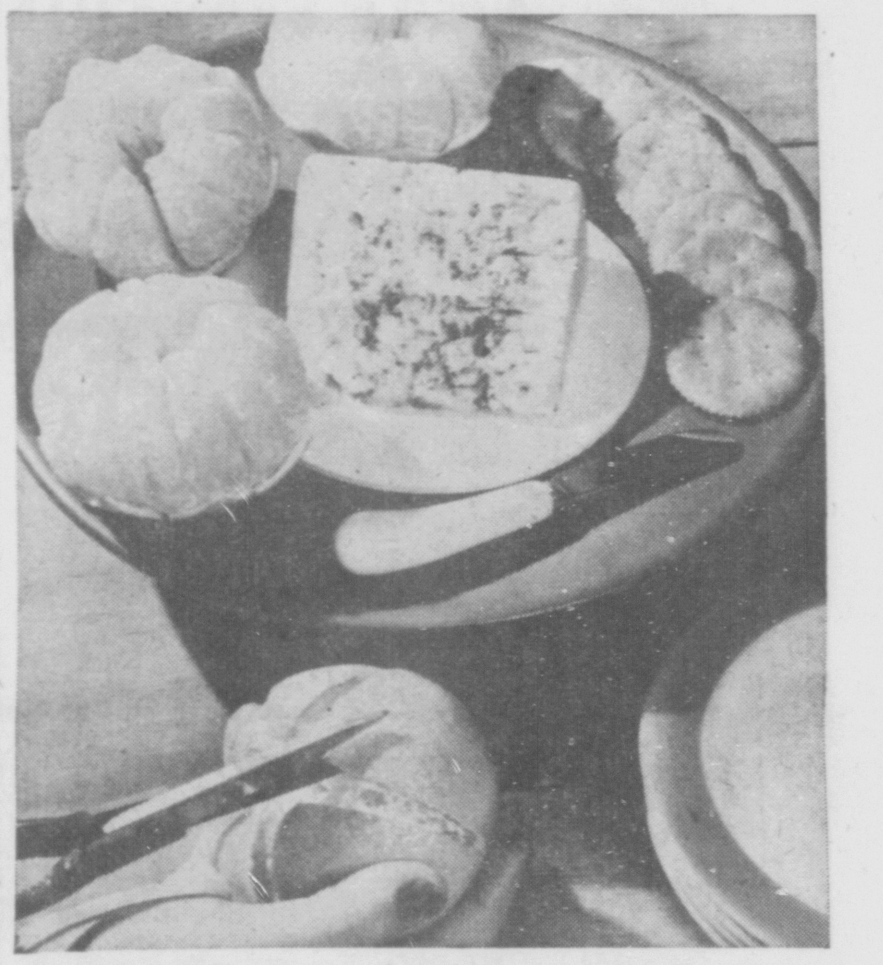
Eggs seemed to be the only line showing signs of normal market behavior, arrivals of larger sizes continuing at increased volume despite the weather to set a steady tone over costs.

RETAILS HOLD 49 cents for large grade A and 43 cents for medium size. Some weakening of prices for large sizes is noted. Egg production is about 4 per cent over year-ago.

Indications are that retailers might put emphasis on promotional activities in the grocery lines. Meanwhile, consumers can seek out these limited bargains appearing on the U. of I. value list this week:

Meats — beef steaks, ground beef, bacon, pork butt roasts and steaks, lamb shoulder and leg roasts; poultry—fryers and large eggs; produce—potatoes, onions, celery, broccoli, radishes, apples, grapefruit and bananas.

Florida Proud of Fruit



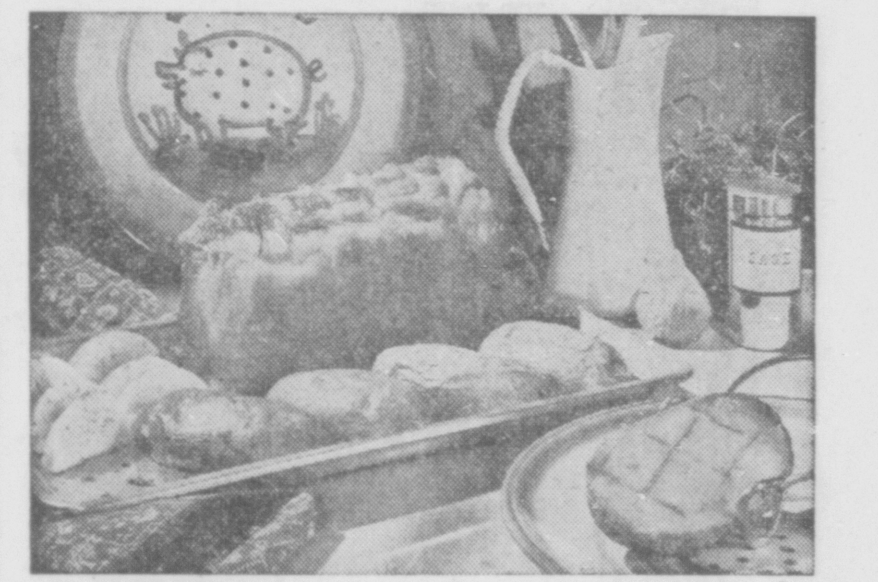
Florida Temple oranges, the delicious variety that looks like an orange and peels just like a tangerine, reach their maturity during January and February, so eat your fill while they're here in plenty.

They're the perfect solution to the question of between-meal snacks that are nourishing and low-caloried, and make a light, refreshing dessert teamed with cheese and crackers.

Temples can be prettily prepared for company by cutting the peel into eighths, almost to the bottom; or by cutting it into thin strips and folding back to resemble chrysanthemums.

THE ORIGINAL tree from which propogation of the Temple oranges was started stands on the old Temple place near Winter Park, Fla., and was named for the late William Chase Temple, who did much for Florida's citrus industry.

Good Eating from Idaho



Halved Idaho russet potatoes and sweet Spanish onions baked in the drippings of the roast loin of pork made a mighty good, as well as obliging, all-in-the-oven meal.

Serve it with coleslaw or Waldorf salad, hot rolls, beverage, a light or no dessert. Here is a menu you'll repeat many times.

THESE TWO famous Idaho-grown vegetables, such good buys in our markets now, may be served in so many ways that they may well become the backbone of many a meal, sometimes a meal in themselves.

ROAST PORK WITH POTATOES, ONIONS

(for 6 servings)

4-pound pork loin roast
3 or 4 large Idaho potatoes
3 large Idaho Sweet Spanish onions
powdered sage
salt and pepper

Pre-heat oven to 325 degrees (slightly under moderate). Allow 2 hours for total cooking time. Place pork in shallow pan with room enough to put vegetables around meat.

Rub with salt and coarse-grind black pepper. Place in oven while preparing vegetables which should be around 15 minutes.

PEEL ONIONS, cut in quarters lengthwise. Scrub potatoes thoroughly. Do not peel. Cut in halves lengthwise. On cut side make diamond shapes by uniformly cutting crisscross just the slightest bit with a sharp knife.

Sprinkle cut side lightly with salt.

Take pork from oven. Place onion quarters and potato halves, skin side up, around pork. Sprinkle onion lightly with salt and powdered sage. Return pan to oven.

AFTER A HALF hour, baste vegetables with drippings from meat. Repeat twice. The whole meal will be ready 2 hours after pork is placed in the oven.

Vegetables should be fork-tender and a meat thermometer in pork should read 185 degrees. Always serve fresh pork well-done. It should be gray with no tinge of pink.

REMOVE PORK and vegetables to warm platter, placing potatoes cut side up. The roast pork drippings will have cooked into the potatoes and onions giving them a fine flavor. Gravy may be made with remaining drippings. (SH

Fellowship President's 'Dark Secret' Traced to Atlanta

SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

by LOIS SEILER

It's no mystery why Mrs. Wayne I. Rosenquist's Dark Secret is causing a big sensation. Although new to most, this "secret" has been known in Mrs. Rosenquist's family for years, but is currently creating quite a stir among local culinary artists.

Anyone who tastes this Dark Secret dessert is eager to know its recipe, but no sleuthing is necessary for Mrs. Rosenquist has willingly shared this Dark Secret equally excellent recipes with our readers this week.

In appearance Dark Secret resembles an igloo. But underneath this fluffy mound of whipped cream is a dark and delectable combination of broken pieces of a moist date cake assembled in layers with fruit such as oranges, bananas, cherries and crushed pineapple.

GARNISHED with cherries, this attractive and unusual dessert is perfect for buffet suppers, where guests can serve themselves.

"The fruit combination makes this dessert quite refreshing," commented Mrs. Rosenquist, who likes to serve it as an afternoon or evening refreshment.

If you like lima beans, you'll love this good cook's recipe for a Pork Chop and Lima Bean Casserole. And if you're not fond of their flavor, you'll find that this recipe really dresses them up into an appealing taste treat.

CATSUP AND poultry seasoning are combined with cooked limas in a casserole. Topped by pork chops and skillet drippings, they acquire a delicious flavor during the baking period.

"I usually bake potatoes and apples in the oven along with the casserole," said Mrs. Rosenquist. "Only a salad is needed to complete this oven meal."

Mrs. Rosenquist received this recipe from her mother, who lives in Atlanta, and it, as well as the Dark Secret, are family favorites.

BECAUSE THEY are all partial to cinnamon, Sugar and Spice Balls, too, are favorites in the Rosenquist family. In addition to cinnamon, these delightful cookies contain crushed cornflakes and chopped nuts. They are rolled in confectioners sugar while warm and have a tempting, spicy flavor.

These cookies make a big hit with the Rosenquists' two children, Ricky, 3½, and Cindy, 2.

The Rosenquist family lives at 119 N. Elmhurst avenue in Mount Prospect.

CINDY AND RICKEY ROSENQUIST look on with interest as their mother, Mrs. Wayne I. Rosenquist of Mt. Prospect, mixes batter for their favorite cookies, Sugar and Spice Balls. Crushed cornflakes and chopped nuts add interest to these cinnamon-flavored cookies which have a tempting spicy flavor.

1 cup granulated sugar
½ cup all-purpose flour, sifted
1 teaspoon baking powder
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 pound dates, cut
1 cup walnuts, chopped
1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat egg yolks with a fork. Beat egg whites until slightly stiff. Add sugar gradually and beat well.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Sprinkle some of this mixture over dates and chopped nuts.

Add sifted dry ingredients to the yolks then the nuts, dates and vanilla. Fold in egg whites.

Turn into a greased, 9 by 13 inch pan and bake for 30 minutes in a 350 degree oven. Break up half of the cake in pieces and place on a large serving plate. Prepare the following fruit:

2 oranges, cut in round slices
4 bananas, sliced
1 large can bing cherries, well-drained
1 small can crushed pineapple and juice

Arrange oranges, bananas and cherries over pieces of cake. Break up remainder of cake and arrange over fruit, forming a mound. Pour crushed pineapple (both fruit and juice) over all. When ready to serve, frost with whipped cream and garnish with cherries.

Yield: 10 servings.

Brown chops on both sides and season with salt and pepper. In ungreased two-quart casserole, combine beans, catsup and poultry seasoning. Top with pork chops. Add saved liquid to drippings in skillet and stir. Pour over chops.

Cover and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, until chops and beans are done, about one hour.

Serves 4.

SUGAR AND SPICE BALLS

2 cups cornflakes
1 cup butter or margarine
1/3 cup sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Gastronomic History Told In Illustrated Cook Book

An excitingly new cook book full of curious lore of culinary art down through the ages, the first of its kind to trace the history of cookery, was published on January 12 by a New York firm, Doubleday and Co., Inc.

Author of "Cooks, Gluttons and Gourmets," Betty Wason, spent years gathering material for the history which includes 150 recipes translated from the original sources in all languages, adapted for modern American kitchens.

FROM THE days of primitive man, who 40,000 years ago roasted his meat wrapped in vine leaves and smoked his fish to preserve it, to the marvels of today's supermarket, the world's gastronomic record is told in story form and illustration.

Even queens kept records of favorite recipes, one of them being Queen Anne, who on occasion toyed with the skillet herself. And during her reign flowers were used not only in the preparation of drinks but in food dishes, too.

MEDIEVAL feasting produced some of the world's most gargantuan menus and historic heights of gluttony. A French cook book published in 1395 advised against attempting even a medium-sized banquet with fewer than 300 servants to prepare the dozens of elaborate courses.

The first actual cook book appeared about 42 B.C. in Latin by Apicius, relates Miss Wason, who takes readers back to the classic days of Greece and Rome, to ancient Persia, India and China, describing cooking feats and fancies, feasts and banquets, plus typical menus and ingredients of dishes served.

AND IT WAS a dull Apician sauce that did not contain at least a dozen or more foodstuffs for flavor richness. Sauce for pigeons boasted pepper, parsley, lovage, dried mint, saffron blended with wine, honey, vinegar and liquamen, olive oil, crushed nuts, celery and catmint.

Liquamen was the Latin soy sauce, used in place of salt. Yet the recipe for Roman Roast Pork is simple: a 5-pound pork shoulder spread with two tablespoons each honey and cream sherry, one teaspoon anchovy paste, mixed well and brushed on during roasting.

THE INFLUENCE of cookery, developed at the French court, spread across Europe as the gourmet tastes of kings set up competition between the ladies, which strained art and imagination.

Many a mistress came to power because of her culinary inventions and many lost favor as their dishes lost flavor. But with discovery of the New World, new spices were added to old recipes and especially fruitful was the marriage of Mexican and Spanish dishes.

"COOKS, GLUTTONS and Gourmets" carries the tale of cookery on through Colonial America, when the nation's leaders, particularly Thomas Jefferson, made gastronomical as well as political history. New Egnland, southern and creole cooking all developed separately.

Miss Wason's book, with over 100 recipes which have endured through the centuries, show homemakers how they, too, can eat with spice like rich people of years gone by. (SH

Chafing Dish Rabbit Puts Cheese In Pink

Cheese—in the pink, is by way of introducing you to an easy way to whip up a chafing dish rabbit. The recipe calls for a can of condensed tomato soup in which half a pound of cheese is melted, making a colorful dish of festive pink with a rich, luscious flavor.

A chafing dish rabbit is a good, hospitable dish to serve as a late-evening snack before guests depart into the chilly winter night. It's easy on the hostess, too, simply make it up ahead of time and keep it hot.

THE TOP SECRET is choosing the seasonings with care; in addition to onion, dry mustard and paprika, the recipe calls for Tabasco, the concentrated peppery red liquid spice that ages to perfection for three years before it ever reaches your grocer's shelf.

Just a small amount adds needed zest to bland cheese dishes, bringing out their good flavor.

CHAFING DISH RABBIT is a hospitable dish to serve as a late-evening snack to departing guests on a chilly night. For new flavor and color interest, the cheese melts in tomato soup seasoned with Tabasco.

EASY TOMATO CHEESE RABBIT

1 can condensed tomato soup
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
½ teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon paprika
½ cup water
1 medium onion, sliced
2 cups (½ pound) grated American cheese
1 egg, separated

Combine tomato soup, Tabasco, dry mustard, paprika and water in top of double boiler or chafing dish. Add onion; cook over direct heat until onion is tender, about 10 minutes.

Add cheese; place over boiling water and stir until melted. Gradually stir small amount of hot mixture into beaten egg yolk.

Beat egg white until stiff, but not dry. Add egg yolk-cheese mixture, stirring to blend well. Return to cheese mixture in double boiler and cook 5 minutes longer. Serve on toast points or crackers.

Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Sunny Salad Brightens Menu With 'Warm' Colors

Here is a salad that is reminiscent of summer. The sunny color of orange pineapple flavor gelatin is mixed with raisins, carrots, and crushed pineapple to give interesting texture and taste.

Molded as shown here, this is ar attractive dish for party entertaining. Or, if you prefer, the Gold Rush Salad can be chilled in a serving dish, then "spooned" onto lettuce and topped with mayonnaise.

GOLD RUSH SALAD

1 regular size package (3 ounces) orange pineapple flavor gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 can (1 lb. 4½ oz.) pineapple tidbits
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 cup grated raw carrots
1/3 cup raisins

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Drain pineapple tidbits, measuring juice. Add water to juice to make one cup. Add pineapple juice and orange rind to gelatin.

Chill until slightly thickened. Then fold in pineapple, carrots, and raisins. Pour into 1½-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce and garnish with carrot curls and water cress, if desired.

Makes 6 to 8 servings. (SH

Fellowship President's 'Dark Secret' Traced to Atlanta

SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

by LOIS SEILER

It's no mystery why Mrs. Wayne I. Rosenquist's Dark Secret is causing a big sensation. Although new to most, this "secret" has been known in Mrs. Rosenquist's family for years, but is currently creating quite a stir among local culinary artists.

Anyone who tastes this Dark Secret dessert is eager to know its recipe, but no sleuthing is necessary for Mrs. Rosenquist has willingly shared this Dark Secret equally excellent recipes with our readers this week.

In appearance Dark Secret resembles an igloo. But underneath this fluffy mound of whipped cream is a dark and delectable combination of broken pieces of a moist date cake assembled in layers with fruit such as oranges, bananas, cherries and crushed pineapple.

GARNISHED with cherries, this attractive and unusual dessert is perfect for buffet suppers, where guests can serve themselves.

"The fruit combination makes this dessert quite refreshing," commented Mrs. Rosenquist, who likes to serve it as an afternoon or evening refreshment.

If you like lima beans, you'll love this good cook's recipe for a Pork Chop and Lima Bean Casserole. And if you're not fond of their flavor, you'll find that this recipe really dresses them up into an appealing taste treat.

CATSUP AND poultry seasoning are combined with cooked limas in a casserole. Topped by pork chops and skillet drippings, they acquire a delicious flavor during the baking period.

"I usually bake potatoes and apples in the oven along with the casserole," said Mrs. Rosenquist. "Only a salad is needed to complete this oven meal."

Mrs. Rosenquist received this recipe from her mother, who lives in Atlanta, and it, as well as the Dark Secret, are family favorites.

BECAUSE THEY are all partial to cinnamon, Sugar and Spice Balls, too, are favorites in the Rosenquist family. In addition to cinnamon, these delightful cookies contain crushed cornflakes and chopped nuts. They are rolled in confectioners sugar while warm and have a tempting, spicy flavor.

These cookies make a big hit with the Rosenquists' two children, Ricky, 3½, and Cindy, 2.

In addition to her culinary interests, Mrs. Rosenquist is quite active in church work at the Northwest Covenant church, where she is president of the Women's fellowship.

The Rosenquist family lives at 119 N. Elmhurst avenue in Mount Prospect.

CINDY AND RICKEY ROSENQUIST look on with interest as their mother, Mrs. Wayne I. Rosenquist of Mt. Prospect, mixes batter for their favorite cookies, Sugar and Spice Balls. Crushed cornflakes and chopped nuts add interest to these cinnamon-flavored cookies which have a tempting spicy flavor.

1 cup granulated sugar
½ cup all-purpose flour, sifted
1 teaspoon baking powder
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 pound dates, cut
1 cup walnuts, chopped
1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat egg yolks with a fork. Beat egg whites until slightly stiff. Add sugar gradually and beat well.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Sprinkle some of this mixture over dates and chopped nuts.

Add sifted dry ingredients to the yolks then the nuts, dates and vanilla. Fold in egg whites.

Turn into a greased, 9 by 13 inch pan and bake for 30 minutes in a 350 degree oven. Break up half of the cake in pieces and place on a large serving plate. Prepare the following fruit:

2 oranges, cut in round slices
4 bananas, sliced
1 large can bing cherries, well-drained
1 small can crushed pineapple and juice

Arrange oranges, bananas and cherries over pieces of cake. Break up remainder of cake and arrange over fruit, forming a mound. Pour crushed pineapple (both fruit and juice) over all. When ready to serve, frost with whipped cream and garnish with cherries.

Yield: 10 servings.

PORK CHOP and LIMA BEAN CASSEROLE

1 cup large dry limas
2½ cups water
1 teaspoon salt
4 pork chops, one inch thick
¼ cup catsup
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning

Rinse limas, add water and bring to a boil. Simmer for two minutes and remove from heat. Cover and let stand for one hour. Add salt and let simmer an additional hour until limas are almost tender. Drain and save 2/3 cup liquid.

Brown chops on both sides and season with salt and pepper. In ungreased two-quart casserole, combine beans, catsup and poultry seasoning. Top with pork chops. Add saved liquid to drippings in skillet and stir. Pour over chops.

Cover and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, until chops and beans are done, about one hour.

Serves 4.

SUGAR AND SPICE BALLS

2 cups cornflakes
1 cup butter or margarine
1/3 cup sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup finely-chopped nutmeats
1½ cups sifted confectioners sugar

Crush cornflakes into fine crumbs. Blend butter, sugar and vanilla.

Sift together flour and cinnamon. Add cornflake crumbs and nut meats to butter mixture and mix well. Then add flour and beat well.

Shape into small balls and place on greased baking sheet. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 30 minutes. Roll immediately, white hot, into confectioners sugar.

Yield: approximately 4 dozen cookies. (SH

Gastronomic History Told In Illustrated Cook Book

An excitingly new cook book full of curious lore of culinary art down through the ages, the first of its kind to trace the history of cookery, was published on January 12 by a New York firm, Doubleday and Co., Inc.

Author of "Cooks, Gluttons and Gourmets," Betty Wason, spent years gathering material for the history which includes 150 recipes translated from the original sources in all languages, adapted for modern American kitchens.

FROM THE days of primitive man, who 40,000 years ago roasted his meat wrapped in vine leaves and smoked his fish to preserve it, to the marvels of today's supermarket, the world's gastronomic record is told in story form and illustration.

Even queens kept records of favorite recipes, one of them being Queen Anne, who on occasion toyed with the skillet herself. And during her reign flowers were used not only in the preparation of drinks but in food dishes, too.

MEDIEVAL feasting produced some of the world's most gargantuan menus and historic heights of gluttony. A French cook book published in 1395 advised against attempting even a medium-sized banquet with fewer than 300 servants to prepare the dozens of elaborate courses.

The first actual cook book appeared about 42 B.C. in Latin by Apicius, relates Miss Wason, who takes readers back to the classic days of Greece and Rome, to ancient Persia, India and China, describing cooking feats and fancies, feasts and banquets, plus typical menus and ingredients of dishes served.

AND IT WAS a dull Apician sauce that did not contain at least a dozen or more foodstuffs for flavor richness. Sauce for pigeons boasted pepper, parsley, lovage, dried mint, saffron blended with wine, honey, vinegar and liquamen, olive oil, crushed nuts, celery and catmint.

Liquamen was the Latin soy sauce, used in place of salt. Yet the recipe for Roman Roast Pork is simple: a 5-pound pork shoulder spread with two tablespoons each honey and cream sherry, one teaspoon anchovy paste, mixed well and brushed on during roasting.

THE INFLUENCE of cookery, developed at the French court, spread across Europe as the gourmet tastes of kings set up competition between the ladies, which strained art and imagination.

Many a mistress came to power because of her culinary inventions and many lost favor as their dishes lost flavor. But with discovery of the New World, new spices were added to old recipes and especially fruitful was the marriage of Mexican and Spanish dishes.

"COOKS, GLUTTONS and Gourmets" carries the tale of cookery on through Colonial America, when the nation's leaders, particularly Thomas Jefferson, made gastronomical as well as political history. New Egnland, southern and creole cooking all developed separately.

Miss Wason's book, with over 100 recipes which have endured through the centuries, show homemakers how they, too, can eat with spice like rich people of years gone by. (SH

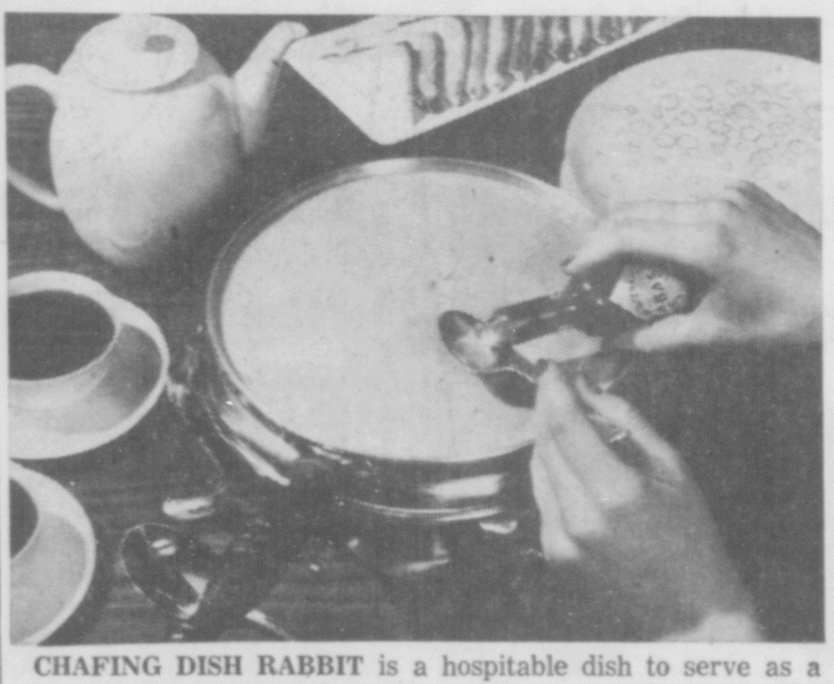
Chafing Dish Rabbit Puts Cheese In Pink

Cheese—in the pink, is by way of introducing you to an easy way to whip up a chafing dish rabbit. The recipe calls for a can of condensed tomato soup in which half a pound of cheese is melted, making a colorful dish of festive pink with a rich, luscious flavor.

A chafing dish rabbit is a good, hospitable dish to serve as a late-evening snack before guests depart into the chilly winter night. It's easy on the hostess, too, simply make it up ahead of time and keep it hot.

THE TOP SECRET is choosing the seasonings with care; in addition to onion, dry mustard and paprika, the recipe calls for Tabasco, the concentrated peppery red liquid spice that ages to perfection for three years before it ever reaches your grocer's shelf.

Just a small amount adds needed zest to bland cheese dishes, bringing out their good flavor.



CHAFING DISH RABBIT is a hospitable dish to serve as a late-evening snack to departing guests on a chilly night. For new flavor and color interest, the cheese melts in tomato soup seasoned with Tabasco.

EASY TOMATO CHEESE RABBIT

1 can condensed tomato soup
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
½ teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon paprika
½ cup water
1 medium onion, sliced
2 cups (½ pound) grated American cheese
1 egg, separated

Combine tomato soup, Tabasco, dry mustard, paprika and water in top of double boiler or chafing dish. Add onion; cook over direct heat until onion is tender, about 10 minutes.

Add cheese; place over boiling water and stir until melted. Gradually stir small amount of hot mixture into beaten egg yolk.

Beat egg white until stiff, but not dry. Add egg yolk-cheese mixture, stirring to blend well. Return to cheese mixture in double boiler and cook 5 minutes longer. Serve on toast points or crackers.

Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Sunny Salad Brightens Menu With 'Warm' Colors

Here is a salad that is reminiscent of summer. The sunny color of orange pineapple flavor gelatin is mixed with raisins, carrots, and crushed pineapple to give interesting texture and taste.

Molded as shown here, this is an attractive dish for party entertaining. Or, if you prefer, the Gold Rush Salad can be chilled in a serving dish, then "spooned" onto lettuce and topped with mayonnaise.

GOLD RUSH SALAD

1 regular size package (3 ounces) orange pineapple flavor gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 can (1 lb. 4½ oz.) pineapple tidbits
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 cup grated raw carrots
1/3 cup raisins

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Drain pineapple tidbits, measuring juice. Add water to juice to make one cup. Add pineapple juice and orange rind to gelatin.

Chill until slightly thickened. Then fold in pineapple, carrots, and raisins. Pour into 1½-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce and garnish with carrot curls and water cress, if desired.

Makes 6 to 8 servings. (SH

The Way We See It

'Tyranny' of Legal Language Is Danger

The law, unfortunately, is similar to abstract art. It is impressive without being understandable — at least to its beholder, not practitioner.

A case in point is the controversy over the powers of municipalities to exercise their influence a mile and a half beyond their corporate limits, as has always been their prerogative.

A recent legislative amendment to municipal zoning powers, actually designed to give municipalities without county zoning control this extra-territorial say, was passed with a single wrong word inserted.

The error occurred when the word "article" was employed instead of "division" in granting this control metropolitan municipalities enjoy to rural communities.

The State's Attorney of Cook county, Daniel P. Ward, interpreted the error on its face value. Rather than apparently considering the intent of the amendment, he handed down the opinion that the error did strip municipalities of the power to influence zoning within a mile and a half of their legal boundaries.

Upholding of such a ruling could have had catastrophic effects. It would have conceivably permitted erection of garbage dumps, glue factories, airports, cemeteries and other enterprises of this nature within a mile and a half of a municipality without allowing the city or village the right to refuse to approve plats of subdivision or object to amendments to the county zoning ordinance.

Happily, Attorney General William Clark disagreed with his county colleague in ruling that the error in wording did not rob communities of this voice in extra-territorial affairs affecting them.

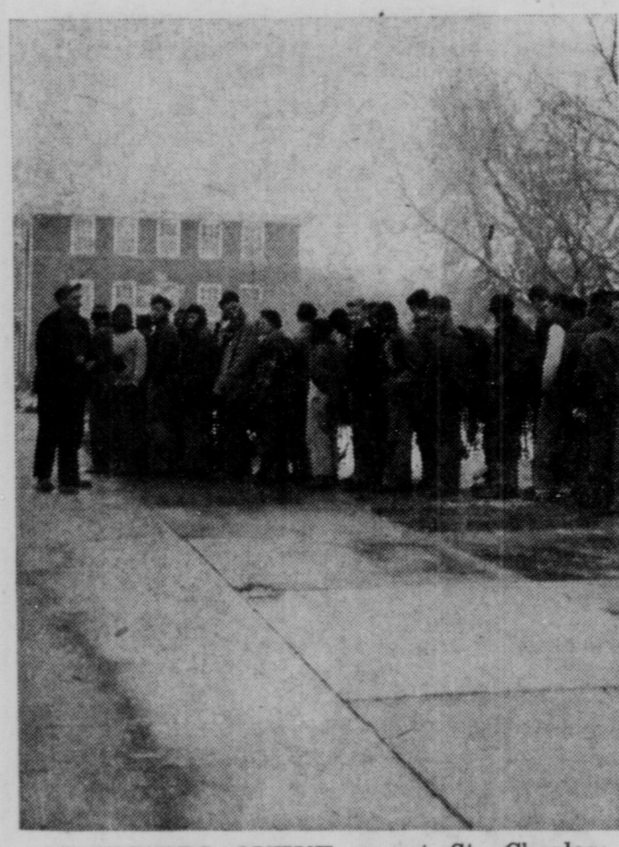
In the meantime, the legislature would do well to rectify this mistake. Otherwise, legal students bound by the tyranny of the legal language or builders wishing to exploit the situation will once again be obscuring intent and the public interest with abstractions.

Grass-Roots Initiative

William Golden, juvenile officer of the Rolling Meadows police department, came away from a visit to the Sheridan Industrial school convinced that a need for preventive action in the area of delinquency existed in "far greater measure" than that which is being done.

What Golden urged as a result of that trip to the maximum security institution for juvenile offenders was preventive medicine at the local level.

It is similar to the course of action advocated by Dr. Francis J. Gerty, the state's public welfare director, in the area of mental illness. Rather than warehouse people in huge institutions where the care that can be afforded is minimal and their chance of recovery mathematically reduced, Gerty has called for establishment of mental health clinics at a community level to combat emotional illness.



OFFENDERS QUEUE up at St. Charles: An abysmal waste.

Noted Officer Golden in an article he wrote for the Illinois Police association magazine: "A visit to Sheridan points up the need for preventive action in far greater measure than visiting other institutions, reading books or listening to speeches. It points out that the time for treatment is in the early years of a child's life in his home and community. It is too late for treatment when the boy is consigned to Sheridan. There is only enough time to forget the past and start steering a straighter course for the future.

"I am now, more than ever before, firmly convinced that we must launch local community measures in the treatment of juveniles to prevent delinquency. Sheridan is already too small. What an abysmal waste to enlarge this institution, or worse, to build new and larger facilities. Only when we in the enforcement field can see the need and give leadership to programs for prevention can we make inroads into the jungle of delinquency."

In this regard, Rolling Meadows has provided exemplary leadership. The city's Police Juvenile Advisory commission which offers guidance and counseling (it secured 40 part-time jobs for youngsters the past summer) was established at the same time as a Juvenile Information file which cross-indexes juvenile offenses and offenders for dissemination to other police departments in metropolitan Cook county.

Set up with the cooperation and participation of the Illinois Youth Commission, the information file center in Rolling Meadows now serves as headquarters for 102 of 126 municipalities in Cook county (excluding Chicago).

Joseph Giunta, IYC supervisor whose offices are in Rolling Meadows, says these juvenile information files are being set up in DuPage, Kane and McHenry counties, following Rolling Meadows' lead.

The city has also organized a Youth Assistance committee which will plan special activities for its youth. "It is an idea of self-help in which the local community is encouraged to organize a program; we try to get the parents as well as the youth involved," explains Giunta.

It is this grass-roots approach — in which responsibility is a matter of joint concern for parent and youngster — which is proving the most effective answer to the "abysmal waste" which dismayed Juvenile Officer Golden.

Villainy in Politics

With terrible lucidity, with scalpel-edged efficiency, a 27-year-old dentist has laid bare the origins of political corruption. Dr. Robert L. Smith, Stickney township supervisor, in a recent address before the Wheeling Rotary club, displayed an acute knowledge of the illness.

For the Stickney township reformer has examined its forms with logic and an unblinking honesty. His conclusions are more frightening than the actual examples of political subterfuge he ticked off, e.g., a fluorescent light bulb cost $1,500.

He found at the roots of the evil an icy public indifference. He told the Rotarians: ". . . if anything increases temptation to act illegally, it is complacency warranted by apathy among the voters." As long as this is true "villainy will endure."

It is this vacuum the political machine fills. Soon "Fear is the cohesive force; greed the driving force." Smith admits, "It is a situation one in private or in public life hopes to avoid. But confronted with it and with no other alternative available, a citizen, someone, must come to grips with it."

Smith refuses the cynicism which cries "nothing can be done." He does more than diagnose; he prescribes. "The Stickney situation is a hard, cold reality." He observes: "What we must realize is that . . . stoic fatalism allows the cancer to spread."

The best answer to this pessimism, he adds, is vigilance. "Let us not question if the cancer can or cannot be arrested. There is no time for such considerations. For it follows as night the day that unarrested it will spread, uncontested it is fatal."

Rendered Invisible

Dulled Minds Need Stirring

by HESTER KLINE

News Editor, Rolling Meadows Herald

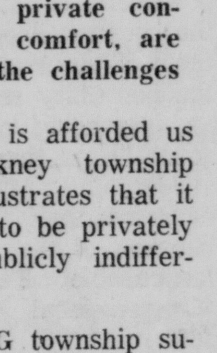
It was in J. D. Salinger's "Franny and Zooey" that I came across the phrase "elective thinking."

"That's it!" I exclaimed to myself. "That's why the world seems such a rat race. We don't have — or take — time for elective thinking."

To me the words implied a category falling somewhere between the necessary thought processes that concern our everyday living and day-dreaming; a creativeness; a definition of philosophy.

IT'S HARD to remember when I last deliberately devoted my mind to pondering the imponderables of my own free choice.

In the first place, much of our thinking is done for us, in newspapers, magazines, books; through radio and television. On world events or politics or local affairs our conclusions are molded by information presented to us. We accept ready-made ideas, customizing them a bit to suit our satisfaction.



KLINE

Oh, our minds are busy, making decisions-of-moment every moment. But all this whirl in the gray matter is urgent, pressed on us by the necessity of deciding something right now, some crisis, minor or major, that has arisen.

We are gravely concerned with the state of the world. To escape from thinking we read, or watch television, perhaps the greatest tranquillizer of our times, or play bridge, or indulge in some physical activity. Seldom do we either individually or in groups think of escape from the exigencies of our age by elective thinking.

IN A MORE leisurely era, artful conversation stretched minds, providing the exercise that prevented the spirit from atrophying. As talk flowed back and forth in a small group, individuals had an opportunity to express and expand and defend ideas. Sydney J. Harris once commented that the art of conversation is languishing; whereas it used to be like a game of tennis, with the ball going back and forth, nowadays it is more comparable to golf, with each player hitting his own ball as far as possible beyond the other fellow's ball.

Somehow breaking away from conformity and having some abstract thoughts — or if you will, thinking about abstract principles — seems a little "fruity," at best an intellectual affectation. Crisp, brittle aping of the ideas gleaned from others is more chic.

Independent thinking is even frowned on in schools. Smart kids soon learn what their teachers want, and that's what they produce. Free thinking is pretty much limited to graduate schools and research labs.

CANNOT WE, each of us, free our own souls through individual philosophizing?

Now we cannot relinquish the world like Thoreau and go off to Walden Pond, but we can create our own Waldens, a proper mood for contemplation. We can seek solitude. Then, refusing to grapple with the school board or taxes or a business problem or whether the children should be chauffered home from school, let our minds soar.

How can we speak or even dream of peace when we have not achieved an inner peace of our own, the peace of mind that comes with a clear definition of our purpose in being?

The American Facade

Opiate for Moderns

by DICK HOFFMANN

Associate Editor

On two different "At Random" talkathons, guests have voiced the belief that Americans' outward appearances are deceiving not only to others but to themselves.

A Negro author, Ralph Ellison ("The Invisible Man"), remarked how advertisements in publications show a total unawareness of the Negro in our society. (This, of course, is also true in reverse of such Negro periodicals as "Ebony" and "Tan" where whites have been relegated to obscurity, probably with psychological purpose.)

HOFFMANN

Actor Anthony Quinn, on a later show, commented on how advertisements displaying the little woman surrounded by all that chrome and aluminum finery in her push - button kitchen make Americans feel like failures.

This, naturally, reinforces the image abroad that we all live in glass palaces, have mechanical servants, and drive cars that gulp a gallon of gas getting started.

BUT WHAT does this false facade do to our own sense of values? If we would do the phone company's bidding, we would have telephones stationed throughout the house like an early warning DEW line, pink, beige and lavender reminders of our earning power.

If we paid complete homage to the soap industry, we would have to conduct our daily affairs from the tub.

Advertising is an opiate which removes us from the realities. And its influence doesn't stop with its own visual displays for which it pays money.

HUGH DOWNS, the thinking man's Jack Paar (and Paar's alter ego), related on the same program with Ellison that the television series, "River Boat," did not have any Negroes in its cast even though its setting is a time in history when we were a slave nation and slaves played a prominent part in the river commerce of the day (as the song, "Old Man River," and Mark Twain reminds us).

The reason there are no Negroes in "River Boat" is not due to a casting problem but because advertisers feel their presence might offend a segment of their audience.

Downs suggested that such an attitude was Orwellian in nature, and that to disregard or fail to serve up that history not palatable to the TV diet of some was dangerous in its implications.

I'M NOT recommending that the advertising industry start crusading. But it should show more of an awareness for reality. Its saccharin approach — in which everything is sweetness and light — psychologically undermines attitudes. Of course, it's trying to sell the syrup, but in so doing, it extracts a heavy toll.

If our only goals are to be private and exist only for our own private consumption and comfort, are we equal to the challenges of the time?

THE YOUNG township supervisor who exposed the political corruption in his township, Dr. Robert L. Smith, summed up the problem this way in an address before the Wheeling Rotary club:

"I would much rather be meeting you under different circumstances. But be that as it may, the Stickney situation is a hard, cold reality. It is a situation one in private or in public office hopes to avoid. But confronted with it and with no other alternative available, a citizen, someone, must come to grips with it."

It becomes increasingly difficult to come to grips with such problems if we are lulled into a false feeling of security by appearances of our own making.

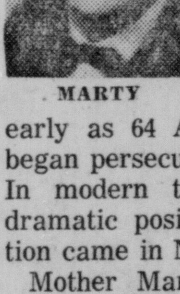
Keeping a Clear Head:

Homework for the Church

by MARTIN E. MARTY

How far can a religious person go in obeying the state when the state takes on anti-Christian tendencies and character?

That is a life and death question for millions of Christians in East Germany, Poland, Hungary, and other Iron Curtain countries today. It was a life and death question for Christians as early as 64 A.D. when Nero began persecuting the church. In modern times the most dramatic posing of the question came in Nazi Germany.



MARTY

Mother Mary Alice Gallin, O.S.U., M.A. has written of the struggle in a book "The German Resistance to . . . Hitler, Ethical and Religious Factors" (Catholic University Press, $3.75).

The story is interesting on its own dramatic terms; it also poses the problems for other times, other places.

WHY SHOULD there be any problem between a Christian ethic and an un-Christian state? There would be no problem were it not for the fact that the Christian ethic in the New Testament makes ordinary civil obedience a decisive factor in Christian response. The Bible opposes chaos and anarchy and enjoins the Christian to support existing authority. The question is complicated within the Christian ethic, when obedience to authority is complicated by the godlessness of the authority.

In Germany many Christians supported the rise of Hitler and continued to support him or at least quietly to acquiesce as time passed. Millions of others, Catholic and Protestant alike, resisted.

Mother Gallin, by the way, says that the two confessions joined forces in resistance and one cannot tell who is Protestant and who is Catholic in the Christian Resistance Movement by reading their declarations or observing their actions. They resisted when Hitler's anti-Christian neo-pagan Nazism was proclaimed, when he wanted to make the captive Church an arm of the state; it was heightened when he persecuted the Jews and when his atrocities became apparent.

THEN, "WE ought to obey God rather than men" came to the fore. Mother Gallin shows that both Protestants and Catholics had not thought through what principles should underlie resistance in the modern world and after tyranny had come they were under pressure not to think it through.

Her book is important for us, too. Every religious person has to have a pre-planned set of attitudes concerning the state, attitudes built on Christian grounds so strong that shifting political currents cannot sway them.

IN AMERICA we have not needed a resistance; the American experience has been favorable to develop free and responsible churches. It is interesting to me, however, that whenever American Christians raise a critical voice and stop sounding like a Department of State, other Christians write them out of state and church alike.

The point of Mother Gallin's book should not be lost on us: when the church is at peace, it must do its homework and work to keep its head for times of war and tyranny.

The Way We See It

'Tyranny' of Legal Language Is Danger

The law, unfortunately, is similar to abstract art. It is impressive without being understandable — at least to its beholder, not practitioner.

A case in point is the controversy over the powers of municipalities to exercise their influence a mile and a half beyond their corporate limits, as has always been their prerogative.

A recent legislative amendment to municipal zoning powers, actually designed to give municipalities without county zoning control this extra-territorial say, was passed with a single wrong word inserted.

The error occurred when the word "article" was employed instead of "division" in granting this control metropolitan municipalities enjoy to rural communities.

The State's Attorney of Cook county, Daniel P. Ward, interpreted the error on its face value. Rather than apparently considering the intent of the amendment, he handed down the opinion that the error did strip municipalities of the power to influence zoning within a mile and a half of their legal boundaries.

Upholding of such a ruling could have had catastrophic effects. It would have conceivably permitted erection of garbage dumps, glue factories, airports, cemeteries and other enterprises of this nature within a mile and a half of a municipality without allowing the city or village the right to refuse to approve plats of subdivision or object to amendments to the county zoning ordinance.

Happily, Attorney General William Clark disagreed with his county colleague in ruling that the error in wording did not rob communities of this voice in extra-territorial affairs affecting them.

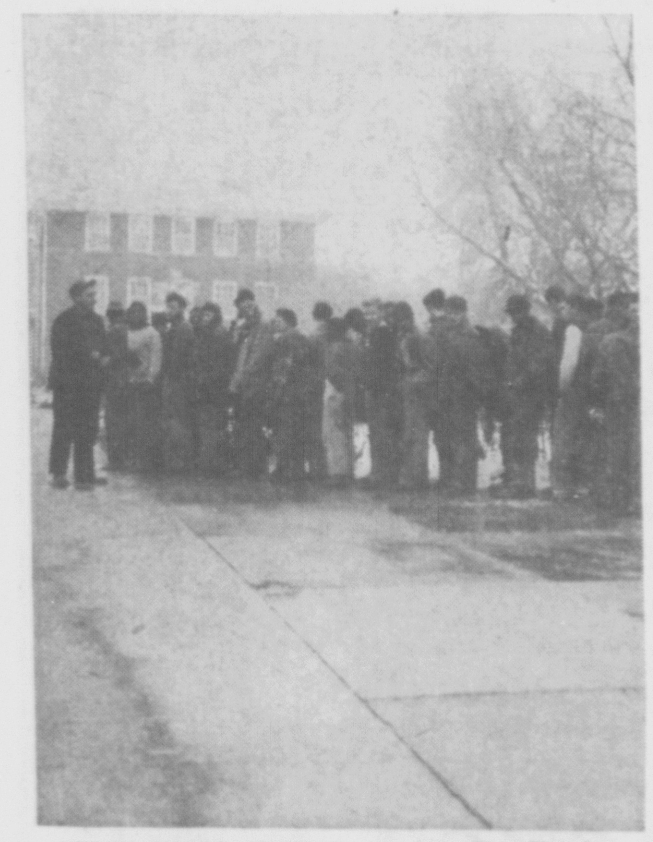
In the meantime, the legislature would do well to rectify this mistake. Otherwise, legal students bound by the tyranny of the legal language or builders wishing to exploit the situation will once again be obscuring intent and the public interest with abstractions.

Grass-Roots Initiative

William Golden, juvenile officer of the Rolling Meadows police department, came away from a visit to the Sheridan Industrial school convinced that a need for preventive action in the area of delinquency existed in "far greater measure" than that which is being done.

What Golden urged as a result of that trip to the maximum security institution for juvenile offenders was preventive medicine at the local level.

It is similar to the course of action advocated by Dr. Francis J. Gerty, the state's public welfare director, in the area of mental illness. Rather than warehouse people in huge institutions where the care that can be afforded is minimal and their chance of recovery mathematically reduced, Gerty has called for establishment of mental health clinics at a community level to combat emotional illness.



OFFENDERS QUEUE up at St. Charles: An abysmal waste.

Noted Officer Golden in an article he wrote for the Illinois Police association magazine: "A visit to Sheridan points up the need for preventive action in far greater measure than visiting other institutions, reading books or listening to speeches. It points out that the time for treatment is in the early years of a child's life in his home and community. It is too late for treatment when the boy is consigned to Sheridan. There is only enough time to forget the past and start steering a straighter course for the future.

"I am now, more than ever before, firmly convinced that we must launch local community measures in the treatment of juveniles to prevent delinquency. Sheridan is already too small. What an abysmal waste to enlarge this institution, or worse, to build new and larger facilities. Only when we in the enforcement field can see the need and give leadership to programs for prevention can we make inroads into the jungle of delinquency."

In this regard, Rolling Meadows has provided exemplary leadership. The city's Police Juvenile Advisory commission which offers guidance and counseling (it secured 40 part-time jobs for youngsters the past summer) was established at the same time as a Juvenile Information file which cross-indexes juvenile offenses and offenders for dissemination to other police departments in metropolitan Cook county.

Set up with the cooperation and participation of the Illinois Youth Commission, the information file center in Rolling Meadows now serves as headquarters for 102 of 126 municipalities in Cook county (excluding Chicago).

Joseph Giunta, IYC supervisor whose offices are in Rolling Meadows, says these juvenile information files are being set up in DuPage, Kane and McHenry counties, following Rolling Meadows' lead.

The city has also organized a Youth Assistance committee which will plan special activities for its youth. "It is an idea of self-help in which the local community is encouraged to organize a program; we try to get the parents as well as the youth involved," explains Giunta.

It is this grass-roots approach — in which responsibility is a matter of joint concern for parent and youngster — which is proving the most effective answer to the "abysmal waste" which dismayed Juvenile Officer Golden.

Villainy in Politics

With terrible lucidity, with scalpel-edged efficiency, a 27-year-old dentist has laid bare the origins of political corruption. Dr. Robert L. Smith, Stickney township supervisor, in a recent address before the Wheeling Rotary club, displayed an acute knowledge of the illness.

For the Stickney township reformer has examined its forms with logic and an unblinking honesty. His conclusions are more frightening than the actual examples of political subterfuge he ticked off, e.g., a fluorescent light bulb cost $1,500.

He found at the roots of the evil an icy public indifference. He told the Rotarians: ". . . if anything increases temptation to act illegally, it is complacency warranted by apathy among the voters." As long as this is true "villainy will endure."

It is this vacuum the political machine fills. Soon "Fear is the cohesive force; greed the driving force." Smith admits, "It is a situation one in private or in public life hopes to avoid. But confronted with it and with no other alternative available, a citizen, someone, must come to grips with it."

Smith refuses the cynicism which cries "nothing can be done." He does more than diagnose; he prescribes. "The Stickney situation is a hard, cold reality." He observes: "What we must realize is that . . . stoic fatalism allows the cancer to spread."

The best answer to this pessimism, he adds, is vigilance. "Let us not question if the cancer can or cannot be arrested. There is no time for such considerations. For it follows as night the day that unarrested it will spread, uncontested it is fatal."

Dulled Minds Need Stirring

by HESTER KLINE

News Editor, Rolling Meadows Herald

It was in J. D. Salinger's "Franny and Zooey" that I came across the phrase "elective thinking."

"That's it!" I exclaimed to myself. "That's why the world seems such a rat race. We don't have — or take — time for elective thinking."

To me the words implied a category falling somewhere between the necessary thought processes that concern our every-day living and day-dreaming; a creativeness; a definition of philosophy.

IT'S HARD to remember when I last deliberately devoted my mind to pondering the imponderables of my own free choice.

In the first place, much of our thinking is done for us, in newspapers, magazines, books; through radio and television. On world events or politics or local affairs our conclusions are molded by information presented to us. We accept ready-made ideas, customizing them a bit to suit our satisfaction.

KLINE

Oh, our minds are busy, making decisions-of-moment every moment. But all this whirl in the gray matter is urgent, pressed on us by the necessity of deciding something right now, some crisis, minor or major, that has arisen.

We are gravely concerned with the state of the world. To escape from thinking we read, or watch television, perhaps the greatest tranquillizer of our times, or play bridge, or indulge in some physical activity. Seldom do we either individually or in groups think of escape from the exigencies of our age by elective thinking.

IN A MORE leisurely era, artful conversation stretched minds, providing the exercise that prevented the spirit from atrophying. As talk flowed back and forth in a small group, individuals had an opportunity to express and expand and defend ideas. Sydney J. Harris once commented that the art of conversation is languishing; whereas it used to be like a game of tennis, with the ball going back and forth, nowadays it is more comparable to golf, with each player hitting his own ball as far as possible beyond the other fellow's ball.

Somehow breaking away from conformity and having some abstract thoughts — or if you will, thinking about abstract principles — seems a little "fruity," at best an intellectual affectation. Crisp, brittle aping of the ideas gleaned from others is more chic.

Independent thinking is even frowned on in schools. Smart kids soon learn what their teachers want, and that's what they produce. Free thinking is pretty much limited to graduate schools and research labs.

CANNOT WE, each of us, free our own souls through individual philosophizing?

Now we cannot relinquish the world like Thoreau and go off to Walden Pond, but we can create our own Waldens, a proper mood for contemplation. We can seek solitude. Then, refusing to grapple with the school board or taxes or a business problem or whether the children should be chauffered home from school, let our minds soar.

How can we speak or even dream of peace when we have not achieved an inner peace of our own, the peace of mind that comes with a clear definition of our purpose in being?

The American Facade

Opiate for Moderns

by DICK HOFFMANN

Associate Editor

On two different "At Random" talkathons, guests have voiced the belief that Americans' outward appearances are deceiving not only to others but to themselves.

A Negro author, Ralph Ellison ("The Invisible Man"), remarked how advertisements in publications show a total unawareness of the Negro in our society. (This, of course, is also true in reverse of such Negro periodicals as "Ebony" and "Tan" where whites have been relegated to obscurity, probably with psychological purpose.)

Actor Anthony Quinn, on a later show, commented on how advertisements displaying the little woman surrounded by all that chrome and aluminum finery in her push - button kitchen make Americans feel like failures.

HOFFMANN

This, naturally, reinforces the image abroad that we all live in glass palaces, have mechanical servants, and drive cars that gulp a gallon of gas getting started.

BUT WHAT does this false facade do to our own sense of values? If we would do the phone company's bidding, we would have telephones stationed throughout the house like an early warning DEW line, pink, beige and lavender reminders of our earning power.

If we paid complete homage to the soap industry, we would have to conduct our daily affairs from the tub.

Advertising is an opiate which removes us from the realities. And its influence doesn't stop with its own visual displays for which it pays money.

HUGH DOWNS, the thinking man's Jack Paar (and Paar's alter ego), related on the same program with Ellison that the television series, "River Boat," did not have any Negroes in its cast even though its setting is a time in history when we were a slave nation and slaves played a prominent part in the river commerce of the day (as the song, "Old Man River," and Mark Twain reminds us).

The reason there are no Negroes in "River Boat" is not due to a casting problem but because advertisers feel their presence might offend a segment of their audience.

Downs suggested that such an attitude was Orwellian in nature, and that to disregard or fail to serve up that history not palatable to the TV diet of some was dangerous in its implications.

I'M NOT recommending that the advertising industry start crusading. But it should show more of an awareness for reality. Its saccharin approach — in which everything is sweetness and light — psychologically undermines attitudes. Of course, it's trying to sell the syrup, but in so doing, it extracts a heavy toll.

If our only goals are to be private and exist only for our own private consumption and comfort, are we equal to the challenges of the time?

An example is afforded us from the Stickney township scandal. It illustrates that it does no good to be privately moral and publicly indifferent.

THE YOUNG township supervisor who exposed the political corruption in his township, Dr. Robert L. Smith, summed up the problem this way in an address before the Wheeling Rotary club:

"I would much rather be meeting you under different circumstances. But be that as it may, the Stickney situation is a hard, cold reality. It is a situation one in private or in public office hopes to avoid. But confronted with it and with no other alternative available, a citizen, someone, must come to grips with it."

It becomes increasingly difficult to come to grips with such problems if we are lulled into a false feeling of security by appearances of our own making.

Keeping a Clear Head:

Homework for the Church

by MARTIN E. MARTY

How far can a religious person go in obeying the state when the state takes on anti-Christian tendencies and character?

That is a life and death question for millions of Christians in East Germany, Poland, Hungary, and other Iron Curtain countries today. It was a life and death question for Christians as early as 64 A.D. when Nero began persecuting the church. In modern times the most dramatic posing of the question came in Nazi Germany.

MARTY

Mother Mary Alice Gallin, O.S.U., M.A. has written of the struggle in a book "The German Resistance to . . . Hitler, Ethical and Religious Factors" (Catholic University Press, $3.75).

The story is interesting on its own dramatic terms; it also poses the problems for other times, other places.

WHY SHOULD there be any problem between a Christian ethic and an un-Christian state? There would be no problem were it not for the fact that the Christian ethic in the New Testament makes ordinary civil obedience a decisive factor in Christian response. The Bible opposes chaos and anarchy and enjoins the Christian to support existing authority. The question is complicated within the Christian ethic, when obedience to authority is complicated by the godlessness of the authority.

In Germany many Christians supported the rise of Hitler and continued to support him or at least quietly to acquiesce as time passed. Millions of others, Catholic and Protestant alike, resisted.

Mother Gallin, by the way, says that the two confessions joined forces in resistance and one cannot tell who is Protestant and who is Catholic in the Christian Resistance Movement by reading their declarations or observing their actions. They resisted when Hitler's anti-Christian neo-pagan Nazism was proclaimed, when he wanted to make the captive Church an arm of the state; it was heightened when he persecuted the Jews and when his atrocities became apparent.

THEN, "WE ought to obey God rather than men" came to the fore. Mother Gallin shows that both Protestants and Catholics had not thought through what principles should underlie resistance in the modern world and after tyranny had come they were under pressure not to think it through.

Most Christians acted out of conscience and instinctive revulsion at Hitler's actions more than out of clear Christian principles.

Her book is important for us, too. Every religious person has to have a pre-planned set of attitudes concerning the state, attitudes built on Christian grounds so strong that shifting political currents cannot sway them.

IN AMERICA we have not needed a resistance; the American experience has been favorable to develop free and responsible churches. It is interesting to me, however, that whenever American Christians raise a critical voice and stop sounding like a Department of State, other Christians write them out of state and church alike.

The point of Mother Gallin's book should not be lost on us: when the church is at peace, it must do its homework and work to keep its head for times of war and tyranny.

Letters to the Fence Post

Local School Boards Rapped For Support of Federal Aid

"Let's face the facts, something is rotten in our political system when power politics and small pressure groups are able to force their ideas on the mass of the people.

The following quote is in connection with the Federal Aid to Education and is from the Congressional Record, May 8, 1957.

"This bill is positive proof that the Government itself believes the people cannot manage their own affairs for themselves."

Federal Aid to Education has been sponsored for more than 20 years by the National Education Association, but only recently on a grandiose scale of $4.7 billion. This organization has recently collected some new bedfellows such as the National Council of Parents and Teachers Association (PTA), the American Association of University Women, and the American Veterans Committee, which the California Un-American Activities Committee charged was "a conception of the Communist Party and that its organization was initiated by communist veterans."

"TO COPE with the tantalizing new circumstances (Federal Aid to Education), the NEA stepped up its lobbying drive throwing the vast resources of its national body and state and local affiliates more fully into the federal-aid fight than at any previous time and bringing into play "high-pressure" tactics not usually associated with professional groups. A studied effort was under way to create an impression of "massive" public support and to make it appear that all persons interested in education should climb aboard their bandwagon for federal aid." NEA is the National Education Association. Quote from the American School Board Journal, May 1961, page 39.

From the Congressional Record, "There is no evidence of a rank and file support for this legislation. The hierarchy of the CIO-AFL official-don, and the hierarchy of the parent-teachers association (PTA), (but not the rank and file in either organization) testified for this legislation."

Most of the members of the local units of the PTA are not aware of the fact that they have been supporting Federal Aid to Education since 1957. This information was never disseminated on a general basis and no support for Federal Aid came from our local PTA; it was never voted on. The legislation programs of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers for the years 1957 to 1961 did not mention Federal Support for Education, they said in ambiguous terms "Adequate legislative and/or financial support."

BUT NOW, in the legislation program for 1961-62, item 4 says, "Federal Support for Education"; 4 (b), "Federal funds should be appropriated for the purpose of increasing educational opportunity among the states, with provisions ensuring maximum local control and encouragement to the states to put forth their best efforts to equalize opportunities within their own boundaries"; 4 (g), "Federal funds should be appropriated to give aid in construction of public school buildings, after approved surveys have been made. These funds should be: 1. Channeled from the U. S. Office of Education through state departments of education to the local units of administration. 2. Allocated so as to encourage states to set forth principles for equalizing the distribution of state and federal funds, giving special consideration to new school administrative units with relatively low financial resources and to areas especially affected by rapid and substantial increase in school age population."

I'm not sure I understand what they are talking about, but, if I were to make a guess, it would be that all money for federal aid should be administered by the U. S. Office of Education and allocated to the states on principles established by this organization.

Quoted from the Congressional Record, May 8, 1957, "The United States Office of Education representatives testified that efforts of the people for their own children were inadequate, and that they should be compelled by the Government in Washington to do more. Instead of using the word "compulsion" they often substituted the words "stimulate the States by the Federal Government" to do what they should do in the judgment of Washington."

HOW DOES this give the local shool districts maximum local control? Who will approve building surveys? What are the principles for equalizing?

"The late congressman Lesinski of Detroit, Michican, a former Chairman of the Education and Labor Committee, said as Chairman of the Committee when it refused to vote out a bill: "It is impossible to draft a general Federal Aid Bill which will not contain a great degree of Federal Control over local school systems. I am convinced, after the hard study we have put to the question, that no acceptable bill preventing Federal domination of local schools can be drawn. I reluctantly come to that conclusion, but I had to face the facts.

"Fear of control by the Federal Government was general and outspoken. There was bitterness, too, that the Federal Government should try to shove Federal Aid down the throats of the people whether they wanted it or not.

"They insisted that they, the producers of all the wealth of the country, are taking care of their children and are building the necessary school rooms for an increasing population. The school taxes, they said, are very burdensome, much more burdensome than they should be because of the intolerable and inexcusable Federal taxes." (Congressional Record, May 1957).

IT IS TRULY insulting and disgusting to taxpayers who have been faithfully supporting our local school districts to suddenly find some local school boards advocating Federal Aid. It is a repudiation of our efforts to build new schools and raise teachers salaries. I can only feel that these local school board members are letting their greed for more money interfere with their intelligence and these people should be replaced at the next election.

It is strange indeed when the quality of education is measured by the number of schools, the number of students per class (all material aspects) and not by the moral values as imparted by teachers. We have gone a long way toward better schools but what have we done about better education?

The Federal Aid programs to education, transportation, housing, communications, etc. can only lead to socialism; the next step, of course, is Communism. Let's not be duped into believing we can get "something for nothing," we never have and we never will.

Lions Tourney Was Successful

The Wheeling Lions club wishes to report the success of its recent Mixed Doubles Bowling Tournament, held at Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling.

As the result of the excellent publicity for the event given by the Wheeling Herald, and the cooperation of its editor, Tom Edwards, the net sum of $325 was realized to further the Blind Activities program of the local club.

AS AN EXAMPLE of this aid to the blind, a Braille typewriter was given just before Christmas to a student in the local school system, Donna Herroro. The delight expressed by the girl, her family, and her teacher, was well worth seeing, and Lion Vern Boyd, Chairman of the Blind Activities Committee states that it helped make Christmas a better one for himself too.

The officers and members wish to thank all the participants (163 couples), the scorers, Lion Ernie Zorger, Bowling Chairman, and Lion "Bud" Miller, and once again, Tom Edwards and his paper.

Daytime TOPS Score Success

Just a brief thank you for your most helpful cooperation in presenting the publicity for the Arlington Heights Daytime TOPS. It is mainly through your paper's notices that our group has grown so. It is very gratifying to see a small group become large enough to become three clubs.

Our club has been very successful, with every member losing weight. This is our aim, but there are very few groups that don't have quite a few gainers.

Once again, thank you. Without your help, we would still be a small group.

Snow Crews Win Citizen Praise

During the past two snowstorms, I was once again reminded of a function of our village that has gone unheeded for too long a time.

It is with this thought in mind that I am writing this note to try and express appreciation to James Bennett and the fine men in his department for the terrific job that has been done in clearing our streets of snow.

MY JOB HAS me in many villages and towns in our area, and I am constantly reminded that their efforts do not compare with those here in Wheeling. I also am aware that surrounding villages have more men for this work as well as more and better equipment. The answer for our better results can only be in the personnel in the public works department and the way they do their job.

With these things in mind, I hope these men will accept the heartfelt thanks of a satisfied citizen of Wheeling.

Pet Article Stirs Protest

The article which appeared in the December 14th issue of the Arlington Heights Herald has come to my attention. I am sure that you have visited few laboratory animal rooms, for if you had you could not possibly have allowed to appear the astonishing lead sentence; "If a Texas millionaire wanted to give his pet hound the world's finest care, he would be hard put to equal the kid-gloves treatment which thousands of dogs receive today in modern animal research laboratories throughout the nation." These animals are further described as "vastly more pampered than the most prized household pets."

Would any pet owner shut up his dog in a small cage and keep him there with no provision for exercise for seven years? That is what has been done or is still being done in some government laboratories and university medical schools.

WOULD ANY Texas millionaire seeking the "world's finest care" leave his dog in kennels grossly infested with ticks, mites and beetles? That is what I have observed in a research department of a leading hospital.

In visiting dog kennels where the animals receive "kid gloves treatment," would you expect to see sick dogs, too weak to get up, shivering from having been hosed down along with their small cages by callous attendants? I have seen this in a leading medical school.

Would the owner of a "prized household pet" leave his body lying around without so much as noticing that he was dead? We have found dead dogs in guided tours of two leading medical schools.

I COULD GO ON, but this may be enough to show why we feel a correction is owed to your readers, especially in view of the banner headlines which the story carried.

The Animal Welfare Institute publishes two manuals, "Basic Care of Experimental Animals" and "Comfortable Quarters for Laboratory Animals" which it distributes free on request to scientific institutions using animals. More than ten thousand of these publications have been provided. We are doing our utmost to make life bearable for laboratory animals. Their life can never be the way the writer of the article has portrayed it, but needless suffering and abuse can be stopped if the situation is honestly reported to the public. We earnestly hope that you will do so.

Vandals Spoil Yule Decoration

Another resident has no more decorations.

Marguerite S. Case, you are not the only one who is not going to decorate again for Christmas.

We, too, had four evergreens decorated with outdoor lights, and they looked very pretty. People spend money and decorate at Christmas time not only for themselves, but for the whole community, to make it look more cheerful for the holidays. A couple of days before Christmas, eight young vandals invaded our premises at suppertime and smashed every light and socket on all four evergreens with some heavy sticks.

Snow Removal Is Criticized

This is too much! Please don't try to make me believe that the village, country and state deserve praise for their so called job of snow removal. After the snow fall of January 6 and 7, I know of no other organization which could operate so in-efficiently for so long and still remain in business.

One week later, a good portion of Route 14, Route 12 and Palatine rd. east of Winston Park school, intended four lane roads are reduced to three lanes and in some areas two and one-half lanes; these are just a few of the many that could be named. Still this after two days of temperatures in the high twenties and low thirties. After all the advancements of the times must we still rely on Mother Nature to remove the snow from the streets of our area.

YES, I KNOW, now comes the buck-passing time. The country road commissioner says that's not our area, it's the state's and the state says it belongs to the village and the village blames the county.

Sorry, I don't have an answer to this problem. A good start might be to have the trucks as they drive around after a snow fall, put their plows down. What's the point in keeping the plows six inches to a foot above the snow. I realize they are liable to rust if they get wet and the paint may chip, but then they could be redone in spring and summer. It would be a good productive job for the employees in good weather.

Instead of driving around just looking at trees on parkways, as one crew of two men did last summer in front of my house, better they should paint plows.

IS IT completely mad to suggest getting bids from private contractors for this job? Maybe we could get some good work done and save money at the same time. We would still need a road commissioner, but maybe the rest of the political leeches could be turned out to pasture, saving their annual wages. I am also tempted to say that 20 hours, 30 hours or even 45 hours of continuous work does not constitute a year's effort, but I won't.

If I have been snid in some remarks, please forgive me. I have never written to anybody complaining of anything before and I hesitate to start now, but the more I drove the more your article ate away at me.

As I write this the snow is falling once more, so here we go again. Mr. Hollander need not worry about the walks, but please do something about these streets. I am certain someone else could have written this much better than I, but I was afraid no one else would.

'Santa Claus' Is Commended

Now that the Christmas rush is over, I am glad to take time to commend one of our Arlington merchants. I refer to Mr. Vern Hagenbring, who again this year was the best Santa I have seen anywhere.

I have no idea how many children Santa talks with, but he gives each child individual attention. In our case Santa was particularly kind. After a long wait, our 2½-year-old refused to go near him, yet she still was given a small trinket.

IN THESE DAYS of discount buying and price cutting, I think Santa Hagenbring deserves special recognition for his real interest. Here is a man who has gone to a great deal of trouble and extra expense, and spent much of his own time—without any great personal gain—for just the wonderful feeling of self-satisfaction that comes with knowing a job was well done.

A Happy and Healthy New Year to you and your family, Santa!

Newsman Wrote Words of Wisdom

In reading last week's Hoffman Herald, I could not help but write this little not of thanks to Dick Gottsegen for his article on "Are Adults Spoil Sports." As a coach in high school I agree 100 per cent. Many times the coaches, as well as the spectators, lose sight of the ultimate goals we try to reach in athletics by placing tremendous emphasis on winning. I don't think that there is a coach who doesn't want to win. But win at all cost is another question.

I think Mr. Gottsegen's thoughts, philosophy and composition of the article were very well written. Tell Mr. Gottsegen to keep up the good work; we need more newspaper men who speak with words of wisdom.

A studied effort was under way to create an impression of "massive" public support and to make it appear that all persons interested in education should climb aboard their bandwagon for federal aid." NEA is the National Education Association. Quote from the American School Board Journal, May 1961, page 39.

From the Congressional Record, "There is no evidence of a rank and file support for this legislation. The hierarchy of the CIO-AFL official-don, and the hierarchy of the parent-teachers association (PTA), (but not the rank and file in either organization) testified for this legislation."

Most of the members of the local units of the PTA are not aware of the fact that they have been supporting Federal Aid to Education since 1957. This information was never disseminated on a general basis and no support for Federal Aid came from our local PTA; it was never voted on. The legislation programs of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers for the years 1957 to 1961 did not mention Federal Support for Education, they said in ambiguous terms "Adequate legislative and/or financial support."

BUT NOW, in the legislation program for 1961-62, item 4 says, "Federal Support for Education"; 4 (b), "Federal funds should be appropriated for the purpose of increasing educational opportunity among the states, with provisions ensuring maximum local control and encouragement to the states to put forth their best efforts to equalize opportunities within their own boundaries"; 4 (g), "Federal funds should be appropriated to give aid in construction of public school buildings, after approved surveys have been made. These funds should be: 1. Channeled from the U. S. Office of Education through state departments of education to the local units of administration. 2. Allocated so as to encourage states to set forth principles for equalizing the distribution of state and federal funds, giving special consideration to new school administrative units with relatively low financial resources and to areas especially affected by rapid and substantial increase in school age population."

I'm not sure I understand what they are talking about, but, if I were to make a guess, it would be that all money for federal aid should be administered by the U. S. Office of Education and allocated to the states on principles established by this organization.

Quoted from the Congressional Record, May 8, 1957, "The United States Office of Education representatives testified that efforts of the people for their own children were inadequate, and that they should be compelled by the Government in Washington to do more. Instead of using the word "compulsion" they often substituted the words "stimulate the States by the Federal Government" to do what they should do in the judgment of Washington."

HOW DOES this give the local shool districts maximum local control? Who will approve building surveys? What are the principles for equalizing?

"The late congressman Lesinski of Detroit, Michican, a former Chairman of the Education and Labor Committee, said as Chairman of the Committee when it refused to vote out a bill: "It is impossible to draft a general Federal Aid Bill which will not contain a great degree of Federal Control over local school systems. I am convinced, after the hard study we have put to the question, that no acceptable bill preventing Federal domination of local schools can be drawn. I reluctantly come to that conclusion, but I had to face the facts.

"Fear of control by the Federal Government was general and outspoken. There was bitterness, too, that the Federal Government should try to shove Federal Aid down the throats of the people whether they wanted it or not.

"They insisted that they, the producers of all the wealth of the country, are taking care of their children and are building the necessary school rooms for an increasing population. The school taxes, they said, are very burdensome, much more burdensome than they should be because of the intolerable and inexcusable Federal taxes." (Congressional Record, May 1957).

IT IS TRULY insulting and disgusting to taxpayers who have been faithfully supporting our local school districts to suddenly find some local school boards advocating Federal Aid. It is a repudiation of our efforts to build new schools and raise teachers salaries. I can only feel that these local school board members are letting their greed for more money interfere with their intelligence and these people should be replaced at the next election.

It is strange indeed when the quality of education is measured by the number of schools, the number of students per class (all material aspects) and not by the moral values as imparted by teachers. We have gone a long way toward better schools but what have we done about better education?

The Federal Aid programs to education, transportation, housing, communications, etc. can only lead to socialism; the next step, of course, is Communism. Let's not be duped into believing we can get "something for nothing," we never have and we never will.

Lions Tourney Was Successful

The Wheeling Lions club wishes to report the success of its recent Mixed Doubles Bowling Tournament, held at Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling.

As the result of the excellent publicity for the event given by the Wheeling Herald, and the cooperation of its editor, Tom Edwards, the net sum of $325 was realized to further the Blind Activities program of the local club.

AS AN EXAMPLE of this aid to the blind, a Braille typewriter was given just before Christmas to a student in the local school system, Donna Herroro. The delight expressed by the girl, her family, and her teacher, was well worth seeing, and Lion Vern Boyd, Chairman of the Blind Activities Committee states that it helped make Christmas a better one for himself too.

The officers and members wish to thank all the participants (163 couples), the scorers, Lion Ernie Zorger, Bowling Chairman, and Lion "Bud" Miller, and once again, Tom Edwards and his paper.

Daytime TOPS Score Success

Just a brief thank you for your most helpful cooperation in presenting the publicity for the Arlington Heights Daytime TOPS. It is mainly through your paper's notices that our group has grown so. It is very gratifying to see a small group become large enough to become three clubs.

Our club has been very successful, with every member losing weight. This is our aim, but there are very few groups that don't have quite a few gainers.

Once again, thank you. Without your help, we would still be a small group.

Snow Crews Win Citizen Praise

During the past two snowstorms, I was once again reminded of a function of our village that has gone unheeded for too long a time.

It is with this thought in mind that I am writing this note to try and express appreciation to James Bennett and the fine men in his department for the terrific job that has been done in clearing our streets of snow.

MY JOB HAS me in many villages and towns in our area, and I am constantly reminded that their efforts do not compare with those here in Wheeling. I also am aware that surrounding villages have more men for this work as well as more and better equipment. The answer for our better results can only be in the personnel in the public works department and the way they do their job.

With these things in mind, I hope these men will accept the heartfelt thanks of a satisfied citizen of Wheeling.

Pet Article Stirs Protest

The article which appeared in the December 14th issue of the Arlington Heights Herald has come to my attention. I am sure that you have visited few laboratory animal rooms, for if you had you could not possibly have allowed to appear the astonishing lead sentence; "If a Texas millionaire wanted to give his pet hound the world's finest care, he would be hard put to equal the kid-gloves treatment which thousands of dogs receive today in modern animal research laboratories throughout the nation." These animals are further described as "vastly more pampered than the most prized household pets."

Would any pet owner shut up his dog in a small cage and keep him there with no provision for exercise for seven years? That is what has been done or is still being done in some government laboratories and university medical schools.

WOULD ANY Texas millionaire seeking the "world's finest care" leave his dog in kennels grossly infested with ticks, mites and beetles? That is what I have observed in a research department of a leading hospital.

Would the owner of a "pampered" pet deprive his animal of water? I have seen this done in a variety of different laboratories.

In visiting dog kennels where the animals receive "kid gloves treatment," would you expect to see sick dogs, too weak to get up, shivering from having been hosed down along with their small cages by callous attendants? I have seen this in a leading medical school.

Would the owner of a "prized household pet" leave his body lying around without so much as noticing that he was dead? We have found dead dogs in guided tours of two leading medical schools.

I COULD GO ON, but this may be enough to show why we feel a correction is owed to your readers, especially in view of the banner headlines which the story carried.

The Animal Welfare Institute publishes two manuals, "Basic Care of Experimental Animals" and "Comfortable Quarters for Laboratory Animals" which it distributes free on request to scientific institutions using animals. More than ten thousand of these publications have been provided. We are doing our utmost to make life bearable for laboratory animals. Their life can never be the way the writer of the article has portrayed it, but needless suffering and abuse can be stopped if the situation is honestly reported to the public. We earnestly hope that you will do so.

Christine Stevens,
President
Animal Welfare Institute.

Vandals Spoil Yule Decoration

Another resident has no more decorations.

Marguerite S. Case, you are not the only one who is not going to decorate again for Christmas.

We, too, had four evergreens decorated with outdoor lights, and they looked very pretty. People spend money and decorate at Christmas time not only for themselves, but for the whole community, to make it look more cheerful for the holidays. A couple of days before Christmas, eight young vandals invaded our premises at suppertime and smashed every light and socket on all four evergreens with some heavy sticks.

Snow Removal Is Criticized

This is too much! Please don't try to make me believe that the village, country and state deserve praise for their so called job of snow removal. After the snow fall of January 6 and 7, I know of no other organization which could operate so in-efficiently for so long and still remain in business.

One week later, a good portion of Route 14, Route 12 and Palatine rd. east of Winston Park school, intended four lane roads are reduced to three lanes and in some areas two and one-half lanes; these are just a few of the many that could be named. Still this after two days of temperatures in the high twenties and low thirties. After all the advancements of the times must we still rely on Mother Nature to remove the snow from the streets of our area.

YES, I KNOW, now comes the buck-passing time. The country road commissioner says that's not our area, it's the state's and the state says it belongs to the village and the village blames the county.

Sorry, I don't have an answer to this problem. A good start might be to have the trucks as they drive around after a snow fall, put their plows down. What's the point in keeping the plows six inches to a foot above the snow. I realize they are liable to rust if they get wet and the paint may chip, but then they could be redone in spring and summer. It would be a good productive job for the employees in good weather.

Instead of driving around just looking at trees on parkways, as one crew of two men did last summer in front of my house, better they should paint plows.

IS IT completely mad to suggest getting bids from private contractors for this job? Maybe we could get some good work done and save money at the same time. We would still need a road commissioner, but maybe the rest of the political leeches could be turned out to pasture, saving their annual wages. I am also tempted to say that 20 hours, 30 hours or even 45 hours of continuous work does not constitute a year's effort, but I won't.

If I have been snid in some remarks, please forgive me. I have never written to anybody complaining of anything before and I hesitate to start now, but the more I drove the more your article ate away at me.

As I write this the snow is falling once more, so here we go again. Mr. Hollander need not worry about the walks, but please do something about these streets. I am certain someone else could have written this much better than I, but I was afraid no one else would.

'Santa Claus' Is Commended

Now that the Christmas rush is over, I am glad to take time to commend one of our Arlington merchants. I refer to Mr. Vern Hagenbring, who again this year was the best Santa I have seen anywhere.

I have no idea how many children Santa talks with, but he gives each child individual attention. In our case Santa was particularly kind. After a long wait, our 2½-year-old refused to go near him, yet she still was given a small trinket.

IN THESE DAYS of discount buying and price cutting, I think Santa Hagenbring deserves special recognition for his real interest. Here is a man who has gone to a great deal of trouble and extra expense, and spent much of his own time—without any great personal gain—for just the wonderful feeling of self-satisfaction that comes with knowing a job was well done.

A Happy and Healthy New Year to you and your family, Santa!

Newsman Wrote Words of Wisdom

In reading last week's Hoffman Herald, I could not help but write this little not of thanks to Dick Gottsegen for his article on "Are Adults Spoil Sports." As a coach in high school I agree 100 per cent. Many times the coaches, as well as the spectators, lose sight of the ultimate goals we try to reach in athletics by placing tremendous emphasis on winning. I don't think that there is a coach who doesn't want to win. But win at all cost is another question.

I think Mr. Gottsegen's thoughts, philosophy and composition of the article were very well written. Tell Mr. Gottsegen to keep up the good work; we need more newspaper men who speak with words of wisdom.

Walter C. Shaw

Walter C. Shaw, 81, McKeesport civic leader and co-founder and Chairman of the Board of the G. C. Murphy Company variety store chain, died last week, at St. Anthony's hospital in St. Petersburg, Fla.

He had been in ill health for several months and had gone to Florida in October where it was felt climatic conditions would aid his recovery. His condition became worse, however, and he was confined to the hospital on Dec. 23.

Shaw began his long and successful retail career in a small country store at Turnpike, Penn.

At the age of 18, he joined the Bear department store in York, Penn. and in 1902 accepted employment with the J. G. McCrory Variety store co. as a store manager. Recognition of his merchandising and leadership capabilities led to an assignment as superintendent of stores for the company, a position which he held until late 1910.

In March 1911, Shaw and the late John Sephus Mack, also an executive with McCrory at that time, severed their affiliation with that company and purchased controlling interest in the ten-store George C. Murphy chain, headquartered in McKeesport, Penn. Thus began the G. C. Murphy Company with Mack serving as president until his death in 1940 and Shaw as vice president.

During the period from 1911 to 1920, 41 stores were added to the newly-formed company. By 1930 the chain numbered 166 units; 1940, 204; 1950, 219; and 1960, 437. Fourth largest in its field, the company now operates 480 stores in 22 states and the District of Columbia. Its sales exceeded a quarter of a billion dollars in 1961, and its organization numbers approximately 20,000 regular employees.

Shaw, throughout his life, carried an intense interest in community welfare, and received many honors for his effective participation in religious, educational and civic projects.

Walter C. Shaw

Walter C. Shaw, 81, McKeesport civic leader and co-founder and Chairman of the Board of the G. C. Murphy Company variety store chain, died last week, at St. Anthony's hospital in St. Petersburg, Fla.

He had been in ill health for several months and had gone to Florida in October where it was felt climatic conditions would aid his recovery. His condition became worse, however, and he was confined to the hospital on Dec. 23.

Shaw began his long and successful retail career in a small country store at Turnpike, Penn.

At the age of 18, he joined the Bear department store in York, Penn. and in 1902 accepted employment with the J. G. McCrory Variety store co. as a store manager. Recognition of his merchandising and leadership capabilities led to an assignment as superintendent of stores for the company, a position which he held until late 1910.

In March 1911, Shaw and the late John Sephus Mack, also an executive with McCrory at that time, severed their affiliation with that company and purchased controlling interest in the ten-store George C. Murphy chain, headquartered in McKeesport, Penn. Thus began the G. C. Murphy Company with Mack serving as president until his death in 1940 and Shaw as vice president.

During the period from 1911 to 1920, 41 stores were added to the newly-formed company. By 1930 the chain numbered 166 units; 1940, 204; 1950, 219; and 1960, 437. Fourth largest in its field, the company now operates 480 stores in 22 states and the District of Columbia. Its sales exceeded a quarter of a billion dollars in 1961, and its organization numbers approximately 20,000 regular employees.

Shaw, throughout his life, carried an intense interest in community welfare, and received many honors for his effective participation in religious, educational and civic projects.

'WAY BACK WHEN'

Compiled by Mrs. G. Rex Volz

60 Years Ago—Jan. 11, 1902

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: Council proceedings: Mayor Sigwalt called attention to the sugar beets, potatoes, and malt refuse left along the railroad sidetracks and the Board of Health reported that Supt. Lawson had promised to have the nuisance abated.

When the contract is let for painting the barn next time, make provisions that the painter shall paint the name of the farm and the proprietor on the side next to the highway. Painters will be glad to do this.

Charles H. Lorenzen, well known and highly respected citizen of this place, passed away Dec. 30, 1901.

Mr. John Hefferen, one of our oldest citizens, died Jan. 8.

Schiffman's is selling oranges, Florida Sweet, 10 cents per dozen; Bananas, 10 cents per doz., Fancy Dates, New Figs, 10 cents per lb.; New Nuts, 15 cents per lb.; Fresh Oysters, 30 cents per qt., Uneeda Biscuit, 4 cents a pkg., all advertised brands of cigars, 7 for 25 cents.

PALATINE: William Garms. having decided to go to Oklahoma, will sell out his horses, cattle, and equipment, machinery, etc., Wed. Jan. 15, at auction, from the Hicks' farm one and a half miles north of Palatine. Be on hand if you want to buy goods at your own price. John Hirn, the famous auctioneer, will furnish the music, tell you funny stories.

The Village Board met in regular session Monday night, all members present. The Treasurer's report showed a balance of $175.10. C. W. Ost reported the purchase of articles ordered at last meeting. One of the shut-off nozzles and a new fireman's coat were exhibited. The payment of a sum to Mr. Flentie who broke his leg in a fire drill last summer and to Mr. Foskette, was brought up and all expressed the opinion that a sum should be appropriated for this purpose. Hence $75 was voted to the firemen to be paid by them as they see fit.

BENSENVILLE: Skinny and Paddie, the Bensenville hunting dogs, caught about 60 rabbits this year. Good sports.

Those who need ice are beginning to worry about filling their ice houses as the water has been so low that everything is frozen solid.

Messrs. Dierks, Sigwalt and Hornbostel were out on a coon hunt New Year's, but did not see a trace of them. All they got was a little squirrel.

The Bensenville crack shots, Schaettler and Bullerbuck, were out hunting Sunday and got only two rabbits. If they had killed as many as they missed, they would have done a good job.

Regular board meeting held Friday, Jan. 3, 1902, Fire and Water committee reported an investigation into the need for a hook and ladder truck, and recommended that one be bought as soon as feasible.

Committee of A. H. Warnecke, Ch. Baucke, and Wm. F. Franzen recommended that no more wooden sidewalks be built, but find means to construct same of a more lasting material, like stone, cement, or asphalt. Neighboring towns were constructing walks at 14 cents per running foot. Wood would cost 30 cents per running foot, to say nothing of repairing which would have to be done in five years' use.

50 Years Ago—Jan. 12, 1912

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: Notice to correspondents and advertisers: Hereafter this paper will go to press Thursday noon. The editors and printers have grown tired of being slaves and working until midnight each week to get the papers to our readers on time, so we have decided to print and mail the papers by daylight, thus we can do better work.

November was cold and December warm. New Years started a bitter cold spell and we had ten days of strenuous weather ranging from zero to 20 below.

. Miss Cassie Herely of Harvard, is the new teacher of 8th grade at a salary of $65 a month. She has a Cook County certificate and four years experience, so we expect successful work in that room now.

A. H. has 2,000 population and the time has come for a good healthy boom. We should organize a city government and be up with the times.

WHEELING: Adolph Ratieke froze both ears coming home from church Sunday.

Henry Hartman was busy hauling ice Monday. He says it takes young fellows to harvest ice.

Adolph Ratieke and Charlie Koeppen are trying to curl their feather mustaches—but leave that be fellows till you raise the crop.

. PALATINE: School Notes: Senior class are studying two extra subjects—American History and arithmetic. Honor roll, 4th year—Ethel Mosser, Amanda Leseberg, Paul Wilson. 3rd year, Walter Wittenberg. 1st year—Mary Allard, Eleanor Anderman, Amelia Kunze, Gladys Rennack, Selma Shering. 8th grade—Frank Thurnau, Henry Bockelman, Meta Larsen.

R. M. Putnam has always been the one to report the first robin each spring, but he is beaten this year by the P. H. Matthie family, a robin having been around their place a week.

40 Years Ago—Jan. 13, 1922

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: New milk route: At the request of many friends I have decided to increase my milk route in Arlington Heights. I will deliver pure, clean, fresh milk from my own diary at 10 cents a quart. Fred Rascher.

Wm. T. Kellogg returned recently from a visit of several weeks with relatives in Dakota. His object was mainly a search for Indian relics. In this he was he made some very interesting finds, which will add greatly to his already large collection.

Miss Hannah Hook, aged 83 years, who entered into rest at the home for elderly people in Chicago, was the sister of Mrs. Hitchcock and for many years was a beloved member of the M. E. Church, and had many friends here. Miss Hook's going leaves Mrs. Hitchcock the only remaining member of her family. (Mr. Hitchcock had owned the lumber yard on the property now operated by Hill-Behan).

After choir practice tonight, the M. E. Choir will treat itself to an oyster supper. Practice will begin promptly at 8, and about 9:30 the oysters will be served. The members of the choir have been very faithful and deserve this little treat.

ROSELLE RUMBLES: A flock of wild geese was seen only last week, heading northeast. If that is a sign that warmer weather is coming and to stay, then this season is doomed to be a short one. Let us hope that we have a few days of below zero weather to kill the disease germs and vermin.

ITASCA: Our young folks, middle aged and old folks have been skating on the lake with much delight. It is hoped the progressive village board will take measures to improve and enlarge the natural skating facilities in our midst. Many villages and cities are spending thousands to construct such a place of recreation.

PALATINE: Village Clerk W. A. Mundhenk gave out some figures this week that were startling. If his figures are correct, and he assures us they are, Palatine's population is on the decrease. There were twice as many deaths in Palatine during 1921 as there were births. Only 21 babies saw the light of day during the past year, and 42 bid farewell to this earth. 4,200,000 gallons of water were pumped at the water works the past quarter; these figures are good news: the receipts of the Palatine water works department the past quarter will amount to $1,270—as much as was collected in the entire year, only a short time ago. Expenses slightly over $500. Who dares to say that our water works is not making money and entitled to rehabilitation?

30 Years Ago—Jan. 15, 1932

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: The A.H. Township High School is confronted with a very serious problem. The Board of Education is compelled to ask parents to help solve that problem. Many schools in Cook County are considering closing. Some have already done so, others have served notice on teachers that they may have to close within sixty days. Why should schools be without funds? Revenue for schools is derived from taxes. Only 78 per cent of the 1929 taxes have been collected. Not one cent of 1930 taxes has been received. Operations have been carried on throughout 1930 and half through 1931 with no tax money from 1930 and not nearly all of 1929 taxes. In spite of this the school board here has not issued one cent in 1931 anticipation warrants and less than 40 per cent of the legal amount of 1930 warrants. Current bills have been nearly all paid. But there are NO funds with which to continue. Here is how patrons of the school can help: out of every $100 of taxes you pay, a bit over $20 goes for your high school tax. Suppose your tax is $300. You could purchase a $60 anticipation warrant and use it in paying your high school taxes. These warrants draw 6 per cent interest from date of issue. You are not being asked to purchase 1931 warrants. Warrants will be issued in amounts to suit the purchaser. PLEASE send your pledge card to Supt. V. I. Brown, Arlington Heights, or A. C. Haake, Mt. Prospect.

Mrs. Caroline Adam, an Arlington resident for 48 years, passed away Jan. 11, 1932, at her home in South Dunton St.

The management of the Community Dining Room in A. H. has been given to understand that a certain well known milk association has put the ban on any more donations of milk by farmers to the relief work; and this source of supply has been cut off. The Dining Room now has to buy all its milk. One farmer had 24 cans of milk he could not sell, and was accustomed to giving some milk to help feed the badly undernourished school children and mothers of Arlington Heights, to this Community Dining Room, and he was warned he must stop such donations. He has to throw away his 24 cans of milk after skimming off the cream.

Barber Dave Prosser of West Campbell Street announces that he will accept produce from the farmers in exchange for hair cuts, the produce to be left at the Community Dining Room. He and Mr. Barrett, Farm Advisor, figure that if the farmers bring in exchange about what the produce would bring wholesale, same will pay for a hair cut. No amount is stipulated, but they figure a bushel of carrots, or about the same in potatoes, for a hair cut; or a can of milk will cut the hair of two boys.

Mayor Flentie has started a campaign to advertise the salubrious winter climate of Arlington Heights. On New Year's Day he dined on fresh radishes and carrots taken from his garden, and then out of the compassion that was in his heart for less fortunate beings, he penned a letter to his friend Nick Volz who is snowbound in Los Angeles. Our editor was a little cautious in his report of the campaign and was careful to note that the thermometer was dropping a bit as the paper went to press. All of which probably made Mayor Flentie smile, and probably moved him to supplement his letter to California with a later wire telling how the threatened cold snap failed to materialize and to repeat his invitation "Come back to Arlington and enjoy real weather."

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: The eighty residents of the Lutheran Old Folks Home have a new superintendent. Rev. John M. Kempf of Detroit. He is succeeding Mrs. Julius Stahmer who resigned her position after 13½ years of faithful service.

A. H. has removed the sirens from the fire trucks, police car, and that of the fire chief, but the fire alarm system will be continued in use, says Fire Chief Richard Jahn.

Anthony T. Kates, former businessmen here, died at his home in Kenilworth Dec. 29, age 80 years. He lived for many years in the village where with Mr. Richard Bray, his partner, he owned and operated a hardware store from which developed Bray & Kates Mfg. Co., which they organized and operated from 1900 to 1921. They then sold the business to the Creamery Package Co., which today is one of the village's leading industries. He is survived by his wife, the former Mary Shirra, one son, W. A. Kates of Corning, N. Y., and two daughters, Mrs. Lee Hollowell of Edmunds, and Miss Margaret Kates.

PALATINE: Rev. Daniel Poellot, who retired in 1940 from a 30 year pastorate at the Palatine Lutheran church, died at his home in Addison, Monday evening.

Wheeling fire department has been organized 44 years, and will celebrate their anniversary with a dance Jan. 24.

MOUNT PROSPECT: Great gains in building were made during 1941, taking a 40 per cent jump over the previous year. There were 87 permits issued during the 12 months, 59 of them being for new homes, total cost $472,770. 1940 total cost was $360,807.

Mount Prospect Lions club buys $1,100 of defense bonds. The club is using the proceeds from the Fall Festival held last September. (A-14

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: The A.H. Township High School is confronted with a very serious problem. The Board of Education is compelled to ask parents to help solve that problem. Many schools in Cook County are considering closing. Some have already done so, others have served notice on teachers that they may have to close within sixty days. Why should schools be without funds? Revenue for schools is derived from taxes. Only 78 per cent of the 1929 taxes have been collected. Not one cent of 1930 taxes has been received. Operations have been carried on throughout 1930 and half through 1931 with no tax money from 1930 and not nearly all of 1929 taxes. In spite of this the school board here has not issued one cent in 1931 anticipation warrants and less than 40 per cent of the legal amount of 1930 warrants. Current bills have been nearly all paid. But there are NO funds with which to continue. Here is how patrons of the school can help: out of every $100 of taxes you pay, a bit over $20 goes for your high school tax. Suppose your tax is $300. You could purchase a $60 anticipation warrant and use it 'in paying your high school taxes. These warrants draw 6 per cent interest from date of issue. You are not being asked to purchase 1931 warrants. Warrants will be issued in amounts to suit the purchaser. PLEASE send your pledge card to Supt. V. I. Brown, Arlington Heights, or A. C. Haake, Mt. Prospect.

Mrs. Caroline Adam, an Arlington resident for 48 years, passed away Jan. 11, 1932, at her home in South Dunton St.

The management of the Community Dining Room in A. H. has been given to understand that a certain well known milk association has put the ban on any more donations of milk by farmers to the relief work; and this source of supply has been cut off. The Dining Room now has to buy all its milk. One farmer had 24 cans of milk he could not sell, and was accustomed to giving some milk to help feed the badly undernourished school children and mothers of Arlington Heights, to this Community Dining Room, and he was warned he must stop such donations. He has to throw away his 24 cans of milk after skimming off the cream.

Barber Dave Prosser of West Campbell Street announces that he will accept produce from the farmers in exchange for hair cuts, the produce to be left at the Community Dining Room. He and Mr. Barrett, Farm Advisor, figure that if the farmers bring in exchange about what the produce would bring wholesale, same will pay for a hair cut. No amount is stipulated, but they figure a bushel of carrots, or about the same in potatoes, for a hair cut; or a can of milk will cut the hair of two boys.

Mayor Flentie has started a campaign to advertise the salubrious winter climate of Arlington Heights. On New Year's Day he dined on fresh radishes and carrots taken from his garden, and then out of the compassion that was in his heart for less fortunate beings, he penned a letter to his friend Nick Volz who is snowbound in Los Angeles. Our editor was a little cautious in his report of the campaign and was careful to note that the thermometer was dropping a bit as the paper went to press. All of which probably made Mayor Flentie smile, and probably moved him to supplement his letter to California with a later wire telling how the threatened cold snap failed to materialize and to repeat his invitation "Come back to Arlington and enjoy real weather."

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: The eighty residents of the Lutheran Old Folks Home have a new superintendent. Rev. John M. Kempf of Detroit. He is succeeding Mrs. Julius Stahmer who resigned her position after 13½ years of faithful service.

A. H. has removed the sirens from the fire trucks, police car, and that of the fire chief, but the fire alarm system will be continued in use, says Fire Chief Richard Jahn.

Anthony T. Kates, former businessmen here, died at his home in Kenilworth Dec. 29, age 80 years. He lived for many years in the village where with Mr. Richard Bray, his partner, he owned and operated a hardware store from which developed Bray & Kates Mfg. Co., which they organized and operated from 1900 to 1921. They then sold the business to the Creamery Package Co., which today is one of the village's leading industries. He is survived by his wife, the former Mary Shirra, one son, W. A. Kates of Corning, N. Y., and two daughters, Mrs. Lee Hollowell of Edmunds, and Miss Margaret Kates.

PALATINE: Rev. Daniel Poellot, who retired in 1940 from a 30 year pastorate at the Palatine Lutheran church, died at his home in Addison, Monday evening.

Wheeling fire department has been organized 44 years, and will celebrate their anniversary with a dance Jan. 24.

MOUNT PROSPECT: Great gains in building were made during 1941, taking a 40 per cent jump over the previous year. There were 87 permits issued during the 12 months, 59 of them being for new homes, total cost $472,770. 1940 total cost was $360,807.

Mount Prospect Lions club buys $1,100 of defense bonds. The club is using the proceeds from the Fall Festival held last September. (A-14

Hypnotist Heads 'Y' Auxiliary Men's Night

Edwin L. Baron, master hypnotist, will entertain Northwest Suburban YMCA Women's auxiliary at its Men's night program on Wednesday, Jan. 31.

Men's night has become an annual event for the auxiliary, the program especially planned to interest the husbands as well as the members of the group.

BARON, known for his masterful technique of hypnotism, has become famous as a television hypnotist. He has hypnotized volunteer subjects successfully before TV cameras, although it is generally conceded too difficult and unpredictable a feat to be attempted.

Outstanding in the art of the power of suggestion, Baron holds a psychology degree from Loyola university.

THE 'Y' auxiliary Men's night promises an evening of fascinating entertainment. The meeting begins at 8 o'clock in the 'Y' all purpose room. Refreshments will complete the evening. (S

'Spartacus' Set To Open Friday

The epic motion picture "Spartacus," winner of four Academy Awards, has been booked for an exclusive northwest engagement at the Golf Mill theatre, opening on Friday, Jan. 19.

The film has been widely acclaimed for its unique blending of a tender, intimate love story set in a framework of eye-filling spectacle.

THE TECHNICOLOR production stars Kirk Douglas, Laurence Olivier, Jean Simmons, Charles Laughton, Peter Ustinov, John Gavin and Tony Curtis.

Based on the best-selling novel by Howard Fast, "Spartacus" is set against a background of Imperial Rome in the last century before the Christian era. Described by Time Magazine as "A new kind of movie with spiritual vitality and moral force," it depicts the story of man's eternal desire for freedom.

Its love story, told in moving and individual terms, is interwoven with scenes of titanic struggle between Roman might and a rebel army of slaves under the leadership of the gladiator Spartacus.

DIRECTED BY Stanley Kubrick, the Bryna Production is one of the costliest movies ever made and was filmed almost entirely in the United States.

To recreate in Hollywood the splendor of ancient Rome, many shiploads of household furnishings, period props, 27 tons of statuary, more than 5000 uniforms and seven tons of custom-made armor were transported from Italy's leading museums across an ocean and a continent.

The Golf Mill Theatre, which is open for matinees daily, will show "Spartacus" at four performances on Friday and Saturday and three performances Sunday through Thursday. (Bill

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is it considered proper to repeat a person's name when you are acknowledging an introduction?

A. This is not only proper, but practical, too — because many people fail to remember the names of persons to whom they are introduced. Repeating the name, as, "How do you do, Mr. Vance," helps to imprint the name in your memory.

At Golf Mill

JEAN SIMMONS plays Varinia, the slave girl who fights side by side with the gladiator in "Spartacus" which opens Friday, Jan. 19, at the Golf Mill Theatre.

At The Catlow Sunday

SHAMELESS LOYALTY of Susan Hayward to John Gavin, the man she can never marry, is the dramatic time-bomb of Universal-International's "Back Street," opening Sunday at the Catlow Theatre in Barrington. The Eastman Color drama also stars Vera Miles.

At Des Plaines

BOB HOPE offers to share the last remaining chicken in a supermarket with Lana Turner in this scene from "Bachelor in Paradise," in which they co-star for the first time. Also playing leading roles in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer CinemaScope and color comedy are Janis Paige, Jim Hutton, Paula Prentiss, Don Porter, Virginia Grey and Agnes Moorehead. Opens Friday on the wide brilliant screen of the Des Plaines Theatre.

Woman's Home Companion —While Hubby's at Work

SHAPELY NEIGHBOR Janis Paige helps Bob Hope carry groceries into the house he has rented in Paradise Village, a modern housing development, in this scene from "Bachelor in Paradise." PADDOCK'S SECOND ANNUAL

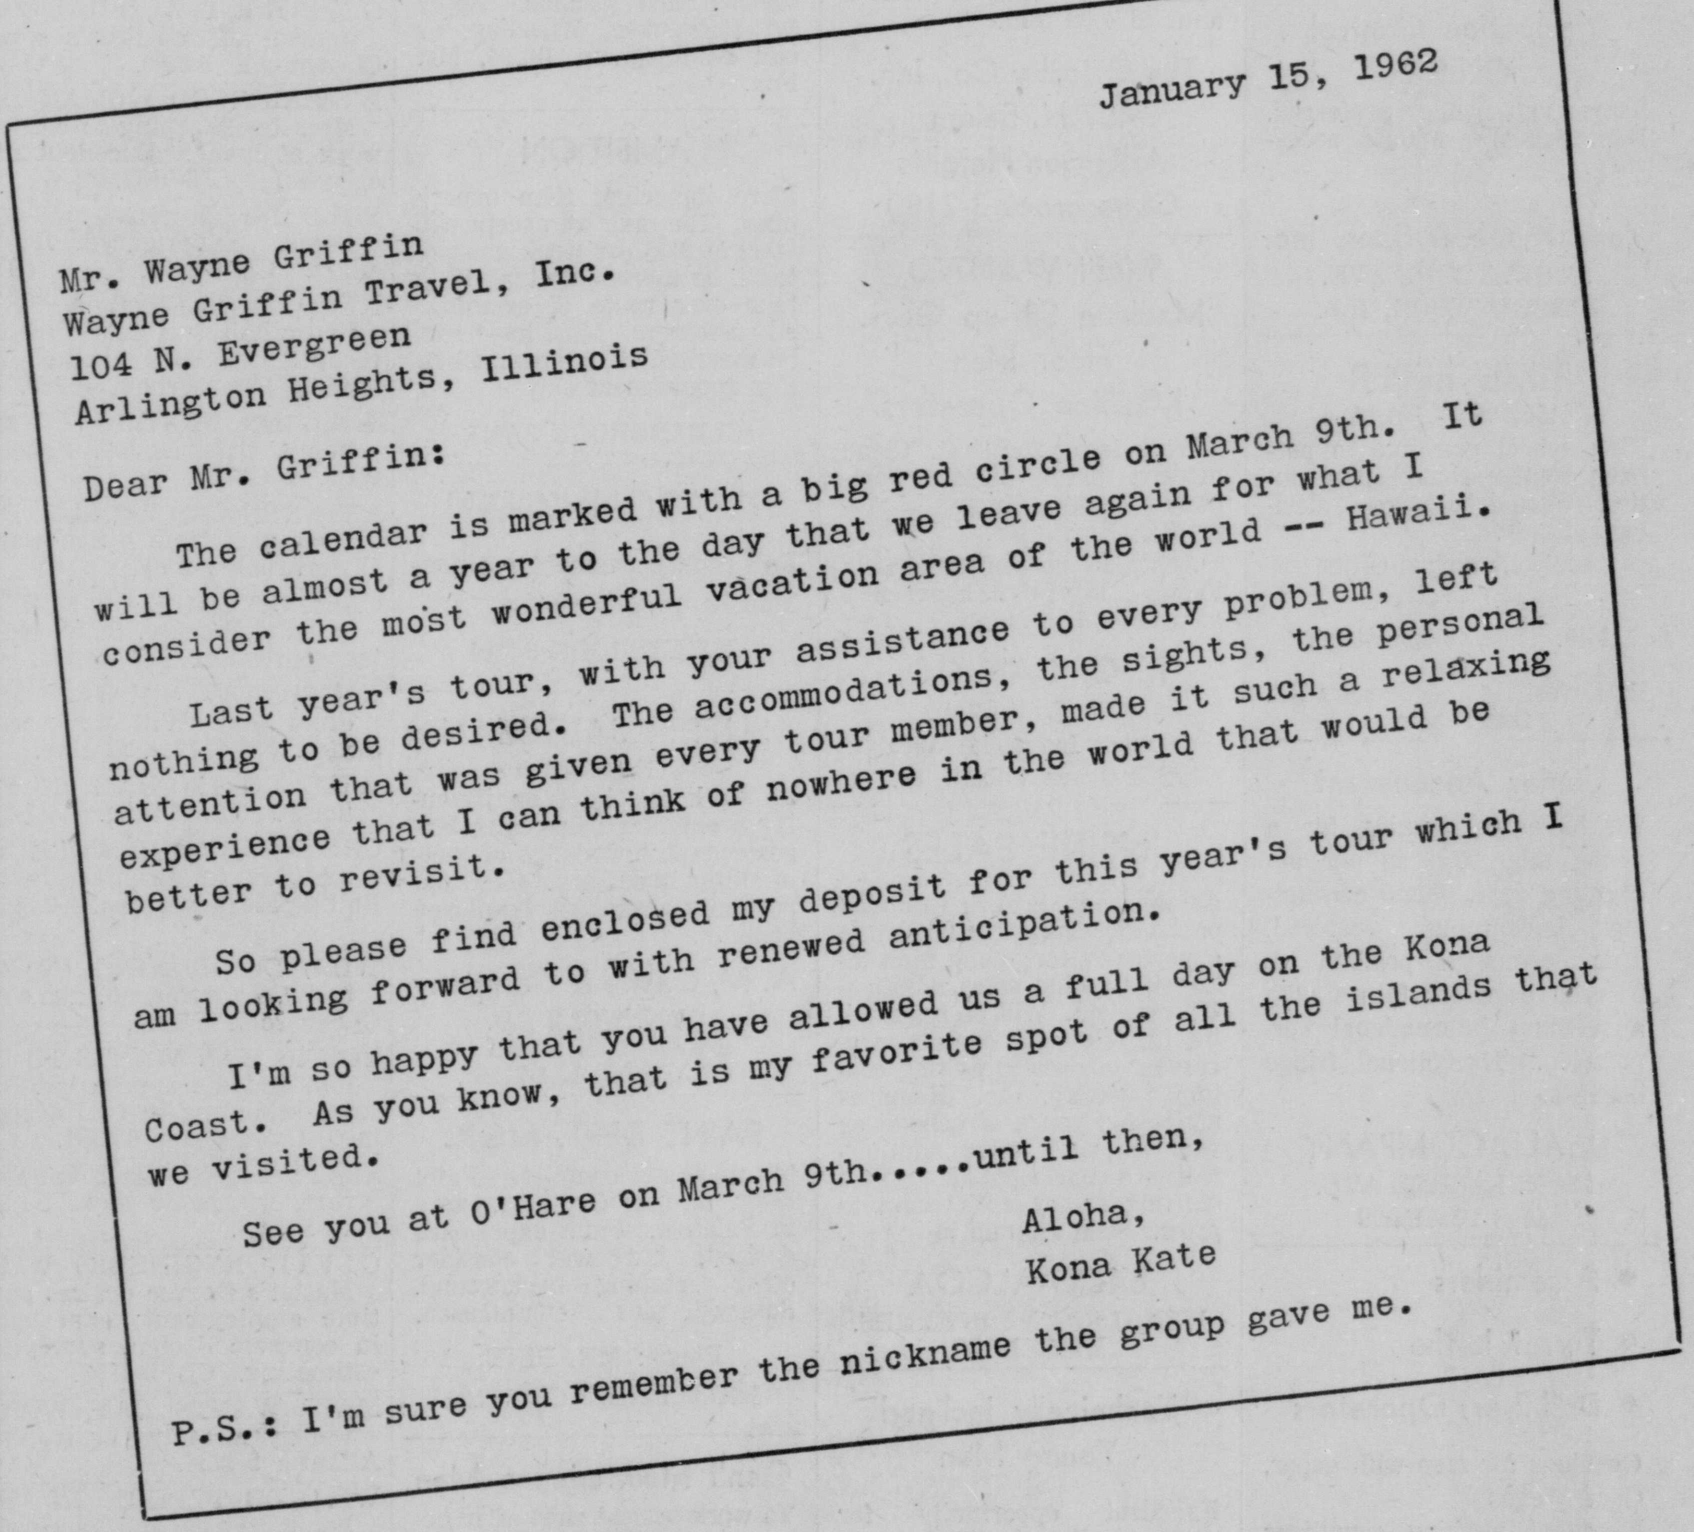
HAWAIIAN HOLIDAY

MARCH 9 through MARCH 25, 1962

Here's what one couple had to say about the 1961 Hawaiian Holiday:



January 15, 1962

Mr. Wayne Griffin
Wayne Griffin Travel, Inc.
104 N. Evergreen
Arlington Heights, Illinois

Dear Mr. Griffin:

The calendar is marked with a big red circle on March 9th. It will be almost a year to the day that we leave again for what I consider the most wonderful vacation area of the world -- Hawaii.

Last year's tour, with your assistance to every problem, left nothing to be desired. The accommodations, the sights, the personal attention that was given every tour member, made it such a relaxing experience that I can think of nowhere in the world that would be better to revisit.

So please find enclosed my deposit for this year's tour which I am looking forward to with renewed anticipation.

I'm so happy that you have allowed us a full day on the Kona Coast. As you know, that is my favorite spot of all the islands that we visited.

See you at O'Hare on March 9th.....until then,

Aloha,
Kona Kate

P.S.: I'm sure you remember the nickname the group gave me.

Join your friends and neighbors in the most glorious, fun-filled vacation of a lifetime and come with us to the Pleasure Playland of the Pacific

A trip to Hawaii is a dream come true. The beauty of the islands, the year round perfection of the climate, its easy, carefree atmosphere accented by strange Polynesian pageantry, romantic music and dances, its unbelievable profusion of flowers are the background for a holiday planned with glorious Hawaiian leisureness and hospitality.

You will enjoy the 20-acre beachside estate of the luxurious Hilton Hawaiian Village with rolling surf, a private lagoon and five pools. There's swimming, surf riding, skin diving, water skiing and sailing. You'll be royally entertained by the traditional Luau fest and savor exotic Oriental foods.

No trip to Hawaii is complete without a hop over to the neighboring islands: KAUAI, the garden isle; HAWAII, the largest island, with its volcanoes and famed Kona coast, the most exciting deep-sea fishing in the world.

Hawaiian Holiday vacationers will leave O'Hare in midmorning and land in San Francisco about noon where the rest of the day will be spent on a grand tour of one of America's most interesting cities.

Clip this coupon and write for your folder on the complete details of Paddock's Hawaiian Holiday. Start saving now for the once-in-a-lifetime vacation, a respite from the cold and the snow at just the right time. Mail to PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS, Arlington Heights, Ill.

Please send me your folder on the Paddock's Hawaiian Holiday tour in March, 1962.
